The issue No. 3 mentioned in the order of first reference relates to house allowance for the subordinate staff. P.W. 5, the Vice-President of the Union, wants to say that the Company has made arrangement for living accommodation for 70 per cent. of the members of the subordinate staff, that the Company does not give any house allowance to the remaining members of the subordinate staff who are not given any accommodation, that the members of the subordinate staff who are given accommodation by the Company are not to pay anything for such accommodation, that there are barracks and small rooms for the 70 per cent. members of the sub-staff, that those persons do not live with their families in these barracks and rooms, that several persons live in one barrack or in one small room and that those who are not given accommodation do not get any other especial amenities in lieu of house allowance or accommodation. In a previous award of the Industrial Tribunal an issue regarding accommodation allowance was raised and it was found by the learned Tribunal that no such allowance would be allowed. This would be evident from the copy of the award of the Mercantile Tribunal passed in 1949, marked Ext. F(2). Admittedly, there is no term or condition of service on which the workmen can rely to claim accommodation from the Company or any house allowance. The evidence does not show that the Company allots any particular accommodation for any particular number of workmen as on duty bound. It is clear that as a matter of grace or sympathy the Company has allowed some members of the subordinate staff to occupy the vacant place in the premises of the Company. This sort of accommodation is permissive and without any obligation. However, I find no justification for allowing any house allowance for any member of the subordinate staff. No such case has been made out by the workmen. The claim for house allowance or accommodation therefore, is held to be unjustified.

The issue No. 2 of the order of the first reference relates to travelling allowance. The workmen claim that during the privilege leave the members of the clerical staff and the subordinate staff should be allowed some travelling allowance so that they may go outside for a change in order to refresh their mind and body. Such claim rests upon the allegation of the workmen that the assistants get such allowance and that before the Mercantile Tribunal award the Company used to pay such allowance to the clerks and the members of the subordinate staff. P.W. 5 has stated in his evidence that leave travelling allowance is given to the assistants, both senior and junior, when they go outside on privilege leave and that these assistants get conveyance and halting allowance for themselves and members of their families. It has been alleged further by P.W. 2 that many junior assistants do not hold any supervisory position and it has been argued from the side of the workmen that unfair discrimination has been made by disallowing any leave travelling allowance to the clerical and subordinate staff. O.P.W. 1 is a junior grade assistant of the Company. He has stated that the workers are paid profit bonus as well as Puja bonus. The junior grade assistant, according to O.P.W. 1, are not entitled to get any bonus. It is clear therefore that while the members of the clerical and the subordinate staff enjoy bonus, the assistants who are allowed leave travelling allowance do not get any such facility. In these circumstances, if the Company allows any such travelling allowance to the assistants, I do not think that there is any unfair or unreasonable discrimination. The workmen have filed copies of terms of conditions prevailing in different Companies. It will appear that there is no custom or invariably practice in the locality for paying leave travelling allowance to the clerks or the members of the subordinate staff. Before the Mercantile Tribunal there was an issue relating to the travelling allowance on duty and on leave. It appears from Ext. F(2) that such claim for travelling allowance while on leave was disallowed. I do not find any reasonable ground or justification for allowing travelling allowance on leave as claimed by the workmen before me. The claim is, therefore, refused.

I shall now discuss about leave, the third issue mentioned in the order of reference, dated 22nd November 1962. The Union has stated in the written statement that there are three kinds of leave available to the workmen, namely, privilege leave, casual leave and sick leave. The members of the clerical staff with less than 10 years service earn 14 days privilege leave on full pay per annum accumulative up to 28 days and such employees with 10 years service and more earn 28 days leave on full pay per annum accumulative up to 56 days. The members of the subordinate staff earn 14 days leave with full pay per annum accumulative up to 40 days. The members of the clerical staff are allowed casual leave on full pay for 10 days in a year and this is not accumulative. The subordinate staff earn 10 days casual leave per annum out of which five days are on full pay and the remaining five days are without any pay. This is also non-accumulative. The clerical staff and the subordinate staff enjoy the same kind of sick leave. The sick leave of such employee covers a period of 12 months during the service life with full pay. Employees suffering from tuberculosis are treated separately. On the expiry of the sick leave, special leave is granted with full pay until they are fit for duty provided this period does not exceed two years. I have considered the service conditions of some other Companies as would be evident from Exts. 3, 5, 6, 7, 8, 8(a) and 9. Leave is no doubt an important factor in the life of employees while in service. Leave is rather essential for all workmen who are human beings and not machines. I do not think that there should be any discrimination between the members of the clerical staff and those of the subordinate staff in the matter of leave. After due consideration I am inclined to revise the provisions for casual leave and privilege leave now in force. I decide that the provisions for leave should be equally and in the same manner applicable to both the clerical and the subordinate staff. There should be 10 days casual leave per year (non-accumulative) with full pay. The privilege leave for the workmen would be for 28 days per year accumulative up to 84 days irrespective of the period of service. The provisions for sick leave, however, shall remain unaltered. Other rules regarding the leave shall also remain unchanged.

I shall next consider the question about gratuity in the item No. 2 of the issues mentioned in the order of the second reference. There is no legal bar to the claim of the workmen for gratuity even if they enjoy benefits of the Provident Fund Scheme. The question is whether such claim of the workmen is reasonable and justified according to the circumstances of a particular case. It has been submitted from the side of the Company that such claim for gratuity was refused in the previous award because there was a Provident Fund Scheme. I have considered the award of the Mercantile Tribunal, the copy of which is Ext. F(2). My attention has also been drawn to the award of the First Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal, dated 9th October 1953. The copy of the award is Ext. F(3). The question of gratuity was raised in that case. The learned Judge of the Tribunal considered the award of the Mercantile Tribunal and stated as follows:

> "In the case of the French Motor Co. Ltd., reported in 1952 L.A.C. 341, the learned Judges of the Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal observed that a claim of gratuity must be on a long-term basis and should not be changed with every rise or fall in the fortune of the employer. On this principle, I do not consider that the retiral benefits as awarded by the Mercantile Tribunal in 1949 for a large number of mercantile firms in Calcutta, should be changed in the case of the present Company after such a short time. The claim of the Union for further retiral benefits is, therefore, rejected."

I have already noted that the award of the Mercantile Tribunal was passed in 1949 about 15 years ago. Shri M. C. Banerjee, the learned Judge of the First Industrial Tribunal, came to his findings as noted above at the end of 1953, about eleven years back. Several changes have taken place in the meantime. The Union has filed copies of service conditions of some of the mercantile firms of Calcutta. No evidence has been adduced from the side of the Company to show that the service conditions relied upon by the Union are not in force in those companies. I find no reason to reject the copies of the service conditions filed as spurious or unreliable. Exhibit 3 shows the service conditions of Messrs. James Finley & Co. Ltd., (Calcutta Branch). This Company does not pay any gratuity but there is provision for pension besides the Provident Fund. Exhibit 5 is the copy of the memorandum of settlement between Messrs. Bird & Co. (P) Ltd. and Messrs. F. W. Heilgers & Co. (P) Ltd. and their employees. This shows that these companies have provided for retiring benefits in the shape of Provident Fund and pension. Exhibit 6 shows the service conditions regarding the staff of Messrs. Macneil Barry & Co. Ltd. and Messrs. Kilburn and Co. (P) Ltd. In these companies there are provisions for both the Provident Fund and gratuity. Exhibit 7 & Exhibit 7 (a) are the copies of agreements between Messrs. Shaw Wallace and Co. Ltd. and their employees. There is a scheme for gratuity for the staff under Provident Fund Scheme. Exhibit 8(a) will show the service conditions prevalent in Messrs. Andrew Yule & Co. Ltd., Calcutta Branch. In this company there are provisions for Provident Fund as well as pension. Exhibit 9 will show the terms of service existing in Messrs. Gillenders Arbuthnot & Co. Ltd. In this Company again the subordinate staff are entitled to the retiring gratuity like the members of the clerical staff. There is also provision for Provident Fund. It is clear therefore that in the same locality there are several mercantile firms which have provided for retiral benefits for their workmen, either in the shape of pension or gratuity or both. There are also the provisions for Provident Fund. The members of the clerical staff generally belong to middle class family, and the members of the subordinate staff ordinarily come from the labouring class. In these days there can be no doubt that they are the worst sufferers and their financial condition is hard hit. Admittedly, some time will take for them to receive living wages for their services rendered to the employers. At the time of retirement these workers become the most unfortunate creatures in the society having no source of income or prop to maintain their families. During their service they are not getting wages sufficient to maintain their families and to rear up their children and to educate them and if they do not get any lump sum amount at the time of retirement, their miseries know no bound. It is highly desirable, therefore for the best interest of the society that the members of the clerical and the subordinate staff should be provided with some benefits so that they cannot feel helpless when they are taken out of employment. At that time the retired employee has become infirm mentally and bodily and as such, he is to depend upon the amount of money, if any, he can get at the time of retirement. This money becomes a sort of treasure to him and a sort of solace in the old age for all the troubles he had taken during his past life in service. For all practical purposes, it does not matter if a workman gets wages at a lesser rate during the service but it matters a great deal to him if he gets some substantial amount at the time of retirement. Mere Provident Fund money is not enough. The retiral benefits practically become the security posts to the employees. I believe, this is one of the fascinating charm in one's service life. This brings mental peace, and a sense of security in the mind of the employee and the members of his family. I think that the provision for retiral benefits, in the shape of gratuity or pension is more substantial and profitable than a slight rise in the wage structure of the employee. This is a sort of reward for service.

It has been argued from the side of the Company that the financial conditions of the Companies relied upon by the Union are more stable than that of Messrs. McLeod & Co. Ltd. It has been further argued that the profit earned by the Company has diminished to a great extent on account of abolition of Steel Department and decline in other departments of the business. In this connection my attention has been drawn to the Investor's India Year Book, 1962 (Forty-Eighth Edition), compiled by Place, Siddons & Gough (Private) Ltd. The Company has also relied upon a comparative table showing profit position of some Companies, namely, Messrs. Duncan Bros. (P) Ltd., Messrs. Macneil Barry & Co. Ltd. and Messrs. Shaw Wallace & Co. Ltd. to show that when compared with this table, the profit position of Messrs. McLeod & Co. Ltd. would be apparent. The comparative table is Ext. L. It shows the profit position of these three Companies. Along with this, Ext. A(11), a chart showing net profit of Messrs. McLeod & Co. Ltd. is to be noted. In this Exhibit the net profit of the Company from 1951 to 1961 has been given. The balance-sheet and the Profit and Loss Accounts of the Company from 1951 to 1962 have been filed. They are Ext. A series. When these documents are considered, it will be clear that in the year 1951 the net profit of the Company was Rs. 28,21,843. Thereafter there was a fall in the profit position for some years. Again in 1954 the net profit came up to Rs. 31,89,815. Then again there was a decline and the net profit came down to Rs. 14,08,964 in 1961. This is the lowest step in the ladder. In 1962 the net profit came up to Rs. 25,28,932 as against the previous year's amount of Rs. 14,08,964. Although for a period there was a fall in the net profit of the Company, the position has improved as would be evident from the report and statements of the Company for the year ended 31st December 1962, marked Ext. A(12). It cannot be stated that the financial position of Messrs. McLeod & Co. Ltd. is remarkably worse than that of Messrs. Duncan Bros. & Co. Ltd. or Messrs. Macneil Barry & Co. Ltd. or Messrs. Shaw Wallace & Co. Ltd. Rather, the evidence shows that the financial position of the Company is secured and stable, and the business of the Company is now progressing well. I do not also think that if provision for gratuity is made for the clerical and the subordinate staff, the financial position of the Company will be seriously affected. After considering the pros and cons of the matter I decide that there should be provisions for gratuity for members of the clerical as well as the subordinate staff. I do not like to put any heavy burden on the Company but I like to introduce the scheme for gratuity with as light financial liability as possible.

The Company shall start giving retiring gratuity to the members of both clerical and subordinate staff. Each member will be entitled to gratuity at the rate of half-month's basic salary for each year of service subject to a maximum of 12 months' basic salary at the time of his normal retirement or on the discontinuance of his service due to his death or as a result of any physical disablement which permanently incapacitates him from further employment. The gratuity will be calculated on the basis of the salary for the last completed month of service. The calculation of the length of service will be on the basis of complete years and for such calculation employment for six months (182 days) or more will be treated as one complete year and employment for less than six months will be ignored. This gratuity scheme shall be operative with effect from 1st September 1963, and if any members of the clerical and the subordinate staff of the Company retired in the mean time shall also get the benefit of this gratuity.

Lastly, I shall take up the issues mentioned in item No. 1 of the first and the second references. In the first reference the issue relates to grade and scales of pay of the clerical staff, stenographers, comptists, and telephone operators. The issue in the second reference relates to grades and scales of pay of the subordinate staff. The workmen have relied upon the grades and scales of pay mentioned in the copies of terms and conditions of service in respect of different companies, exhibited in this case. The union has also prepared a list of subordinate staff showing their present salary. This is Ext. 1. The Union has also relied upon the grades and scales of pay of different companies mentioned in a list marked Ext. 10. The Company has stated the pay scale of the clerical staff in Ext. C. There is also mention about the subordinate staff. Exhibit C(1) shows the grades and cales of pay of subordinate staff of the Company. I ave considered the relevant documents filed in this ase and also the statements of the witnesses xamined by both the sides. This Company pays 'uja bonus to the members of the clerical and the ubordinate staff besides the profit bonus. There is rovision for Provident Fund Scheme. The Union elied upon the terms and conditions of other companies which pay dearness allowance to the workmen ccording to the scheme of Bengal Chamber of ommerce. This Company pays such dearness llowance to the workmen. I have applied my best onsideration to the rates and scales of pay prevalent 1 the different companies and I find that on the hole the pay scales of the clerical staff and the subrdinate staff of the company are satisfactory and it annot be stated that the scales of pay of this Company are unjustified. This Company pays Puja onus which is noteworthy, in addition to the profit onus. It is expected that as far as practicable the rades and scales of pay of different companies in a articular region should be, more or less, the same. ut it cannot be stated that there should be mathenatical precision in order of fixation of the wages in ll the business concerns. That is impracticable. It s to be seen whether on consideration of all the menities and emoluments enjoyed by the workmen, he wage-structure of a particular company is easonable with reference to the wages existing in ther companies. It all depends upon the facts and ircumstances appearing in each particular case. In ie present case before me I have extended the retirig age of the workmen of this Company from 55 to 8. The workmen have gained three years' service. esides extending the retiring age, I have also allowed ratuity to the workmen. This is a new scheme in iis Company, and the workmen will get substantial enefit by this scheme. Besides, there is Provident und. For this gratuity scheme and the extension f the retiring age the Company is to bear additional nancial liability. I have indicated my views irlier that even if there is any slight difference in ie wage-scale of the workmen when compared with ie wage-scale of other companies, it would be of reater benefit to the workmen to have the benefit f the gratuity than to have a slight increase in the age structure. However, in the present case as I ave already remarked, I do not think that I should iterfere with the grades and scales of pay of the erical and the subordinate staff because they do not ppear to me to be unjustified or unreasonable and so because I have passed orders for passing gratuity cheme in favour of the workmen. I do not like) burden the Company with further liability in view f the present financial position of the Company. ome time is to be allowed to pass in order to see ow the Company fares after this decision and how ie financial position of the Company works. If ecessary the question of revision of grades and cales of pay of these workmen may be considered ter some time or if the circumstances so demand 1 future. At present, however, I think that the resent grades and scales of pay of the members f the clerical staff including stenographers, mptists, and telephone operators, and the subordiate staff are not unsatisfactory. They are workable. therefore do not like to interfere with the grades id scales of pay as mentioned in the issue No. 1 f first reference, dated 31st October 1960, and the second reference, dated 22nd November 1962. The prayer of the workmen regarding the revision of grades and scales of pay is refused.

In view of my findings above, both the references mentioned above are hereby disposed of by this award which shall govern both the cases.

By order of the Governor,
S. C. MUKHERJEE, Asst. Secy.

No. 4130-I.R./IR/10L-41(L)/60.—9th September 1964.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 4507-I.R./IR/10L-41(L)/60, dated the 3rd October 1962, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Indian Iron & Steel Co. Ltd., Burnpur, district Burdwan, and their workmen represented by the United Iron and Steel Workers' Union, Station Road, P.O. Burnpur, district Burdwan, regarding the issue mentioned in the said order, being a matter specified in the Second and the Third Schedules to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal for adjudication;

And whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Industrial Tribunal, Shri Ramnarayan Choudhury, a workman of the said Company, made a complaint in writing to the said Industrial Tribunal against the said Company alleging that the said Company had dismissed the said workman concerned in such dispute;

And whereas in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the said Industrial Tribunal has adjudicated upon the said complaint and submitted its award to the State Government;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, filed by one Shri Ramnarayan Choudhury (Ex-T. No. 132/529), C/o United Iron & Steel Workers' Union, Subhaspally, P.O. Burnpur, district Burdwan, an employee of the Indian Iron & Steel Co. Ltd.,

P.O. Burnpur, district Burdwan, against the aforesaid Company. (Case No. 127 of 1963 under section 33A.)

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri K. P. MUKHERJI, Judge,
Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Company: Shri P. P. Ginwala, Counsel, and Shri Lenin Roy, Advocate.

Present for the Union: Shri Chandrashekhar Mukherji and Shri Kalyan Roy, Officers of the Union.

This proceeding arises out of a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed by Ramnarayan Choudhury against his employer the Indian Iron & Steel Co. Ltd. alleging contravention of the provisions to section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. It is alleged in the petition that he was one of the oldest employees of the Company and was promoted to the post of chipper sometime in the year 1941 and was working as such up to the date of his dismissal. Sometime in the month of May 1963 this man was asked by the management to work as a Khalasi without assigning any reason, and the matter was taken up with the Assistant Labour Commissioner by the United Iron & Steel Workers' Union of which he was a member. While the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Asansol, was carrying on negotiations regarding the matter with the management, the petitioner was given successive charge sheets with the sole object of forcing him to do the job of a khalasi and ultimately he was dismissed from service on his refusal to work as a khalasi. It is alleged that there was no enquiry into the charge sheet which was issued against the petitioner, and in effecting the change of designation of the petitioner without issue of any notice to him under section 9A of the Industrial Disputes Act, the management has contravened the provision of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The action of the management in dismissing the petitioner has been characterised as mala fide, arbitrary and in violation of the principles of natural justice and is said to be actuated by a desire of unfair labour practice and victimisation.

The opposite party, the Indian Iron & Steel Company Ltd., has appeared and opposed the application by filing a written statement. The material facts as set forth in the written statement, shortly stated, are these:

The present application is misconceived and not maintainable inasmuch as there has been no contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. The post of the Chipper to which the petitioner was employed was abolished and he was absorbed as a khalasi by the management in pursuance of an agreement between the Company and the recognised Union, viz., the Asansol Iron and Steel Workers' Union, regarding the fitting in of the surplus chippers. The petitioner was absorbed as a khalasi on the same pay and grade, and other conditions of service which were applicable to him as a chippe remained the same, and by his absorption as a khalas he suffered no loss in emoluments. The petitione did the job of khalasi for some time, and from th month of June 1963 onwards up till his dismissal i August 1963, he persistently refused to work as a khalasi and, in fact, did no work at all. The Com pany was forced to issue charge sheets against hin on the 24th June 1963, 15th July 1963 and 23r August 1963 for disobedience of the lawful order and refusal to work according to the instructions o his superiors. He submitted replies to the charg sheets. As his explanations were not found satis factory by the management, he was dismissed fron service with effect from the 25th August 1963, an a letter of dismissal was issued to him on the 24t August 1963. It is alleged that the refusal by th petitioner to work as a khalasi was wrongful an amounted to gross misconduct which justified hi dismissal. It is denied that the action of the Compan in dismissing the petitioner was mala fide or arbitrar or in violation of the principles of natural justice, o that the action of the management was indicative o unfair labour practice or victimisation, as alleged by the petitioner. The petitioner, it is pleaded, is no entitled to any relief under section 33A of th Industrial Disputes Act.

It is an undisputed fact that a dispute raised ove the retrenchment of Shri Samar Sen, a workman of th opposite party, is pending before this Tribunal fo adjudication. A preliminary objection has bee raised on behalf of the Company that the petitioner i not a workman concerned in the dispute of Shr Samar Sen, and as such he is not competent to file th present application under section 33A of the Indus trial Disputes Act, 1947. There cannot be any doub that a workman can only file an application unde section 33A of the Act for contravention of sectio 33 of the Act during the pendency of an industria dispute if he is concerned in such a dispute. This i clear from sub-section 2 of section 33 of the Act. I is, therefore, to be seen whether the present applican Ramnarayan Choudhury is concerned in the disput over the question of retrenchment of Shri Samar Se which is pending before this Tribunal. If he is no the application is not maintainable in law. Th evidence of P.W. 1 Shri Kalyan Roy, who is th Joint Secretary of the United Iron & Steel Worker Union, is that Shri Samar Sen was dismissed fro service in 1953, and the Union took up his cause The matter went up to the Hon'ble Supreme Cour and Shri Samar Sen was directed to be reinstated The Company, however, did not reinstate him. H was laid off by the Company and subsequentl retrenched. He has further stated that the Union, a the instance of Shri Samar Sen and other workme including Ramnarayan Choudhury, took up the cas of Shri Samar Sen over the question of his retrench ment, and that case is still pending for adjudicatio In cross-examination this witness has stated that Ram narayan Choudhury is concerned in the disput regarding the retrenchment of Shri Samar Sen as h is a member of the Union, and the Union took up th cause of retrenchment of Shri Samar Sen. Th evidence of Shri Ramnarayan Choudhury, P.W. 2, that he is a member of the present Union since it registration in 1955, and he pays subscription as member of the Union. His name appears as member in serial No. 34 of the membership regist of the United Iron & Steel Workers' Union. He has also stated that he and the other workmen approached the Union with a request to take up the cause of Shri Samar Sen after he was retrenched. The evidence of these two witnesses makes it clear that the present Union took up the cause of Shri Samar Sen at the instance of some workmen who were members of the Union, including Ramnarayan Choudhury. It has been held by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of New India Motors Private Ltd. and Morris (K.T.), reported in 1960-I-LLJ 552, that the expression "A workman concerned in the dispute" occurring in section 33 should not be limited to workmen directly or immediately concerned in such disputes. In view of this decision the expression "workmen concerned in such dispute" in section 33 could not be limited only to such of the workmen who are directly concerned in the dispute in question, and that being the position, the petitioner is a workman concerned in the dispute of Shri Samar Sen which is now pending and is therefore competent to file an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act.

It is now well settled by a series of decisions that in deciding an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act the Tribunal should first of all decide the question whether any of the provisions of section 33 of the Act has been contravened and if it is satisfied about such contravention, then the Tribunal should go into the merits of the case and decide what relief, if any, should be granted to the petitionr. It is now to be seen whether there has been any contravention of any of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

It is not disputed that the petitioner was dismissed from service on a charge of misconduct for disobedience of lawful orders and refusal to work according to the instructions of superior officers. The charge against him which led to his dismissal, in short, is misconduct on his part, and for this misconduct he was punished by dismissal from service. His case, therefore, comes under section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act, and the proviso to section has not been complied with inasmuch as he was not given one month's wages in lieu of notice, nor any application for approval of the order of dismissal was filed before the Tribunal. There has thus been contravention of section 33(2)(b) and this contravention gives jurisdiction to this Tribunal to entertain the application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act. But mere contravention of section 33 of the Act, as I have already said, does not entitle a workman to relief by way of reinstatement and back wages. It is to be proved further that the order of dismissal is not proper and therefore not justified. In other words, if the order of dismissal is otherwise justified, mere breach of section 33 is to be regarded as a technical breach, and the aggrieved workman is not entitled to any relief whatsoever. Admittedly, no enquiry was held into the charge sheets which were issued to the petitioner, and he was not given any opportunity to explain his conduct. It has been urged that the petitioner admitted in his reply to the charge sheet that he refused to work as a khalasi which was no part of his normal job and, in view of this admission, the management did not consider it necessary to hold any enquiry into the charge sheets which were issued against him, and no useful purpose also would have been served by holding an enquiry into the charge sheets. This argument does not appear to be well founded. The petitioner in his reply to the charge sheet, dated 23rd August 1963 (Ext. J-1), stated that he could not legitimately be asked to do the job of a khalasi and, as such, he could not carry out the order of his superior officer. This admission does not amount to an admission of the charge that was brought against him. The object of a domestic enquiry is to find out on evidence whether the charge brought against a particular workman is proved. Had there been an enquiry against the petitioner, he would have got an opportunity to prove that it was no part of his job to work as a khalasi. It would be for the enquiring officer to come to a finding as to whether refusal to work as a khalasi amounted to a misconduct on his part which would have justified his dismissal. The enquiry, if any, would have revealed whether the order of the superior officer of the petitioner asking him to work as a khalasi was a lawful one or not. In this view of the matter the Company should have held an enquiry into the charge sheet, dated 23rd August 1963, which was issued to him, and the Company cannot be heard to say that no useful purpose would have been served by holding an enquiry against the petitioner. It now remains to consider whether the evidence adduced before me can be regarded as sufficient to prove misconduct on the part of the petitioner and to justify his dismissal. The petitioner was appointed as a coolie in 1939 and he was promoted as a Chipper in 34" Finishing Bay in 1941. The duty of the petitioner as a chipper was to operate a small pneumatic hammer for the purpose of removing the surface defects on the steel products with the help of a chisel. This practice, however, has been discontinued and the chippers were absorbed in other posts. The evidence of O.P.W. 1 Rabindra Nath Banerji is that he was the General Foreman of the 34" Mills Finishing Bay before he was promoted to the post of the shipping manager. His evidence is "Since July 1962, the chippers' job was abolished. Six of the chippers were absorbed as chipper filers, one as stamper and printer, five as slingers and one as operator and the rest as khalasis. The total number of chippers was 20. This was done between August 1962 and December 1962. Ramnarayan was working as chipper and filer provisionally from August to December 1962. Ramnarayan worked as a khalasi from December 1962 to June 1963. He, however, refused to work as khalasi from June 1963 onwards and charge sheets were issued to him. Before issuing the charge sheets to him, I tried to persuade him to work as khalasi but he did not agree". He has also stated that the jobs of operators, assistant straighteners, stampers printers are not jobs allied to the jobs of chippers. His further evidence is that the job of the Assistant Straightners is to operate straightening machine electrical and to find out whether the materials coming out of the machine are straight or not. Stampers and Printers, according to him, are required to be literate as their duties are to put marks and stamps on the finished products coming out of the machine. The evidence of this witness makes it clear that since the abolition of chippers' job in July 1962 some of the chippers were absorbed as khalasis without any loss of remuneration. This is also admitted by P.W. 2 Ramnarayan but his grievance is that chippers who were absorbed as khalasis were junior to him. The evidence of O.P.W. 1 Rabindra Nath Banerjee who is a responsible officer of the Company is that some posts of chippers and filers have been created but those chippers who had previous charge sheets issued to them were not considered for these posts and that is the reason why Ramnarayan was not also considered for that post. The explanation given by this witness as to why Ramnarayan was not considered for any other post appears to be quite reasonable and his absorption as Khalasi cannot be regarded as reduction in rank as the pay of a khalasi is the same as that of a chipper. He was therefore not justified in refusing to work as a khalasi on the ground that chippers who were junior to him were appointed as operators, stampers, etc., in view of the evidence of O.P.W. 1 that the jobs of operators, stampers, printers, etc., are not allied to the jobs of chippers. The plea raised by the workman that he was dismissed from the service out of a desire for victimisation by the Company as he refused to join the Union which is recognised by the Company does not appear to be acceptable in view of the fact that even after the issue of charge sheet to Ramnarayan, his son was employed by the Company. The dismissal of the workman Ramnarayan Chowdhury appears to be bona fide and he is not entitled to any relief by way of reinstatement as claimed by him.

It now remains to consider whether he is entitled to any relief whatsoever. He joined the Company as a coolie in 1939 and served the Company for a long time though his record of service is not very clean. He appears to have been misguided in refusing to work as a Khalasi which resulted in his dismissal. In view of the fact that he served the Company for a long time and his loss of employment is likely to cause great hardship I direct the Company to pay him a sum of Rs 500 (Rupee Five hundred) as ex-gratia payment for loss of his employment within 15 days from the date of publication.

This is my award.

AWARD

This is an industrial dispute between the Calcutta Bullion Association and their workmen represented by Burrabazar Jamadar Sangh referred to this Court for adjudication under Government Order No. 3830-I.R., dated 11th September 1958.

After the receipt of the above order of reference usual notices were served on the parties concerned. Gradually, the parties filed their written statements and steps were being taken for final hearing of the case. In the meantime the matter went up to the Hon'ble High Court, Calcutta, at the instance of the Association (the Company). It now transpires from the Government Order No. 4916(2)-I.R., dated 4th December 1963, of the Labour Department that the case had been compromised before Hon'ble Mr. Justice Sinha of the Calcutta High Court and that the Government was not a party to the compromise. I have every reason to believe that there is no dispute now existing between the parties inasmuch as none of the parties is taking any interest in the matter pending before this Court after the aforesaid compromise before the Hon'ble High Court.

I, therefore, pass this "no dispute" award and dispose of the case accordingly.

AWARD

By Order No. 4062-I.R.|IR|13L-2|63, dated the 27th September 1963, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Shri Gouranga Press (P) Ltd., 5 Chintamoni Das Lane, Calcutta-9, and their workmen represented by Shri Gouranga Press Employees' Union, 2 Ramkanta Mistri Lane, Calcutta-12, regarding the matter specified in the schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by Notification No. 808-I.R.|IR|3A-2|57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issue

Bonus for the year ending 31st December 1961.

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, made by the Government of West Bengal for adjudication of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Shri Gouranga Press (P) Ltd., 5 Chintamoni Das Lane, Calcutta-9 (hereinafter be referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Shri Gouranga Press Employees' Union, 2 Ramkanta Mistri Lane, Calcutta-12 (hereinafter be referred to as the Union).

The reference relates to the workmen's claim of bonus for the year ending 31st December 1961.

As usual immediately after receipt of the reference notices were issued to the parties calling upon them to appear and present their cases. Both parties readily appeared and filed their written statements. Steps were also taken for ascertaining available surplus of the profit, if any, to be calculated in accordance with the Full Bench Formula.

I am glad to note that shortly after completion of the steps by the parties there was a talk of settlement and the parties agreed to the certain terms of settlement which they embodied in a joint petition of compromise filed before this Tribunal on 7th September 1964. Both parties agreed that for the accounting year 1961 the company will pay one and half months' basic wages as bonus to the workmen who will voluntarily accept the same as bonus for the said year. They have also made similar agreement in respect of bonus for the two succeeding years 1962 and 1963 which, of course, is left out of consideration as extraneous so far as the present reference is concerned. Both parties having voluntarily agreed to the quantum of bonus for the accounting year 1961 which is in dispute in the present reference I see no reason why the said term should not be accepted as fair and proper. So, I accept the terms of settlement as fair, proper and reasonable and make an award on compromise in terms of the joint petition of compromise which do form part of the award as annexure thereto.

This is my award.

Shri J. N. MANDAL, Judge.

In the matter of an industrial dispute referred to th Tribunal under Government of West Benga Labour Department, Order of Reference Nc 4062-I.R.|IR|13L-2|63, dated the 27th Septem ber 1963

Between

Messrs. Shri Gouranga Press Private Ltd., 5 Chinta moni Das Lane, Calcutta-9 (hereinafter to b referred to as the Company).

And

The workmen employed by them, represented by Shr Gouranga Press Employees' Union, 2 Ramkant Mistri Lane, (hereinafter to be referred to a Union).

The humble petition of Shri Gouranga Pres Private Ltd. and their workmen represented by Shr Gouranga Press Employees' Union most respectfull sheweth:

That in the above matter the parties concerned hav come to an amicable settlement and have agreed a follows:

(a) That for the accounting year 1961, i.e., the year in dispute, the Company will pay the workmer concerned bonus at the rate of one and a half months basic wages including the amount of bonus and ex-gratia already paid. Such payment would settl finally the dispute referred to this tribunal under the order of reference mentioned hereinabove.

This payment will be made in the following manner:

(i) Full bonus will be paid to those workmen who had put in 12 months' continuous service during the accounting year for which bonus is paid.

(ii) Proportionate bonus will be paid to such permanent workmen who had put in service during the accounting year concerned for period not less than three months.

(b) That both the parties further agree that for the accounting years 1962 and 1963, the Company will grant bonus to the workmen concerned at the aforesaid rate, i.e., at the rate of one and a half months' basic wages including the amount of bonus and ex-gratia already paid for the year 1962 and one and a half months' basic wages for the year 1963 in the manner mentioned in paragraph 1(a).

(c) It is further agreed by both the parties that such payment of bonus for the accounting years 1961, 1962 and 1963 as mentioned above, neither creates any precedent nor will it be treated as a condition of service. In future years payment of bonus will be made in the event of availability of surplus profit according to law. It is also agreed that if the workmen concerned are found to be entitled according to law, to an amount higher than what has been agreed to be paid under clauses (a) and (b) for the accounting years 1961 and 1962 and 1963, the company will pay the balance.

(d) That after deduction of the amount of bonus and ex-gratia already paid for the years 1961 and 1962 from the amount agreed upon under clauses (a) and (b) above, the balance would be paid to the workmen entitled on publication of the Award.

Under the circumstances both the parties above humbly pray that Your Honour may be pleased to accept the Agreement and pass an Award that there is no dispute requiring adjudication to pass any other order deemed fit.

This is an industrial dispute under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act between Messrs. Kajal Engineering Works, 237/K Manicktala Main Road, Calcutta-1 (hereinafter referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by General Trading & Engineering Workers' Union, 1 Jay Bhattacharya Lane, Calcutta-3 (hereinafter referred to as the Union), referred to this Tribunal for adjudication under Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 1024-I.R./IR/10L-52/64, dated 5th March 1964.

The issue framed in this case runs as follows:—

Whether the termination of services of the following workmen is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

(1) Shri Bijoy Kumar Das.
(2) Shri Bijoy Kr. Pal.
(3) Shri Bankim Chandra Saha.
(4) Shri Binoy Kr. Das.
(5) Shri Atul Chandra Bera.

AWARD

After the receipt of the reference and service of notices, both the Union and the Company appeared and prayed for time for filing written statement. But ultimately they filed a joint petition of compromise. The terms are fair and reasonable. The Company has paid a sum of Rs. 500 to the President of the Union in full and final settlement of the claims of the five workmen concerned. The case is thus disposed of in terms of the petition of compromise which will form Annexure "A" to this award.

Award

This is a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by Shri Sobaran Lal, an employee of Messrs. Aluminium Corporation of India Ltd., against the said company alleging contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Act during the pendency of an industrial dispute between the company and its workmen. It is alleged that the petitioner was falsely implicated in a police case at the instance of the company and he was suspended with effect from 18th February 1963. The police case ended in a final report, but the peitioner was kept under suspension for an indefinite period and this amounted to punishment. The action of the company is said to be in contravention of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, and hence the present application.

The company entered appearance on 7th February 1964 and filed a written objection on 22nd February 1964. On 9th September 1964, a petition was filed by the workman concerned stating that as the case of the petitioner along with some others has been referred to this Tribunal under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act for adjudication, he does not like to proceed with the case and he may be permitted to withdraw the complaint.

In view of the petition, the complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, is treated as withdrawn and the case is disposed of accordingly. This is my award.

No. 4240-I.R./IR/10L-149(A)/64.—17th September 1964.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 3537-I.R./IR/10L-97/62, dated the 6th August 1962 (hereinafter referred to as the said order), the industrial dispute between the employees of the Engineering Establishments mentioned in the list I of the said order and represented by themselves or by the organisations mentioned in list II of the said order on the one hand and their workmen represented by the Trade Unions mentioned in the list III of the said order, on the other, regarding the issues mentioned in the said order, being matters specified in the Third Schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred to the Seventh Industrial Tribunal for adjudication;

And whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Industrial Tribunal Shri Abdul Rahaman, a workman of Messrs. Walford Transport Ltd., 71 Park Street, Calcutta, one of the Companies involved in the said disputes, made a complaint in writing to the said Industrial Tribunal against the said Company alleging that the said Company had dismissed the said workman concerned in such dispute;

And whereas in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the said Industrial Tribunal has adjudicated upon the said complaint and submitted its award to the State Government;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of a complaint under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, by Shri Abdul Rahaman, village Dipa, P.O. Palghustia, district Howrah, workman of Messrs. Walford Transport Ltd., 71 Park Street, Calcutta, against that Company. (Case No. 125/63, under section 33A.)

BEFORE THE SEVENTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri S. K. RAY, Judge, Seventh Industrial Tribunal.

For the Complainant: Shri N. Roy, Advocate.

For the Company: Shri J. N. Chatterji of E.A.I.

AWARD

This proceeding arises out of an application under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, by Shri Abdul Rahaman, a workman of Messrs. Walford Transport Ltd., complaining against his dismissal from the Company's service by its letter, dated 5th July 1963, during the pendency of the adjudication proceedings of another dispute between the Company and its workmen, referred to this Tribunal by Government order No. 3537-I.R./IR/10L-97/62, dated 6th August 1962.

The dismissal has been challenged as being in contravention of the relevant provisions of section 33, Industrial Disputes Act, and also as unjust, unfair, illegal, mala fide and vindictive.

The relevant case put forward by the applicant in his application is as follows: He was being harassed by the Company for his being an active member of the Union. He had been suffering from ophthalmic disease and had been on leave from 29th April 1963. The Company asked for a medical certificate in support of his alleged ophthalmic disease, but he informed the Manager of the Company by his letter, dated 3rd May 1963, that as he could not obtain any certificate of an ophthalmic doctor, it was not possible for him to have a certificate from the E.S.I. doctor. The Company allowed the leave prayed for. He continued to suffer from persisting eye trouble and so he submitted medical certificates to the Company on different dates to the effect that he was not in a position to resume duty till his full recovery. The Company did not send any further communication to him and so, he was under the bona fide belief that leave recommended in the medical certificates sent by him had been granted by the Company. Thereafter, while he was still suffering from eye disease, the Company dismissed him by its letter, dated 5th July 1963, which was received by him on a much later date. This dismissal was effected without complying with the provisions of section 33(2)(b), Industrial Disputes Act, and it was also unfair, unjust, illegal, mala fide and vindictive.

The Company has filed written statement in reply to the workman's application. The relevant case put forward by the Company is briefly as follows. There was no violation of any relevant provision of section 33, Industrial Disputes Act, in the matter of the dismissal of this workman. This workman was in the habit of indulging in unauthorised absence from work and for this reason, a warning letter was issued to him on 27th April 1963 for his unsatisfactory attendance. After receiving this warning letter, he again started absenting himself from duty from 29th April 1963 without permission and on 3rd May 1963 he submitted a leave application on the ground of sickness without any proper medical certificate in support of the same. The Company, by its letter, dated 7th May 1963, informed the workman of its inability to grant leave for an indefinite period and asked him to produce a proper medical certificate in support of his leave application. He submitted a medical certificate dated 8th May 1963 for leave for 16 days and subsequently, he submitted another undated medical certificate recommending extended leave till 3rd June 1963. He was due to resume his duties on 4th June 1963, on the expiry of his leave on medical grounds. But, he neither reported for duty on 4th June 1963, nor applied for any further leave. The Company waited for him till 5th July 1963 and finally dismissed him from service for continuous absence without permission. By a letter of that date, he was also asked to collect all his dues from the Company. The dismissal of the applicant was proper and bona fide and he is not entitled to any relief.

At the hearing, it was clearly admitted by Shri J. N. Chatterjee, the Company's representative, that the Company did not comply with the provisions of section 33(2)(b), Industrial Disputes Act, in the matter of dismissal of this workman by the letter, dated 5th July 1963, though it was effected during the pendency of the adjudication proceedings of another dispute between the Company and its workmen, referred to this Tribunal by Government order No. 3537-I.R., dated 6th August 1962. So, contravention of the relevant provision of section 33 applicable to this dismissal is an admitted position. There is also no evidence to show that the Company either paid or offered one month's wages to the workman, or made any application to this Tribunal for approval of the dismissal, as required by the proviso to section 33(2)(b), Industrial Disputes Act. In view of this position, we can go straight into the merits of the dismissal in the present proceeding on the unchallengable legal position that the dispute covered by the proceeding is to be treated as a dispute referred to this Tribunal by the Government for adjudication.

It is an undisputed position that this workman began to absent himself from duty from 29th April 1963 and subsequently on 3rd May 1963, he made an application to the Company for leave from 29th April 1963, on the ground that he was suffering from ophthalmic disease, but no medical certificate was submitted along with this application (vide Ext. A), and in reply to this application, the Company, by its letter, dated 7th May 1963 (Ext. B), informed him that leave could not be granted for an indefinite period and also asked him to apply for leave stating the period for which leave was necessary and supporting it by a medical certificate, and after this the workman submitted a medical certificate, dated 8th May 1963 (Ext. C), from a private registered medical practitioner, recommending him leave for 16 days, but the workman did not rejoin his duty after the period of 16 days, referred to in the said certificate, and he sent another medical certificate without date (Ext. D) from the same private medical practitioner recommending him leave for a further period up to 3rd June 1963. It is clear from the position taken up by the Company in its written statement that this workman was granted leave up to 3rd June 1963 on the basis of the medical certificates (Exts. C and D). It is also an undisputed position that the workman did not rejoin his duty on 4th June 1963 and he continued to be absent till the date of the issue of the dismissal letter, dated 5th July 1963 (Ext. E), and he subsequently appeared with the fit certificate (Ext. 1) on or about 23rd July 1963, long after the letter of dismissal, dated 5th July 1963. The Company has also admitted that it received another medical certificate, dated 8th July 1963, in support of the continued illness of the workman since 4th June 1963. Exhibit H is that certificate. In this certificate, it was also stated that the workman would require another 15 days from 8th July 1963, for his recovery so as to be able to resume his work. It appears that the Company took no action upon this certificate, evidently because it had already dismissed the workman with effect from 5th July 1963. The workman's case is that he also sent another medical certificate to the Company 15 or 16 days before he received the letter of discharge on 11th July 1963 but this certificate is not admitted by the Company. There is no evidence except the uncorroborated oral testimony of the workman to prove that he really sent such a certificate. O.P.W. 1 Shri E. C. Slacke, who was Service Manager of the Company at the relevant time, has stated in his evidence that they received only two medical certificates from this workman in connection with his leave from 29th April 1963 —one dated 8th May 1963 and the other without date. Evidently, in this statement, he has referred to the certificates, Exts. C and D. He has also admitted the medical certificate, dated 8th July 1963 (Ext. H). The position is that according to the workman, he produced five medical certificates, including the fit certificate, Ext. 1, in connection with his leave, but, according to the Company, only three certificates were received by the Company, two before his dismissal which were acted upon (Exts. C and D), and one after his dismissal (Ext. H). Upon the evidence, I accept the Company's case and hold that only three medical certificates were produced in connection with the leave of this workman, Exts. C, D and H. I do not also see any reason to disbelieve the workman's case that he came with the fit certificate, Ext. 1, to resume his duties on 23rd July 1963, long after his dismissal by the Company's letter, dated 5th July 1963. The only question is whether upon the facts proved, the Company was justified and acted bona fide in dismissing him by its letter, dated 5th July 1963. I should state here that it is admitted on behalf of the Company that no charge-sheet was issued to this workman and no domestic enquiry was held in connection with his dismissal. It has been argued on behalf of the workman that when no charge-sheet was even issued to the workman for the alleged misconduct for which he was dismissed, the Tribunal cannot in the present proceeding under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, go into the merits of the dismissal. I am unable to accept this contention. No judicial decision in support of this position has been produced before me. In my view, the general legal position is that the Tribunal can independently go into the merits of a dismissal in a case under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, even when no charge-sheet was issued for the misconduct for which the dismissal took place. Coming back to the question of dismissal itself, the factual position is to be deemed to be that though this workman continued to absent himself from 29th April 1963 without first submitting any application for leave or medical certificate, the Company granted him leave up to 3rd June 1963, upon his subsequent application for leave and some medical certificates, but he did not rejoin his duties on 4th June 1963; nor did he send any further application for leave or medical certificate till 5th July 1963, and on that date, the Company dismissed him by its letter and thereafter the medical certificate, dated 8th July 1963, was sent, but the Company took no notice of this certificate and finally the workman appeared to resume his duties on 23rd July 1963 with a medical certificate of fitness, but the Company struck to its position that the dismissal had already taken effect and so, the workman could not be allowed to join his duties. It cannot be gainsaid that the workman was guilty of unauthorised absence from duty without leave from 4th June 1963 right up to the date of dismissal, 5th July 1963, and during this period no application or medical certificate was sent by him to the Company. The Company waited for more than a month from 4th June 1963 before taking the final action of dismissing the workman. I think it waited for quite a reasonable and sufficient time to allow the workman either to come back to duty or to apply for extension of leave with medical certificate. His conduct in absenting himself from duty from 4th June 1963, for more than a month without submitting any application for leave or medical certificate certainly amounted to a misconduct falling under clause (m) of section 15 of the Certified Standing Orders of the Company, Ext. I, and he was liable to dismissal for such misconduct under the provisions of the Standing Orders. It is to be noticed that he produced a medical certificate, dated 8th July 1963 (Ext. H), after the Company had already dismissed him on 5th July 1963. This certificate was not accepted and acted upon by the Company. The Company may be said to have acted legally and reasonably in doing so, in view of the position that it had already dismissed the workman after waiting for more than a month. A workman has not certainly the right to choose his own time for coming back to duty after he goes on leave and it is his duty to keep the Company informed of his intention to extend his leave and to substantiate his claim for extension of leave by making proper application for extension of leave with medical certificate where the leave is claimed on the ground of sickness. Here, we find that the Company allowed him leave on subsequent medical certificates up to 3rd June 1963, and thereafter waited for more than a month during which period no certificate or application was submitted by the workman. After considering all the aforesaid facts and circumstances, it cannot but be held that the Company was justified in dismissing the workman on the ground of his continued unauthorised absence without leave for more than a month from 4th June 1963, on which date, he was due to resume his duties after the expiry of his sanctioned leave. There are no materials before me upon which it can be held that the Company had any mala fide or vindictive motive against this workman. In the application, it is stated by the workman that the Company victimised him for his Trade Union activities. But there is no evidence to show that he is a prominent and active member of the Union and he incurred the displeasure of the Company for his Union activities. It is proved by Ext. F that on 27th April 1963 this workman was warned for habitual absenteeism. This warning is clearly mentioned in paragraph (3) of the Company's written statement. In this warning notice, particulars of his absence from duty from January 1962 to December 1962 were mentioned. There is no reason to disbelieve this warning or to reject it as mala fide and groundless. It is supported by a certified copy of the service sheet of this workman produced by the Company (Ext. 6). In spite of his bad record of attendance of this workman, the Company, it appears from the evidence in this case, granted him leave up to 3rd June 1963 and then waited for more than a month before dismissing him when he did not resume his duty on 4th June 1963; nor sent any application or medical certificate. On all the above considerations, I hold that the Company cannot be said to have acted mala fide or in a spirit of victimisation in dismissing the workman. In cross-examination of Shri E. A. Slacke, the Company's witness, it has been elicited that there is a rule in the Standing Orders that if an employee over-stays leave, that does not come under major misdemeanour. I have gone through the Standing Orders. I find that the relevant rule is in clause (d) of section 13, which stands thus:

> "If any workman remains absent beyond the period for which leave has been originally granted or subsequently extended, he shall lose his lien on his appointment. The Service Manager may however condone such absence (i) if the workman concerned, returns within three days of expiry of leave and (ii) gives an explanation to his satisfaction of his inability to return before expiry of the leave."

It would be seen that the rule provides that the workman would lose his lien on his appointment if he fails to rejoin his duty after expiry of the original or extended leave, subject to the condition that the Service Manager may condone such absence, if the concerned workman returns within three days of the expiry of the leave and gives satisfactory explanation of his inability to return before expiry of the leave. This rule cannot apply in the present case because the workman did not return within three days from the expiry of the last extended leave and he also did not furnish any satisfactory explanation of his inability to return to duty on the expiry of the leave. The factual position is that he remained continuously absent from 4th June 1963 up to 5th July 1963, without submitting any application or medical certificate and he submitted a medical certificate, dated 8th July 1963, after he had already been dismissed on 5th July 1963. In view of these facts and circumstances, the benefit of rule (d) of section 13 of the Standing Orders cannot be claimed by the workman in the present case.

Lastly, it has been contended on behalf of the workman that the punishment of dismissal meted out to him is disproportionately severe, having regard to the nature of the offence for which the punishment was inflicted and this indicates that the Company acted mala fide in a spirit of victimisation. I am unable to accept this contention. I have already held above that he was guilty of a major misdemeanour falling under clause (m) of section 15 of the Standing Orders (absence without leave) and is not entitled to the benefit of clause (d) of section 13 of the Standing Orders, which provides for some relief to a workman over-staying his leave in certain circumstances and on certain conditions. As he was guilty of a major misdemeanour for which he was liable to be dismissed under the Standing Orders, the punishment inflicted upon him cannot be said to be disproportionately severe so as to indicate that the Company acted mala fide and in a spirit of victimisation. It is to be noted in this connection that it has been proved that he was in the habit of frequently absenting himself from duty and for this, he was warned. I have discussed this matter and referred to Exts. F and G, the warning letter and the attendance sheet of the workman respectively.

On all the above decisions and for the reasons recorded above, I hold that the Company was justified in dismissing the workman with effect from 5th July 1963 on the ground of unauthorised absence without leave from 4th June 1963, and the action of the Company was bona fide and without any spirit of victimisation.

According to the above decisions, the dismissal of the workman is to be upheld. But, it is to be noted that though the dismissal fell under section 33(2)(b), Industrial Disputes Act, in view of the pendency of the adjudication proceedings of another dispute between the Company and its workmen, already referred to this Tribunal, the Company did not comply with the requirements of the proviso to that section, which are payment of one month's wages and making of an application for approval to this Tribunal. So, even if the dismissal is upheld, the Company must be required to pay him one month's wages in addition to his other legal dues for the period of service. As to the making of the application for approval, it is no longer necessary because the Tribunal has to adjudicate upon the complaint regarding the dismissal in the present case under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act "as if it were a dispute referred to or pending before it" and to submit an award to the Government.

Upon the decisions and for the reasons recorded above, I award that the dismissal of the concerned workman was justified and bona fide and he is not entitled to any relief except that the Company shall pay him one month's wages within 15 days from the publication of the award in addition to his other legal dues for the period of service. The application under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act is disposed of accordingly.

The Government of West Bengal by its Lat Department Order No. 4820-I.R./IR/11L-424 dated 29th November 1963, referred to this Tribu an industrial dispute between Messrs. Jarc Menzies & Co. 2 Clive Row, Calcutta-1 (hereina refererd to as the Company), and their workr represented by National Union of Commer Employees, 7B Rani Rashmoni Road, Calcu (hereinafter referred to as the Union), for adjud tion under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes A

The issue framed in this case runs as follows:

Whether the discharge of the workmen nam below is justified? To what relief, if any, they entitled?

(1) Shri Kanailal Das.

(2) Shri Phanindra Nath Chatterjee.

AWARD

The National Union of Commercial Employees the Union which represents the workmen in t reference. The workmen concerned are Sl Kanailal Das and Shri Phanindra Nath Chatterj Their case is that they were discharged suddenly 2nd February 1963 and this discharge is illeg Shri Das used to draw Rs. 228 per month while Sl Chatterjee Rs. 170 per month. Their contention that the act of the Company amounts to retrenc ment. The workmen claims arrear salaries fro November 1962 and retrenchment compensation f 33 years of service in the case of Shri Das and years of service in the case of Shri Chatterjee.

The Company in its written statement challeng that it is an individual dispute and not an industri dispute. The Company also contends the Unio mentioned in the order of reference is not Union of the workmen of this Company and of the workmen of the Company is interested in t dispute of these two workmen—Shri Das and Shri Chatterjee. The Company's further case is that the length of service alleged by the workmen concerned is not true. By virtue of an agreement, dated 1st July 1960, they were appointed on purely temporary basis, and the Company were entitled to dismiss them by serving one month's notice. The financial condition of the Company deteriorated. The Company did not retrench any employee, but the employees themselves voluntarily left their service. There was no retrenchment in the garb of verbal discharge.

Decision

The claim of the arrear salary of the workmen concerned prior to their discharge on 2nd February 1963 cannot be claimed before this Tribunal. The Tribunal will only decide whether their discharge is justified or not. The preliminary objection raised on the point that the present reference is incompetent in view of the fact that it is not an industrial dispute, is therefore another issue which has got to be decided by this Tribunal. I would take up this question first. The Union named in the order of reference is National Union of Commercial Employees. It is not a Union of the workmen of the industry concerned. The law with regard to the circumstances under which an individual dispute becomes an industrial dispute is stated in very clear terms in the decision of Mr. Justice P. N. Banerjee reported in 1962 L.L.J. I page 163. The relevant portion occurs at page 165, and it is: "when a Union unconnected with the workmen employed in the industry". The onus is accordingly upon the Union to prove that some workmen of the particular industry are concerned in the dispute of dismissal of Shri Das and Shri Chatterjee. It would not be enough to prove that Shri Das and Shri Chatterjee are members of that Union or they authorised the Union to espouse their cause. The Union will have to prove that a section of the workmen employed in the particular industry are concerned in that dispute and they authorised the National Union of Commercial Employees to take up their cause. This point is that specifically taken in the written statement of the Company. The evidence on the point is that of Shri Das, one of the displaced workmen. He stated that five workers of the Company became members of this Union in the middle of 1961. The onus is not discharged simply by the oral testimony of Shri Das. Shri Das referred his case to the Labour Department in his petition, dated 31st May 1963 (Ext. 1/3). He referred it as an individual dispute and there is not a whisper of the Union in his letter. He stated that he himself, Phanindra Nath Chatterjeee, Sushil Kundu, Akshay Dey and Krishna Das became members of the Union, and he had receipts to show the membership. But those receipts are not filed. Since those documents are withheld, the adverse inference would be that there is no existence of such records. Shri Das admitted that he had no paper to show that he was a member of the Union or any one else of the Company. Now I will turn to the evidence of Shri Chatterjee. He states that he has papers to show his membership. But he did not file the same. He wanted to add that Krishna Das was a member of the Union, but he had no paper to show that he was a member. In the absence of those records, I must hold that there is no existence of those records. There is no other evidence on this point. I cannot, therefore, come to the conclusion that the Union has authority to champion the cause of the dismissed workmen, and so the individual dispute of the two workmen cannot be said to have assumed the character of industrial dispute, since the other workmen of this Company are not concerned in the dismissal of these two workmen. On this point, alone, the Union has no case. Hence, my conclusion is that it is an individual dispute ad not an industrial dispute.

Now I will come to the merits of the case. The evidence of the workmen concerned—Shri Das and Shri Chatterjee—is that they were discharged verbally on 4th February 1962. There is an agreement admitted by Shri Das (Ext. A) and it shows that the services of the workmen named therein were terminated on 30th June 1960, and the employees agreed to work purely on temporary basis with effect from 1st July 1960. There is further evidence that the workers were not getting their salary regularly, and this was due to financial difficulties of the Company. The salary for September 1962 was paid to Shri Das after his alleged discharge on 4th February 1963, and that payment was made on 20th March 1963 which Shri Das accepted. In the circumstances, the Company's case that the present two workmen themselves left the service of the Company one after another because of such irregular payment of wages, is quite convincing. It is also in evidence that the other employees also left the service of the Company one after another. In that context, the Company's case of voluntary relinquishment of office by the workmen themselves is believeable. Moreover, the employees were temporary, and as such their service could be terminated with one month's notice. The workmen are not entitled to retrenchment compensation, as it was not a case of retrenchment. So, even if it is held that it is an industrial dispute, on merits the Union has no case, and the discharge of the workmen should be held to be justified.

This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, filed by Shri Satyanarayan Ram, Jaykaynagar, P.S. Raniganj, district Burdwan, an employee of Messrs. Aluminium Corporation of India Ltd., Jaykaynagar, Burdwan, against the said company in connection with G.O. No. 171-I.R.|IR|10L-214(B)|62, dated 10th January 1963. (Case No. 7|64 under section 33A.)

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present: Shri K. P. MUKHERJEE, Judge

AWARD

This is a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 by Shri Satyanarayan Ram, an employee of Messrs. Aluminium Corporation of India Ltd., against the said company alleging contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Act during the pendency of an industrial dispute between the company and its workmen. It is alleged that the petitioner was falsely implicated in a police case at the instance of the company and he was suspended with effect from 12th February 1963. The police case ended in a final report, but the petitioner was kept under suspension for an indefinite period and this amounted to punishment. The action of the company is said to be in contravention of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act and hence the present application.

The company entered appearance on 7th February 1964 and filed a written objection on 22nd February 1964. On 9th September 1964 a petition was filed by the workmen concerned stating that as the case of the petitioner along with some others has been referred to this Tribunal under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act for adjudication, he does not like to proceed with the case and he may be permitted to withdraw the complaint.

In view of the petition, the complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 is treated as withdrawn and the case is disposed of accordingly. This is my award.

EFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

1 the matter of an order of reference No. 1617-I.R.| IR|11L-25|64, dated the 25th April 1964

And

In the matter of an industrial dispute

Aessrs. Bengal Chemical & Pharmaceutical Works Ltd.

And

Their workmen, represented by Bengal Chemical Mazdoor Union.

The humble petition of compromise between the Company and the Union named above—

Most respectfully sheweth:

1. That the above dispute relates to the termination of service of Shri Satyendra Basu Chiudhury. The Union on behalf of said Shri Basu Choudhury has found on enquiry that the termination of service, as made, was justified.

2. That after such termination and on the petition of Shri Basu Choudhury, Company paid all his dues as well as provident fund money. But due to financial difficulty of Shri Basu Choudhury, he has approached the management for fresh empolyment in the Company and at the request of the Union, the Company has generously agreed to take him in employment as a new entrant. He will have no claim in any manner by way of continuity of service or otherwise for his past service before the termination of service.

3. That the service of Shri Satyendra Basu Choudhury will be treated as that of a new entrant from the date he joins Company's service afresh. In terms of the settlement, Shri Basu Choudhury will report for work on 7th September 1964 and in case he fails to report for work within three days from 7th September 1964, that is, by 10th September 1964 he will have no claim for employment in the company.

4. In the circumstances, it is prayed that a no dispute award be passed on the above terms of settlement.

It is therefore humbly prayed that a no dispute award be passed on the above terms of settlement.

And for this act of kindness, your petitioner, as in duty bound, shall ever pray.

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

Shri K. P. MUKHERJEE, Judge

Award

This is a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by Shri Baijnath, an employee of Messrs. Aluminium Corporation of India Ltd., against the said company alleging contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Act during the pendency of an industrial dispu between the company and its workmen. It alleged that the petitioner was falsely implicated i a police case at the instance of the company and h was suspended with effect from 7th March 196 The police case ended in a final report, but the pet tioner was kept under suspension for an indefinit period and this amounted to punishment. Th action of the company is said to be in contraver tion of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Ac and hence the present application.

The company entered appearance on 7th Februar 1964 and filed a written objection on 22nd Februar 1964. On 9th September 1964 a petition was filec by the workman concerned stating that as the cas of the petitioner along with some others has beer referred to this Tribunal under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act for adjudication, he doe not like to proceed with the case and he may be permitted to withdraw the complaint.

In view of the petition, the complaint under sec tion 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, is treated as withdrawn and the case is disposed of accordingly.

This is my award.

II. Bonus for the year 1962.

III. Minimum guaranteed monthly earnings for the existing piece-rated workmen.

AWARD

The written statement of the union discloses the following facts: On 4th September 1962, a charter of demands was submitted by the workmen to this company. On 7th January 1963 the factory was closed by issue of a closure notice, dated 4th January 1963. This closure is mala fide and was intended to victimise the workmen for the submission of the charter of demands. The company with a view to victimise the workmen gradually diminished the supply of work to the workmen, and it resulted in the loss of their earnings. The workmen are piece-rated. The earnings of the workmen fell down considerably. The company did not lay-off any workmen, but resorted to the practice of mala fide closure.

The union also claims profit bonus on the trading results of 1961.

There is another claim of minimum guarantee of earning of Rs. 90 per month on the plea that the loss of earning was due to diminution of work intentionally resorted to by the company.

The company filed a written statement denying all the allegations made by the union. It was asserted in the written statement by the company that there was gradual diminution of work owing to set-back in the sale of hosiery products, and this diminution started as far back as 1958. The question of loss of earning came up before the Tribunal under a reference, dated 8th December 1960, and there was an award, dated 13th January 1961 on the basis of a settlement. After that there was temporary improvement in work, but towards the middle of 1962 the process of reduction started due to progressive deterioration of sale in the market. The Hosiery Working Men's Union which represented the cause of the workmen wrote a letter, dated 18th December 1962 for discussion on the question of diminution of work and loss of earning. The closure resorted to was accordingly bona fide and justified. The closure notice was issued to all employees.

With regard to the claim of profit bonus, the company contends that there is no available surplus which can be paid as bonus on the trading result of 1961.

On the point of loss of earnings, it is contended that this issue is infructuous in view of the closure being bona fide.

Decisions

Before entering into the issues, I may point out that the company in the written statement conteded that the Calcutta and Howrah Hosiery Employees' Union cannot represent the workmen in this dispute, and that there was another union, namely, Hosiery Working Men's Union, which has locus standi for the purpose of representation. The learned Advocate for the company however did not press this issue in view of the evidence on record. Ext. A/1 is a letter written by 11 workmen to Hosiery Working Men's Union stating that that particular union was no longer authorised to represent the workers of the present company (Rajendra Hosiery). The subscription book (Ext. 2), as well as the evidence of P.W. 1 Shri Satyendra Kumar Das and P.W. 2 Shri Surendra Nath Das would go to show that a number of workmen of this unit joined the present union mentioned in the order of reference. I, therefore, hold that the present union is duly authorised to represent the workmen in this dispute.

Issue I(a)

In this issue, I am called upon to decide whether the closure is real and bona fide. The fact of closure is admitted. The closure notice was issued to all individual workers and they were invited to accept payment of compensation on the basis of retrenchment under section 25F of the Industrial Disputes Act. On the side of the union it is suggested that this closure of the business is mala fide. It is an act of retaliation upon the workmen for their charter of demands. This argument cannot be accepted. The evidence is to the contrary. It is true that there had been diminution of work resulting in loss of earnings to the workmen. But the fact remains that this diminution started long before the charter of demands was submitted on 4th September 1962. The charter of demands is Ext. 1. There was a dispute on the point of diminution of work as far back as December 1960, and there was an award passed on 13th January 1961 in terms of settlement (Ext. G). The workmen raised a dispute over loss of earning owing to intentional diminution of work, but that point was given up by the workmen. It is a clear indication of the fact that there had been diminution of work for a long time affecting this unit up to December 1962. The Hosiery Working Men's Union, which represented the workmen at that time, gave a letter to the company (Ext. C), and in that letter the fact of further diminution of work during the four months preceding December 1962, was asserted. It is significant to note that on 18th December 1962 that union was authorised to represent the workmen. Moreover, the production chart (Ext. D) which was proved by O.P.W. 1 Shri Sohan Lal Rathi, a partner of the company, and prepared with reference to production register, goes to show that production deteriorated, and this was due to deterioration of sale. From the above circumstances, it is quite reasonable to conclude that the closure was not mala fide, and it was genuine and bona fide. It is true that the same proprietor is running a shop at 57 Manohar Das Street, Calcutta. But there is no evidence that the unit that was closed was an integral part of the shop at Manohar Das Street. I cannot, therefore, accept the union's argument that in fact there is no closure, and that the same unit is run at different places. The particular unit of industry at 42 Pathuriaghatta Street has been closed, and this closure cannot be said to be mala fide. The question of closure is answered in the affirmative.

Issue I(b)

This issue is redundant in the present case, section 25FFF provides for payment of compensation in terms of section 25F where an undertaking is closed down for any reason whatsoever. There is a proviso which limits the compensation to 3 months' average pay in the case of closure on account of unavoidable circumstances and beyond the control of the employer. There is explanation to the proviso which provides further that an undertaking which is closed down by reason merely of financial difficulties or accumulation of undisposed of stocks, shall not be deemed to have been closed down on account of unavoidable circumstances and beyond the control of the employer within the meaning of the proviso. In the instant case, the undertaking was closed down by reason of financial difficulties and accumulation of undisposed of stocks. The proviso has no application to it. Moreover, the company is willing to pay compensation in accordance with section 25F of the Act. I do not accordingly decide this issue, as it is superfluous. The closure, however, under the circumstances, must be held to be justified.

Issue I(c)

This issue speaks about relief to which the 27 workmen as mentioned in the order of reference would be entitled. The relief must be in terms of section 25F of the Act, and it is one month's notice pay, and compensation equivalent to 15 days' average pay for every completed year of service. The average pay has been defined in section 2, subsection (aa). It is the average wage payable to a workman in case of monthly paid workman in the 3 completed calendar months preceding the date on which the average pay becomes payable. The company has submitted a chart showing the average pay for completed year of service as well as pay for the notice period. That chart is Ext. H. The amount payable to each workman is shown in the last column. It is the admitted evidence that actually 9 workmen received payment of retrenchment compensation, while the remaining workmen refused to accept the same. The only relief to which these workmen are entitled is to receive payment in terms of Ext. H, which will form part of the award as Annexure A.

Issue No. II

The Union claims profit bonus for the year 1961 payable in 1962. The trading result is shown correctly in Ext. E/1 and is proved by the partner of the Company—Shri Rathi. The amount of gross profit is Rs. 13,448. From this amount prior charges are to be deducted. The depreciation is Rs. 1,997. Income-tax at the rate of 50 per cent. comes to Rs. 5,600 and 6 per cent. return on paid-up capital to Rs. 6,610. Besides 2 per cent. is to be allowed as return on reserves used as working capital. The calculation sheet is Ext. E/1 prepared by the Company, and it could not be successfully challenged on the side of the union. So, there is no available surplus left for distribution as bonus to the workmen. Hence, the workmen are not entitled to any bonus for the year 1961.

Issue No. III

This issue is infructuous. In view of my finding that there has been bona fide closure of the business, no question of guarantee of minimum monthly earning can arise. Issue No. III is accordingly disposed of.

This is my award, and the recommendations of the Tribunal made in respect of Issue No. I(c) are to be implemented within 30 days of its publication. Dictated and corrected by me.

Combiend Index ..	100·00	141	132	128	128

The index number for Birbhum area came down by 9 points from 141 in December 1963 to 132 in January 1964 and further by 4 points to 128 in February 1964 and remained steady in March 1964.

The fall in January and February was due mainly to the fall in the price of rice, potato, onion, fire wood and Supari. In March 1964 in spite of fall in prices of some items in the food group, the index was steady due to rise in prices of some other items in the miscellaneous and food groups also.

Modern Rubber Manufacturers (P) Ltd., 42 Goshala Road, Lillooah, Howrah, and their workmen represented by Modern Rubber Manufacturers Mazdoor Union, 7/4 Natun Para Road, Lillooah, Howrah, regarding the issues mentioned in the said order being matters specified in the second schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the Third Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Third Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Modern Rubber Manufacturers (P) Ltd., 42 Goshala Road, Lillooah, Howrah, and their workmen represented by Modern Rubber Manufacturers Mazdoor Union, 7/4 Natun Para Road, Lillooah, Howrah. (Case No. VIII-175 of 1963.)

BEFORE THE THIRD INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

Shri J. N. MANDAL, Judge, Third Industrial Tribunal

For the Union: Shri Sankar Rai Chowdhury, Secretary of the Union, with Shri Subodh Banerjee, Officer of United Trades Union Congress.

For the Company: Shri S. K. Bhanja Chowdhury, Labour Adviser of the Company.

Award

By Order No. 3536-I.R./IR/11L-172(A)/63, dated the 23rd August 1963, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Modern Rubber Manufacturers (P) Ltd., 42 Goshala Road, Lillooah, Howrah, and their workmen represented by Modern Rubber Manufacturers Mazdoor Union, 7/4 Natun Para Road, Lillooah, Howrah, regarding the matters specified in the schedule to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by Notification No. 808-I.R./IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issue

1. Whether refusal of employment to Shri Hanuman Lodh is justified? What relief, if any, is he entitled to?

2. Whether dismissal of Shri Bholanath Ghose is justified? What relief, if any, is he entitled to?

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, made by the Government of West Bengal in their Labour Department for adjudication of some industrial disputes existing between Messrs. Modern Rubber Manufacturers (P) Ltd., 42 Goshala Road, Lillooah, Howrah (hereinafter be referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Modern Rubber Manufacturers' Mazdoor Union, 7/4 Natun Para Road, Lillooah, Howrah (hereinafter be referred to as the Union).

Immediately after receipt of the reference notices were served upon both the parties who entered appearance and presented their cases in their written statements.

The Union's case in short is that the service conditions of the workmen are very unsatisfactory and the Company has no sympathy for the workmen who at last organised themselves to form a Union for the purpose of collective bargaining. At this the Company was very much infuriated and started victimising the workmen. One workman Shri Hanuman Lodh who was working from the year 1961 was all on a sudden refused employment by the Company on 1st December 1962. Thereupon retrenchment compensation was demanded by the said workman and the Company again took him back in service in January 1963 at the intervention of the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Howrah. The workman was again thrown out of employment from 19th February 1963 without any notice or charge-sheet. The workman addressed a letter to the Company on 22nd February 1963 which the Company refused to accept. The matter was again referred to the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Howrah. At his intervention the Company agreed to take him back but in fact it was not done by the Company. So, the workman is entitled to the appropriate relief.

Another workman Shri Bhola Nath Ghosh was a permanent employee of the Company and he attended his duty on 2nd March 1963 but was suddenly attacked with an acute diarrhoea, so he could not work the whole day. He had to return home with permission of the Manager on ground of illness. He wanted to join his work on 5th March 1963 but he was not allowed to do so. On the other hand, he was told that his service had been terminated. The matter was then referred to the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Howrah, who convened a joint conference but it was of no use because of the Company's stiff attitude. The said workman Shri Bhola Nath Ghosh was never charge-sheeted or warned and he was given no opportunity to explain the circumstances. The Company, because of his Trade Union activities has victimised him in a most arbitrary manner. Hence the prayer is for reinstatement and other appropriate reliefs.

The Company has given a general denial to the allegations made by the Union and it has specifically stated that the workman Shri Hanuman Lodh for the first time joined service of the Company on 12th February 1962 and not before. He had to be discharged several times on account of paucity of work and he being the juniormost man in service. Lastly, he was discharged on 19th February 1963. He was not entitled to any retrenchment compensation as he did never serve the Company for one continuous year. He, however, was offered re-employment but he refused to accept.

The other workman Shri Bholanath Ghosh was in service of the Company from 1st August 1961. On the 2nd March 1963 Shri Ghosh left the factory during working hours without leave or permission. He having continued his absence without authority the management terminated his services by letter, dated 5th March 1963. Shri Lodh pleaded his illness but he did not produce medical certificate from the Panel doctor although he is an insured employee under the Employees' State Insurance Act. So, his service stood terminated and he is not entitled to reinstatement.

Issue No. 1

The Union has examined four witnesses including the two concerned workmen—Bholanath Ghosh and Hanuman Lodh. The Company has examined two witnesses. One Shri A. B. Nath is the then Manager of the factory and the other witness is Shri Reba Sankar Mishra who is now the Assistant Works Manager. According to this Assistant Works Manager it is a private limited concern under the management and control of two Directors Shri J. D. Mundra and Shri Seth Singh Jaishwar.

It is not disputed that Hanuman Lodh was in service of the Company. He was employed in the Roller Department. According to the Union, this workman was in service of the Company from the year 1961 but he was all on a sudden refused employment by the company from 1st December 1962 without assigning any reason. The matter was taken up by the Union which placed a demand for payment of retrenchment compensation to the workman. To counteract the claim the Company again took him back in service from January 1963. But he having demanded supply of leave book the Company grew annoyed and again refused employment to him from 19th of February 1963.

The Company has denied this and in paragraph 6 of the written statement it has stated that he joined service of the Company for the first time on 12th February 1962. Thereafter he was refused employment on 6th October 1962, but again re-employed on 19th November 1962. He was further discharged on 1st December 1962 but was re-employed again on 21st January 1963 and according to the Company refusal of employment was on account of paucity of work. But the Company's story of his employment for the first time on 12th February 1962 has not been substantiated. On the contrary, it has been falsified by sufficiently reliable document which was admittedly issued by the Company's Manager Ext. 4 is the said document, dated 8th of January 1961.

This was a night-pass issued to Hanuman Lodh and another workman by the then Manager of the Company. This document clearly establishes the fact that Hanuman Lodh was in service of the Company from long before 12th of February 1962 as was pleaded by the Company in the written statement. This document clearly proves the Union's case that Hanuman Lodh was in service of the Company from the year 1961 which fact has further been established by the evidence of some co-workers. P.W. 4 Shri Maharaj Jadav has been in service of the Company from the year 1960. He has corroborated the fact that Shri Hanuman Lodh was in service of the Company from the year 1961 and he was for the first time discharged in 1962 and for the second time in February 1963. This fact finds further support in the evidence of the Company's Manager who is D.W. 1 Shri A. B. Nath. He was at the relevant time the Manager of the factory. The Union's case finds corroboration in his evidence. He has deposed that the workman Hanuman Lodh was retrenched for the first time in December 1962 and for the second time in February 1963. Hanuman Lodh having served the Company from January 1961 as has been established by the Company's document (Ext. 4) up to December 1962 when he was discharged for the first time as admitted by the then Manager, it cannot for a moment be contended that he was not in continuous service for not less than one year in order to entitle him to the retrenchment compensation as provided for in the Industrial Disputes Act. As soon as the Union took up the cause of the workman, the Company avoided the claim of retrenchment compensation by giving him appointment again. But he having pressed for being provided with a leave book the Company was annoyed and against refused employment to him from 19th of February 1963 without assigning any reason or payment of any compensation. The Company has pleaded that the refusal of his employment was due to paucity of works in the factory. The onus is upon the Company to prove that there was no sufficient work in hand at the time. The workman was thrown out. But the Company is not in a position to place any material before this Tribunal to show that there was no sufficient work or there was any other reasonable cause to justify the retrenchment. The Company has pleaded paucity of work to justify the retrenchment of Hanuman Lodh but at the same time pleaded accumulation of work due to absence of another workman Bholanath Ghosh who was working in the Machine Shop as a Turner. If there was work in abundance in one branch of the process of work how there could be dearth of work in another branch of the same process of work. The Company, however, could have produced its documents relating to store materials, production and work in hand to support the alleged paucity but nothing has been done in this regard, nor there is any satisfactory evidence on this point. If the retrenchment of Hanuman Lodh on both the occasions was on ground of paucity of work what prevented the Company from giving him notice in advance and to pay him the compensation he is legally entitled to as it has already been found that he was in continuous service of the Company for more than one year. So, this was not a substantial plea.

The Company has next urged that workman Hanuman Lodh was a casual worker. But this has nowhere been pleaded in the written statement of the Company. The attendance register, Ext. D, also does not support this fact. There is a separate list of casual workers in the attendance register Ext. D. The name of Hanuman Lodh is not included in the said list of casual workmen. Then again it is in the evidence of D.W. 2 Shri Reba Sankar Mishra who was at the relevant time Clerk-in-charge of attendance register and has now been promoted as Assistant Works Manager that the company did not employ any casual worker before 1st of March 1963. Therefore, this plea also appears without any truth in it. The workman Hanuman Lodh was admittedly in service of the Company before March 1963 and it has already been found from very reliable document Ext. 4 which was admittedly issued by the Company's Manager and also from other convincing evidence that Hanuman Lodh was in service of the Company from January 1961 and he according to the then Manager of the Company was discharged for the first time in December 1962 and in February 1963 for the second time. Therefore, I reject it as an unsubstantial and frivolous plea. The workman was, as it appears, refused employment without assigning any reason whatsoever without giving him any notice or compensation. D.W. 1 Shri A. B. Nath, the then Manager of the factory has admitted in his evidence that not only notice was given to the workman Hanuman Lodh at the time of retrenchment but also there was no offer of retrenchment compensation. He further admits that no notice in Form 'P' was also given to the Government as required by Rule 77 of the Rules framed under the West Bengal Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. So, the Company committed violation of the legal provisions in the matter of retrenchment of the workman Hanuman Lodh who rendered continuous service for more than one year. The Company appointed several workmen after the retrenchment of Hanuman Lodh but there was no offer of the job to the retrenched workman Hanuman Lodh or the said retrenched workman ought to have been given opportunity to offer himself for re-employment as provided in section 25H of the Industrial Disputes Act, but it is admitted by the Company's principal officer (D.W. 1). That no such opportunity was given to him although admittedly several workmen were recruited after the retrenchment of Hanuman Lodh. The Manager has further admitted that there was no offer of any retrenchment compensation to the said workman. Section 25F provides that no workman who has been in continuous service for not less than one year shall be retrenched by the employer until—

(a) the workman has been given one month's notice in writing indicating the reasons for retrenchment and the period of notice has expired or workman has been paid in lieu of such notice, wages for the period of notice;

(b) the workman has been paid at the time of retrenchment, compensation which shall be equivalent to 15 days' average pay for every completed year of service or any part thereof in excess of six months; and

(c) notice in the prescribed manner is served upon the appropriate Government.

Admittedly the Company has not complied with the said mandatory provisions. Therefore, the retrenchment so effected without such compliance would be invalid and inoperative [1960 (I) L.L.J. 251]. Therefore, I direct that the said workman be reinstated within 15 days of the publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette". He will also be entitled to 50 per cent. of the wages and other financial benefits to which he was entitled for the period of his forced unemployment. The said period of unemployment will be treated as on leave without pay for the purpose of continuity of service. The payment be made by the Company within one month of the publication of this award.

Admittedly Bholanath Ghosh was in employ of the Company till his service was terminated by the Company by letter Ext. 2=Ext. F. The letter has been wrongly dated as 5th of February 1963 which should be 5th of March 1963. Admittedly he used to operate a lathe machine in the Machine Shop of the Company. According to the Union the said workman was a permanent employee and was in service of the Company for about four years. During the period of his service he never had any warning or chargesheet. But since he became the Assistant Secretary of the Union the Company took a vindictive attitude and terminated his services in a most capricious manner and disregarding all principles of natural justice and violating the rules of procedure. The Company does not deny that he was a permanent employee, but has stated in the written statement that he was in service of the Company from 1st August 1961. The said workman gave evidence before this Tribunal. He is P.W. 1. He deposed that he wroked on the lathe machine for about four years. He has not been cross-examined on this point, nor the Company has produced any document or given any evidence to show that he served for a lesser period. However, it is undisputed that he was a permanent employee. Admittedly he attended his duty on 2nd March 1963 and the attendance register Ext. D shows that he wroked for four hours on that day. It was a Saturday. 3rd March was a Sunday. Then he absented on 4th March 1963 and the Company by letter Ext. 2 terminated his services with immediate effect because of his absence from duty since 1 p.m. on 2nd March 1963 without any intimation. The evidence of the said workman is that on 2nd March 1963 while he was carrying on his duty he was ill of acute diarrhoea and had purgings several times. So, he had to go home with permission of the Manager. This fact has been corroborated by two co-workers P.Ws. 3 and 4. I find no reason to disbelieve their evidence. Company admits that the workman Bholanath Ghosh discharged his duties on that day at least for four hours. There was no reason for his leaving the work without reporting to the Manager as he was genuinely ill and was unable to carry on. If the fact of his leaving the work at a particular time was not brought to the notice of the Manager how in the attendance register could be entered that he worked for four hours on that day. It was a Saturday. The following day was an off-day as it appears from the attendance register. So, the workman practically absented for a single day, i.e., on 4th March 1963. His evidence is that on the 5th of March 1963 he reported himself for duty but he was served with the notice of termination of service (Ext. 2=Ext. F). His signature was taken on the office copy of the termination notice Ext. F. There was some attempt to show that his notice was sent to Bholanath Ghosh through a durwan which fact is stoutly denied by the workman. Accordingly to D.W. 2 Shri Reba Sankar Mishra the notice of termination of service was sent to Bholanath Ghosh through a durwan, Maharaj Singh. But no offer was made to examine Maharaj Singh or to prove the fact of service of the notice through a durwan. I am, therefore, unable to believe the story of the Company. It is quite consistent with the probability that the workman when presented himself at the gate of the factory for duty he was served with this termination notice by taking his signature on the office copy which is Ext. F. The workman forthwith replied to the Company by letter Ext. B which is dated 5th of March 1963. Copy thereof is Ext. 3. Along with this letter a copy of the medical certificate granted by the attending physician was sent. The original one is kept with the copy of the letter Ext. 3. Dr. A. B. Paul certified that he was called at 2 p.m. on 2nd March 1963 at the residence of Bholanath Ghosh who was suffering with acute diarrhoea and he was under his treatment up to 4th of March 1963. He was found fit for duty on 5th of March 1963 when the certificate was issued. According to the workman Bholanath Ghosh, he actually sent for the panel doctor Shri R. N. Paul but he was not available at the time. So, his son Dr. A. B. Paul was called to attend him. What the company hastily did was to terminate his services forthwith without giving him any opportunity to explain his absence on 4th March 1963 and without issuing any charge-sheet or holding any enquiry into the matter. The then Manager who is D.W. 1 has admitted that Bholanath Ghosh was never before received any warning or any charge-sheet and on this occasion he was given no opportunity to explain his absence. He, of course, says that Bholanath Ghosh frequently used to remain absent from duty. It appears from the attendance register and also from the medical slips issued by the Panel doctor that on ground of illness he had to take leave on some occasions. If the Company was under impression that the workman was frequently falling ill as reported by the Panel doctor, then the management ought to have made an alternative arrangement to operate the lathe machine by another workman during his absence on leave on medical grounds. There is, of course, evidence to show that there was another workman who could operate the lathe machine and actually the machine was operated by another workman after the service of Bholanath Ghosh was terminated abruptly and arbitrarily and in a most capricious manner on 5th of March 1963 on ground of his absence from duty for the half day on the 2nd of March and full day on the 4th of March 1963. Admittedly 3rd March 1963 was a Sunday when there was no work. The Company admittedly received the workman's letter, dated 5th of March 1963, on 7th March 1963 by post. The Company did not show any consideration even after receipt of this letter in which full facts were forthwith stated by the workman concerned. The Company did not send any reply to this letter. It is well settled that an employer cannot dispense with the services of a permanent employee by a mere notice (1960 II L.L.J. at page 226). It may be that there was some order in the hand of the Company for execution but that is no reason that a permanent mployee should be dismissed from service in such n arbitrary manner without following the proper ules of procedure and sacrificing the principles of natural justice. There is, however, nothing to show that the said work was allotted to the workman Bholanath Ghosh alone. Such an arbitrary action of the Company is nothing but an instance of victimisation and unfair labour practice. The Company was not satisfied with this workman because of his Trade Union activities. He was the Assistant Secretary of the Union and the Union submitted charter of demands Ext. 5 to the Company. This was done in the middle of January 1963. Immediately after that the Secretary of the Union addressed a letter to the Company on 23rd January 1963 which is Ext. 3(a). Even after that letter of the Secretary of the Union, the Company questioned the locus standi of the Union before the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Howrah. So, the workman jointly submitted an application to the Manager of the Company which application was received by the Manager on 28th of February 1963 (vide Ext. 1 and the acknowledgment receipt). It is in evidence that this application of the workman was handed over to the Manager by workman Bholanath Ghosh and another who were the Assistant Secretaries of the Union. This Trade Union activity of the workman Bholanath Ghosh was very much disliked by the management who also held out a threat to him as was forthwith disclosed by the workman in his letter, dated 5th of March, i.e., from the very day his service was terminated. Therefore the Company's motive was very clear and in furtherance of that vindictive attitude the Company arbitrarily terminated his services sacrificing all principles of natural justice and without following the rules of procedure. Therefore, it was an illegal and unjustified termination of service of the workman Bholanath Ghosh and as such it cannot stand and is hereby set aside.

It is hereby directed that the workman Bholanath Ghosh should be reinstated by the Company within 30 days of the publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette". He will also be entitled to get the entire amount of his wages and other financial benefits, if any, to which he is entitled to from the Company. The Company must pay the entire amount within one month of the publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette".

This is my award.

No. 4391-I.R./IR/10L-41(L)/60.—19th September 1964.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 4507-I.R./IR/10L-41(L)/60, dated the 3rd October 1962, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Indian Iron & Steel Company Ltd., Burnpur, district Burdwan, and their workmen represented by the United Iron & Steel Workers' Union, Station Road, P.O. Burnpur, district Burdwan, regarding the issue mentioned in the said order being a matter specified in the second and the third schedules to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Fifth Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, filed by one Shri Ramesh Chandra Banik (T. No. 7911/SDM), c/o United Iron & Steel Workers' Union, Burnpur, an employee of Messrs. Indian Iron & Steel Co. Ltd., Burnpur, against the said Company in connection with G.O. No. 3430-I.R./IR/10L-41(L)/60, dated 4th July 1960, read with No. 4507-I.R./IR/10L-41(L)/60, dated 3rd October 1962. (Case No. 148/63 under section 33A.)

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

Shri K. P. MUKHERJEE, Judge

Appearances:

For the Company (Opposite Party): Shri P. P. Ginwala, Counsel, Shri Lenin Roy, Advocate, Shri B. B. Ghosh, Advocate—all of Messrs. Fowler & Co., Solicitors.

For the Applicant (workman): Shri Chandra Sekhor Mukherjee, Shri Kalyan Roy.

AWARD

This is a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by the workman Ramesh Chandra Banik against his employer, Opposite Party the Indian Iron & Steel Co. Ltd., alleging contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947.

The case of the petitioner in short is that a charge-sheet was given to him on 22nd July 1963 alleging theft of some material belonging to the Company and after a make-believe enquiry into the charge-sheet which was issued to him he was dismissed from service with effect from 8th August 1963. He submitted an appeal to the General Manager against the order of dismissal but to no effect. He alleges that the enquiry was held in violation of the principles of natural justice and the finding of the Board of enquiry was perverse. The Company has, it is alleged, contravened section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, inasmuch as no application was made for approval of the order of dismissal nor one month's salary was paid to him as contemplated under the proviso of section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. He has prayed reinstatement and also back wages.

The Opposite Party, the Indian Iron & Steel Co. Ltd., has appeared and opposed the application by filing written statement. The material facts as set forth in the written statement may shortly be stated as follows.

The petitioner was given a charge-sheet and an enquiry was held into the chargesheet issued to him by a board of enquiry set up for the purpose. He was found guilty of the said charge and was dismissed from service with effect from 8th August 1963. The enquiry, it is said, was held in conformity with the principles of natural justice and the petitioner was given full opportunity to cross-examine the witnesses examined on behalf of the Company. It is denied that there has been contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, and it is pleaded that the present application is misconceived and not maintainable. It is further pleaded that the petitioner not being a workman concerned in any pending industrial dispute is not competent to file this application and the application is not maintainable. The petitioner, it is alleged, is not entitled to any relief in this case.

Decision

It is an undisputed fact that a dispute between the Company, Opposite Party, and its workmen regarding retrenchment of Shri Samar Sen, a workman of the Company, is pending before this Tribunal for adjudication. A preliminary objection has been raised on behalf of the Opposite Party that the petitioner is not a workman concerned in the dispute of Shri Samar Sen and as such he is not competent to file the present application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act. A workman can file an application under section 33A of the Act during the pendency of an industrial dispute if he is concerned in such a dispute. This is clear from sub-section (2) of section 33 of the Act. It is therefore to be seen whether the petitioner, Ramesh Chandra Banik is concerned in the dispute over the question of retrenchment of Shri Samar Sen which is pending before this Tribunal. If he is not, the application is not maintainable in law. The evidence of P.W. 1 Shri Kalyan Roy who is the Joint Secretary of the Indian Iron & Steel Workers' Union is that Samar Sen, a workman under the Opposite Party, was dismissed from service in 1953 and a dispute was raised at the instance of the members of the Union includnig Ramesh Chandra Banik over the question of dismissal of Shri Samar Sen. The matter went up to the Hon'ble Supreme Court and the said Hon'ble Court directed his reinstatement. The Company, however, did not reinstate him. He was laid off and subsequently retrenched by the Company. The Union again took up the cause of Samar Sen at the instance of the workmen including Ramesh Chandra Banik and the reference has been made to this Tribunal by the Government over that issue for adjudication and the case is still pending That Ramesh Banik is a member of the Union appears from the entry in serial No. 76 of he membership register of the Union (Ext. 1) and the evidence of P.W. 1 is that this workman was a member of the Action Committee since 1953 and subsequently became a member of the present Union which was registered in 1956. P.W. 2 Ramesh Chandra Banik has stated that he is a member of the Union and he also paid subscription to meet the cost of the case of Shri Samar Sen. It is thus clear from the evidence of P.W.s 1 and 2 that at the instance of the workman, the Union took up the cause of Samar Sen who is a member of the Union The expression "a workman concerned in the dispute" occuring in section 33 of the Act should not be limited to workmen directly or immediately concerned in such dispute as has been held by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of New India Motors (P) Ltd., and Morris (KT) reported in 1960 (I) L.L.J., 552. In view of this decision, the petitioner who is not directly concerned in the dispute of Samar Sen is to be regarded as a "workman concerned in the dispute" of Samar Sen which is now pending and he is therefore competent to file an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. The preliminary objection raised on behalf of the Opposite Party therefore fails.

It is now well settled by a series of decisions that in dealing with an application under section 33A of the Act, the Tribunal should first of all decide the question whether any of the provisions of section 33 of the Act has been contravened and if it is satisfied about such contravention, then the Tribunal should go into the merits of the case and decide what relief, if any, should be granted to the petitioner. It is now to be seen whether there has been any contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by the Opposite Party. It is an undisputed fact that the petitioner was dismissed from service on a charge of theft and for this act of misconduct on his part he was punished by dismissal from service. His case therefore comes under section 33(2)(b) of the Act; but the proviso to section 33 has not been complied with inasmuch as he was not paid one month's wages in lieu of notice nor any application for approval of the order of dismissal was filed before the Tribunal. There has thus been contravention of section 33(2)(b) of the Act and this contravention gives jurisdiction to the Tribunal to entertain the application under section 33A of the Act. A mere contravention of section 33 of the Act, however, does not entitle a workman to the relief by way of reinstatement and back wages. He has further to prove that the order of dismissal is not proper and therefore not justified. In other words, if the order of dismissal is otherwise justified, mere breach of section 33 is to be regarded as a technical breach and the aggrieved workman is not entitled to any relief whatsoever. The question that arises for consideration is whether the dismissal of Ramesh Chandra Banik is justified.

Admittedly, a chargesheet was issued to the workman on 22nd July 1963 and he gave a reply to the same. Thereafter an enquiry into the chargesheet was held on 1st August 1963 and 2nd August 1963 and as a result of the finding of the board of enquiry he was dismissed from service with effect from 8th August 1963 and an appeal against the order of dismissal to the General Manager was rejected. The domestic enquiry which was held against the workman has been characterised as a make-believe enquiry and in paragraph 6 of the petition, it is said that the petitioner was not allowed to cross-examine the witnesses examined by the Company and he was also not allowed to adduce evidence on his behalf. The proceedings of the enquiry has been proved and marked Ext. C. On a reference to the proceedings of the enquiry it is seen that the workman cross-examined Behari and Shri N. C. Banerjee and also Tinu Bauri who were examined as witnesses by the Company and he declined to cross-examine A. K. Thakur. He has admitted in cross-examination that he was asked by Shri Sen to cross-examine the witnesses examined by the Company. It is therefore difficult to believe that the workman was not given the opportunity to cross-examine the witnesses examined on behalf of the Company and this plea of the petitioner must be rejected. The other ground on which the enquiry has been challenged is that the workman was not allowed to examine witnesses, although he wanted to examine some witnesses. O.P.W. 1 who was the Chairman of the board of enquiry has denied that the workman was not allowed to examine witnesses. The workman himself has admitted that none of his witnesses was present at the enquiry and he did not give a list of the workmen whom he wanted to examine at the enquiry. He has further admitted that he made no attempt to produce the witnesses at the enquiry. There is an endorsement at the top of page 3 of the proceedings of the enquiry that the workman concerned declined to examine any witness and the signature of the workman appears under the statement. The evidence of the workman that he was not allowed to examine his witnesses does not appear to be true. The workman attended the enquiry on both the days and he also participated at the enquiry. He cross-examined some witnesses examined by the Company and himself made statement at the enquiry. I am satisfied that the workman concerned had the fullest opportunity to defend himself and as a matter of fact, he defended himself and there was no violation of the principles of natural justice in holding the enquiry. There was thus a fair and proper domestic enquiry against the workman concerned and he was dismissed from service as a result of the domestic enquiry

It now remains to consider whether the finding of the board of enquiry is supported by the evidence which was adduced at the enquiry. The Opposite Party has relied on the proceedings and finding of the enquiry and has not adduced any evidence before me to justify the order of dismissal. The charge against the workman as appears from the charge-sheet (Ext. A) is theft of one axle brass bearing weighing 25 lb. approximately on 22nd July 1962 at 7-30 a.m. in the morning. In support of the charge, the Company examined one Behari. This witness stated at the enquiry that when he was on duty at the spare section on 22nd July 1963 in the morning the workman Ramesh Chandra Banik entered into the section. This roused his suspicion and he kept a watch on him. Subsequently he found Banik hiding himself behind a stack of packing boxes and heard a metallic sound and also found a brass axle bearing lying near his foot. From this he came to the conclusion that Shri Banik came there to steal the material. This witness did not see Banik throwing away the material but he only heard a metallic sound. Shri N. C. Banerjee, in-charge of spare section, however, has stated at the enquiry that Behari told him that he actually saw Banik dropping the material from inside his underwear. The evidence of Behari and this witness is rather discrepant and from the evidence of these two witnesses, it cannot be reasonably held that the workman concerned was out to steal the brass axle. It is also difficult to believe that the workman made attempts to steal material weighing about 25 lb. by taking it under his clothes in broad day light, from the factory of the opposite party. It is no doubt true that the workman could not give any satisfactory explanation for his presence at the spare section at the relevant time and this raises some suspicion against him but suspicion, however, strong cannot take the place of evidence. The evidence adduced at the enquiry is not of such a nature as to lead a prudent man to come to a conclusion that the workman committed theft of a brass axle bearing for which he was charged. The finding of the board of enquiry is baseless and perverse too as there is practically no evidence in support of the finding. The order of dismissal on the finding of the board of enquiry, therefore, cannot be upheld and must be set aside. There is no evidence before me also to justify the dismissal except the proceedings of the enquiry and the finding of the board of enquiry.

It now remains to consider what relief the petitioner is entitled to. He has put in service for some years but his record of service is not clean. He himself has admitted that he was once chargesheeted previously and was dismissed from service but was given a fresh employment as an ordinary labourer in 1958 on an appeal made by him to the Company. By his conduct he has lost confidence of his employer and in the circumstances, it will not be fair and proper, regard being had to his previous records of service to thrust him upon the Company. I do not think that this is a fit case where the workman should be reinstated. As his dismissal cannot be held justified on the materials on record, he should be paid adequate compensation for loss of employment. The claim of the workman for reinstatement cannot be granted, but the Company is directed to pay him a sum of Rs. 750 (rupees seven hundred and fifty only) as compensation for loss of his employment within a month from the date of the publication of the award.

This is my award.

Award

By Order No. 5289-I.R./IR/11L-65/59, dated the 21st October 1960, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. P. C. Chandra & Sons, 127/1A, Bowbazar Street, Calcutta-12, and their workmen represented by the Calcutta Goldsmithy & Jewellery Workers' Union, 16/17 College Street, Calcutta-12 (Room No. 51), regarding the matter specified in the schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, by Notification No. 808-I.R./IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issue

Whether the refusal of employment to Shri Rabindra Nath Dey is justified? What relief, if any, he is entitled to?

This is a reference made by the Government of West Bengal, in their Labour Department, under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, for adjudication of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. P. C. Chandra & Sons (hereinafter be referred to as the Company) and their workmen represented by the Goldsmithy & Jewellery Workers' Union, 16/17 College Street, Calcutta-12 (hereinafter be referred to as the Union).

Immediately after receipt of the reference notices were sent out for service upon the parties who entered their appearances and filed written statements.

This was a hotly contested matter and almost at every stage there was a hard fight, but it is a matter of great satisfaction that ultimately good sense prevailed upon the parties and they joined their friendly hands to put an end to their long standing disputes. The Union examined as many as five witnesses. The Company also examined one of the Directors, and before conclusion of the hearing of the case the dispute was settled amicably and peacefully and a joint petition of compromise has been filed before this Tribunal on 17th September 1964 when the case was fixed for further hearing. I have heard the learned representatives of both parties and congratulated them for the peaceful settlement of the industrial dispute. I have perused the temrs of settlement as embodied in the joint petition. The company has made payment of Rs. 1,000 to the concerned workmen Shri Rabindranath Dey who has voluntarily agreed to relinquish his all claims against the Company. The terms of settlement appear to be fair and reasonable. I, therefore, accept the terms and make a "no dispute" award as jointly prayed for in terms of the joint petition of compromise, dated 17th September 1964, which do form a part of the compromise award as an annexure thereof.

This is my award.

AWARD

By Order No. 3916-I.R./IR/11L-196/63, dated the 14th September 1963, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Sri Durga Cinema, Kanchrapara, 24-Parganas, and their workmen represented by Bengal Motion Picture Employees' Union, 126A Dharamtala Street, Calcutta-13, regarding the matter specified in the schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, by notification No. 808-I.R./IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issue

Whether the dismissal of Shri Nanigopal Dey Sarkar is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act made by the Government of West Bengal for adjudiaction of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Sri Durga Cinema, Kanchrapara, 24-Parganas, (hereinafter referred to as the Company) and their workmen represented by Bengal Motion Picture Employees' Union, 126A Dharamtala Street, Calcutta-13 (hereinafter be referred to as the Union).

As usual immediately after receipt of the reference notices were issued for service upon the parties to the reference. Notices were duly served. Parties appeared and filed their written statements of the case.

I am glad to note that at the stage of the hearing of the reference, parties came to terms and settled the dispute amicably and filed a joint petition before this Tribunal on 10th September 1964 embodying therein the terms of settlement. The reference relates to dismissal of a workman Nani Gopal Dey Sarkar. It appears from the joint petition of compromise that it has been agreed upon between the parties that the said workman Nani Gopal Dey Sarkar will accept Rs. 800 from the Company in full and final settlement of all his claims and dues including his claim for reinstatement. The Company in terms of the settlement, made payment of the aforesaid sum of Rs. 800 to the workman in presence of the Tribunal. The workman on acceptance of the amount has granted a stamped receipt to the Company. The workman having voluntarily agreed to the aforesaid terms of settlement, I do accept the terms as fair and reasonable and accordingly, as prayed for by the parties, I make an award on compromise and hold that there remains no further dispute between the parties. The joint petition filed by the parties on 10th September 1964 do form a part of the compromise award as annexure.

This is my award.

(Vide G.O. No. 3916-I.R./IR/112-197/63, dated 14th Setpember 1963.)

The humble petition of Sri Durga Cinema and Sri Nani Gopal Dey Sarkar,

Most respectfully sheweth:

1. That in the above matter the only issue referred for adjudication is whether the dismissal of Shri Nanigopal Dey Sarkar, one of the petitioner above was justified.

2. That your petitioner Shri Nanigopal Dey Sarkar has amicably settled his dispute regarding his dismissal with the Company and do not like to proceed with the case as per said settlement he has accepted his discharge.

3. That in pursuance of the said settlement the order of dismissal will be converted into termination of service and the Company will pay Rs. 800/ (eight hundred) in full and final settlement of all his dues and Shri Nanigopal Dey Sarkar will neither claim for reinstatement nor any other relief in any other form against the Company.

Under the circumstances it is humbly prayed that Your Honour would be graciously pleased to accept the said terms and pass an award that there is no dispute between the parties and pass such order or orders as you deem fit and proper.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Western India Match Co. Ltd., Alambazar, Calcutta-35, and their workmen represented by Western India Match Co. Mazdoor Union, Alambazar, Calcutta-35. (Case No. VIII-74/64.)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri R. BHATTACHARYA,
Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri J. K. Ghosh, Advocate.

For the Union: Shri Patit Paban Pathak.

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act arising out of Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 1098-I.R./IR/11L-79/64, dated 10th March 1964. The parties are Messrs. Western India Match Co. Ltd., Alambazar, Calcutta-35, and their workmen represented by Western India Match Co. Mazdoor Union, Alambazar, Calcutta-35. The following issue has been framed for decision :

Whether the management is justified in discharging Shri Hira Kahar and Shri Md. Issaque ? To what relief, if any, are they entitled ?

AWARD

The parties appeared and submitted their respective written statements. In short, the case of the Western India Match Co. Mazdoor Union (hereinafter referred to as the Union) is that the two workmen—Shri Hira Kahar and Md. Issaque—were appointed by the Western India Match Co. Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the Company) after due medical examination. According to appointment letters, they were to remain temporary for six months. It has been alleged that this temporary period of service was not extended by the Company, and the workmen were not found unfit during the period of their temporary service. In the circumstances, when these workmen worked continuously for more than six months they were to be deemed to be permanent employees of the Company. The services of these two workmen were terminated by the Company without any justification and there was no further scope for medical examination during their service. The Union has prayed for reinstatement of these two workmen with full back wages.

The Company in its written statement has related its case. In short, it is alleged that these two workmen were appointed as temporary mazdoors. They were found to be suffering from defective vision and were unfit to be made permanent. On the recommendation of the Medical Officer, these two persons were discharged on ground of medical unfitness. The Company at the request of the workmen concerned permitted them to continue as temporary workers after the end of the period of six months mentioned in the appointment letters but finally when they were found medically unfit their services were terminated. These two workers were never made permanent. According to the Standing Orders also they cannot be deemed to be permanent.

Decision

On the side of the Union, the two discharged employees were examined. P.W. 1 is Md. Issaque. He has stated that he was taken to the doctor and retrenched thereafter. His evidence is that he did not tell the Company on any occasion that he had been suffering from eye troubles. He was supplied with a token meant for temporary workers. He has stated that the doctor who medically examined him, did not say that he was suffering from any eye trouble. He was also sent to the Cossipore Hospital, and there his eyes were examined. P.W. 2 is Shri Hira Kahar. He also stated that the Company's doctor examined him, and the doctor gave out that he was unfit. He has admitted during cross-examination that he cannot very well see with his left eye, and it is clear that he cannot see anything at a distance of about 8 feet even. He has also admitted that he had the defect in his eye when he was medically examined at the time of his appointment.

As against the oral evidence adduced on the side of the Union, the Company has examined its Medical Officer Dr. J. N. Chatterjee. He is O.P.W. 1. He has been working in the Company for more than 30 years. From his evidence, I find that he examined Shri Kahar on 7th June 1962 and the vision of the left eye of Shri Kahar was found defective. The doctor recommended that Shri Kahar should not be given any work on machine. Shri Kahar was suffering from corneal opacity. This disease is a kind of white layer grown on corneal which may develop into cataract. In normal cases, this disease also affects the other eye. Even if the white layer is removed, the vision does not become normal. In November 1962, the doctor again examined Sri Kahar and found the condition a little aggravated. O.P.W. 1 has stated that the management has, however, allowed time to Shri Kahar for his treatment. Again in March 1963 the doctor examined Shri Kahar and submitted a report on 2nd April 1963. This doctor examined the other workman Md. Issaque on 25th May 1962. This workman started cataract on both the eyes. At that time, the cataract did not interfere with his normal duties. Md. Issaque was examined by the North Suburban Hospital at Cossipore in May 1962. Again in November 1962 he was examined by the doctor who found the condition of the eyes deteriorating. The Company allowed Md. Issaque time for treatment and again on 2nd April 1963 the doctor examined him, but found that the condition had not improved. The doctor, therefore, found both the workmen unfit. We also get it from the evidence of O.P.W. 1 that Md. Issaque was sent to North Suburban Hospital for medical examination

The Company and the Union filed several documents, and they have been marked exhibits in this case.

In support of the Company's case, my attention has been drawn to the applications for appointment filed by Shri Kahar and Md. Issaque. Exhibit D is the application of Md. Issaque, while Ext. H is that of Shri Kahar. It is clearly stated in these applications that appointments to be made, if at all, will be temporary for six months subject to confirmation and good behaviour and efficient service. The report of the Medical Officer will appear on the back of the application. O.P.W. 1 gave his certificates on the back of Ext. D stating that Issaque started cataract which was not interfering at that time with his normal duty. The doctor, however, recommended operation when it was fit for the same. This report is dated 25th May 1962. On the back of Ext. H is the report, dated 7th June 1962, which shows that Shri Kahar could work as a Store coolie, that his left eye had corneal opacity and that the vision was not normal. Appointment letters were issued by the Company. Exhibit B is a copy of the appointment letter in favour of Issaque, and this is dated 2nd June 1962. It is clearly stated in this appointment letter that the service will be temporary for a period of six months from the date of appointment, and that he may be made permanent at the end of the period of six months, provided he was found medically fit and his record of service was satisfactory. The appointment was, however, made with effect from 1st May 1962. Exhibit G is the copy of the letter of appointment in respect of Shri Kahar. The terms of service are similar. Admittedly, these two persons were previously casual workers and were allowed to continue to work in the Company. It is no wonder that appointment was given on ground of compassion. The evidence of O.P.W. 1 shows that the defects in the eyes of Shri Kahar and Md. Issaque were not cured in November 1962. Rather, the conditions were deteriorating. O.P.W. 1 has stated that the workmen requested the doctor not to submit any report, because they wanted to get extension of their temporary service, and on that ground the doctor did not submit any report. Later on, the doctor examined these two persons again and submitted his reports. The reports will be found on the back of the applications for appointment (Ext. D and Ext. H), dated 2nd April 1963. The report shows that they were found unfit for confirmation. Besides the medical report on the back of the applications, the hospital tickets have been filed. Exhibit F is the outdoor ticket of North Suburban Hospital in respect of Shri Kahar. This hospital ticket supports the evidence of O.P.W. 1 regarding corneal opacity in the eye of Shri Kahar. Exhibit F is dated 1st April 1963. Exhibit C-2 is the outdoor ticket of North Suburban Hospital in respect of Md. Issaque. This shows that Issaque was suffering from defect in his vision. This was in May 1962. Exhibit C is another ticket of the said hospital and it is dated 25th March 1963. There is no doubt that both Issaque and Kahar are suffering from defective vision. At the time of argument, even the learned representative of the Union Shri Patit Paban Pathak has not disputed the fact of defective eye sight of the workmen concerned. It has been first argued on the side of the workmen that according to Standing Orders, these two persons became permanent since they completed the period of six months mentioned in the letter of appointment, and specially because during this period their services were not terminated and found unfit. The standing orders of the Company will be found in Ext. I. Rule 2(c) defines "temporary workman." According to this provision, a temporary workman is one who is employed for work, which in the opinion of the Manager is of temporary nature and who has not been confirmed by the Manager and has not been given a permanent token. Rule 2(b) defines a permanent workman. According to this definition, a permanent workman is one whose name has been entered in the muster roll of permanent workmen and has been given a permanent token and has completed six months' continuous service. Admittedly, in the present case, both Shri Kahar and Md. Issaque were not given any permanent token and they were not confirmed by the Manager. Rather, the evidence of O.P.W. 1 shows that they were found unfit before the termination of the period of six months mentioned in the appointment letters. But on the prayer of the workmen, they were allowed further time, so that their cases might be considered. Even then in April 1963 they were not found medically fit. Rather, their defects did not improve. On the other hand, their condition deteriorated. In any view of the matter, it cannot be held that these two workmen were deemed to be permanent.

It has next been argued by Shri Pathak that when these two workmen were in temporary appointment with the full knowledge of the Company that they were suffering from eye defects, they should not have been removed from service on ground of medical unfitness. At best, these persons should have been given opportunities to cure themselves of the defects. I cannot also accept this contention. The evidence shows that their appointments were purely temporary for six months on condition that if their work was satisfactory and they were found medically fit, they might be confirmed by the Company. The Company showed some grace towards the workmen in allowing them to work before they were actually appointed by the letters of appointment. The letters of appointment on temporary basis are not denied. If the Company was lenient towards the workmen in allowing them to work as temporary workmen and also giving them an opportunity to get themselves medically fit in the meantime, there can be no question of estoppel, waiver and acquiescence. The evidence clearly shows that the Company allowed some more time to the workmen to get themselves cured. It was not the duty of the Company to cure the workers, so that they could be found fit. The workmen got sufficient opportunity for treatment and to get themselves cured. But they could not cure themselves of the disease. In the circumstances, the Company cannot be compelled to cofirm the workmen and make them permanent. An attempt has been made on the side of the workmen to argue that the appointment letters are not in due form appearing in Appendix C to the Standing Orders. It may be mentioned here that the prescribed form in Appendix C is not the form for appointment letters. This is the form which is to be filled in by the workmen after their appointment. However, the conduct of the Company is all long bona fide. The two workmen in question have been rightly discharged by termination of their service, when it has been found that they have got defective vision and are suffering from diseases which will interfere with the performance of their normal duties and their efficiency as well. In this connection, I am to note that Shri Pathak seriously challenged the fact that the workmen were medically examined in November 1962 or thereafter. In view of the convincing evidence on record, I must hold that this contention is also unacceptable. There is no case of victimisation or unfair labour practice. So, my conclusion is that the two workmen Shri Hira Kahar and Md. Issaque have been rightly discharged by the Company on medical grounds and I hold that the Company was justified in not confirming them in service. In the result, the reference is answered in favour of the Company and the workmen concerned are not entitled to any relief.

Kamarhatty Company Limited, 4 Clive Row, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by Kamarhatty Jute Mills Sramick Congress, 292/7 Upper Chitpore Road, Calcutta, relating to the matters specified in the second schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred by the employer and the workmen to arbitration by the Arbitrator named in the Arbitration Agreement published under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department Order No. 4817-I.R./IR/7L-33/63, dated the 29th November 1963;

And whereas the arbitration award on the said industrial dispute given by the said Arbitrator was received by the State Government on the 19th September 1964;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of sub-section (1) of section 17 of the Industiral Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said arbitration award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Kamarhatty Company Limited, 4 Clive Row, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by Kamarhatty Jute Mills Sramick Congress, 292/7 Upper Chitpore Road, Calcutta. (Case No. VIII-E-4/63.)

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri RENUPADA MUKHERJEE, Judge,
First Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri Pankoj Kumar Ghose, Advocate, Shri Rajat Kumar Ghose, Counsel, assisted by Shri J. K. Ghose, Advocate of Messrs. Orr Dignam & Co., Solicitors.

For the Union: Shri D. L. Sengupta, Advocate, assisted by Shri Anil Das Choudhury, Advocate.

This industrial dispute has been referred to me for arbitration under section 10A of the Industrial Disputes Act by a voluntary reference of the parties. The agreement for reference is dated 20th November 1963. The arbitration agreement was published in the "Calcutta Gazette" by Labour Department Order No. 4817-I.R./IR/7L-33/63, dated 29th November 1963. One party to the reference is Kamarhatty Co. Ltd. (hereinafter to be described as the Company or the mill) and the other party is their workmen represented by Kamarhatty Jute Mills Sramik Congress (hereinafter to be described as the Union). The specific matters in dispute have been stated to be the following in the arbitration agreement:

(a) Are the workmen mentioned below guilty of the offence or offences for which they have been dismissed?

(b) Is the management also otherwise justified in dismissing the workmen mentioned below?

(c) If the answers to (a) and (b) are in the negative, what relief are the workmen entitled to?

(1) Chhedi Pandey, E.B. No. 25250.
(2) Jainul Abeedin, E.B. No. 24301.
(3) Ash Mohammad (Sr.), E.B. No. 24239.
(4) Ash Mohammad (Jr.), E.B. No. 1001.
(5) Saffiullah, E.B. No. 21205.
(6) Wahab, E.B. No. 24600.
(7) Suleman, E.B. No. 24589.
(8) Ahamad, E.B. No. 49207.
(9) Naium Hassain, E.B. No. 15252.
(10) Kassim, E.B. No. 25375.

On receipt of the reference notices were issued upon the parties asking them to file their written statements. Written statements were filed by both parties in the usual course. It is not necessary to go into the contents of the written statements of the parties at present. It would be sufficient for my present purpose to say that the dismissal of the ten workmen, or to be more precise, of nine workmen involved in this reference centre round some incidents alleged to have taken place in the mills in July and August 1963. As a result of some enquiries held in connection with those incidents all the workmen involved in this reference excepting Naium Hossain have been dismissed by the Company. The enquiry against Naium Hossain has not yet been completed but he is under an order of suspension and both parties have proceeded on the footing that he stands dismissed from the service of the Company. The incidents on which the dismissal of these ten workmen hinges are said to have taken place on five different dates, namely, (1) 4th July 1963, (2) 10th July 1963, (3) 15th July 1963, (4) 17th July 1963 and lastly on 2nd August 1963.

It is the case of the Company that the ten dismissed workmen were involved in the incidents which took place on the abovementioned five days either individually or in batches and they committed such acts of misconduct during the incidents as justified the Company in dismissing them from service after holding proper domestic enquiries. Later on I shall have to give minute details of the alleged incidents and also the complicity of these ten workmen, if any, in those incidents.

The Union has totally denied the alleged incidents and the complicity of these workmen in any of them. Their positive case is that on 4th July 1963 Chhedi Pandey bearing serial No. 1 of this reference was not allowed by durwan Nathu Singh to pass through 'A' mill gate for the purpose of going to mill dispensary for treatment. Nathu Singh gave a serious push to Chhedi Pandey, as a result of which he fell down and was injured. At the time of this incident the workers who were coming out from the mill gate got infuriated but they dispersed in a disciplined manner without taking the law into their own hands. The management promised to hold an enquiry into the matter but as no enquiry was made and as charge-sheets were issued to Chhedi Pandey and some other workmen involved in this reference on 10th July 1963, the workmen resorted to a peaceful and spontaneous strike on 10th July 1963 as a protest against mala fide activities of the Company. This strike was called off on 19th July 1963 but as a measure of retaliation the Company began to issue belated and mala fide charge-sheets against thirty-one more workmen on the basis of incidents which were unfounded. The enquiries said to have been held by the officers of the Company were a mere matter of show and the charges levelled against the workmen were unfounded and baseless and they were fabricated against these workmen because of their active participation in the formation of the new Union, namely, Kamarhatty Jute Mills Sramik Union.

Issues Nos. (a) and (b) are taken together for adjudication.

The Union which has sponsored the cause of ten workmen of Messrs. Kamarhatty Co. Ltd. which is a Jute Mill is known as Kamarhatty Jute Mills Sramik Congress. The evidence of Shri Anadi Mukherjee (O.P.W. 1), who is Vice-President of this Union, would show that this Union was formed on 12th December 1962. Before the formation of this Union there were several other Unions amongst the workmen of this Jute Mill. It is not disputed that this Union is now the strongest Union in this mill. Chhedi Pandey, Jainul Abeedin, Ash Mohammed (Senior), Ash Mohammed (Junior) and Safiullah bearing respectively serial Nos. 1 to 5 are members of the executive committee of the Union. Chhedi Pandey is also Assistant Secretary and Ash Mohammed (Senior) is one of the Vice-Presidents. The remaining five workmen involved in this reference are members of the Union but they are not office bearers. This Union is not recognised by the Company.

It has already been stated that excepting Naium Hossain the remaining nine workmen involved in this reference have been dismissed by the Company. There has been a departmental enquiry against Naium Hossain which is not yet completed but parties have proceeded on the footing that he has been dismissed. Charge-sheets were issued in several batches against these workmen in July and August 1963. Charge-sheets were also issued against twenty-six other workmen and they were suspended. They have been reinstated at the intervention of the Hon'ble Labour Minister after they unconditionally tendered written apology. As the Company declined to take these ten workmen back this reference was made to me on the basis of a joint arbitration agreement of the parties.

It has already been mentioned by me that the dismissal of these workmen centred round incidents which are said to have taken place on five days in July and August 1963. The most important of these is the alleged incident of 4th July 1963. According to the case of the Company the remaining four incidents are all off-shoots of the principal incident of 4th July. According to the case of the Union there was no incident on 4th July as alleged by the Company and the only incident which took place in the afternoon of that date at 'A' mill gate was that Chhedi was unjustly assaulted by durwan Nathu Singh but he went away peacefully when Assistant Labour Officer Shri Mehndiratta assured him that he would enquire into the matter on the following day. I shall presently describe what the version of the Company is on the incident of this day. Suffice it to say here that if the Company's version is found to be false then the remaining incidents will have to be declared to be false. The converse however will not be true. Even if the Company establishes the truth of the incident of 4th July, it will also have to satisfy me about the truth of other incidents.

I now come to the version given by the Company about the incident which is said to have taken place on 4th July 1963. The principal witness for the Company on this part of the case are Sarbasri D. A. Brown (P.W. 1), W. M. Scotland (P.W. 2), Prem Nath Bagai (P.W. 3), L.R. Mehndiratta (P.W. 4) and Aynul Haque (P.W. 12). Of these witnesses Shri Mehndiratta has given us a complete picture of the alleged incident from start to finish. Briefly summed up his evidence is that on 4th July 1963 at about 3-30 p.m. or 3-45 p.m. he was informed by guard commander Biswambar Singh that there was an altercation in 'A' mill gate between the durwan and a workman. This gate is approximately 100 yards off from the labour office by the road. Shri Mehndiratta was told that Chhedi Pandey had tried to enter the gate without showing E.B. Token and there was an altercation between him and the durwan and a crowd had assembled over that matter. Shri Mehndiratta reached the gate within ten or fifteen minutes. He found Chhedi Pandey in an excited mood. Chhedi reported to him that he had been assaulted by the durwan and he asked him to hold an enquiry then and there and also demanded the dismissal of the durwan. Shri Mehndiratta asked Chhedi to come to the Labour Office for enquiry with a few persons who had actually witnessed the incident. Chhedi Pandey refused to comply with his request and asked him to make over the durwan to the crowd. The durwan was removed from the gate by Shri Mehndiratta and Biswambar Singh was posted in his place. Then Mehndiratta went back to the Labour Office. At about 4-25 p.m. he again went to the gate with a colleague of his, Shri Bose. He found that Chhedi and a lot of workkers were shouting against the management. At about a quarter to 5 p.m. Biswambar again reported that Chhedi and a large number of workers were coming to the 'B' mill gate. This gate is only 10 to 15 yards off from the Labour Office. Among the crowd Mehndiratta only knew Chhedi because he had joined service only two or three months ago. Shri Bose was pushed. Shri Mehndiratta ran into the Labour Office for telephoning the police. By that time he informed the manager but he could not contact the police. He again came out and asked Chhedi to come in for the enquiry. Chhedi did not listen and went on shouting. By that time the crowd had swelled to 200 or 300 persons. Two constables came to the Labour Office at about a quarter to 6 p.m. Some other police men came later. The police could not disperse the crowd. The crowd went away when there was a heavy shower after 7 p.m.

Shri D. A. Brown is the Senior Mechanical Assistant of Kamarhatty Jute Mills since January 1960. His evidence is that on 4th July at about 5-30 p.m. he was standing in front of his office which is 10 feet from the Labour Office. There was a crowd of workers in front of the Labour Office. At that time Jainul Abeedin came from the direction of the mill shouting "a durwan was beating the workers." When he asked Jainul Abeedin not to shout he caught hold of his hand and said how he would like if he hit Brown in the same way as the durwan was beating the workers. The suggestion against this witness was that on that particular day he beat Jainul Abeedin with a roll of paper in the mouth and Jainul Abeedin did not give him any provocation. The witness denied the suggestion.

The evidence of Shri W. M. Scotland, Manager of Kamarhatty Jute Mills, is that at about 15 or 20 minutes to 5 p.m. on 4th July 1963 he noticed Chhedi Pandey coming towards the Labour Office shouting "we want immediate enquiry of Nathu Singh and his immediate dismissal". He was followed by 70 or 80 workers. Gradually the crowd swelled up to 300 workers. This witness further deposed that Jainul Abeedin caught hold of Shri Brown's hand. The evidence of Shri Prem Nath Bagai is that on 4th July 1963 there was an incident in the mill at about 5 minutes to 5 p.m. A crowd of 200 to 300 people assembled in front of the Labour Office. The crowd was disorderly and Chhedi Pandey was shouting in a filthy language. Chhedi Pandey was also shouting that there should be an enquiry against the durwan then and there and he should be dismissed on the spot. Jainul Abeedin came to the place at about 5-30 p.m. or 5-35 p.m. Jainul Abeedin joined the disorderly crowd and he caught hold of Mr. Brown's arm. Aynul Haque (P.W. 12) deposed to the effect that on the day in question at about 3-30 p.m. or 3-40 p.m. there was an altercation between Nathu Singh and Chhedi Pandey. The durwan asked for Chhedi Pandey's token number and the latter said it was not with him and he must be allowed entry because he was a leader of the Union. The durwan obstructed Chhedi. Thereupon Chhedi pushed the durwan. The durwan did not assault Chhedi Pandey. These are broad outlines of the evidence adduced on behalf of the Company regarding the incident of 4th July.

As against the above evidence the Union examined all the five workmen said to be involved in this day's incident and also another witness Sayet Ali, O.P.W. 7. The sum and substance of the evidence adduced on this part of the case by Chhedi Pendey is that between 3-30 p.m. and 4 p.m. on 4th July 1963 Chhedi came to the 'A' mill gate in a rickshaw for the purpose of going to the mill dispensary for treatment. Admittedly he had met with an accident earlier in the day and a medical pass had been given to him. Nathu Singh did not allow him to enter the mill gate in spite of the medical pass and demanded his token number. This token number is called E.B. token. Chhedi's evidence is that no such token number had ever been given to him by the Company. When Chhedi showed his medical pass to Nathu Singh and asked him to allow him to pass through the gate the durwan caught hold of his arm and pushed him down. The durwan also gave him a blow in the right ear causing a little bleeding. Thirty or 35 people assembled after he fell down. Then Biswambar Singh came and stood at the gate and sent Nathu Singh elsewhere. A few minutes later Labour Officer No. 2 Mehndiratta came there. He took him to the Labour Office and told the crowd that the matter between Nathu Singh and Chhedi would be settled by him after an enquiry on the following day. After this Chhedi Pandey went to the hospital and there was no demonstration of any kind as alleged by the Company. Jainul Abeedin did not catch hold of Shri Brown's hand and the latter pushed Jainul Abeedin with a paper roll and asked him to go away. Ash Mohammed (Sr.) O.P.W. 2, Safiullah (O.P.W. 3), Ash Mohd. (Jr.) O.P.W. 4, Jainul Abeedin (O.P.W. 1) who have been charge-sheeted for the alleged incident of 4th July have more or less supported the version given by Chhedi Pandey. Departmental enquiries were held against these five workmen after charge-sheets were issued to them on 10th July 1963.

Shri Sengupta submitted on behalf of the Union that the charges in so far as they are based on the incident of 4th July are false and fabricated charges having no foundation in fact. He contended that the ring leaders of the newly formed Union were selected for victimisation by the Company. In this connection he drew my attention to the proceedings of the enquiries which took place in respect of the charges and also recommendations by the enquiry officers. These enquiry proceedings and the various documents connected therewith have been marked Ext. 1 to 10 series. Excepting workmen Soleman and Safiullah, the other workmen attended the enquiry. Of them Ash Mohd. (Sr.), Ash Mohd. (Jr.) and Md. Kaseem left the enquiry after having been called upon to make their statements.

Shri Sengupta pointed out what he called various infirmities of the enquiry proceedings. He submitted that in calling upon the workmen who had participated in the enquiry to make their statement first before the examination of Company's witnesses, the enquiry officers have violated the elementary principles of natural justice by reversing the procedure of examination of witnesses. He also argued that in the enquiry reports reasons have not been given for finding the guilt of the delinquents. He cited several decisions before me in support of his argument. I need not refer to those decisions for the simple reason that both parties have adduced first hand evidence before me and I am neither relying on the enquiry proceedings nor am I going even to refer to the reports of the enquiry officers.

From what I have stated above it would be clear that the parties have given widely divergent versions about the occurrence which took place before the 'A' mill gate on 4th July 1963. There is only one fact which is common to the conflicting versions and that is that at about the time in question Chhedi Pandey attempted to enter 'A' mill gate without showing his E.B. token to gate man Nathu Singh who obstructed him. According to the case of the Union the durwan unjustifiably assaulted Chhedi Pandey by pushing him down but there was no demonstration or riotous behaviour of any workman after this incident. Shri Mehndiratta promised to hold an enquiry on the following day and Chhedi Pandey went to the dispensary and some workers who had collected on the spot also went away peacefully.

After having given a careful and anxious consideration to the evidence adduced by the parties I am constrained to come to the conclusion that the version given by the Union is not acceptable. The Union tried to make out a case that the workmen of this Company are all given E.B. books but E.B. tokens are given to not more than 50 per cent. workers. It is not essential for the workmen to show such E.B. token to the gate man for obtaining entrance into the mill premises and Nathu Singh who personally knew Chhedi Pandey from before obstructed the latter for the purpose of creating mischief. The case of the Union that it is not essential for a worker to produce his E.B. token for gaining entrance into the mill is not acceptable to me. From the cross-examination of P.W. 2 and the examination-in-chief of P.W. 3, P.W. 5 and P.W. 7 I am satisfied that E.B. tokens are given to all permanent workmen for the purpose of their identification. Chhedi Pandey might have been known to Nathu Singh from before but the latter acted within his right when he demanded the E.B. token from Chhedi Pandey. Chhedi Pandey considered himself to be a man of some importance being Assistant Secretary of the Union. The token number was not with him and so he could not produce it. What followed on his failure to produce the E.B. token can be easily imagined. The durwan obstructed him Chhedi Pandey might have attempted to get in by using some force. There must have been a scuffle and I am prepared to believe Chhedi Pandey to this extent that in the course of the scuffle the durwan pushed him down. In this Tribunal Chhedi Pandey also said that the durwan gave him a blow in the right ear. No such statement was made in the written statement of the Union. What followed after this will appear from the evidence of Shri Mehndiratta which I accept in toto. Mehndiratta asked Chhedi Pandey to come to the Labour Office for enquiry. Chhedi Pandey refused to do this and said that the dispute would be settled amongst themselves and the durwan should be made over to the crowd. Mehndiratta went back to the Labour Office and again went to the gate at about 4-25 p.m. He found Chhedi and a lot of workers shouting against the management. At that time a large number of workers were coming to the 'B' mill gate which is close to the Labour Office. Shri Mehndiratta again asked Chhedi to come to the Labour Office for enquiry. He did not listen and went on shouting. The crowd did not disperse till about 7 p.m. when there was a heavy shower of rain. Some police men were called but they were unable to disperse the crowd.

Upon these facts two charge-sheets were issued to Chhedi Pandey. The charge-sheets have been marked Exts. 1 and 1(a). The first charge relates to the incident at the 'A' mill gate and the second charge relates to the incidents which followed later, namely, violent and disorderly demonstration, surrounding of the Labour Office, etc. There were two domestic enquiries against Chhedi Pandey. The first enquiry was quashed by mutual agreement and Chhedi Pandey was found to be guilty in respect of the first charge at the second enquiry. The second charge was not enquired into in the second enquiry by mutual agreement. I have already stated that I was not giving any importance to the findings of the enquiry officer who made the second enquiry. Upon the evidence on record I come to the independent conclusion that Chhedi Pandey did not obey the lawful orders of Mehndiratta and was responsible for the violent and disorderly conduct shown by the crowd at the mill establishment and so he was guilty of misconducts mentioned in paragraphs 14(c)(i) and (viii) of the Standing Orders (Ext. 20). The evidence adduced on behalf of the Company clearly shows that the demonstration made by the workmen was neither peaceful nor orderly. One Shri Bose was pushed by some of the demonstrators

The case of the Union is that except the incident at the 'A' mill gate in which Chhedi was rather the victim than the aggressor, there was no further incident near the Labour Office as alleged by the Company and the whole matter has been fabricated by the management for "creating mischief, provocating the workmen and maintaining an atmosphere of unrest for their own reasons". This statement of the Union in paragraph 22 of its written statement appears to me to be fantastic. It is not credible that the Company would invent incidents of the present description and call for police assistance with the objectives mentioned in the written statement of the Union. It is also unthinkable that responsible officers of the Company would periure themselves for supporting such got up incidents. That would be wholly inconsistent with normal human conduct. There was no provocation from the side of the Company and it was Chhedi who was responsible for the entire incident. It was contended on behalf of the Union that the management has not produced Nathu Singh before me, and adverse inference should be drawn against the management for withholdnig his evidence. The reason for the non-production of this man has not en stated before me. I do not, however, think iat the non-production of this witness is a material ict in this case. From the evidence of other itnesses examined on behalf of the Company the uilt of Chhedi Pandey has been sufficiently estab- shed. Assuming that he had been assaulted by ie durwan, there was no justification for him for ttempting to take the law into his own hands and lso exciting the workers to make a rowdy and iolent demonstration. But for his incitement the .cident which happened before the Labour Office ould never have taken place. In the circum- tances I maintain the order of dismissal passed gainst this workman.

I next deal with the case of Jainul Abeedin, serial lo. 2. He was charge-sheeted for taking part in ie violent and rowdy demonstration on 4th July 963 and also for catching hold of the hand of Shri). A. Brown and threatening him with violence. he complicity of this witness in the above incident as been sufficiently established by the evidence of arbasri D. A. Brown (P.W. 1), W. M. Scotland P.W. 2), Prem Nath Bagai (P.W. 3) and L. R. Iehndiratta (P.W. 4). From their evidence I am atisfied that he took an active part in the demon- tration and he also caught hold of the hand of Shri Brown asking him how he would feel if he hit him n the same way as the durwan was beating the vorkers. If the only charge against Jainul Abeedin rowd had become very much excited and mob iad been that he joined the unruly crowd and took art in the unruly demonstration, I might have ondoned his misconduct. It is clear that the rowd had become very much excited and mob heat assion had reached a white heat on that date. At uch times a mill worker is apt to forget himself. But the charge against Jainul Abeedin was not only hat he joined the crowd and was in the forefront of the demonstrators but he caught hold of the arm of Shri Brown and asked him how he would feel if ie was hit in the same way as the durwan was eating the workers. It is true that he did not ictually lay violent hands on Shri Brown but what ie did amounted to an act of gross indiscipline and is fortunate that Shri Brown was not manhandled. In my opinion Jainul Abeedin committed a gross act of misconduct by doing the things alleged by the Company. He has been rightly dismissed and there s no ground for reinstating him.

Ash Mohammad (Senior) (Serial No. 3)

There was only one charge against this workman which relates to the participation in the demonstra- ion of 4th July. This workman denied in his evidence that he took any part in the said demon- tration. He stated in his evidence that on the day n question he did his work in two sessions—from 5 a.m. to 10 a.m. in the morning and again from 3-30 p.m. to 6-30 p.m. He further stated that in the afternoon he did his work for the full time and did not come out till his duty hours were over. Shri W. M. Scotland (P.W. 2) stated in his evidence that this workman was amongst the demonstrators on the particular day. There is no reason to disbelieve his evidence. It is true that this workman is one of the Vice-Presidents of the newly formed Sramik Congress. I am not prepared to believe that the management has falsely implicated him because of his association with the Union in the capacity of a Vice-President. I hold that he was one of the demonstrators on 4th July 1963. I am, however, of opinion that the extreme punishment of dismissal awarded to this workman is unduly severe and is out of proportion to the offence committed by him. I have already observed that due to Chhedi Pandey's incitement there was a commotion amongst the workers on that particular day. There was no other charge against this workman and it is not the case of the management that he had previously been charge-sheeted for a similar offence. It is also significant that there was another rowdy demonstra- tion on the day of the strike, namely, on 10th July 1963. It is an admitted fact that 26 other workmen who were charge-sheeted and suspended for having participated in the demonstration of 10th July were subsequently taken back on their tendering apology. The same opportunity should have been given to Ash Mohammed (Sr.) who had taken part in the demonstration of the earlier day but had not com- mitted any act of violence. There is no valid reason for making any differenciation between Ash Mohammed's case and the case of 26 other work- men who have been reinstated. Although I hold that Ash Mohammed (Sr.) was one of the demon- strators on 4th July, I shall direct his reinstatement for reasons given above, but I shall not allow him any wages for the period during which he was absent from duty on account of his suspension and subsequent dismissal.

Ash Mohammad (Junior) (Serial No. 4)

I next take up the case of Ash Mohd. (Jr.) who is said to have been involved in two incidents, namely, the incident of 4th July and the incident of 2nd August 1963. At this stage I shall discuss the question as to whether there was any incident on 2nd August, as alleged by the Company.

The alleged incident of 2nd August 1963 relates to the surrounding of the car of Shri A. P. Ganguly, Labour Officer, by some workmen and the commis- sion of some acts of misconduct in connection with the surrounding of the car. The case of the Company is that Shri Ganguly (P.W. 5) left office on 2nd August 1963 at about 5-30 p.m. in his car along with Shri S. K. Chatterjee (P.W. 7), Group Labour Officer. As they came on the road outside the mill compound, a crowd of 17 or 18 workmen came in front of the car and stopped it. Then Ash Mohd. (Jr.) caught hold of Shri Ganguly's right hand from the window and tried to drag him out. Workmen Naium and Kaseem caught hold of the hand of Shri Chatterjee and they tried to pull him out. At this time Shri Ganguly noticed from the mirror that the back portion of his car was not surrounded. So he suddenly reversed the car and entered the mill compound. Information was thereafter given to police and a criminal case is pending against some of the workmen. Ash Mohd. (Jr.) totally denied the incident. According to the version of the Union there was a meeting of the Union at that time for raising subscription. The members of the Union who were present at the meeting did not see Shri Ganguly or Shri Chatterjee near the 'B' mill gate at that time. The car of Shri Ganguly was not surrounded and the whole story is a manufactured one.

I have considered the evidence of Shri Ganguly and Shri Chatterjee about this incident. I have also considered the evidence of the workmen who are said to be involved in that occurrence and who have totally denied it, namely, Ash Mohd. (Jr.), Safiullah and Md. Kaseem. The suggestion given on behalf of the Union to Shri Ganguly was that he and Shri Chatterjee were opposed to any kind of settlement between the Company and the Union and that both of them manufactured a false case when they saw that peace was going to be restored. It was suggested to Shri Ganguly that it was to his interest to see that trouble persists between the workers and the management.

It is an admitted fact that on 2nd August 1963 negotiations were going on between the management and the Union regarding the manner in which apology letters of 26 workmen who were going to be reinstated should be drafted. It is the case of the Company that Shri Ganguly's car was surrounded because the workers demanded that Shri Ganguly and Shri Chatterjee should not go away until Chhedi Pandey who had gone to Calcutta in connection with the apology matter came back. This is denied from the side of the Union. After having carefully considered the evidence adduced by both parties I am of opinion that there was an occurrence of the nature alleged by the Company on 2nd August 1963. The suggestion that it was to the interest of Shri Ganguly and Shri Chatterjee to keep alive a sort of perpetual war-fare between the Company and the workmen is not worthy of acceptance because no management would like a Labour Officer who would attempt to inflame instead of smoothing down labour unrest. It is not at all natural or probable that Shri Ganguly and Shri Chatterjee would manufacture a false case against some workmen when peace was going to be restored at least with a section of the workmen. From evidence I am satisfied that the car of Shri Ganguly was surrounded in the manner alleged by him and Ash Mohd. (Jr.) took a leading part in the matter and he tried to pull out Shri Ganguly from the car by catching hold of his hand. This workman, therefore, committed two acts of misconduct. He took part in a rowdy demonstration on 4th July 1963 and he was one of the workmen who surrounded the car of Shri Ganguly and he also attempted to pull out Shri Ganguly from his car. His case comes within the purview of paragraph 14(c)(viii) of the Standing Orders. He has, therefore, been rightly dismissed by the Company and there is no ground for interference in his case.

Safiullah (serial No. 5)

I next come to the case of workman Safiullah. There were two charge-sheets against him. The first one related to the incident of 4th July and the second to the incident of 2nd August 1963. It is not the allegation of the Company that this workman committed any overt act of violence in connection with any of the incidents. There is nothing to show that he was ever chargesheeted on any previous occasion. I am satisfied from evidence that he was one of the workmen who surrounded the Labour Office on 4th July and he was one of the workmen who surrounded the car of Shri Ganguly on 2nd August 1963. But in view of the fact that he did not commit any act of violence and also in view of the fact that these demonstrations were made at a time when feelings were running high amongst the workmen, I am of opinion that this workman should be taken back in service without payment of any back wages. I, accordingly, set aside the order of dismissal passed against this workman and I direct his reinstatement.

Wahab (serial No. 6) and Suleman (serial No. 7)

The charges against these two workmen are practically the same. The first charge is that on 10th July 1963 at about 3-30 p.m. these two workers resorted to an illegal strike and made various rowdy demonstrations before the mill manager's office which was surrounded. The second charge was that on 17th July 1963 at about 12-30 p.m. both of them attacked a mill employee Shri Samsul Alam, Wage Clerk of Weaving Department of 'B' mill, while he was returning after attending his duties and gave him blows with lethal weapons thereby inflicting severe bodily injuries.

Wahab and Suleman have denied both the charges. They gave their evidence in this Tribunal and stated that they worked full time on 10th July 1963 in two sessions and did not join the strike or make any demonstration. They also denied that they assaulted Samsul with a lathi on 17th July 1963. As against their denial there is the positive evidence of Shri A. Ganguly (P.W. 5) and Shri S. K. Chatterjee (P.W. 7) that there was a strike on 10th July 1963 after a charge-sheet was given to Jainul Abeedin about 10 or 10-30 a.m. The evidence of Shri Ganguly and Shri Chatterjee would show that after delivery of the charge-sheet to Jainul Abeedin he was asked not to go inside the department but Jainul entered the department on the pretext that he had left something there. That a strike took place at about 11-30 a.m. on that date is admitted by the Union in paragraph 17 of its written statement. The evidence of Shri Chatterjee would show that Wahab and Suleman participated in this strike and they were among the crowd which made demonstration before the Mill Manager's office. I hold from evidence that Wahab and Suleman made unseemly demonstration before the Mill Manager's office on 10th July 1963. I would have, however, exonerated them from this charge because the Company has taken back into its service 26 other workmen who had joined the strike on 10th July 1963. No act of overt violence was committed by any worker on that day. I shall now examine whether the second charge in respect of the alleged assault on Samsul Alam has been substantiated against these two workmen. On this point the Company has given evidence of five witnesses. Samsul Alam (P.W. 6) stated that on 17th July 1963 when he was on his way home after finishing his duty at about 12-30 p.m. he was assaulted with Lathis by Suleman and Wahab each giving blows on one hand. Shri Ganguly (P.W. 5) and S. K. Chatterjee (P.W. 7) have deposed to the effect that Samsul Alam reported the matter immediately after the occurrence took place and he was sent at first to mill dispensary and thence to Sagar Dutta Hospital. Md. Hossain (P.W. 9) is said to be an eye-witness to the occurrence. Satyabandhu Banerjee (P.W. 8) is the doctor who attended Samsul Alam at the dispensary. The doctor stated in his evidence that Samsul did not tell him the name of the persons who had assaulted him. Md. Hossain named both Wahab and Suleman as the assailants in his examination-in-chief but in cross-examination he categorically stated that the blow was given by Suleman and Wahab who was behind Suleman did not give any blow. Shri Chatterjee's cross-examination would show that Samsul Alam reported to him that one of the two persons Wahab and Suleman had caught hold of him and the other had beaten him. The evidence on the side of the Company would show that Samsul was beaten by only one man and from evidence I am satisfied that the assailant was Suleman, I hold upon evidence that Wahab did not assault Samsul Alam. So it must be held that he is not guilty of the second charge levelled against him.

In the above connection Shri D. L. Sengupta argued on behalf of the Union that no motive had been assigned by the Company for the perpetration of this act of violence on Samsul and so it should be held that the incident is a got up one. This argument cuts both ways. If there is no apparent motive for this act of violence then there is also no apparent motive on the part of Samsul Alam for implicating Suleman in a false occurrence.

Shri Sengupta also argued that this incident is unconnected with the affairs of the Company and at the worst it is a private matter between Samsul Alam and Suleman. So the Company is not entitled to charge-sheet Suleman for this private incident. The place of the incident is however material. It took place within the mill premises of the Company. It is certainly an act of misconduct on the part of one employee to assault another inside the mill premises of the Company because that would lead to breach of discipline. I hold that Suleman was guilty of the second charge as well as of the first charge levelled against him and so he has been properly dismissed. At the same time I hold that I shall give an opportunity to Wahab to get himself reinstated in the service of the Company.

I now take up the case of Ahamad (serial No. 8). This workman was a tea boy under the Company. There was only one charge-sheet against him. The charge was that on 15th July 1963 he was obstructing maintenance workers and clerical staff from reporting for duty during the strike time and further at about 6-20 a.m. he assaulted Barkat Ali when he was coming through 'B' mill gate for doing his duty.

Ahamad (O.P.W. 8) totally denied the incident. The Company examined two witnesses for substantiating this charge against Ahamad. They are Barkat Ali (P.W. 10) and Time-keeper Rahini Kumar Banerjee. Barkat Ali stated in his evidence that on the day in question, namely, on 15th July 1963 at about 6 a.m. he was going to the mill for repairing some wall in the boiler room. Ahamad asked him to join the strike. Barkat tried to enter the mill gate but Ahamad caught hold of his shirt and gave him a blow. He fell down and was dragged by Ahamad to the Post Office. Rahini Banerjee P.W. 11 stated in his evidence that he saw Ahamad pushing away Barkat Ali. Rahini Banerjee was examined at the time of departmental enquiry. I have referred to that evidence and I find that before the enquiry officer he did not mention that Ahamad had pushed Barkat Ali. It appears that some improvement has been made in the evidence of Rahini Banerjee since he was examined before the enquiry officer. This being the position, his evidence should be discarded. I hold that the main charge against Ahamad stands on the uncorroborated testimony of Barkat. I am not prepared to uphold the dismissal of Ahamad on the uncorroborated evidence and I shall direct his reinstatement on suitable terms.

Naium Hossain and Kassim (serial Nos. 9 and 10) respectively

As against Naium Hossain and Md. Kassim there is one common charge, namely, that on 2nd August 1963 they were members of the crowd which surrounded the car of Shri A. Ganguly and these two workmen caught hold of the left arm of Shri S. K. Chatterjee, Group Labour Officer, and pushed him and threatened to assault him. There was another charge against Naium Hossain that on 15th July 1963 he forcibly restrained the loyal workmen from reporting for duty and assaulted Barkat Ali while he was coming to report for duty. It has already observed by me that the enquiry proceedings in respect of workman Naium Hossain were not completed. He is however under order of suspension and both parties desire that the case of this workman should be considered on the footing that he has been dismissed or that the Company is of opinion that dismissal is proper punishment for him. After having scrutinised the evidence adduced on behalf of the Company I am of opinion that the charge regarding the incident of 15th July 1963 has not been proved. Barkat Ali was examined before me but he named Ahamad and not Naium Hossain as his assailant on the day in question. I therefore exonerate this workman of the above charge.

As regards the charge of surrounding the car of Shri Ganguly on 2nd August 1963 and catching hold of the left arm of Shri Chatterjee I am of opinion that this charge has been established beyond doubt against both Naium Hossain and Md. Kassim by the evidence of Shri Ganguly and Shri Chatterjee which I have discussed in some detail earlier in my award. I do not however think that for commission of this one act of misconduct Naium Hossain should lose his employment. It is true that the car of Shri Ganguly was surrounded and it is also true that Naium Hossain and Kassim caught hold of the left arm of Shri Chatterjee with the idea of detaining him but these workmen committed this act for the purpose of detaining Shri Ganguly and Shri Chatterjee and not for assaulting them. If it had been their objective to assault Shri Ganguly and Shri Chatterjee physically they could have done so with impunity at least for the time being. Their only object was to detain these two officers until Chhedi Pandey returned from Calcutta. In these circumstances I am inclined to take a lenient view of this single act of indiscretion committed by Naium Hossain at a time when relations between the management and the workman were quite strained. In these circumstances I shall direct the reinstatement of Naium Hossain.

As regards Md. Kassim I am not inclined to take the same lenient view as I have taken in the case of Naium Hossain. This workman was guilty of the charges of surrounding the car of Shri Ganguly and he also caught hold of the left arm of Shri S. K. Chaterjee. It has further been established by evidence that this witness took part in the disorderly demonstration which took place in the mill on 10th July 1963 when the workmen resorted to an unjustified strike, the workmen resorted to an unjustified strike, consequent on the issue of charge-sheets to Jainul Abeedin and others. The evidence of Shri Ganguly (P.W. 5) and Shri Chatterjee (P.W. 7) would show that Kassim took a leading part in inaugurating the strike. This workman has committed two offences and I do not think that his case deserves to be considered sympathetically. In my opinion he has been dismissed rightly.

I have dealt with the case of all the ten concerned workmen individually. I have come to the conclusion that the following five workmen have been rightly dismissed:

Chhedi Pandey (serial No. 1).

Ash Mohammed (Junior) (serial No. 4).

Suleman (serial No. 7).

Kassim (serial No. 10).

It is also my adjudication that the remaining five workmen:

Ash Mohammed (Sr.) (serial No. 3),

Safiullah (serial No. 5),

Wahab (serial No. 6),

Ahamad (serial No. 8), and

Naium Hossain (serial No. 9),

should be reinstated in service on conditions mentioned below. This is my answer to queries (a) and (b) of item (i) of the arbitration agreement.

My answer to querry (c) of item (i) is the following:

The orders of dismissal of Sarbasri Chhedi Pandey, Jainul Abeedin, Ash Mohammed (junior), Suleman and Kassim will stand. The following five workmen Ash Mohammed (senior), Safiulalh, Wahab, Ahamad and Naium Hossain will be reinstated in service if they report for duty within 15 days of the publication of this Award in the "Calcutta Gazette" and if they unconditionally express regret in writing for the acts of misconduct which they committed. Upon reinstatement in service they will not get any wages for the period of unemployment or the period during which they have been kept under suspension but their service shall be deemed to have continued without any break. This is my award on the arbitration agreement.

No. 4488-I.R./IR/8L-34/64. — 25th September 1964. -Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department Order No. 6635-I.R./IR/8L-51/62, dated the 29th November 1962, read with its Corrigendum No. 1411-I.R./IR/8L-51/62, dated the 2nd April 1963, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Central Textile Mills, 149 Mahatma Gandhi Road, Calcutta-7, and their workmen represented by the Calcutta & Howrah Hosiery Employees' Union, 88/2 Tripura Roy Road, Salkia, Howrah, regarding the issues mentioned in the said order being matters specified in the third schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Fifth Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Central Textile Mills, 149 Mahatma Gandhi Road, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by the Calcutta & Howrah Hosiery Employees' Union, 88/2 Tripura Roy Road, Salkia, Howrah. (Case No. 201 of 1962.)

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

Shri K. P. MUKHERJI, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal

Present for the Company: Shri Arun Kumar Dutta and Shri Biren Banerji, Advocates.

Present for the Union: Shri Nikhil Roy, Advocate.

By Government Order No. 6635-I.R./IR/8L-51/62, dated the 29th November 1962, the above industrial dispute was referred to this Tribunal for adjudication. The issues mentioned for adjudication in the order of reference are as follows:

1. Grade, scale of basic wages and annual increment.
2. Dearness allowance.
3. Leave and festival holidays.

After receipt of the reference on 1st December 1962 usual notices on the parties were issued fixing 22nd December 1962 for appearance and filing of the written statement by the Union. The Union filed written statement on 15th January 1963 and the Company filed its written statement on 2nd March 1963. Thereafter several adjournments were granted on the prayer of the parties, and the case was fixed for hearing today, if no compromise is effected in the meantime. The parties have filed a joint petition of compromise today stating that they have amicably settled their dispute out of Court. The terms on which the dispute has been settled have been set forth in the petition of compromise. I have considered the terms of compromise. These appear to be quite fair and lawful. I am satisfied that there has been a bona fide compromise of the dispute between the parties on terms set forth in the petition of compromise. The compromise is therefore recorded, and accordingly I make a compromise award in terms of the joint petition of compromise filed by the parties. The joint petition of compromise do form part of award as Appendix 1.

Dictated and corrected by me.

(Compromise petition of the parties together with the terms of settlement appended therewith)

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

In the matter of the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 6635-I.R./IR/8L-51/62, dated November 29, 1962

And

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Central Textile Mill and their workmen represented by Calcutta and Howrah Hosiery Employees' Union.

The humble petition of Messrs. Central Textile Mill and the workmen of Central Textile Mill represented by Calcutta and Howrah Hosiery Employees' Union—

Most respectfully sheweth:

1. That the parties for establishing industrial peace and better relation between the employer and employee have settled the disputes referred by the above Government Order amicably outside Court as per terms annexed hereto.

In the premises aforesaid the parties pray that Your Honour would be pleased to pass an award on the basis of the settlement annexed hereto and to pass such further order or orders as to Your Honour may seem fit and proper, and the parties as in duty bound shall ever pray.

TERMS OF SETTLEMENT

The parties have settled their disputes regarding the issue referred to this Hon'ble Tribunal outside the Court in the following manner:

Issue Nos. 1 and 2

1. (a) The workers will be broadly divided into two categories—

Category 'A': Cutters, chainman, overlock-men and finishers.

Category 'B': Neck-cutters and menders.

(b) There will be two grades and scales of pay—

For category 'B'—Rs. 75-3-105-4-125.

For category 'A'—Rs. 85-3-115-4-135.

The said grade and scale will be operative from 1st June 1964.

(c) For the purpose of fitting in the following principles will be followed:

(i) Those who are getting consolidated wages below the minimum of this new grade, their wages will be pulled up to the minimum.

(ii) All workmen would be deemed to have started on the new grade and will be given increment at the rate of one increment for every three years of completed past service commencing from the date when the Employees State Insurance Scheme came into force or date of confirmation whichever is earlier.

(iii) If after fixing the grade and giving past service benefit, it is found that the new adjusted consolidated pay is less than the existing pay, the wage of the said worker would be pulled up to the next higher point in the incremental scale.

(iv) A chart showing the adjustment and/or the pay of different wrokmen after adjustment as above is annexed hereto and marked as annexure "A".

The present consolidated wages obtainable by the workmen will not be reduced for the purpose of fitting in the new grades and scales of pay.

(v) The next annual increment would be given in April 1965.

(vi) There will be no separate dearness allowance scheme but an additional sum of Rs. 18 will be paid to each worker with effect from 1st June 1964 by way of compensatory allowance.

(vii) The arrear wages and the compensatory payment for the back period that is for the months of June, July and August 1964 would be paid on or before the 19th day of September 1964.

Issue No. 3

(a) The workers will be entitled to privilege leave as per Facories Act.

(b) The workers will get 10 days' paid festival holidays in the year which will include:

Independence Day.

Mahatma Gandhi Birthday.

(c) The permanent workers will get five days' casual leave in the year with pay. The casual leave on no account shall be affixed or prefixed with privilege leave or holidays.

3(a) The workmen admit that the present quantum of production as set out against individual names of the workmen as per annexure "E" to the written statement of the Union filed before this Hon'ble Tribunal is low for eight hours work in a day or for 48 hours of work in a week. In view of the fact that the management has agreed to increase the wage structure of the workmen, the workmen also agree to give increased production at the rate of 12½ per cent. over and above the existing quantum of production mentioned in the said Annexure "E" to the written statement. This undertaking by the workmen for increased production is a consideration for settling the disputes relating to the present issues amicably outside the court.

(b) For the purpose of calculation of this 12½ per cent. increase in the existing production per head, per quality and style, the following principles will be observed:

The quantity, quality and style referred to in the Annexure 'E' to the Union's written statement is accepted as the basis. Since, however, the quantity has been mentioned in the terms of dozens it has been converted into pieces and on the worked out pieces calculation would be made at the rate of 12½ per cent. to find out the increased production.

(c) To avoid any dispute as to the quantum, a chart showing increased production calculated at 12½ per cent. with reference to quality, style and quantity, department-wise is annexed hereto as annexure 'B' to the settlement.

(d) The increased production will be given with effect from the 15th September 1964.

No. 4491-I.R./IR/11L-152(B)/63.—25th September 1964.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 4217-I.R./IR/11L-152(B)/63, dated the 7th October 1963, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Calcutta Flour Mills, 11 Shib Thakur Lane, Calcutta-7, and their workmen represented by All-Bengal Flour Mills Workers Union, 63/1 Kali Banerjee Lane, Howrah, regarding the issue mentioned in the said order being a matter specified in the second schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the Fourth Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Fourth Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Calcutta Flour Mills, 11 Shib Thakur Lane, Calcutta-7, and their workmen represented by All-Bengal Flour Mills Workers' Union, 63/1 Kali Banerjee Lane, Howrah. (Government Order No. 4217-I.R., dated 7th October 1963.) (VIII-238/63.)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri R. BHATTACHARYA, Judge,
Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: Shri S. N. Banerjee, Advocate.

For the Company: Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate.

This industrial dispute under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act between Messrs. Calcutta Flour Mills, 11 Shib Thakur Lane, Calcutta-7, and their workmen represented by All-Bengal Flour Mills Workers' Union, 63/1 Kali Banerjee Lane, Howrah, arises out of Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 4217-I.R./IR/11L-152(B)/63, dated the 7th October 1963. The following issue appears in the order of reference.

Issue

Whether the dismissal of Shri Prodyut Kumar Dutta is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

The parties appeared in this case and submitted their respective written statements. In short, the case of the workmen is that the dismissed workman Shri Prodyut Kumar Dutta, a store-boy of the Company, was connected with the Union activities and, therefore, the management of Messrs. Calcutta Flour Mills (hereinafter described as the Company) sacked him illegally and on frivolous plea and on false allegations. It is stated that on 2nd May 1962 Shri Dutta was assaulted by some persons and an attempt was made to kidnap him. He fell ill. He sent an application for leave supported by a medical certificate through Lalit Mohan Ghosh, another employee, but the letter was not accepted by the Company. It was returned. On 5th May 1962 the said medical certificate with an application was sent through registered post. On 14th May 1962 he received charge-sheets from the Company and he replied thereto by a letter, dated 15th May 1962. There was a show of enquiry in which he was not given proper opportunity to defend himself. He was not allowed to cross-examine the witnesses of the Company or to adduce his evidence. Records of enquiry were not properly kept. The statements of the witnesses were not correctly recorded. He was not given any proper opportunity either to show cause against the proposed dismissal. In short, it has been alleged in the written statement filed by the All-Bengal Flour Mills Workers' Union (hereinafter called the Union), representing the workmen, that the dismissal was bad. The prayer is for reinstatement with full back wages.

The Company has also filed written statement. All material allegations made by the Union have been denied by the Company. It has been stated that on 7th May 1962 the Company received a registered letter from Shri Datta along with a certificate from a panel doctor of the Employees State Insurance Corporation. It was alleged in the application that a letter was sent by Shri Dutta through Lalit Ghosh but the said letter was returned by the Manager of the Company in the afternoon, after keeping the same throughout the day. The company wants to say that this was malicious propaganda amounting to major misconduct as the story of sending the letter by Shri Datta or its return by the Company was false. The story of the Company further is that Shri Dutta had been absenting himself from duty since 3rd May 1962 without giving any information. Lastly, the case of the Company is that on 11th May 1962 the Company issued a charge-sheet and tendered the same to Shri Dutta but the latter refused to accept the same. It is alleged that this refusal to accept the charge-sheet was an offence committed by Shri Dutta. It is stated further that due enquiry was made against Shri Dutta giving him all opportunities to defend his case. The allegations made by Shri Dutta regarding enquiry were all false. The charges were proved against Shri Dutta, and the enquiring officer recommended his dismissal. The Manager of the Company gave another opportunity to Shri Dutta to show cause against the proposed dismissal. The representation of Shri Dutta was considered and Shri Dutta was ultimately dismissed. The story about unfair labour practice has been denied.

On the side of the workmen, the dismissed workman and Shri Mukti Pada Banerjee have been examined. The Company has examined only one witness. Besides the oral evidence, the Company has produced several documents which have been ultimately marked exhibits in this case. There is, however, no documentary evidence on the side of the Union.

In the written statement filed by the Company one legal objection was taken regarding the jurisdiction of the Tribunal on the ground that All-Bengal Flour Mills Workers' Union appearing in this case did not represent any of the workmen of the Company and that the workmen of the Company never raised any dispute in respect of the dismissal of Shri Dutta. At the time of argument, however, no argument was advanced before me to suggest that it was not an industrial dispute. P.W. 1, the dismissed workman, has stated that previously he was a member of Pachim Banga Mazdoor Congress of Nabajyoti Babu. The case of the Company is that the Company's workers were represented by West Bengal Flour Mills Mazdoor Congress of Shri Nabajyoti Barman. The witness has stated that many of the members of that Congress joined All-Bengal Flour Mills Workers' Union. From the trend of evidence of P.W. 1, it is clear that an appreciable number of Company's workers are members of All-Bengal Flour Mills Workers' Union, and that the Union is competent to espouse the cause of the workman. I, however, find that the present dispute is an industrial dispute.

I shall now consider the nature of enquiry held against Shri Dutta. P.W. 1 has stated that Shri Tripathi was the enquirying officer and Shri Mukti Pada Banerjee was his recorder. He has stated that he was not offered any opportunity to cross-examine the witnesses examined on behalf of the Company. He has further stated that he wanted to examine Abdul Salim and Anil Das as his witnesses, and they were examined. His further evidence is that the statements made on 16th June 1962 were not correctly recorded by the enquiring officer but he gave his signature on it. He has stated that the statements were not read over to him and on 23rd June 1962, on his request, his statements were explained. At that time he came to learn that his statements were not correctly recorded and that many of the statements were not recorded at all. He has further stated that he was allowed to make fresh statements that very day but when those statements were recorded, they were found incorrect. As a protest he did not give his signature on it. Shri Dutta has stated that as he was feeling unwell, he was permitted to submit his written statememnts afterwards. Accordingly, he sent his statements through registered post. That written statement is Ext. H. The records of the enquiry are Ext. N. P.W. 2, Shri Mukti Pada Banerjee, recorded these proceedings under the direction of the enquiring officer. P.W. 2 has stated that he recorded the proceedings at the instance of the enquiring officer. With regard to Anil Das, the witness examined at the enquiry, the evidence of Shri Banerjee is that the statements recorded by him are not faithful and correct translations of the statements made by Shri Das. He has stated that following the statements of Anil Das, Shri Tripathi, the enquiring officer, gave dictation and he recorded that accordingly. P.W. 2 has further stated that Shri Dutta wanted to cross-examine Anil Das, Phani Bose and Abu Salim but he was not allowed to do so. This witness has been thoroughly tested by cross-examination and his hidden real self has been exposed. He has admitted that he noted under the deposition of Lalit Ghosh that Pradyut Dutta was not willing to ask any question to the witness. He wrote it at the instance of Shri Tripathi. Similar note was made at the end of deposition of Sankar at the instance of Shri Tripatni. The entire records of the proceedings collectively marked Ext. N, are in the hand-writing of Shri Muktipada Banerjee, and this fact is admitted. The first sitting was held on 16th June 1962. Shri Muktipada was examined on that day. Shri Datta gave his signature at the end of his deposition recorded by Shri Banerjee. The Company's witness Sankar Dey was examined but Shri Banerjee recorded that Shri Dutta was not willing to cross-examine him. Similarly Lalit Babu was examined but Shri Dutta refused to ask any question to the witness. After the examination of the witnesses, Shri Dutta made statement on 23rd June 1962. This time Shri Dutta wanted to modify his previous statement. He wanted to say that in the application sent along with E.S.I. certificate, he stated about his mother's illness as a ground for his leave. Shri Dutta further refused to give any further evidence before the enquiring officer and he wanted to send his statement in writing by registered post. Abu Salim, Phani Bose and Anil Das were also examined. Practically speaking, before this Tribunal, P.W. 2 wants to say that the records of the enquiring proceedings do not represent the actual state of affairs. His evidence is that the recording was made wrongly at the direction of the enquiring officer. I put several questions to the witness. He has stated that before his own union was formed, he had occasions to place the grievances of the workmen before the management. In previous occasions also he was called by Shri Tripathi in several enquiries to record the proceedings. At the enquiry against Shri Dutta, P.W. 2 protested when Shri Tripahi was rendering wrong statements of the witness. The witness has stated that he did not refuse to record the wrong and incorrect statements of the witnesses. The witness wanted to say that he was a champion for the workmen and he was fighting for their grievances. It is strange that when he found that wrong recording was being made, he did not raise his little figure but, rather, it was he, who prepared the wrong and false record quite consciously to the prejudice of the workmen. The witness has given an explanation saying that he did not give up the recording because he would be sacked if he refused to record the statements. He has stated further that he recorded the statements in order to save his job and also for the interest of the Company. This witness, I must say, is a dangerous man. He is not only an untruthful and dishonest person but he is a thoroughly unscrupulous person who will not to hesitate to achieve his own purpose by any means, foul and dishonest. I have marked the demeanour of this witness and I believe that he is a dangerous man to rely upon. Similarly, P.W. 1. Shri Dutta has not stated true fact. He has made contradictory statements on important matters, and he has been changing story and story at different stages. I have considered his evidence and I have noticed that he is not consistent in his evidence throughout. He is always evasive, supressive and vague. He has not been corroborated by any reliable or independent evidence. It has not been proved either before the enquiry or before me that, in fact, Shri Dutta sent any letter to the Company along with the E.S.I. certificate. I have no manner of doubt in my mind when I say that the story of sending the letter along with E.S.I. certificate through Lalit Ghose to the Company is an after-thought. However, on consideration of the evidence on record and going through the enquiry proceedings, I find that sufficient and reasonable opportunities were given to Shri Dutta to defend himself by cross-examining the Company's witnesses and by examining his own witness. I cannot hold that the statements of the witnesses have not been correctly recorded. I find no evidence that the enquiry was a mala fide one.

I shall now deal with the charges levelled against Shri Dutta, and in this connection I will see how far they have been proved before the enquiring officer or before me. I am also to see whether the finding of the enquiring officer is perverse on the very face of it. The charge-sheet is Ext. D. This is dated 11th May 1962. There are two charges. The first charge is that Shri Dutta stated in his letter, dated 5th May 1962, that the E.S.I. certificate had been sent through Lalit Ghose and that the said certificate had not been accepted but returned by the Company. This allegation made by Shri Dutta was untrue and the making of such allegation against the management was nothing but a malicious propaganda against the mill amounting to major misconduct. The second charge was that Shri Dutta had been absenting himself without giving the Company any information and that this absence without information was an offence under the provisions of the Standing Orders. The second charge-sheet is Ext. E. This is dated 12th May 1962. The allegation is that the charge-sheet, dated 11th May 1962, was handed over to Shri Dutta on 12th May 1962 by Phani Bhusan Ghose and Dinesh Pandey but Shri Dutta refused to accept it. This refusal was a misconduct. The explanation submitted by Shri Dutta is Ext. F. I have gone through the records of the proceedings including the decision of the enquiring officer. The enquiring officer has found that the allegations made by Shri Dutta in his letter, dated 5th May 1962, were false. I have found that the proceedings of the enquiry have been correctly recorded. I have also considered Ext. H, a statement sent by Shri Dutta, and also Ext. F, the explanation to the charges. Exhibit H is a fraudulent document. Shri Dutta played a trick by sending this written statement without being requested by the enquiring officer. This statement was sent in order to make an attempt to reconciliate his contradictory statements. However, the enquiring officer does not appear to be perverse or unreasonable when he did not believe the story of sending any letter by Shri Dutta through Lalit Ghosh. Shri Ghose was examined at the enquiry. He deposed against Shri Dutta. The delinquent was not willing to put any question. However, it has been rightly found that the story of despatch of such a letter along with a medical certificate through Shri Ghosh was false. The enquiring officer, however, did not come to any finding with regard to the charge that Shri Dutta was absent without information to the Company. The enquiring officer considered the other charge relating to the refusal to accept the charge-sheet, dated 11th May 1962. The enquiring officer found Shri Dutta guilty to the charge. This finding is very reasonable according to the materials gathered at the enquiry. Now the question is whether the recommendation and other findings of the enquiring officer are acceptable. The enquiring officer has stated that the false allegations made by Shri Dutta in his letter, dated 5th May 1962, against the management are acts of subversive of discipline which amounted to a gross misconduct. He has against found that the refusal to accept charge-sheet is also a major misconduct according to the Company's Standing Orders. It has been accordingly held by the enquiring officer that Shri Dutta should be dismissed. The standing orders of the Company will appear in the award of the Industrial Tribunal marked Ext. P. Order No. 14 of the Company's standing orders relates to misdemeanours. Order No. 15 speaks about major misdemeanours. A workman may be dismissed only on account of major misdemeanours. I have gone through the standing orders of the Company and I do not find that either making of false allegation or false propaganda against the management or the refusal to accept the charge-sheet is an offence under the order Nos. 14 and 15. In the charge-sheet it was alleged that Shri Dutta made a false propaganda against the management. In his findings the enquiring officer does not say that any false propaganda was made by Shri Dutta. He has found that Shri Dutta made false allegations that he had sent any letter to the management and that the said letter had been refused by the Company. Mere making false allegations cannot be characterised as making false propaganda. In the present case there is no evidence that Shri Dutta was making any propaganda that his letter had been refused by the management. Ext. B, the letter, dated 5th May 1962, was addressed to the Manager of the Company. It was sent by post. He has stated in this letter that he had sent a letter previously and that that letter had been returned in the afternoon. This allegation was false no doubt, and this statement was made only to make it appear that he was very prompt to inform the management about the illness asking for leave. This does not, however, mean that it was a propaganda against the management. On this point, therefore, the charge about false propaganda has not been proved before the enquiring officer. The enquiring officer has found that this false allegation was an act of subversive of discipline which is a gross misconduct. This statement that the false allegation as made in this case is an act of subversive of discipline cannot be accepted. This cannot be called a gross misconduct according to the rules of the Company. The standing orders of the Company do not support this finding. Any act of subversive of discipline has not been clearly defined by the standing orders. In orders Nos. 14 and 15 there is no mention about any "act of subversive of discipline". The standing orders of the Company do not also say that any workman should be dismissed on the ground of refusal to accept the charge-sheet. It has not been defined that the refusal to accept any charge-sheet will amount to major misconduct. I fail to understand how the enquiring officer found that the making of false allegations against the management and the refusal to accept the charge-sheet would be gross or major misconduct according to the standing orders of the Company or how the enquiring officer could recommend dismissal in these circumstances. The findings and the recommendations of the enquiring officer in this respect were unreasonable, illegal and not in accordance with the standing orders of the Company. It further appears that the Company did not consider this aspect of this matter, and the management unreasonably and without any justification dismissed Shri Dutta from service. The action of the management is, therefore, clearly against the standing orders prescribed for the Company.

Before I come to an end I am to mention a point of law raised from the side of the Union. It has been argued that the order of dismissal being retrospective in effect is invalid in law. From the side of the Company it has been argued that the order of dismissal should be treated as prospective, with effect from the date of order. My attention has been drawn to the decision of Mr. Justice Bachawat, reported in 1957, L.L.J. Vol. I, at page 223. In this case a workman was dismissed, with effect from the date of suspension. It was, in fact, retrospective in effect. On this point Mr. Justice Bachawat held as follows:

> "It is true that the plaintiff could not be dismissed with retrospective effect as from 28th April 1949. The order, dated 21st May 1949, could speak only as from the date of order. The order, however, is a clear notice that the plaintiff is removed from the Corporation's service. The removal could not take effect from 28th April 1949. In my opinion the order, dated 21st May 1949, should be treated as a notice of dismissal as from that date".

Mr. Justice Banerjee in a case reported in 1962, L.L.J., Vol. I, at page 471 has clearly held that it is now settled fact that there should be no dismissal or discharge made with retrospective effect and in that case the order of discharge passed against a workman was set aside. On this point there is a decision of Division Bench of our High Court, reported in 1961; L.L.J., Vol. II, page 283. In this case several decisions has been considered and it has been held that suspension or dismissal or removal from service with retrospective effect has always been condemned by the Court as illegal and invalid. The latest case decided on this point by our High Court has been published in 1964, Indian Factories and Labour Reports, Vol. IX, Part II, page 59. In this case it has been held that dismissal with retrospective effect is illegal but this is subject to the condition that if such a dismissal be made according to the service conditions, it would be within the competence of the employer. In view of the decision of the Division Bench of Calcutta High Court and especially in view of the last decision mentioned above, I hold that the order of dismissal passed against Shri Dutta is illegal. The copy of the order of dismissal is Ext. M. This is dated 23rd July and the order of dismissal was to take effect from 3rd May 1962. The order of dismissal, therefore, is clearly illegal.

In view of my findings above, I hold that Shri Prodyut Kumar Dutta should be reinstated in his former position with continuity of service by the Company and be paid all his back wages for the period of non-employment within a month from the date of publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette".

And whereas the said Fourth Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Sree Satya Narayan Rice & Oil Mills, P.O. Alipurduar, Jalpaiguri, and their workmen represented by Alipurduar Rice and Oil Mills Mazdoor Union, P.O. Alipurduar, Jalpaiguri. (G.O. No. 3220-I.R., dated 9th August 1963.) (VIII-153/63.)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri R. BHATTACHARYA, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act over an industrial dispute between Messrs. Sree Satya Narayan Rice and Oil Mills, P.O. Alipurduar, Jalpaiguri, and their workmen represented by Alipurduar Rice & Oil Mills Mazdoor Union, P.O. Alipurduar, Jalpaiguri, arising out of Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 3220-I.R./IR/11L-327/61, dated the 9th August 1963. The issue is as follows:

Issue

Whether the refusal of employment to Shrimati Pagli, Shrimati Sundari, Shrimati Kesia, Shrimati Kumuda, Shrimati Sarojini, Shrimati Sakli and Shrimati Budhia is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

The parties appeared and submitted their written statements. The case became ripe for hearing. In the mean time there was a talk between the parties for compromise. Today the representatives of btoh the parties have appeared before me and submitted that the dispute has been compromised amicably between the parties. A joint petition of compromise has been filed. I have considered the petition and the submissions of the parties. The settlement is legal, fair and voluntary. A copy of the receipt has been filed. It appears that as per terms of settlement an amount of money has been paid to the Union by the employer. I am satisfied that at present there is no dispute between the parties and as desired by both the sides, I hereby pass a "no dispute" award.

ORDER

No. 4851-I.R./IR/11L-90/62.—9th October 1964. —Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 4559-I.R./IR/11L-90/62, dated the 8th November 1963, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Bengal Waterproof Works (1940) Ltd., P.O. Panihati, 24-Parganas (Head Office at 32 Theatre Road, Calcutta-16), and their workmen represented by Bengal Waterproof Workers' Union, Nilganj Road, P.O. Agarpara, 24-Parganas, regarding the issues mentioned in the said order being matters specified in the second and the third schedules to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the First Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said First Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Bengal Waterproof Works (1940) Ltd., P.O. Panihati, 24-Parganas (Head Office at 32 Theatre Road, Calcutta-16), and their workmen represented by Bengal Waterproof Workers' Union, Nilganj Road, P.O. Agarpara, 24-Parganas. (Case No. VIII-263 of 1963.)

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri RENUPADA MUKHERJEE, Judge, First Industrial Tribunal

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri Nalini Mohon Das Gupta, Advocate, assisted by Shri Dilip Kumar Das Gupta, Advocate.

For the Union: Shri Dwizendra Lal Sen Gupta, Advocate.

By its Labour Department order No. 4559-I.R./IR/11L-90/62, dated Calcutta, the 8th November 1963, the Government of West Bengal referred this industrial dispute for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. One party to the reference is Messrs. Bengal Waterproof Works (1940) Ltd., P.O. Panihati, 24-Parganas (Head Office at 32 Theatre Road, Calcutta-16) (hereinafter to be described as the Company) and the other party are their workmen represented by Bengal Waterproof Workers' Union, Nilganj Road, P.O. Agarpara, 24-Parganas (hereinafter to be described as the Union).

The following four issues have been referred for my adjudication:

(1) Whether the dismissal of Shri Khagendra Lal Choudhury and Shri Santosh Kumar Sarkar is justified? What relief, if any, are they entitled to?

(2) Whether the termination of service of Shri Jogindar Roy and Shri Ram Swarup Tewari is justified? What relief, if any, are they entitled to?

(3) Is the merger of tiffin allowance with dearness allowance justified? To what relief, if any, are the workmen entitled?

(4) Whether the claim of the following employees of Company's canteen for retrenchment compensation is justified? To what relief, if any, are the workers entitled?

(a) Shri Suresh Chandra Dey.

(b) Shri Subal Chandra Kundu.

(c) Shri Dhirendra Nath Nag.

(d) Shri Pabitra Kumar Das.

Written statements were filed in due course by the two parties. Later on I shall deal exaustively with the written statements of the parties. At present I shall only give an indication as to what are the respective cases of the parties with regard to the various issues. As to Issue No. 1 the case of the Union is that Shri Khagendra Lal Choudhury and Santosh Kumar Sarkar have been unjustifibly dismissed by the company because of their participation in a lawful and peaceful strike. They have been victimised by the company for their association with the Union and for their participation in the strike and the grounds on which they have been dismissed are unfounded and unsubstantial.

As regards Issue No. 2 the case of the Union is that Shri Jogindar Roy could not resume his duties in time after the strike on account of illness and the termination of his service is not justified. As regards Ram Swarup Tewari the case of the Union is that he absented himself from duty on account of illness after having submitted an application for leave and the termination of his service is unjustified.

As to Issue No. 3 the contention of the Union is that the tiffin allowance of Rs. 4 should not have been merged in dearness allowance and it should be paid separately to the workers.

Regarding the fourth and last issue the case of the Union is that the four workmen named in that issue have been retrenched by the company without any notice and without any valid reason. Although they were employed in the canteen they were employees of the company and the company is not entitled to retrench them arbitrarily and without any notice.

The company has traversed all the points raised in the written statement of the Union. They have alleged that the dismissal of the employees mentioned in Issue No. 1 and the termination of service of the employees mentioned in Issue No. 2 are justified and the company did not act vindictively or in a mala fide way in dispensing with their service. As regards the termination of service of Shri Jogindar Roy it is stated specifically that this reference is incompetent inasmuch as his case is covered by a tripartite agreement. Regarding Issue No. 3 the company contends that tiffin allowance constitutes only a part of wages and there is no illegality in merging it with dearness allowance.

Regarding the last issue, namely, the retrenchment of four canteen workers case of the company is that they were not employees of the company but of the Canteen Managing Committee and the workmen are not entitled to get any relief as against the company.

DECISION

I shall now take up the issues one by one. The first issue is to the following effect:—

Whether the dismissal of Shri Khagendra Lal Choudhury and Shri Santosh Kumar Sarkar is justified? What relief, if any, are they entitled to?

This issue involves the question of the propriety of dismissal of two workmen, Khangendra Lal Choudhury and Santosh Kumar Sarkar. I shall take up the case of these two workmen one after another.

First I take up the case of Khagendra Lal Choudhury. It is an admitted fact that this workman has been serving the company since 1946. According to his evidence he worked as a turner until his dismissal and he got a total pay of Rs. 136 including dearness allowance. This witness was in Burma in the Indian National Army before he obtained employment in this company. He was brought from Burma by Government and was given appointment by the then Proprietor Shri Surendra Mohon Bose.

According to the case of the company this workman was not dismissed from service but his service was terminated for an act of wilful insubordination which I am going to state presently. It is an admitted fact that inside the factory premises there is a two storied building which is known as Institute Building. The ground floor of that building is still used for purposes of the Institute. It is also an admitted fact that a group of I.N.A. people came and took employment in this company in 1946. For want of any other suitable accommodation they were accommodated on the first floor of the Institute Building which comprised one big hall at that time. According to the evidence of Shri Ramendra Sundar Roy (O.P.W. 2) who is the Works Superintendent in this company the area of the hall would be 75 feet by 25 feet. From evidence I am satisfied that when I.N.A. people were accommodated in this hall there was no partition wall of any sort in the hall. It is an admitted fact that subsequently this hall was divided into four rooms by means of split bamboo partitions and each room was occupied by different workers who sometimes brought their families in the rooms. Khagendra brought his family in one of the rooms in 1956. The case of the company is that he did this surreptitiously without the knowledge of the company. That allegation of the company cannot be believed and I must hold that Khangendra brought his family in one room of the hall with the knowledge of the company. Of late years Khagendra was being asked by the company to vacate this room of the hall. He refused to accede to the demand of the company and this has resulted in his dismissal or termination of service which, in the present case, amount to the same thing in my judgment. A copy of the letter of termination has been marked Ext. 4 in this case. It is dated 30th July 1962. The letter is quoted below:—

" BENGAL WATERPROOF WORKS (1940) LTD.

P/F/304 Calcutta, 30th July 1962.

To

Sri Khagendra Lal Choudhury,

We refer you to our letter No. P/F/258, dated 10th July 1962, to which no reply has been received from you as yet. You are still occupying the quarter which is meant for staff and not for a workman of your category. You have not deliberately shifted to the new quarter allotted to you, consistent with your category, in spite of the various opportunities given to you.

In these circumstances, you cannot be retained in the company's employment and accordingly this notice is given that your service will stand terminated with effect from 1st of September 1962 as per clause 14 of the Company's standing orders. Please note that in case you shift to the new quarter allotted to you within August 1962, this letter of termination will be treated as cancelled.

In this connection, a letter of the Union, dated 17th July 1962, has been received making various allegations which are baseless.

For Bengal Waterproof Works (1940) Ltd.
Sd. ILLEGIBLE,
Works Superintendent."

It is the case of the Union that although in the above letter it has been stated that the letter of termination would be treated as cancelled if Khagendra shifted to the new quarters allotted to him within August 1962, the company really dismissed him from service in a vindictive spirit because Khagendra had participated in a strike which had lasted from 9th April 1962 up to 30th May 1962. It was further alleged on behalf of this workman that the alternative quarters offered to him could not bear comparison with the quarters he was already occupying and the question of Khagendra's shifting to the new quarters was made a mere pretext for the purpose of dismissing him. The strike is admitted. It is also an admitted fact that the strike ended according to a tri-partite settlement, dated 30th May 1962 (vide Ext. A). I shall now examine the question whether the real motive of the company for terminating the services of Khagendra was to victimise him for his participation in the strike.

In the above connection I may first of all refer to a letter of the company, dated 3rd January 1962. By this letter the In-charge of Welfare Department requested Khagendra to vacate the room of the hall which he was occupying and to take his accommodation in a room of the Kuncha shed built for that purpose near the quarters of other workers of the company (Ext. 2). In reply Khagendra wrote a letter on 13th January 1962 requesting the company to allow him to remain in his present quarters because the new quarters which were offered to him had not the same convenience as the hall room. Before Khagendra wrote this letter the company had given him another letter on 12th January 1962 (Ext. C) for vacating the room of the Institute Building. It appears that after Khagendra's letter dated 13th January 1962, the matter rested there for a few months until it was again taken up by the company on 1st June 1962. On that date the Welfare-in-charge Shri G. C. Dutta directed Khagendra to vacate the hall room within 7 days from receipt of this letter and to occupy the new room which had been allotted to him and which was suitable for workmen of his grade [Ext. I(2)]. Khagendra did not comply with the order of the company. So on 10th July 1962 the company wrote another letter to him threatening to take disciplinary action under the Standing Orders of the company if the order was not complied with. This letter was replied to by the Union on behalf of Khagendra on 16th July 1962. (vide Ext. 8). In this letter the propriety of the order of the company was challenged and it was stated that Khagendra was prepared to shift to any "suitable alternative family quarters". This letter was followed by the letter of dismissal, dated 30th July 1962, to which I have already referred. The reply to this letter given by Khagendra was marked Ext. 9. It was stated therein that Khagendra was a family man accustomed to a particular mode of accommodation and he could not leave his quarters so long as accommodation of simialr size was not offered to him. It was also stated that the proposed quarters were very much "inferior in size, without electric light, without sanitary arrangement and without water tap or tube-well". There was some further correspondence between the parties to which I need not refer. Suffice it to say that the company was insisting that Khagendra should shift to some new quarters built for workmen of his category and Khagendra was refusing to carry out the order of the company as the new quarters were inferior to the hall room in every respect. It could not possibly be disputed by the company that the new quarters offered to Khagendra were very much inferior to his present quarters in every respect. The hall room occupied by Khangendra was on the first floor of a two storied building. The new quarters had walls of matted bamboos and pucca plinth. The room was not pucca. There was no electric installation and the surroundings were not as congenial as those of the hall room. The question which becomes pertinent in this case is whether Khagendra was justified in refusing to shift to his new quarters which had these draw backs and disadvantages.

On behalf of the Union Shri Sengupta wanted to submit that the occupation of the hall room of the first floor of the Institute Building for a number of years without any objection by the company had practically become a condition of service of Khagendra and the company was not justified in asking him to remove to new quarters which did not offer the same amenities and convenience as the existing quarters. Shri Sengupta further submitted that in asking Khagendra to vacate the hall room of the Institute Building the company was taking a penal measure against him for his participation in the strike. I shall now examine how far these two contentions are correct.

As regards the first contention, I am definitely of opinion that this should be rejected straightaway. The Union could not make out even the semblance of a case that it was a condition of service of Khagendra that he would be entitled to occupy a room in the Institute hall as long as he would remain in service. From evidence I am satisfied that the entire hall of the first floor of the Institute Building, a part of which is occupied by Khagendra was improvised as temporary quarters for a group of I.N.A. men who had been taken in the service of this Company in 1946. Gradually most of the people left. Khagendra and a few others remained. It is true that in 1956 Khagendra brought his family here and that fact must have been within the knowledge of the company. But it is also true that from the year 1955, the Company was issuing notices to other co-occupants of the hall for vacating the same and shifting to new quarters (vide Ext. 5, dated 12th September 1955). The demand of the company that this hall should be vacated is not, therefore, a new demand. The company is not bound to provide quarters for its workmen, although as a matter of grace, the company has allotted rent-free quarters to a substantial number of workmen. It does not appear that between 1955 and 1961 the company made any serious attempt to remove Khagendra from the hall room. As I have already pointed out the matter was again taken up in January 1962 (vide Ext. 2, dated 3rd January 1962). I have also pointed out that Khagendra persistently refused to vacate this room until another room of equivalent dimension and equal amenities was allotted to him. This claim of Khagendra has no basis either in law or in fact and the mere fact that the company has allowed him to occupy a portion of the hall room for a period of 16 years would not mean that he has acquired a permanent right to occupy the room. Such occupation is not referable to any service condition of Khagendra. In fact he had an exaggerated opinion of his own right when he refused to vacate the room in spite of the demand of the company.

I next consider the second argument of Shri Sengupta that the act of the company in the present case amounts to victimisation or unfair labour practice. Shri Sengupta argued that although the letter of termination is couched in a simple language the act of the company amounts to a dismissal of Khagendra for his participation in the strike to which I have already referred. In this connection Shri Sengupta drew my attention to a well known decision of the Supreme Court reported in 1960, I, L.L.J. page 587 (Assam Oil Company Limited versus its workmen). It has been held by their Lordships of the Supreme Court in that case that the words used in the order of discharge and the form which it may have taken are not conclusive in the matter and the Industrial Tribunal would be entitled to go behind the words and the form and decide whether the discharge is a discharge simpliciter or not. Their Lordships have further held if the bona fides of the exercise of power by the company in a particular case are successfully challenged, then the Industrial Tribunal would be entitled to interfere with the order in question. Shri Sengupta argued that in the present case the order of termination of the service of Khagendra which came in the wake of the settlement of the strike must be held to be mala fide and not in bona fide exercise of the power of the company. This argument of Shri Sengupta does not take note of the fact from 1955 onwards the company had been asking the occupants of the hall to vacate it. Concrete steps were taken against Khagendra from 3rd January 1962. The strike began on 9th April 1962 and it came to an end on 31st May 1962 in pursuance of a tri-partite settlement. Thereafter the matter was taken up by the company on 1st June 1962 [vide Ext. I(2)]. It is true that this letter was given to Khagendra on the day following the day of resumption of work by the strikers. But from this fact alone it cannot be said that the action of the company in the present case was mala fide or vindictive. From the evidence given by the company's Welfare-in-charge Gopal Chandra Dutta (O.P.W. 1) and Shri Ramendra Sundar Roy (O.P.W. 2) I am satisfied that this hall is really required by the company for the purpose of the Institute and the company has been shifting the occupants of the hall gradually to other places. This attempt of the company to recover possession of the hall cannot be said to be mala fide nor it can be said that the act amounts to victimisation. In the Supreme Court decision of National Tobacco Company of India Limited versus Fourth Industrial Tribunal reported in 1960, 2, L.L.J. page 175 it has been laid down that victimisation means one of two things. The first is when the workman concerned is innocent and yet he is punished because he has in some way displeased the employer. The second case of victimisation is where an employee has committed an offence but he is given a punishment quite out of proportion to the gravity of the offence simply because he has incurred the displeasure of the employer. In the instant case there can be no question of victimisation. The company requires the hall for its own purpose. The company is not bound to supply Khagendra with quarters of equivalent amenities and conveniences.

From the preceding findings it would appear that the termination of service of Khagendra is not altogether unjustified. There are, however, certain facts which may be urged in Khagendra's favour. Before the termination of his service he served for 16 years in the company without any blemish. The company allowed him to remain in a portion of the Institute hall for long 16 years. The quarters which were offered to him as a substitute were very much inferior. From the tolerance shown by the company Khagendra came to entertain an exaggerated opinion about his own right in the matter of occupation of quarters. In these circumstances I am inclined to reinstate Khagendra and to set aside his order of dismissal if he vacates the hall room within the time which I shall allow and shifts to some other place offered by the company or to a place of his own. I shall make suitable orders in the concluding portion of the award.

I now come to the case of Shri Santosh Kumar Sarkar. This workman has been removed from the service of the company under circumstances which bear some analogy to the removal of Khagendra.

Santosh served this company for about 17 years. He was a science graduate and got a total pay of Rs. 215 per month when his service was terminated. He was removed from service for refusing to carry out an order of the company just as Khagendra was removed from the service for refusing to carry out another order. I shall presently state what this order was in the case of Santosh.

Santosh is a married man having got three children. Previously he lived in the company's quarters at Panihati. His wife lived in those quarters up to 1954 when she became insane. She was then removed to Calcutta for treatment and since 1954 she has been residing there. Santosh used to work as a Supervisor in the Spreading Department of the company. This department works in two shifts, namely, 'A' shift and 'B' shift. The hours of work in the 'A' shift are from 5-30 a.m. to 10-30 a.m. and again from 1-30 p.m. to 4-30 p.m. The hours of "B" shift are from 10-30 a.m. to 1-30 p.m. and again from 4-30 p.m. to 9-30 p.m. It is not disputed that Supervisors and workers working under their supervision have got to work for one month at a stretch in these two shifts alternatively.

The case of Santosh is that he had to look after his insane wife during the night and when working in the "A" shift it was not possible for him to attend work punctually and he applied for permission to attend his work in that shift a little late and the company permitted him to attend his work in the "A" shift at 6 a.m. instead of 5-30 a.m. in the morning. Admittedly this permission was withdrawn before the discharge or dismissal of Santosh.

That Santosh was allowed to attend the "A" shift at 6 a.m. at least for a few months in 1956 is admitted by the company. On 25th October 1956 Santosh made an application to the Manager of this company for being allowed to come 10 or 15 minutes late every day during "A" shift duty because his wife was suffering from insanity and she had to be kept in Calcutta for treatment and because Santosh was to look after his wife in Calcutta. This application of Santosh was marked Ext. H. It bears an endorsement of Shri R. S. Roy (O.P.W. 2) which is dated 27th October 1956. The endorsement is to the following effect:

"Custodian,

Shri S. Sarkar is allowed to join at 6 a.m. for 1956 only. His late attendance will be excused after 6 a.m. in 1st relay but after 1-30 p.m. in 2nd relay. It will stop automatically after 31st December 1956.

(Sd.) R. S. Roy.

The endorsement would show that Santosh was allowed to join at 6 a.m. although in his application he had asked for a concession of 10 or 15 minutes extra time. This difference is not material because it is the case of both parties that Santosh really required half an hour's extra time for coming from Calcutta for "A" shift duty. The genuineness of his endorsement was challenged by the Union in respect of two portions. The original of this document was also produced by the company. It was alleged on behalf of the Union that the words "for 1956 only" appearing between the first and second lines are a subsequent interpolation and the last sentence stating that it would stop automatically after 31st December 1956 is also a subsequent interpolation. On this point there is the evidence of Santosh Sarkar on the side of the Union and there is the evidence of Shri R. S. Roy on the side of the company. I can only say that these alleged interpolations have a suspicious look about them, but it is difficult to hold positively that they were really interpolated at a subsequent time. In one of his letters to the company Santosh definitely stated that no time limit was originally mentioned but that allegation was not traversed by the company. I may, however, say that the adjudication of this dispute between Santosh and the company does not in any way turn on the question whether the alleged interpolations were subsequently written by R. S. Roy.

It is not denied by the company that permission was given to Santosh on 27th October 1956 for coming half an hour late in the "A" shift nor can it be disputed that since that date Santosh used to attend his duty for the "A" shift at about 6 a.m. every day unil this matter was raised by the company in writing for the first time on 13th June 1962.

The first letter of the company regarding the question of late attendance of Santosh in the "A" shift is dated 13th June 1962 and is marked Ext. H(1). The relevant portion of this letter runs to the following effect:

"On checking your attendance it is found that you are regularly coming late in your "A" shift duty period. It is reported that for your above bad time keeping, the departmental work is suffering at start of "A" shift for want of supervision required at the time.

The undersigned pointed out to you regarding this many times and asked you verbally to rectify, but, finding no effect, referred this to Works Superintendent for taking necessary action.

Yours faithfully,
For BWW (1940) Ltd.
(Sd.) N. C. Gupta,
Prodn. Supdt."

Santosh replied to this letter on 16th June 1962 (vide Ext. 11). He stated therein that a perusal of the last five years' attendance record would show that his attendance was in "A" shift at 6 a.m. and this was obviously with the consent and approval of the Production Superintendent, as Santosh had to attend factory from Calcutta. Santosh requested the company to withdraw its letter, so that he might not be put in an embarrassing position beyond his control.

It appears that on 16th June 1962 the company wrote a letter to Santosh asking him to explain his conduct regarding habitual late attendance. Santosh replied to this letter on 18th June 1962 (vide Ext. 12). In that letter he stated that his attendance position in "A" shift since 1957 would show that he invariably came half an hour late for the morning shift because he had to avail himself of the 5 o'clock train in the morning. Santosh further stated in this letter that he had been allowed to enjoy this privilege for five years because of his unfortunate family circumstances and as it was almost an impossible task for Santosh to attend the morning shift in time from Calcutta the withdrawal of the privilege would amount to victimisation. The next important letter is one issued by the company on 22nd June 1962 which is in the nature of a charge-sheet and the main charge was that Santosh was habitually late in attendance (vide Ext. H). This letter was replied to by Santosh on the very next day, namely, on 23rd June 1962 and he only reiterated his former statement that his late attendance for the "A" shift was not intentional and was due to reason beyond his control. He further prayed that he might be given "B" shift duty exclusively so that his attendance would be regular (vide Ext. H). The company gave a reply to the letter of Santosh on 4th July 1962 (Ext. 5). In this letter it was stated that permission had been given to Santosh for coming late in the "A" shift on temporary basis and unless he reported for duty punctually in future the company would be compelled to take necessary steps for terminating his services. There was an exchange of some letters between the company and the Union over this matter to which no reference need be made. Santosh replied to the letter of the company, dated 4th July 1962, on 3rd August 1962 alleging that the letter had been delivered to him on 19th July 1962. He again stated in this letter that he would not be able to attend "A" shift duty without being late for reasons beyond his control and he requested the company to make arrangement for his transport from Calcutta for timely attendance in "A" shift. This letter was followed by the letter of the company, dated 17th September 1962, which is in the nature of a second charge-sheet and Santosh was asked to explain within two days from the receipt of this letter why his service should not be terminated. Santosh gave his reply on 19th August 1962 in which he asked the company to consider the extenuating circumstances in his favour and also to desist from raising questions which had never been raised in the past. He also requested the company not to address any further letter to him (Ext. H). After this the company issued the letter of dismissal on 30th August 1962 mentioning at the same time that the letter would not be operative if Santosh was agreeable to attend his duty punctually.

The above is a summary of the main correspondence which passed between the company and Santosh before the former terminated the service of the latter. Two things will clearly emerge from the above correspondence. Within a fortnight of the date of the calling off of the strike by a tri-partite agreement the company began to insist on punctual attendance of Santosh for the "A" shift. Santosh expressed his inability to do so and gave out that his attendance for the "A" shift would not be regular by reason of unavoidable circumstances and the company had allowed him permission to attend the "A" shift half an hour late. From the letters of Santosh it would be clear that he was of the view that he had been granted permission for this late attendance without any limitation of time and this had developed into a condition of service and the company was not justified in withdrawing this concession. It was also contended on his behalf that withdrawal of the concession soon after the strike was nothing but victimisation.

I have carefully considered the argument advanced by Shri Sengupta on behalf of this workman and I am unable to say that the action of the Company in withdrawing the abovementioned privilege amounted to victimisation. I am satisfied from evidence that Santosh was attending his "A" shift duties beyond schedule time with the knowledge of the company. No exception was taken to such late attendance because of the special circumstances of Santosh's case. It is also quite likely that but for the strike and but for Santosh's participation in it this question might not have been raised at least for an appreciable time. This does not, in my mind, mean that the Company was bound to allow the late attendance of Santosh for all time to come. At the utmost it was a special favour and nothing more. Santosh's wife had become insane and taking a sympathetic view of his family circumstances Santosh was allowed to come late for the "A" shift. From these facts it should not be held that such late attendance had developed into any right, nor am I prepared to say that the withdrawal of the concession soon after the strike amounted to a mala fide conduct on the part of the Company. In order that such an act should be considered as victimisation there must be an element of punishment in it [vide the case of National Tobacco Company of India Ltd., 1960, 2, L.L.J. page 175 (supra)]. In the present case the Company was not punishing Santosh in any way. It was simply withdrawing a special favour which had been shown to Santosh. It may be that there was an idea in the mind of the management that Santosh was not a fit person to whom this indulgence should be shown in future. If the company withdrew this special favour after the strike, it cannot be urged on behalf of Santosh that he was being victimised. At the utmost it can be said that Company was refusing to show the same sympathy and lenience which it had previously shown. In these circumstances I am of opinion that Santosh was not justified in taking an exaggerated view of his own right and in refusing to obey the lawful order of the Company although that order operated harshly on him.

Although my finding is that the Company was not unjustified in terminating the service of Santosh, I am of opinon that in view of the long and unblemished service and in view of the fact that the Company might have given him work in the general shift I would direct his reinstatement on terms and conditions to be stated presently.

It is clear that Santosh would be able to attend his work punctually if he is given work in the general shift. He cannot be given work exclusively in the "B" shift because that would be inconvenient for the Company and there may also be discontent among other supervisors. From the evidence adduced by both parties it would appear that Santosh was given work in general shift for five months in 1960, but he was not found suitable in that shift. The Works Superintendent Shri R. S. Roy stated in one part of his evidence that as a matter of fact Santosh was given an offer to work in the general shift but he declined. On behalf of Santosh it was stated by Shri Sengupta that no such offer was actually made and Santosh is quite agreeable to work in the general shift. In view of the above statement of Shri R. S. Roy and in view of the fact that this experienced workman should not be thrown out of employment, I hereby give a direction that if within 15 days of the publication of the award in the "Calcutta Gazette" Sontosh expresses his willingness in writing to the Company to work in the general shift he will be given such work by the Company. Considering the circumstances of the case I do not award any wages to this workman for the period of his unemployment.

Issue No. 2: I now take up Issue No. 2 which involves the question of termination of service of Jogindar Roy and Ram Swarup Tewari.

The case of the Company regarding Jogindar Roy is that he was one of the strikers and as he failed to report for duty he forfeited his claim from employment in the company in pursuance of a tri-partite settlement, dated 30th May 1962. A copy of this settlement has been marked Ext. A. Paragraph 5(g) of this tri-partite settlement is relevant for our consideration. It runs as follows:

> "The strike is called off with effect from 31st May 1962. Employees on strike will resume on that day. Ten days will be allowed to these workers who are out of station, but in case any such employee fails to report for duty within ten days, such employee/employees concerned will forfeit his/their claim for employment in the company any further."

Shri Das Gupta contended on behalf of the company that this workman did not report for duty within 10 days from 31st May 1962 in pursuance of the abovementioned term of the tri-partite settlement and so the company declared by a notice, dated 11th June 1962 that this workman along with seven others had forfeited their claim for employment. This notice is marked Ext. E(1). Shri Das Gupta submitted that the case of Jogindar Roy being covered by the tri-partite settlement, the reference is incompetent and the Tribunal has got no jurisdiction to grant any relief to this workman. Jogindar Roy was examined in this Tribunal. He is P.W. 1. His case was that he was lying ill in a hospital in Mozafferpur district at the relevant time and so he was not in a position to report for duty within 10 days of the calling off of the strike. It is true that he sent a medical certificate from his native place, a copy of which has been marked Ext. E in this case. This medical certificate is dated 8th June 1962. It appears to have been received by the company on June 12, 1962. Before the sending of the medical certificate the Union had sent a telegram to Jogindar Roy on June 5 to come immediately. This telegram was marked Ext. 1 before this Tribunal. Jogindar Roy further stated in his evidence that due to his indisposition which consisted of a pain in the chest and swelling of the heel he was detained in hospital for several days and was not in a position to come to Calcutta within the tme specified in the tri-partite agreement. The medical certificate to which I have referred would show that Jogindar Roy was treated as an out door patient and not as an indoor patient. The story of his illness appears to me to be quite suspicious. Even assuming that he was somewhat indisposed the tri-partite agreement mandatorily provided that he should report for duty within 10 days from the date of the calling off of the strike. Shri Sengupta submitted on behalf of this workman that the tri-partite agreement did not contemplate the cases of such workmen as were outside Calcutta and as were physically unable to report for duty within the specified period of 10 days. He submitted that to this extent there was a lacuna in this agreement and this Tribunal should deal with such exceptional cases according to the principles of natural justice. I have given my best consideration to this argument of Shri Sengupta but I am unable to accept it. That the tri-partite settlement did not specifically contemplate the cases of such workmen as would be physically unable to turn up for duty within the specified time is no ground for dealing with those cases in a lenient and sympathetic manner. Assuming that any workman was unable to report for duty within the specified time by reason of illness he should at least have taken care to see that his application for leave reached the Company within the specified time. In this particular case only a medical report was sent to the Company which was received outside the period of 10 days. Jogindar Roy of course stated that he had also sent an application along with the medical certificate. This is denied by the Company. Even assuming that any application was sent along with the medical certificate that would not improve that case of Jogindar Roy because his communication was received by the company after the expiry of 10 days. Then again the story of illness, as I have already observed, appears to be highly suspicious.

Shri Sengupta contended in the last resort that the removal of this workman from service without making any enquiry against him and without giving the workman an opportunity to explain his absence is opposed to some of the provisions of the Standing Orders and so the order of termination in this case should be set aside. I do not think that there is any substance in this contention because the termination was in accordance with the specific provision of the tri-partite settlement which must over ride any contrary provision of the Standing Orders. On a consideration of all these facts and cricumstances I am of opinion that the service of Joginder Roy was terminated according to the provision of the tri-partite settlement which took place after the strike and so the reference is incompetent so far as this workman is concerned.

I now take up the case of workman Ram Swarup Tewari. This workman served in this Company for 15 or 16 years. According to his case he was absent from duty from 25th October 1962 but he filed an application for leave on that date after having been treated by the Company's doctor in the mill dispensary. The Company's case was that this workman was absenting from duty from 24th October 1962 without any information or any leave sanctioned, and so his name was struck off from the attendance register from 3rd November 1962. The Company wrote a letter to this effect to Ramswarup on 5th November 1962 (Ext. 7). The letter is reproduced below:—

"Bengal Waterproof Works (1940) Ltd., Panihati.

Ref.: P/EST/442.

Regd. with A/D.

To

Ramswarup Tewary, Vill. Jasadharnat, P.O. Barkagaon, Dist. Muzaffarpur.

Please note that you were absenting from 24th October 1962 without any information or any leave sanctioned. So, it seems to us that you have left your service on your own accord. As such your name has been struck off from the attendance register from 3rd November 1962.

Yours faithfully,

Sd. ILLEGIBLE,

For Works Superintendent."

The most important question for decision with regard to this workman is whether he was absenting from duty without any information or without filing any application for leave as alleged by the Company and whether the Company should have allowed him an opportunity to explain his absence in terms of the Standing Orders. From the attendance roll I hold that Ramswarup was absenting himself from 24th October 1962 and not 25th October 1962. Ram Swarup's case was that he was suffering from dysentery and he went to the mill doctor for examination on 25th October 1962. This was denied by the Company but the dispensary register of the Company was produced in this Tribunal under my direction and I found from it that this workman got medicine from the mill dispensary on 25th October 1962. His case further was that he submitted an application for leave on that very day and deposited it in a box which is kept in the time office and then came away to Calcutta to a place at 8 Lansdowne Road where he has got some co-villagers to look after him. On behalf of the Company it was denied that this workman had filed any application for leave on 25th October 1962. The Assistant Secretary of the Union Shri Uma Prosad Chakraborty stated on oath that on the day in question Ram Swarup Tewari got a leave application filled up through him and this application was placed in a box at the time office. After comparing the evidence adduced by both parties on this question I accept the version of the Union. Ramswarup obtained medicine from mill doctor. He left his quarters and came away to Calcutta so that he might be looked after by his co-villagers. There is no earthly reason why he should come away without filing any application for leave. The conduct of the Company with regard to this part of the case is quite objectionable. It was even denied that this workman attended the mill dispensary on 25th October 1962. Then again on 5th November 1962 his name was struck off from the attendance register without enquiry and without giving any opportunity to this workman to explain his absence. According to item (m) of paragraph 13 of the Standing Orders absence without leave is a major misdemeanour, vide Ext. U. A worker may be dismissed without notice or compensation in lieu of notice if he is found to be guilty of a major misdemeanour. Paragraph 13 however provides that no order of dismissal shall be made unless the workman concerned is informed in writing of the alleged misconduct and is given an opportunity of explaining the circumstances alleged against him. It is an admitted fact that no such information of the misconduct or any opportunity to explain the circumstances alleged against this workman was given to him. The action of the Company, therefore, runs counter to the provisions of the Standing Orders.

In the above contention Shri Das Gupta cited several cases before me out of which I may only refer to the case of Burn & Co. Ltd. versus their employees reported in 1957, 1, L.L.J., page 226. At page 234 of the report while dealing with the case of one Ashimananda Banerji whose service had been terminated by the Company Their Lordships of the Supreme Court made an observation that where the ground of discharge is the continued absence of the employee and his inability to do work, no useful purpose would be served by drawing up a formal charge if it appears that the employee has got no conceivable answer to the charge. In that case the employee was arrested and was in jail for a certain period. His absence from duty was a patent fact which could not be in any way explained by him. In the present case the employee had taken medicine from the mill dispensary and had left his quarters so that he might be looked after in a proper manner by his co-villagers. I also hold that as a matter of fact he deposited an application for leave in a box of the Company kept in the time office. Under these circumstances the removal of this workman from service is a grossly improper and mala fide act of the Company. This workman will, therefore, be reinstated with full back wages.

Issue No. 3: This issue is a simple one and I do not understand why there was a difference between the management and the workmen regarding this issue. It is an admitted fact that the workmen have been getting a tiffin allowance of Rs. 4 per month for some years past on the basis of an award. Previously this amount was not paid in cash. Instead a coupon of the value of Rs. 4 was supplied to the workmen and in lieu of that coupon they could get food for tiffin for a month of the value of Rs. 4. The coupon system has been discontinued for some time past as there was difference between the parties about the quality of tiffin supplied and a cash amount of Rs. 4 per month is being paid to the workers. This amount has been merged in D.A. and the merger is objected to by the workmen.

Shri Sengupta submitted on behalf of the Union that the merger mentioned above is unjustified. As the amount of Rs. 4 was being paid as tiffin allowance it should be earmarked as tiffin allowance and not merged in dearness allowance because such merger may give rise to future dispute about the quantum of dearness allowance. Shri Das Gupta submitted on behalf of the Company that this tiffin allowance was nothing but a part of the total pay packet of workmen and there is no harm if it is paid along with dearness allowance instead of being paid under a separate head. After hearing both the learned representatives of the parties I am of opinion that Shri Das Gupta's contention cannot be accepted. This amount of Rs. 4 was being paid on account of tiffin allowance and there is no justification for merging it with dearness allowance. I direct that in future this tiffin allowance of Rs. 4 per month must be separately paid to the workmen under the heading of tiffin allowance.

Issue No. 4: I now come to the fourth and last issue of this reference. This issue involves the question of propriety of the retrenchment of the following four canteen workers, namely, (1) Suresh Chandra Dey, (2) Dhirendra Nath Nag, (3) Subal Kundu, and (4) Pabitra Kumar Das. These workers of the canteen were retrenched by a letter, dated 28th September 1962 (vide Ext. B). The letter bears the signature of B. Mallick, who is Secretary of the Canteen Managing Committee. It also bears the signature of K. Mitra, who is the Canteen-in-charge. The case of the Union is that the four retrenched workers were employees of the Company and their retrenchment was effected in contravention of the provisions of section 26(F) of the Industrial Disputes Act. The case of the Company, on the other hand, is that these canteen workers were not employees of the Company and they were employed by the Canteen Managing Committee. As there was no relationship of employer and employees at any time between the Company and these four workers the reference concerning their retrenchment is incompetent. In view of these two conflicting cases of the parties the most important point for my decision is whether the retrenched canteen operatives were employees of the Company or whether they were employees of the Canteen Managing Committee.

The canteen in which these four retrenched workmen were employed was set up according to the provisions of section 46(1) of the Factories Act, 1948, which lays down that a canteen shall be provided and maintained for the use of the workers by the occupier of the factory where more than 250 workers are ordinarily employed. In this factory more than 600 workers are employed. Some papers have been filed by the Company for showing the circumstances under which this canteen was set up. Exhibit N is a copy of the proceedings of a meeting of the Works Committee of this Company held on 3rd, 7th and 22nd August 1951. The resolution passed on demand No. 3 of the workmen would show that the Company agreed to set up and maintain a canteen according to the provisions of the Factories Act and the Canteen Managing Committee would look after the actual running of the canteen. It was further agreed that the Company would provide a clerk and bear his expense and make a lump contribution of Rs. 100 per month to the canteen funds but would not bear any other expense. The Company also agreed to advance the money initially required for starting and running of the canteen but this was to be repaid gradually. Pursuant to this resolution a meeting of the Canteen Managing Committee was held on 19th December 1951 (vide Ext. N1). In this meeting it was decided that appointments of the canteen workers would be decided in the next meeting. The next meeting of the Canteen Managing Committee was held on 27th December 1951 (vide Ext. N2), and three out of four workers concerned in this reference were appointed at that meeting. They are Subal Kundu, Suresh Chandra Dey and Hiralal Nag, who is also known as Dhirendra Nath Nag. Pabitra was appointed later. It thus appears that the canteen workers were employed by the Canteen Managing Committee and not by the Company.

Referring back to Ext. N which embodies the proceedings of the meeting of the Works Committee held on 3rd, 7th and 22nd August 1951 I find that as early as at that time the workmen demanded that the canteen employees must be Company's employees and be paid by the Company. This demand was made under demand No. 3 but it was not acceded to by the Company and the Company agreed only to give such facilities and monetary contribution as I have already mentioned. Turning back to Ext. N(2) I find that the pay, dearness allowance, etc., of the seven canteen workers who were originally appointed by the Canteen Managing Committee were fixed by that Committee. Ext. N(3) which is a copy of the proceedings of another meeting of the Canteen Managing Committee held on 11th September 1952 would show that it was the Canteen Managing Committee which was allowing increment of salary to the canteen workers and was also sanctioning payment of bonus.

Oral evidence has been adduced on behalf of the Union for the purpose of proving that the canteen workers were employees of the Company inasmuch as their wages was paid by the Company and the Company also granted them leave and issued charge-sheets to them when occasion arose. This sort of oral evidence does not carry any weight against the solid documentary evidence filed on behalf of the Company. I have already mentioned some of the proceedings of the Canteen Managing Committee showing that the canteen workers were initially employed by the Canteen Managing Committee and increment of salary and bonus were paid by that Committee. It is true that the Company supplied a whole time clerk and a sweeper for the canteen but some documents filed by the Company would show that the accounts of the canteen were separately kept and leave and attendance registers of the canteen workers were also separately maintained. Ext. Q is a leave account book of several years from 1953. Ext. Q(1) is the attendance register from 1957 to 1958. Ext. P is the cash book from July 1957 to 1959 and Exts. O and O(1) are the balance sheets of the canteen for two years, viz., 1959 and 1960. They show that all the accounts of the canteen are separately kept. Ext. L is a letter of the Union, dated 2nd December 1960. The first demand made in the letter is that the canteen employees should be incorporated as Company's employees. This letter conclusively shows that up to 2nd December 1960 the Company had never treated or accepted the canteen employees as employees of the Company and this position was known to everybody concerned.

In the above connection Shri Sengupta argued on behalf of the Union that as the canteen was set up by the Company and as the Company contributed substantial amount for the up-keep of the canteen and also supplied a clerk and a sweeper it should be held that the Canteen Managing Committee was only an agent of the Company for carrying on the day to day affairs of the canteen. He further drew my attention to an adjudication made in a Cotton Textile award on an issue of canteen facilities. The relevant portion of the adjudication appears at page 2110 of "Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary", dated June 10, 1958. It has been held by that Tribunal that the canteen staff should be treated as employees of the Company and shall be allowed all benefits and privileges of such employees. In my opinion the decision made in that case regarding the position of canteen workers vis-a-vis the Company cannot have any universal application. Whether the canteen workers of a particular factory are employees of the Company or of anybody else would depend upon the facts and circumstances of that particular case. From a case of Calcutta High Court reported in 1964, 1, L.L.J., page 134 (workmen of C.R.O. Canteen versus 4th Industrial Tribunal) it would appear that an industrial dispute was raised between the workmen employed in a canteen and the canteen management. This case is not certainly authority for the proposition that the workmen of a canteen must necessarily be the employees of the canteen management. It only shows that the employer of canteen workers of a canteen may be other than the Company which has set up the canteen. I have already referred to quite a volume of documentary evidence showing that in this particular case it was the Canteen Managing Committee and not the Company who was the employer of the workmen concerned. As a matter of fact the Company did not retrench these workmen. They were retrenched by a resolution passed by the Canteen Managing Committee on 25th September 1962 (vide Ext. N4). This order of retrenchment was communicated to the workmen concerned by the Secretary of the Canteen Managing Committee and the canteen clerk of the Company. On a consideration of all these facts and circumstances I hold that there was no relationship of employer and employees between the Company and the four workmen of the canteen concerned in this reference. The workmen were employed under the Canteen Managing Committee and they have been retrenched by the latter. Although the retrenchment in this case was effected in violation of the provisions of section 26(F) of the Industrial Disputes Act, the workmen concerned will not get any relief as the present reference is incompetent.

The following is a summary of my adjudications on the various issues.

Issue No. 1: I do not consider the dismissal of Shri Khagendra Lal Choudhury and Shri Santosh Kumar Sarkar as wholly unjustified. But having regard to the extenuating circumstances I pass the following order of reinstatement with regard to these two employees.

If Khagendra Lal Choudhury vacates the hall room of the Institute Building within 15 days of the date of publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette" and shifts either to some other quarters offered by the company or to a place of his own he shall be reinstated in his former post on the same terms and conditions of service as before. He will not get any wages for the period of his unemployment but there will be no break in his service and his absence during the period of unemployment shall be counted as leave without pay.

As regards Santosh Kumar Sarkar I give a direction that if within 15 days of the publication of the award in the "Calcutta Gazette" he expresses his willingness in writing to the Company to work in the General Shift, he shall be given such work by the Company in future. In case of his reinstatement he will not get any wages for the period of his unemployment but that period shall be counted as leave without pay. There will be no break in the continuity of his service.

Issue No. 2: The termination of service of Shri Jogindar Roy is justified and this Tribunal has no competency to enter into the question of the validity of that termination.

The termination of the service of Shri Ram Swarup Tewari is a grossly improper and mala fide act of the Company. This workman shall be reinstated in service with full back wages if he reports for duty within 15 days of the publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette".

Issue No. 3: The merger of tiffin allowance with dearness allowance is not justified and from the month following the publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette" the tiffin allowance of Rs. 4 shall be paid separately to such workmen as are entitled to it.

Issue No. 4: Although the four workmen mentioned in this issue have not been lawfully retrenched, these workmen are not entitled to get retrenchment compensation or any other relief from the Company because they were employees of the Canteen Managing Committee and not of this Company.

The above is my adjudication and award in this reference.

The index numbers for Nadia-Murshidabad recorded a rise of 2 points from 108 in March to 110 in April followed by a rise of 3 points to 113 in May and further rise of 1 point to 114 in June.

The rise in April was due to rise in the prices of rice, dal, vegetables, meat, mustard oil, firewood and a few items in the clothing group while the same in May mainly due to rise in the prices of rice, dal, fish and vegetables. The further rise of the index in June was mainly due to an upward movement in the prices of rice, dal, fish, mustard oil, onion, potato, egg and cowdung cakes.

ORDERS

No. 5808-I.R.|IR|11L-128|63.—22nd October 1964.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 1505-I.R.|IR|11L-65|62, dated the 9th April 1963, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Superintendence Company of India (Private) Ltd., 35 Ezra Street, Calcutta-1, and their workmen represented by the Superintendence Company of India Private Ltd. Employees' Union, 3 Joy Krishna Paul Road, Kidderpore, Calcutta-23, regarding the issue mentioned in the said order, being a matter specified in the Second Schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred to the Second Industrial Tribunal for adjudication;

And whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Industrial Tribunal, Shri Paresh Nath Banerjee and seven other workmen of the said Company made a complaint in writing to the said Industrial Tribunal against the said company under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947);

And whereas in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the said Industrial Tribunal has adjudicated upon the said complaint and submitted its award to the State Government;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed by Shri Paresh Nath Banerjee and seven others against the employer Company Messrs. Superintendence Company of India (P) Ltd., 90|1 Moore Avenue, Tollygunge, Calcutta-40. (Case No. 2 under section 33A of 1964.)

AWARD

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed by Shri Paresh Nath Banerjee and seven others of 3 Joy Krishna Pal Road, Calcutta-23 (hereinafter referred to as the workmen), against the employer Company Messrs. Superintendence Company of India (P) Ltd., 90|1 Moore Avenue, Tollygunge, Calcutta-40, arising out of a dispute between this Company and its workmen referred under G.O. No. 1505-I.R., dated 9th April 1963, to this Tribunal for adjudication. The common grievance of the aggrieved workmen is that the Company was liable to pay bonus in October 1963 for the trading year 1961-62, but during the pendency of the abovementioned reference before this Tribunal the Company did not pay this in violation of the conditions of service of the workmen. There is, therefore, a contravention of the provisions of section 33 and under section 33A an adjudication is sought on the said complaint of non-payment of bonus for the year 1961-62 payable in 1963.

On the side of the Company, a case has been made out that the reference that was pending before the Tribunal was in respect of 18 dismissed workmen, and the alteration in the conditions of service complained of in the said petition, is not in regard to any matter connected with the dispute pending before the Tribunal, and as such the Company is entitled to alter the condition of service under section 33(2)(b) of the Act. The matter was heard at length on 28th August 1964 and both the parties addressed arguments to the Tribunal on the point. In the course of argument, Shri Roy, the learned representative for the workmen, submitted that since a reference, dated 13th July 1964, has been subsequently received by this Tribunal where the issue of bonus payable in 1963 is the subject-matter of adjudication, it is needless to proceed with the present application under section 33A. I quite agree with this view expressed on the side of the workmen. Shri Roy also undertakes to file a petition withdrawing the claim in view of the fact that the question of bonus payable in 1963 is the issue pending before the Tribunal under the new reference received in July 1964. On adjudication on this application under section 33A an award is accordingly made.

AWARD

This is a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed by Shri Nabiuddin of 13 Elliot Lane, P.O. Park Street, Calcutta-16, against the employer Company Messrs. Superintendence Company of India (P) Ltd., 90|1 Moore Avenue, Tollygunge, Calcutta-40, for terminating his services on 5th October 1963 without any reason during the pendency of a dispute before this Tribunal referred under G.O. No. 1505-I.R., dated 9th April 1963, for adjudication.

The Company's statement in defence is that Nabiuddin was a probationer and his service was not found satisfactory during the period of his probation, and as such his service was terminated. It is not a case of dismissal by way of punishment so as to attract the provisions of section 33 of the Act.

Decision

Nabiuddin in his evidence admits that he was a probationer. His letter of appointment is Ext. B. It shows that he was appointed on probation for a period of three months and he joined on 26th May 1962. It is true that he served the Company for one and half years and the period of his probation was not extended. He was not either confirmed. Ultimately by the letter, dated 5th October 1963 (Ext. A), his probationery employment was terminated. The position of law is clear. If not confirmed, the period of probation continues, and this will appear from the case reported in F.L.R. 1962(5) page 275. A probationer may either be confirmed or his service may be terminated at any time after the first term of probation, namely, three months. The mere fact that Nabiuddin was allowed to work for one and half years will not entitle him to presume that he was confirmed. In the absence of confirmation, the period of probation continues, and the employer was entitled to terminate his service without assigning any reason whatsoever. The case already quoted will support this proposition. I may also refer to a Supreme Court decision reported in 1964 L.L.J. I page 9. The termination of his service cannot be challenged by Nabiuddin, even if I hold that there had been contravention of the provisions of section 33. Moreover, section 33 is not attracted, in view of the fact that he was not dismissed by way of punishment on the ground of misconduct.

This is my award.

AWARD

This is a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed by Shri Gour Gopal Mukherjee of 3 Joy Krishna Pal Road, Calcutta-23, against the employer Company Messrs. Superintendence Company of India (P) Ltd., 90|1 Moore Avenue, Tollygunge, Calcutta-40, for keeping him suspended for a long time during the pendency of a dispute referred to this Tribunal under G.O. No. 1505-I.R., dated 9th April 1963, for adjudication.

The Company raised various pleas against the complaint including one of jurisdiction of the Tribunal. At the time of hearing on 28th August 1964, the Company filed the resignation letter of Shri Gour Gopal Mukherjee and showed it to the representative for the workman Shri Roy. Gour did not turn up to give evidence in support of his case. In the circumstances, I would uphold the Company's contention that Gour is not interested in the present complaint any longer. The petition of complaint is accordingly decided against the petitioner.

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. National Tobacco Company of India Ltd., P.O. BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri K. P. MUKHERJI, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal

Present for the Company: Shri B. Chaudhuri, Counsel.

Present for the Union: Shri Nandadulal Srimani, Advocate.

This dispute between Messrs. National Tobacco Company of India Ltd. and their workmen was referred to this Tribunal under G.O. No. 985-I.R.|IR| 11L-32|64, dated the 4th March 1964, for adjudication upon the only issue which is as follows:

> Is the declaration of 26th February 1963 (a paid festival holiday) as a substituted holiday for the work done by the workmen on 24th February 1963 (a weekly day of rest) justified? To what relief, if any, are the workmen entitled?

The case of the Union as set forth in its written statement, shortly stated, is as follows:

Messrs. National Tobacco Company of India Ltd. is engaged in manufacturing cigarettes, pipe tobacco, etc., and employs about 1,800 workmen in different departments of its factory at Agarpara, in the district of 24-Parganas. The workmen have been enjoying Sunday as a weekly off day for a long time. The Company by a notice, dated 22nd February 1963, informed the workmen that the factory would remain closed on Tuesday, the 26th February 1963 on account of Id-ul-fitr. Another notice was circulated amongst the workmen on 23rd February 1963 stating that several departments, viz., Tobacco Stores, Blending, Making, Packing, Pipe Tobacco, etc., would remain open and work normal for all the three shifts on Sunday, the 24th February 1963 and the ensuing Id festival holiday, viz., the 26th February would be the substituted holiday. The workmen attended the factory and did normal duties on the 24th February 1963, and they were paid normal wages for working on a Sunday. A substituted holiday was also given by the Company to the workmen on 26th February 1963 which was a paid festival holiday. The Union set up a claim for payment of double wages to the workmen for working on Sunday. It is pleaded by the Union that a paid festival holiday cannot be declared as a substituted holiday, and the workmen are entitled to double their wages for working on Sunday which was a weekly day of rest. The Union has claimed double the normal daily wages for all workmen who worked on 24th February 1963, and has prayed for a declaration of 26th February 1963 (paid festival holiday) as a substituted holiday for the work done by the workmen on 24th February 1963 (weekly day of rest) unjustified.

The Company has appeared and filed a written statement in reply to the written statement filed by the Union. The case of the Company, shortly put, is that the workmen are not entitled to double wages for having worked on 24th February 1963, a Sunday. It is also pleaded that the Company in declaring 26th February 1963 a paid festival holiday (a substituted holiday) to the workmen for having worked on 24th February 1963, a Sunday, has not violated any of the provisions of the Indian Factories Act, 1948, and the workmen are therefore not entitled to any of the reliefs claimed in this case.

Decision

The short point of law involved in this case is whether a declared holiday can be given as a substituted holiday to the workmen for work done by them on a Sunday which is a weekly day of rest. It is an undisputed fact that the workmen worked on 24th February 1963 which was a weekly day of rest, and a substituted holiday was given to them on 26th February 1963 which was a paid festival holiday, on account of Id-ul-fitr. The contention of the Union is that a paid festival holiday cannot be granted as a substituted holiday to the workmen for work done on a weekly day of rest. The contention of the learned counsel on behalf of the Company is that what is provided in section 52 of the Indian Factories Act, 1948, is that if the worker has an existing or an already declared holiday within 3 days immediately preceding or succeeding the Sunday on which he has to work, then it is not essential to give the worker a substitutional holiday on one of the three days before or after the Sunday. There is nothing in section 52 of the Factories Act or in any other section of the Act to indicate that a festival holiday or other declared holiday cannot be given as a substituted holiday. Section 51 of the Factories Act provides that no adult worker shall be required or will be required to work in a factory for more than 48 hours in any week. This section puts a limitation on the working hours of an adult worker in a factory, and section 52, sub-section 1, appears to have been enacted to given protection to the workmen against over work. The workmen in the instant case who worked on 24th February 1963 were given a substituted holiday within three days immediately succeeding the Sunday on which they worked, and there was no violation of the provision to section 51 of the Factories Act. The workmen also did not lose anything as they enjoyed a substituted holiday which happened to be a festival holiday. Had the Company declared a working day as a substituted holiday, the workmen would have been deprived of their wages for that day, and it cannot, therefore, be said that by declaring a paid festival holiday as a substituted holiday the Company intended to cause any loss to the workmen. The action of the Company appears to be bona fide. The question involved in this case was considered in the case of Motor and Machinery Manufacturers Ltd. versus State of West Bengal and others, reported in A.I.R. 1964, Cal. 262. It has been held in that case that the expression "he has or will have a holiday for a whole day on one of the three days immediately before or after the said day" means that if the worker has an existing or an already declared holiday in the calendar within three days immediately preceding or succeeding the Sunday on which he is to work, then it is not essential to give the worker a substitutional holiday on one of the three days before or after the Sunday, but it may be given on any other working day; if however there is no such existing or declared holiday within these three days preceding or succeeding the Sunday then a substitutional holiday must be given within those specified days inasmuch as the object of the enactment is to give some rest or respite to the workmen nearabout the Sunday on which he is called upon to work. In view of this decision it cannot be said that declaration of 26th February 1963 (paid festival holiday) as a substituted holiday for work done by the workmen on 24th February 1963 (weekly day of rest) is unjustified. I accordingly hold that the Company was justified in declaring 26th February 1963 as a substituted holiday for work done by the workmen on 24th February 1963.

The workmen worked on 24th February 1963 and they were paid their normal daily wages for that day. The Union has claimed double the wages for the workmen who worked on 24th February 1963. The claim of the Union, so far as the workmen employed in the factory and governed by the Factories Act are concerned, cannot be accepted. The workmen worked on Sunday which was an unpaid day of rest, and for their work they were paid normal daily wages for one day. There is no reason why they should be paid any extra wages. Had it been a paid off day the workmen could claim some extra wages. The workmen employed in the factory are therefore not entitled to any extra wages for work done on 24th February 1963. The clerks employed in the office of the factory, however, should be paid some extra wages, as they were made to work on a paid holiday. The clerks employed in the office of the factory should be paid half the amount of their daily wages as extra wages for work done by them on 24th February 1963 which was a paid holiday for them. The amount should be paid within one month from the date of publication of the award in the "Calcutta Gazette."

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, by Order No. 1972-I.R./IR/10L-44/62, dated the 16th May 1963, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the abovementioned dispute to this tribunal for its adjudication.

Issue

Whether the dismissal of Shri C. S. Subramaniam is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

The case of the union as set forth in its written statement may shortly be stated as follows:

Shri C. S. Subramaniam had been in the employment of Messrs. Remington Rand of India Limited (hereinafter referred to as the Company) as a clerk in the accounts department for several years without any complaint from any quarter regarding his work. He graduated himself in September 1961 and made representation to the Company for allowing him an allowance of Rs. 15 per month as graduate allowance according to practice prevailing in the Company. He was, however, not allowed the full amount of the allowance presumably for his Trade Union activities. He, however, submitted several representations to the Chief Accountant of the Company for the full amount of the allowance claimed by him for which he incurred displeasure of the Company. On the 3rd September 1962, an office peon was directed to remove the chair and table of Shri Subramaniam to the accounts department where a seat had been allotted to him for his work. He took his seat at the newly allotted place and did his duties on 4th September 1962. Thereafter, on the 5th and 6th September 1962, he occupied the vacant seat of Mr. Neogi who had been absent at the time for convenience of work. The Chief Accountant of the Company took him to task for this and on the 7th of September 1962 a charge-sheet was issued to him under the signature of Shri O. N. Sud, Administrative Officer of the Company, and he was also suspended simultaneously with the issue of the charge-sheet to him. It is alleged that the charge-sheet is palpably baseless, vague and mala fide and the Company also acted illegally in not paying him his pay and other allowances for the period of suspension. Shri Subramaniam submitted a reply to the charge-sheet in which he denied the charges brought against him. Thereafter, on 26th September 1962, a sham enquiry was held by a Board of enquiry consisting of Shri O. N. Sud, Shri O. N. Chaddha and Shri N. N. Kapur. The proceedings of the enquiry are said to be against all principles of natural justice and there was no fair and proper enquiry at all. Shri Subramaniam was dismissed from service with effect from 7th September 1962 by a letter, dated 31st October 1962. The dismissal of the workman is said to be wholly illegal and mala fide and against all principles of natural justice and is actuated by malice. The union has prayed for reinstatement of the workman to his former post and for payment of arrears of pay and allowances during the period of his non-employment.

The Company appeared and filed a written statement stating therein the material facts leading to the dismissal of Shri Subramaniam and these are as follows:

Shri Subramaniam joined the service of the Company as a clerk on a temporary basis in November 1956 and was appointed on probation as a typist-cum-clerk in April 1957. He was confirmed in October 1957. After he graduated, he was given an increment of Rs. 10 per month from 2nd October 1961 and he was again given another special increment of Rs. 10 per month with effect from 21st March 1962. It is denied that any special allowance is given to graduates as alleged by the union. Shri Subramaniam who was an employee in the accounts department of the Company was allotted a seat in the main hall in the office of the Company where the other employees of the accounts department have their seats and the Company's Accountant asked Shri Subramaniam to take his newly allotted seat. He, however, did not allow the bearer to remove his table and chair when he went to do so. Shri Subramaniam refused to occupy his newly allotted seat in the accounts department and he also was rude and discourteous towards his superior officers. It is alleged that Shri Subramaniam avoided occupying the seat allotted to him on flimsy grounds and deliberately and intentionally flouted the orders of his superior officers, and his behaviour towards his superior officers was very much rude and insolent. It is denied that the enquiry held against Shri Subramanium was a sham enquiry held in violation of the principles of natural justice and it is alleged that the enquiry was a fair and proper enquiry and full opportunity was given to the charge-sheeted workman to defend himself at the enquiry. The board of enquiry found the workman guilty of major and serious misconduct and recommended his dismissal by way of punishment in accordance with the standing orders of the Company. It is denied that the enquiry of the board of enquiry is baseless or in any way perverse or the Company in dismissing Shri Subramaniam was actuated by any desire of victimisation or unfair labour practice. The action of the Company in dismissing the workman as a result of a domestic enquiry is said to be bona fide and the workman concerned is not entitled to any of the reliefs claimed by him.

Decision

The undisputed facts bearing on the dismissal of Shri Subramaniam are these:

A charge-sheet was given to him on 7th September 1962 and he submitted a reply to the charge-sheet on 10th September 1962. Thereafter, an enquiry was held against him and as a result of the domestic enquiry and in pursuance of the recommendation of the board of enquiry, he was dismissed from service with effect from 7th September 1962, i.e., the date on which he was suspended simultaneously with the issue of the charge-sheet against him. It is now well settled by a series of decisions of the Hon'ble Supreme Court that where before dismissing an employee on a charge of disconduct, an enquiry is held by the management and the enquiry is fair and proper and leads to the conclusion that the charge framed against the employee is proved, the industrial tribunal should not sit in appeal over the finding recorded at the enquiry and should not interfere with the management's right to dismiss the workman who is found guilty of misconduct. This view is supported by the recent decision of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Kharda Co. Ltd., vs. its workmen reported in 1963 (II) L.L.G. 452. It is clear from the above decision of the Supreme Court in several cases that if the enquiry is fair and proper and the conduct of the management is not mala fide or vindictive, then the Tribunal would not try to examine the merits of the finding as though it was sitting in appeal over the conclusion of the enquiry officer. Admittedly, there was an enquiry held against the workman concerned in this case and he attended and participated in the enquiry. The question is whether the enquiry can be regarded as a fair and proper enquiry. On behalf of the union, the enquiry has been characterised as the pretended enquiry and it is urged that in holding the enquiry there had been violation of principles of natural justice. The enquiry has been challenged on various other grounds also. The Industrial Disputes Act does not prescribe any procedure for the management to follow in a domestic enquiry for investigating misconduct of its employee. In the absence of any statutory provisions relating to the procedure in a domestic enquiry the only obligation of a person conducting the enquiry is that he will have to act according to the rules of natural justice. What are the rules of natural justice have not been completely or absolutely defined. But some principles have been laid down which are widely accepted. Two of these principles are generally applicable to all departmental enquiries, viz., (a) a person must be told clearly and specifically of the offence with which it is intended to charge him and (b) he must not be condemned unheard. Some of the other essentials of the rules of natural justice have been laid down in several cases. It is now to be considered whether the enquiry against the workman in this case is fair and proper and in conformity with broad principles of natural justice as laid down in several decisions. It appears that the enquiry in the present case was held by a Board of enquiry consisting of Shri O. N. Sud, the Administrative Officer of the Company and Shri O. N. Chaddah, Legal Administrative Manager of the Company. The enquiry was held on 26th September 1962, 27th September 1962 and 5th October 1962, respectively with due notice to the charge-sheeted workman and the workman was present on all the dates. The proceedings of the enquiry were recorded in shorthand by the Secretary of Mr. O. N. Chaddah and she also made transcription of the shorthand notes. Shri O. N. Sud has produced and proved the proceedings of the enquiry (Ext. E) and also the findings of the board of enquiry (Ext. F). The evidence of Shri Subramaniam is that Ext. E is not the correct proceedings of the enquiry held against him. The proceedings of enquiry cover 19 closely typed pages and it records the questions put to the witnesses and their answers in the form of questions and answers. It is difficult to believe that it is possible for the workman after a lapse of about two years to say that this is not the correct proceedings of the enquiry. The proceedings of the enquiry bear the signature of the witnesses examined at the enquiry and also the signatures of the members of the board of enquiry. P.W. 2 Shri K. C. V. Challam who was examined as a witness at the enquiry by the charge-sheeted workman has stated that at the time he signed the proceedings of enquiry, he found that his statement was not correctly recorded in some places and he put his initial at such places in the proceedings of the enquiry. On a reference to the proceedings of the enquiry it is seen that this witness found some minor mistake in his recorded statement at one place only in the enquiry proceedings. From this, it cannot be said that the proceedings of the enquiry (Ext. E) are not the correct proceedings held at the enquiry, as none of the witnesses to the enquiry raised any such plea at any time. P.W. 1 Shri Subramaniam was asked by a letter, dated 23rd October 1962, to come and sign the enquiry proceedings but he did not turn up to look to the proceedings of enquiry. He has admitted that he saw the proceedings of the enquiry for the first time on 5th October 1963, but even after that he did not write to the Company that the proceedings of the enquiry as recorded in Ext. E were not correct. O P.W. 2 has admitted that his evidence was correctly recorded. The plea of the workman that Ext. E does not correctly represent the proceedings of the enquiry has got no substance and should be rejected.

It now remains to consider whether reasonable opportunity was given to the charge-sheeted workman to defend himself. By reasonable, I mean reasonable according to the rules of natural justice which are rules of law. The enquiry commenced on 26th September 1962 and some questions were put to the charge-sheeted workman by the President of the board of enquiry and the enquiry was adjourned till next date. On 27th September 1962, the Accountant of the Company Shri V. Krishnan and peon Gobinda Chandra Das were examined as witnesses by the Company. Some questions were put to Shri Krishnan by Shri Chaddah, Chairman and he answered the questions. Thereafter, the charge-sheeted workman was asked to put question to him if he wanted to do so, but he declined. We also declined to cross-examine peon Gobinda Das who was examined as a witness of the Company after Shri Krishnan. The enquiry was then adjourned at the request of the charge-sheeted workman till 10 a.m. on 5th October 1962. The enquiry was resumed on 5th October 1962 and Shri Suri, Accountant-in-charge, Organisations and Methods, was examined as a witness of the Company. Shri Subramaniam declined to cross-examine him, and also Mr. Krishnan, Accountant of the Company, who was called for further examination. Shri A. K. Agarwal and S. S. Kapur were also examined as witnesses on behalf of the Company and the charge-sheeted workman declined to cross-examine them although he was asked to do so. After the evidence adduced by the Company was closed, Shri Challam was examined as a witness by the charge-sheeted workman. Shri T. Gangadharam was then examined as a witness at the request of the charge-sheeted workman. P.W. 2 Shri Challam has been examined as a witness on behalf of the charge-sheeted workman before me. P.W. 1 Shri Subramaniam has denied that Gangadharam was examined as a witness by him. The evidence of O.P.W. 2 Gangadharam is that Shri Chaddah told him that he had been called as a witness on behalf of Shri Subramaniam in his presence. His evidence before me stands unchallenged and his evidence taken along with the proceedings of enquiry go to indicate that Gangadharam was examined as a witness by Shri Subramaniam. I have carefully considered the recorded proceedings of the enquiry (Ext. E). The charge-sheeted workman attended the enquiry on all the dates in which the enquiry was held and he was given full opportunity to cross-examine the witnesses examined on behalf of the Company and also to examine his own witnesses. He declined to cross-examine the Company's witnesses, but examined two witnesses on his behalf. I am satisfied on a careful consideration of the recorded evidence, the proceedings and other evidence on record that a thorough enquiry following the principles of natural justice was held regarding the charge-sheet that was issued against Shri Subramaniam and he had the fullest opportunity and liberty to defend himself and he defended himself by examining his own witnesses. I am, therefore, unable to hold that there was no proper enquiry against him.

The next question that arises for consideration is whether the finding of the board of enquiry (Ext. 7) can be regarded as perverse as contended by the learned Advocate appearing on behalf of the Union. The main charges against the workman concerned are (1) to (5) in the charge-sheet (Ext. A) and the board of enquiry found the charge-sheeted workman guilty on all the charges. No finding was, however, recorded on the charge in item No. 6 of the charge-sheet which is a minor one, and has got no relation with the events mentioned in charges (1) to (4). It is settled law that in dealing with industrial disputes of such kind, the Industrial Tribunal would be justified in characterising the finding recorded in the domestic enquiry as perverse only if it is shown that such a finding is not supported by any evidence, or is entirely opposed to the whole evidence adduced before it. In other words in deciding the question as to whether a particular conclusion of fact was perverse or not, the Industrial Tribunal is not justified in weighing the evidence for itself and determining the question of the perversity of the view arrived at the domestic enquiry in the light of its own finding on the question of fact. There appears to be little doubt that the Board of enquiry carefully considered the materials placed before it by the parties at the enquiry and came to the conclusion that charges 1 to 5 which amount to misconduct on the part of an employee under the certified Standing Orders of the Company have been proved against the charge-sheeted workman. The Board of enquiry it its report has carefully analysed the evidence adduced at the enquiry and has also given reasons for coming to its decision. I, therefore, see no reason to hold that the finding of the Board of enquiry is perverse in any way, or the action of the Company in dismissing the workman pursuant to the recommendation of the Board of enquiry is not bona fide. The order of dismissal of the workman as a result of the domestic enquiry is fully justified.

It now remains to consider whether the order of dismissal is legal and valid. Admittedly, the charge-sheet against the workman was issued on 7th September 1962 and he was also suspended with effect from the same date. The letter of dismissal issued to the workman is dated 31st October 1962. The letter has been marked Ext. G and it shows that the workman was dismissed from service with effect from 7th September 1962. It has been urged on behalf of the union that the dismissal of Shri Subramaniam from service with retrospective effect from 7th September 1962 is illegal and invalid and the order of dismissal cannot be held justified and it is liable to be set aside. In support of this contention, reliance has been placed on the case of Sudhir Ranjan Halder and State of West Bengal and others, reported in F.L.R., 1961, 98. This decision no doubt supports the contention raised on behalf of the Union. The learned Advocate appearing on behalf of the Company has urged that even though an order of dismissal with retrospective effect is held to be illegal and invalid, the tribunal can make the order prospective with effect from the date on which the order of dismissal was actually passed. The contention of the learned lawyer on behalf of the Company, in short, is that the order of dismissal is not liable to be set aside only because of the legal defect that it was made retrospective in operation and the order of dismissal cannot be set aside only on account of this technical legal defect. In support of his contention, he has referred to and relied on a decision reported in 1964 (I), L.L.J., 681. In that case, the employee was suspended on 18th March 1960 and thereafter, he was dismissed from service by a resolution passed on 28th March 1960 by which the order of dismissal was made effective from 18th March 1960, i.e., from the date he was suspended. It was held that if the order of dismissal is validly passed, then there can be no doubt that the dismissal is effective at least from the date of the making of that order. This decision lends support to the contention that if the order of dismissal is otherwise justified, i.e., if dismissal is made on sufficient grounds, then the order of dismissal itself is not liable to be interfered with, because of the legal defect that it was made retrospective in operation. In the present case, the workman concerned was dismissed, as I have already held, after a fair and proper domestic enquiry and the action of the Company in dismissing him is bona fide. The order of dismissal, however, suffers from this infirmity that it was made retrospective in operation which is not permissible under the law. This defect which is more or less a technical legal defect can be cured by making the order of dismissal effective from the date on which it was passed, i.e., 31st October 1962 and giving the workman his full wages with all allowances for the period from 7th September 1962 up to 31st October 1962. I according hold that the dismissal of Shri Subramaniam is justified subject to this condition that it is to take effect from 31st October 1962 and also subject to payment of his wages and allowances from 7th September 1962 to 31st October 1962. The dismissal of Shri Subramaniam is, therefore, held justified and the Company is directed to pay him his full wages for the period from 7th September 1962 up to 31st October 1962 and other allowances, if any, within a month from the date of the publication of the award. This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Hope Tea Co. Ltd. and their workmen employed in the Chalouni Tea Estate, P.O. Matelli, district Jalpaiguri, and represented by the West Bengal Cha Sramik Union, Jalpaiguri. (G.O. No. 136-I.R., dated 17th January 1964.) (Case No. VIII-9/64.)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, CALCUTTA, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri R. BHATTACHARYA, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal

For the Union: Shri S. N. Banerjee, Advocate.
For the Company: Shri P. K. Ghosh, Advocate.

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The parties are Messrs. Hope Tea Co. Ltd. and their workmen employed in the Chalouni Tea Estate, P.O. Matelli, district Jalpaiguri, and represented by the West Bengal Cha Sramik Union, Jalpaiguri. Following are the issues mentioned in the order of reference:

Issues

(1) Whether the dismissal of Sarbasree Khedoo Uraon, Bhowra Uraon and Bandhoo Uraon is justified?

To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

(2) Whether the suspension of Shri Biju Uraon from 7th August 1962 to 13th August 1962 was justified?

To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

In short, the case of West Bengal Cha Sramik Union (hereinafter referred to as the union), is that the workmen of the Chalouni Tea Estate owned by Messrs. Hope Tea Co. Ltd. (hereinafter described as the company) are members of the union. Shri A. M. Bose was the Manager and Shri B. V. Baksi was the Assistant Manager of the said Tea Estate. Another union named National Union of Plantation Workers without any following is always backed by the Manager and the Assistant Manager in order to thurt the activities of the West Bengal Cha Sramik Union. On 13th July 1962 Shri Bakshi, the Assistant Manager, ran over Saona Uraon, a young boy, with his motor car and injured him thereby at about 3-30 p.m. Khedoo Uraon and Biju Uran, uncles of Saona, and other relations of the boy took him to the garden dispensary for treatment. On account of this accident and heartless conduct of Shri Bakshi, there was a general unrest among the workmen of the garden. The workmen approached the Manager for taking action against Shri Bakshi. Shri Bakshi in a defiant attitude and in objectionable language abused the male and female workers who collected there and hurled brick-bats to the workers. As a result some of the workers got injured and the Manager also was hit with a stone thrown by Shri Bakshi. Shri Bakshi was not injured at all. The company issued charge-sheets against Khedoo Uraon, Bhowra Uraon, Badhoo Uraon and Biju Uraon on false allegations on 18th July 1962.. The workers concerned replied to the charge-sheets. The company without following the principles of natural justice, without giving any opportunity to the charge-sheeted persons to defend themselves, recorded a show of enquiry and ultimately dismissed the first three persons and suspended Biju Uraon for seven days. No copies of the enquiry proceedings were supplied to the union for the purpose of representation under section 13(G) of the Standing Orders. It has been alleged from the side of the workmen that the punishments meted out to the charge-sheeted persons were mala fide, illegal and unjustified. The union has claimed reinstatement of Khedoo Uraon, Bhowra Uraon and Badhoo Uraon with all back wages, and the wages for the period of suspension of Biju Uraon have also been claimed.

The company filed written statement in this case denying all material allegations made by the union. The company has stated that Shri Bakshi did not injure the boy Saona. The story of running over by the car is a myth. On 13th July 1962 at about 3-30 p.m. Biju Oraon reported to the Manager, Shri Bose, that Shri Bakshi had run over and killed a child. On further questioning by the Manager, Biju Uraon admitted that the child was not dead but seriously injured. At that time Khedu Oraon also came up and reported to the Manager that a small boy was run over and seriously injured by Shri Bakshi's car. Shri Bakshi at the sight of the crown of the labourers enquired as to what the matter was. He was told by one Sibonarain, a chaprassi, that he had run over a child and killed him. Shri Bakshi denied the allegation and at that time Khedoo Uraon came up to Shri Bakshi and started hitting him using his fists, umbrella and bamboo stick. The crowd joined him and they also started to assault Shri Bakshi. Among those who assaulted Shri Bakshi were Bandhoo Oraon and Bhoura Oraon besides Khedoo Uraon. The Manager, Shri Bose, rushed up to save Shri Bakshi when Bhowra Oraon threw a boulder at him which hit Shri Bose on his left ear causing bleeding injury. The Manager, however, succeeded in clearing the office compound of the crowd. The boy Saona Uraon was called in and it was found that a very minor injury was on his foot and it was not a case of motor accident. The company has asserted in the written statement that a full and fair enquiry was held and every opportunity was given to the charge-sheeted persons to defend themselves, to adduce evidence and to produce witnesses on their side. They were also given opportunity to have their case represented by the union under section 13(g) of the Standing Orders. However, the company has denied the allegation that there was any illegal or mala fide conduct on the company in the matter of dismissal or suspension.

Witnesses have been examined on both the sides and several documents have also been admitted in evidence.

Although in the written statement the company has stated that the order of reference is bad in law and illegal, no such point has been urged before me at the time of argument. There has been no challenge from the side of the company as to the nature of dispute referred to this Tribunal. From the evidence I am satisfied that the union represents an appreciable number of workmen of the company working in the Chalouni Tea Estate and that the union is authorised to espouse their cause. I find that the dispute before me is an industrial dispute and I find nothing to hold that he order of reference is either illegal or bad.

The first attack made from the side of the workmen is that the enquiry held against the charge-sheeted persons was not based on the principles of natural justice and that fair opportunity was not offered to the charge-sheeted persons for their defence. It has been argued that at the enquiry the charge-sheeted persons were examined first and that on account of this peculiar proceeding the delinquents did not get any fair opportunity either to cross-examine the witnesses of the company or to adduce evidence before the enquiring officer. In this connection my attention has been drawn to the decision of the Hon'ble Supreme Court reported in 1963, Indian Factories and Labour Reports, Vol VII, at page 106. According to that decision, at the enquiry the charge-sheeted person should be giwen an opportunity to know the charge prepared against him and the evidence which will be adduced against him. After the evidence is recorded, the charge-sheeted person should know his position. In that case he would be able to cross-examine the employers' witnesses and lead his own evidence to rebut the evidence produced against him. In the present case before me, the charge-sheeted persons were first examined. After the examination of the company's witnesses, the delinquents were not asked to adduce further evidence in their favour. In these circumstances certainly the charge-sheeted persons did not get fair opportunity to defend their own case and to meet the evidence against them. The onus is upon the prosecutor to prove the guilt of the delinquents and unless there is any material adduced by the prosecutor against the delinquents, they cannot adduce any evidence or to disprove the allegations made by the prosecutor. In the present case the onus was placed upon the charge-sheeted persons to prove their innocence and thereafter the company wanted to adduce evidence against the delinquents. This practice is against all principles of natural justice. Moreover, I have gone through the findings of the enquiring officer. From the reading of the report it has become apparent that the enquiring officer Shri Bose came o his finding at the several places on the basis of his own knowledge as a witness of the occurrence. Admittedly, Shri Bose was injuried and he was a very important witness against the delinquents. He is most interesed in the affairs. The person who recorded the proceedings of the enquiry was also an eye-witness. In the present case Shri Bose should not have held the enquiry against the delinquents when he was interested in the matter and especially when he was one of the important witnesses involved in this case. After all, the enquiring officer is an human being. When he is a witness to the occurrence, it was impossible for him to decide the case on the basis of the evidence of the other witnesses forgetting all his personal knowledge about the occurrence. The report of the enquiring officer cannot therefore be accepted. Shri Ghosh, learned Advocate on behalf of the company, has agreed to the principles laid down in the case reported hereinbefore. His argument is that although the charge-sheeted persons were examined first, there was no malice in the mind of the evidence of the other witnesses forgetting all tion of any prejudice. In view of my observations above I firmly hold that the way in which the enquiry was held was certainly prejudicial to the interest of the charge-sheeted persons, and that the principles of natural justice were not followed. Of course, in the present case I cannot say that there was any malice in the mind of Shri Bose, the Manager, when he himself held the enquiry. He was probably in error to hold that he was competent to hold the enquiry as Manager and to come to his own finding on the basis of the evidence to be given by other witnesses . I thus find as indicated above that the enquiry held against the charge-sheeted persons was illegal and not proper.

During the hearing both the parties agreed to lead evidence on the merits of the charges framed against the delinquents. After the evidence of the company, the union was given opportunity to lead evidence on merits. The union, however, adduced evidence on all points including the merits of the case. There was therefore no necessity for the union to adduce further evidence after the evidence of the company was closed. However, the next question is whether there is sufficient material before this Tribunal to prove the charges levelled against the charge-sheeted persons. For the sake of convenience I take up both the issues together for consideration because they are very much connected.

The charge-sheet against Khedoo Uraon is Ext. B. The main allegation against him is that on 13th July 1962 between 3 and 3-30 p.m. an assault was made upon Shri Bakshi and in course of that assault he physically assaulted Shri Bakshi using his hand, umbrella and bamboo stick. The charge-sheet against Bhowra Uraon is Ext. B(1). The allegation in this charge-sheet is that on 13th July 1962 between 3 and 3-30 p.m. he left his work in the factory and in conjunction with others took part in the assault on Shri Bakshi and the Manager in the course of which he physically assaulted Shri Bakshi and threw a boulder at the Manager which hit him on the left ear resulting bleeding injuries. The The charge-sheet against Badhoo Uraon, who is admittedly Bandhoo Uraon, is Ext. B(2). The charge is that on 13th July 1962 between 3 and 3-30 p.m. Bandhoo Uraon left his work in the factory and in conjunction with others took part in an assault upon Shri Bakshi and the Manager in course of which he physically assaulted Shri Bakshi with his hand and with a stone. The charge-sheet against Biju Uraon is Ext. B(3). The allegations made against him by the Manager are reproduced as follows:

> On 13th July 1962 at approximately between 3 and 3-30 p.m. whilst I was making payments to labour at the Ration Godown Verandah, you reported to me that your child has been run over and killed by Mr. Bakishi's car, but on my interogating you, you confirmed that you had not actually seen that this was indeed the fact. You then proceeded to east leave unloading shed and without ascertaining the truth or otherwise of this report, which you had made to me, you spread this rumour amongst the labour present there, shouting and gesticulating in a provocating manner, calculated to incite the workers to violence against Mr. Bakshi.
> This act of yours resulted in a major labour disturbance and within a short while culminated in an assault upon Mr. Bakshi and myself in the course of which both of us received injuries.
> Your child has been found to be suffering from no signs of any serious injury and he in fact walked up to my office within a short time after the assault when I made further enquiries into this matter.

The delinquents submitted explanations. Ext. C is the explanation submitted by Khedoo Uraon. The charge-sheets are dated 18th July 1962 and the explanations submitted by the charge-sheeted persons are dated 21st July 1962. Khedoo Uraon denied the allegations made in the charge-sheets. He denied the allegations that he had assaulted Shri Bakshi and on the other hand, he complained in the explanation that he had been seriously assaulted by Shri Bakshi, the Assistant Manager. Bhowra Uraon's explanation is Ext. C(1). He also denied the story of assault. He stated that Shri Bakshi himself had attempted to throw stone towards him and that the stone hurled by Shri Bakshi had hit the Manager causing bleeding injury. The explanation of Badhoo Uraon alias Bandhoo is Ext. C(2). He also denied the allegation about assault on Shri Bakshi. His case was that at the time of the alleged incident he was inside the factory engaged in his duty. Biju Uraon's explanation is Ext. C(3). His story was that receiving information that a child had been run over by the car of Shri Bakshi, he went home to enquire into the matter. He also denied the allegations that he had been spreading any rumour or that any labour trouble had taken place on account of any such rumour.

The Standing Orders of the company will be found in Ext. N. Order No. 13 in Ext. N relates to disciplinary action for misconduct of the employees. Apparently, the four charge-sheeted persons were dealt with on the basis of ground No. VIII of Order No. 13(c) of Ext. N. This relates to riotous or disorderly behaviour on the Estate prejudical to the good running of the Estate or any act subversion of discipline. There is no distinct misconduct in the Standing Orders relating to spreading of rumour or inciting the workers to violence or any act resulting any labour discontent culminating any assault on any official of the company. I shall now consider how far the charges framed against the delinquents have been proved before me.

P.W. 1 is the Vice-President of the West Bengal Chah Sramik Union. He has stated that the charge-sheeted persons were active workers of his union and that although at first the Company had good feeling towards the union, for the last 3 or 4 years the Company's feeling towards the union is not happy. He has admitted that there is another union known as National Union of Plantation Workers. He has further admitted that the said union is older than the West Bengal Chah Sramik Union. P.W. 2 is Khedoo Uraon. He has stated that he is the Secretary of the Primary Unit of West Bengal Chah Sramik Union. Badhoo Uraon is the member of the Executive Committee of the union. Bhowra Uraon is a member of the union. He has further stated that Biju Uraon collects subscription for the union. Saona Uraon, the boy who was injured, is the son of his deceased brother. According to the witness, on 13th July 1962 at about 3 p.m. he was returning from duty. On his way he heard that Saona had been run over. He saw the boy in front of the hospital of the garden, at a distance of about 50 feet. He lifted the boy from the ground and took him in the hospital and left him there. He found bleeding injury on his leg. The witness, however, did not care to see whether he was examined by the doctor. He went to the office and informed the Bara Babu of the office that the boy had been knocked down by the car of Shri Bakshi. Thereafter Shri Bakshi came there. Khedoo Uraon told Shri Bakshi that it was not good of him to leave the boy uncared for after the accident. Khedoo Uraon's story is that Shri Bakshi abused him filthily and when he protested against the abuses, Shri Bakshi held him by the collar and took up a stone and attempted to assault with it. By this time several people collected there. Shri Bakshi hurled that stone at Khedoo Uraon but it struck the Manager and hurt him. The grievance of P.W. 2 is that he was dismissed because he had been working for the union. During the cross-examination P.W. 2 has stated that many passers-by were on the road where Saona was lying injured. A boy, Larangu by name, was by the side of Saona Uraon. P.W. 2 has admitted that he did not see the actual occurrence or how the injury was inflicted on Saona. Khedoo Uraon did not see if any other person was present at the dispensary when he took Saona there. He left the place leaving the boy there and he does not know when Saona left the dispensary. He has further stated during the cross-examination that when he was caught by Shri Bakshi, Bhowra Uraon and Badhoo Uraon were by his side but he did not see what they did or said at that time. He further admitted that female workers were present at that time. He did not, however, sustain any injury. The witness has denied the allegation that he assaulted Shri Bakshi. At first he asserted that he was never suspended on any other occasion before this dismissal. At the very next moment he said during cross-examination that he did not remember whether he was suspended or charge-sheeted on any earlier occasion. Immediately thereafter he has admitted his signatures on Ext. G and Ext. G/1 saying that he might have given these signatures on receipt of the original of these letters. Ext. G is a letter written by Khedoo Uraon to the Manager. It is dated 16th September 1958. In this letter he admitted that he had received a charge-sheet. P.W. 3 is Saona Uraon. His evidence is that he had been knocked down by Shri Bakshi with his car and that he sustained bleeding injury on his feet. He has said that Khedoo Uraon came and took him to the dispensary. He was examined by the doctor and his injury was bandaged. From his evidence we also get that Khedoo Uraon and Biju Uraon are the brothers of his father. From his evidence we further get that one Narang Uraon alone was with him when he was run over by the car, and that no other person saw the occurrence. According to the evidence of P.W. 3, the wheel of the car passed over his right toe. After the day of occurrence he did not, however, go to the dispensary for treatment. Badhoo Uraon is P.W. 4. He says that he is a member of the Executive Committee of the Primary Union of the West Bengal Chah Sramik Union. On 13th July 1962 his duty hours were from 3 p.m. to 11 p.m. He has stated that during this period he did not come out of the factory compound. He has further denied that he had assaulted either Shri Bakshi or Shri Bose. During cross-examination he has however admitted that during the enquiry held by Shri Bose over the charge-sheet, he stated that he and Rupai had once come out of the factory after 3 p.m. on the date of occurrence. This witness has taken up the plea of alibi. He wants to say that at about 3-30 p.m. when the alleged occurrence took place, he was engaged with work within the factory compound. He has however admitted that at the enquiry he gave out that after 3 p.m. on the day of occurrence he had come out. At the same time Khedoo Uraon has admitted in his evidence that when he was held by Shri Bakshi by his collar, Badho Uraon was by his side. Absence of Badhoo Uraon at the time of occurrence, therefore, cannot be true. P.W. 4 does not remember if about four years ago he was charge-sheeted by the Company. He has stated that he was not served with any warning notice, nor had he been ever suspended. Exhibit M is a copy of the charge-sheet, dated 20th November 1959, served on Badhoo Uraon. Exhibit M/1 is the copy of the suspension order against Badhoo Uraon over the said charge-sheet. Exhibit M/2 is the copy of the warning order served on Badhoo Uraon for another offence. This is dated 20th April 1960. I cannot hold that Ext. M series are fabricated documents. P.W. 4 has clearly suppressed the facts of previous punishment inflicted on him. The evidence of P.W. 4 is unacceptable.

P.W. 5 is Bhowra Uraon. He has stated that he is a member of the union. After his duty hours when he was coming out of the factory at about 3-30 p.m., he found Shri Bakshi holding Khedoo Uraon by his collar. He has stated further that Shri Bakshi threw a stone which he had in his hand and that the stone hurt the Manager. He has denied the allegations that he had assaulted either Shri Bakshi or Shri Bose. He wants to say that the Company made false allegations against him and that the Company knows best why such allegations were made. The evidence shows that at the time of occurrence there were many persons, about 200 in number. P.W. 5 has admitted that Shri Bose sustained bleeding injury on his ear. This witness has further denied that he ever received any charge-sheet before the date of occurrence or any order of suspension. Ext. L is the copy of the charge-sheet served on P.W. 5. This is dated 20th November 1959. Ext. L(1) is a copy of the order of suspension following the charge-sheet, Ext. L. Ext. L(3) is a notice of suspension, dated 16th June 1956, addressed to Bhowra Uraon. Ext. L(2) is a copy of the charge-sheet against Bhowra Uraon. This is dated 16th June 1956. Ext. L(3) is connected with Ext. L(2). P.W. 5, I believe, is not a truthful witness.

The company has examined several witnesses. O.P.W. 1 is the Medical Officer of the Chalouni Tea Estate. It was he who examined on 13th July 1962 the injury of Saona Uraon. He also examined that very day the Manager and the Assistant Manager, Shri Bakshi. This witness found superficial lacerated injury 3/4" x 1/8" on the medial part of right foot of Saona Uraon. The doctor has stated that the said injury could not have been caused by any sharp cutting instrument or by knock of any vehicle. The doctor has stated that Saona Uraon came alone to him on 13th July 1962. He also found two lacerated bleeding injuries on the pinna of the left ear of Shri Bose, Manager. According to the doctor the injuries might have been caused by any blunt weapon or by a throw of a stone. O.P.W. 1 examined Shri Bakshi on the date of occurrence at about 4-15 p.m. and found on his person one abrasion with swelling on the dorsum of the right hand, one abrasion on the upper part of the left arm, one abrasion on the right side of the waist, one swelling with slight bleeding over the head and painful right thumb with swelling. According to doctor the injuries might have been caused by blunt weapon or by stones or by fists and blows or by lathis. O.P.W. 2 is Shri Manindra Mohan Bose, the Manager himself. He has stated that he held the enquiry against the charge-sheeted persons. He received statements of Shri Bakshi, the Assistant Manager, Shri N. N. Sarkar, the Head Clerk and Shri Shibnarayan Srestha, a Chaprasi, in writing, on 13th July 1962. He sent the report about the occurrence to the police. He personally handed over the written information to the Thana on 13th July 1962 at about 8 p.m. The copy of the information has been marked exhibit. He received the injury reports from O.P.W. 1. He has given evidence about the occurrence. He has stated that on 13th July 1962 at about 3-30 p.m. he was engaged in making balance payment when Biju Uraon came to him and in an agitated manner stated that a small boy was run over and killed by Shri Bakshi's car. On further questioning Biju Uraon admitted that the child was not dead, but seriously injured. At that time Khedoo Uraon also came and reported that a child was run over by Shri Bakshi's car. The witness told them to take the child to the dispensary immediately. Three or four minutes after this he heard a commotion and found several labourers running towards the office. The witness also proceeded towards the place of commotion and there he found Shri Bakshi was being beaten by three men—Khedoo Uraon, Bhowra Uraon and Badhoo Uraon. Some of the sub-staff tried to protect Shri Bakshi. The Manager also rushed up to save Shri Bakshi when a small boulder hurled by Bhowra Uraon hit him on the left ear which started bleeding. He ordered all the labourers who collected there, numbering about 100 or 150, to go outside the factory compound. The Chowkidar thereafter closed the factory gate. The medical officer was called in and he examined the Manager and the Assistant Manager, Shri Bakshi. The boy Saona Uraon was sent for and he was brought in. O.P.W. 2 has denied that he was hit by the boulder thrown by Shri Bakshi. He has also stated that Shri Bakshi was not beating anybody. He witness has further denied the suggestion that he dismissed the workmen by way of victimisation or unfair labour practice.

O.P.W. 2 has stated that on account of injury he had sustained, he was indisposed for three days. He, however, attended to urgent works. After the occurrence the witness learnt that the charge-sheeted persons were taken to Jalpaiguri after arrest and there was no certainty of return to their duties. On 17th July 1962 the witness gathered that the charge-sheeted persons had returned and that was why he issued the charge-sheets on 18th July 1962. The witness has further stated during cross-examination that on 13th July 1962 he did not issue the charge-sheet because as a Manager he did not think it wise to add fuel to the fire by issuing charge-sheets when there was labour unrest on account of the occurrence. The witness has denied the suggestion that he has deposed falsely in this case to save Shri Bakshi. O.P.W. 3 is Shri Arjun Raj Malhotra, another Assistant Manager of the Tea Estate. He has also spoken about the incident. From his evidence it is gathered that at about 3-15 p.m. or 3-20 p.m. he was paying out labourers' wages. There was a lot of noise and commotion. Some labourers were collected together unusually. At that time Biju Uraon came to him and shouted that the Chhota Sahib had run over a child with his car and killed him. The witness asked him to be sure that his statements were correct but Biju Uraon repeated his statements that the child was dead. Thereafter the labourers began shouting and the scene became unruly. The witness then proceeded towards the office where the women labourers had collected. At that time he saw Shri Bakshi, the other Assistant lanager, running from the Pahari Leaf Weighment hed to the office. When Shri Malhotra came to he office, he saw Shri Bakshi was being assaulted by or 4 men. Out of them one was recognised as Khedoo Dafadar. He also saw the Manager who was leeding near about his left ear. This witness has lso stated that Dr. Chowdhury examined Shri Bose nd Shri Bakshi and dressed up their wounds.

O.P.W. 4 is Shibnarayan Sestra, a Caprasi. He has lso stated that he found several workers collected nd Shri Bakshi was denying the allegations made y some female workers that he had run over the oy with his car. The witness has stated that when hri Bakshi was denying the allegation, Khedoo Uraon came and pushed him. Shri Bakshi stepped ack and at that time Bhowra Uraon came running nd cought him. Shri Bakshi pushed Bhowra Uraon way but the latter came forward and slapped him n his cheeks. The witness has stated further that ome of the persons shouted and assaulted Shri Bakshi. We also get from this witness that the Manager was coming to the spot and somebody urled stones which hit the Manager. This witness saw Bhowra Uraon and Badhoor Uraon there and he also saw Khedoo Uraon came later on. This witness gave evidence in halting manner, and from his demeanour and the way in which he deposed, I have an impression that he was suppressing some facts. However, this much has been corroborated by other evidence that Bhowra Uraon, Khedoo Uraon and Badhoo Uraon were present at the time of occurrence and that Bhowra Uraon assaulted Shri Bakshi. It is not unlikely that this witness has a mind to help the charge-sheeted persons, at least some of them. O.P.W. 5 is the Head Clerk of the Chalauni Tea Estate. He also saw Shri Bakshi surrounded by a crowd and that some of them were assaulting him. He also saw bleeding injury on the left ear of the Manager. He saw that Badhoo Uraon had stones in each of his hands. O.P.W. 6 is Shri Bakshi, the Assistant Manager. He has described the incident in details. He found a mob and enquired of them what the matter was. He was told that a child had been run over by his car and killed. He protested and said that the allegation was false. At that time Khedoo Uraon came forward and started beating him. Amongst those, he recognised, were Khedoo Uraon, Bhowra Uraon and Badhoo Uraon. This witness also saw Bhowra Uraon throwing stones at the Manager, and the Manager was hit and he sustained bleeding injury. During cross-examination it appears that in the early morning of the day of the incident he found Biu Uraon getting two bulls inside the garden and he warned him not to do it and chastised him. He also reported the matter to the Manager. Whenever he found any cattle, he wanted to send them to the local pound. The witness thinks that these might have been the reasons for which the miscreants bore some grudge against him.

From the evidence on record it has not been proved that the boy Saona Uraon had been knocked down by Shri Bakshi's car. The story has not been supported by any reliable evidence. The evidence shows that another boy named Narang Uraon saw the occurrence. He has not been examined before me. The nature of injury sustained by Saona Uraon shows that he could not have been run over by any motor vehicle. The evidence of Saona Uraon, a child, is not convincing. It is neither supported by any realiable witness nor corroborated by acceptable evidence. I have also considered the evidence adduced on the side of the union and on behalf of the Company as well. The witnesses on the side of the union are interested. There is no independent and reliable witness on the side of the union. From the evidence it has been proved that Khedoo Uraon, Bhowra Uraon and Badhoo Uraon were all present and that they assaulted Shri Bakshi. It is to be noted that O.P.W. 2, the Manager, saw Khedoo Uraon, Bandu Uraon and Bhowra Uraon assaulting Shri Bakshi. He has also stated that he sustained a bleeding injury on his left ear when Bhowra Uraon threw a small boulder at him. I must say that this Manager is a very straight-forward and reliable witness. O.P.W. 3, one of the Assistant Managers, is also a truthful witness. He has clearly stated that he recognised Khedoo Uraon out of those who assaulted Shri Bakshi. He has not named all the three persons. O.P.W. 4 has at least corroborated the fact that Bhowra Uraon assaulted Shri Bakshi. O.P.W. 5 saw Badhoo Uraon with some stones in his hand. Last of all, O.P.W. 6, Shri Bakshi, has stated that Khedoo Uraon started beating him and others also joined in the assault. He also saw Bhowra Uraon and Bandhoo Uraon amongst the miscreants. Bhowra Uraon was also found throwing stones at the Manager. I accept the evidence of the witnesses examined on the side of the Company and I hold that Khedoo Uraon and others examined on behalf of the union are unreliable. I cannot accept their evidence. I have no manner of doubt in my mind that several workers collected at the rumour that Saona Uraon had been run over by Shri Bakshi's car and killed and that when Shri Bakshi confronted them and denied the allegation that he was responsible for Saona Uraon's injury, Khedoo Uraon, Bhowra Uraon and Badhoo Uraon combined themselves, attacked Shri Bakshi and assaulted him causing injuries on his body. It has also been proved that Bhowra Uraon hurled a stone at the Manager who was coming to the rescue of Shri Bakshi and caused bleeding injury on his ear. These assaults were made without any justification or provocation. The actions of Khedoo Uraon, Bhowra Uraon and Badhoo Uraon alias Bandhoo Uraon, certainly amounted to misconduct according to the Standing Orders of the Company. They were riotous and disorderly behaviours on the Estate prejudicial to the good running of the Estate and acts subversive of discipline. It has been argued from the side of the union that the allegations were false, otherwise, there would not have been any delay in issuing charge-sheets. The Manager has explained why there was delay in issuing charge-sheets. From his evidence we get that he thought it wise not to issue charge-sheets on the very day of occurrence because there was labour unrest. The evidence shows that after the return of the charge-sheeted persons obtaining bail orders of the Court, they were served with charge-sheets. That the allegations made in the charge-sheets are not false would be evident from the report of the Manager given to the Thana on the very day of the occurrence. That report is Ext. K. In this report he has mentioned the names of Khedoo Uraon, Bhowra Uraon and Badhoo Uraon as miscreants. It cannot therefore be argued that the story of assault by these three persons was set up on or about 18th July 1962. However, I find that the charges levelled against Khedoo Uraon, Bhowra Uraon and Badhoo Uraon have been well proved before me, and that they have been rightly dismissed from service on the ground of gross misconduct.

With regard to the charge framed against Biju Uraon, I must say that it has not been proved. It may be that Biju Uraon, an uncle of Saona Uraon, was very much agitated on the news that he had been run over by a car and that as he had the impression that the boy might have been seriously injured on account of the knocking, it was not unreasonable for him, a labourer, to exaggerate news by saying that he had been killed. It was not unnatural for an uncle of a fatherless child. There is no evidence that Biju Uraon spread this rumour amongst the labouring class of the Estate. There is no evidence that he shouted gesticulating in a provocative manner or inciting others to violence against Shri Bakshi. I do not find any evidence whatsoever that the act of Biju Uraon resulted in any labour disturbance culminating in any assault on Shri Bakshi and the Manager, for the assaults on the Manager and the Assistant Manager were made by Khedoo Uraon, Bhowra Uraon and Badhoo Uraon. Biju Uraon was not responsible for that. I do not therefore find that any offence under the Standing Orders of the Company was committed by Biju Uraon. I hold that the order of suspension passed on Biju Uraon on the basis of the charge-sheet, dated 18th July 1962, was illegal and unjustified. The order of suspension passed on Biju Uraon is, therefore set-a-side and he shall be entitled to his usual remuneration and amenities during the period of suspension.

In the result, the workmen in this case shall get no relief in respect of Issue No. 1 regarding the dismissals of Sarbasree Khedo Uraon, Bhowra Uraon and Bandhoo Uraon as they are bona fide and justified. The issue No. 2, however, is answered in favour of the workmen as indicated above. Shri Biju Uraon will get his usual remunerations and amenities during the period of suspension as the suspension order has been held to be unjustified and illegal.

AWARD

By order No. 187-I.R./IR/14L-19/63, dated the 22nd January 1964, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between The Commissioners of Garulia municipality, P.O. Garulia, district 24-Parganas and their workmen represented by West Bengal Municipal Employees' Federation, C/o. Shri Ardendu Bose, Assistant Secretary of the Federation, Howrah Municipal Office, Howrah, regarding the matter specified in the schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by notification No. 808-I.R./IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issue

1. Whether Shri Samar Kumar Sen is entitled to his wages for the period from 16th April 1959 to 1st February 1960?

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act made by the Government of West Bengal for adjudication of an industrial dispute existing between The Commissioners of Garulia municipality, P.O. Garulia, district 24-Parganas (hereinafter be referred to as the Municipality) and their workmen represented by West Bengal Municipal Employees' Federation, C/o. Shri Ardendu Bose, Assistant Secretary of the Federation, Howrah Municipal Office, Howrah (hereinafter be referred to as the union).

Immediately after receipt of the reference, both parties were served with notices. They entered appearances and filed written statements of their respective cases.

The union's case in short is that Shri Samar Kumar Sen was employed as a clerk-cum-typist in the office of the Garulia municipality from 16th November 1956. Subsequently with effect from 1st of July 1957 he was confirmed in the permanent cadre of the Second Clerk and typist. Shri Sen became a member of the West Bengal Municipal Employees' Federation and was elected a member of the executive committee of the Garulia Unit of the Federation. The then Chairman of the municipality placed him under suspension with effect from 30th March 1959 on the alleged ground of misconduct and without holding any proper enquiry into the alleged charges, the Chairman of the municipality most arbitrarily dismissed him from service. Thereafter on behalf of Shri Sen a lawyer's notice was served upon the Municipal Commissioners challenging the legality and validity of the order of dismissal. The Municipal Commissioners by Resolution No. 14 dated 27th January 1960 rejected the Chairman's order of dismissal on a consideration that the same was illegal and motivated. Shri Sen was then reinstated from 2nd February 1960. After cancellation of the order of dismissal Shri Sen was paid full wages for the period from 1st March 1959 up to 15th April 1959 but there was no payment of wages for the remaining period, i.e., from 16th April 1959 to 1st of April 1960. Hence the dispute.

The case of the Municipal Commissioners in the written statement is that Shri Sen was dismissed for misconduct by the then Chairman of the municipality but that order of dismissal was subsequently cancelled by a resolution of the Municipal Commissioners, dated 27th January 1960 and Shri Sen was reinstated but he was not entitled to the wages for the period claimed or for any period from the Municipality.

Many other formal objections were raised but not actually pressed at the hearing.

Decision

One witness was examined on each side. Union has examined the concerned workman Shri Samar Kumar Sen and the municipality has examined its present Chairman Shri Kamala Kar Singh. Some documents have also been exhibited. Admittedly Shri Samar Kumar Sen was a permanent clerk-cum-typist of the Garulia municipality. There is no dispute that he was confirmed as a Second Clerk and Typist with effect from 1st July 1957 by Resolution No. 14 of the meeting of the Commissioners of Garulia municipality held on 17th June 1957. Copy of this resolution has been made Annexure A to the written statement of the Municipality. It is also common case that Shri Samar Kumar Sen was placed under suspension from 30th March 1959 for some alleged misconduct by then Chairman Shri Mohit Kumar Chatterji. A copy of the order of suspension has been made Annexure A/1 to the written statement filed by the municipality. He was subsequently dismissed by the then Chairman of the municipality in July 1959. Shri Sen took exception to the order of dismissal and he caused a pleader's notice to be served upon the Commissioners of the Garulia municipality challenging the bona fide and validity of the order of dismissal passed against him. Thereafter in January 1960 the Municipal Commissioners by Resolution No. 14, dated 27th of January 1960 cancelled and set aside that order of dismissal passed against Shri Sen. Copy of that resolution has been produced by the union and is marked Ext. 2 and another copy produced by the municipality is marked Ext. A. The said action taken by the then Chairman of the municipality was described in that Resolution as "illegal and motivated." However, this much is clear that the order of dismissal was set aside and Shri Sen was restored to his original position and he was actually allowed to resume his duties on the 2nd February 1960. This will appear from Annexure E to the municipality's written statement. Therefore the workman actually remained under suspension from 30th March 1959 up to 1st of February 1960. The order of dismissal passed against Shri Sen by the previous Chairman, having been found by the Municipal Commissioners quite illegal and motivated, and he having been allowed to resume his duties, it may be presumed that he was acquitted of the charge, if any, against him. It is admitted by the present Chairman of the municipality that this Resolution No. 14, dated 17th January 1960 is a valid one and remains unchallenged and it has not been cancelled by any other resolution of the Municipal Commissioners. Therefore, Shri Sen being found not-guilty of any charge, there is no earthly reason why he should not be entitled to his wages, etc., for the period of suspension. By the aforesaid resolution the Municipal Commissioners wanted to treat some portion of the period of suspension as leave without pay, but no reason was assigned for this and as a matter of fact, Shri Sen was already paid wages for the period from 30th March 1959 up to 15th April 1959, which fact is not denied by the Chairman of the municipality who deposed for the municipality. The workman claims wages inclusive of D.A. at the rate of Rs. 115 per month for the period from 16th April 1959 to 30th June 1959 and at the rate of Rs. 120 per month for the remaining period, i.e., from 1st July 1959 to 1st of February 1960 as he was entitled to his annual increment of Rs. 5 with effect from 1st July 1959. He has further claimed house rent at the rate of Rs. 10 and extra D.A. at the rate of Rs. 5 per month. He has filed a chart Ext. 1 in respect of his claim for wages, D.A., and house rent allowance. The correctness of the amount has not been questioned by the municipality. D.W. 2 Shri Kamalakar Singh the present Chairman of the municipality has not denied the claim of Shri Sen in his evidence before this tribunal. Therefore, I have no hesitation to hold that Shri Samar Kumar Sen is entitled to Rs. 1,273.95 nP. as his wages inclusive of D.A. and House Rent Allowance, etc., for the period from 16th April 1959 to 1st February 1960. The municipality is directed to pay the said amount to Shri Samar Kumar Sen within two months of the publication of this award in the Calcutta Gazette.

Both parties appeared before the Tribunal and filed their respective written statements. When the case became ready for hearing after necessary preliminary proceedings, it was reported by the parties that a talk of settlement was going on. Accordingly, the case was directed to be put up on 30th September 1964 for orders awaiting an amicable settlement between the parties. On 30th September 1964, the parties filed a joint petition of compromise setting out therein the terms upon which the whole dispute had been amicably settled and praying for a compromise award in terms of the joint petition.

I have heard the Company's representative, Shri K. K. Moitra, and the General Secretary of the Union. I have also considered the terms of settlement. The terms appeared to be quite fair and lawful. I am satisfied that there has been a bona fide settlement of the dispute in terms of the joint petition. Accordingly, I would make a compromise award as prayed for.

In the result, I make a compromise award in terms of the joint petition of the parties, a copy whereof is made a part of the award as an Annexure.

Their workmen represented by Calcutta City Eating and Refreshment Establishment Workers' Union, 249 Bepin Behari Ganguli Street, Calcutta. (Vide G.O. No. 2558-IR/11L/101/62, dated 19th June 1962.)

The humble joint petition of compromise of the Employer and the Union abovenamed.

1. That the above case is compromised between the parties on the following terms and conditions:

(i) That none of the persons mentioned in the order of reference being serial Nos. 1 to 23 will get reinstatement or re-employment in the Hotel of the Employer.

(ii) That the Employer will pay a lump sum amount of Rs. 1,500 (Rupees one thousand and five hundred only) to the Union in full and final settlement of all claims of the persons mentioned in the order of reference being serial Nos. 1 to 23. The General Secretary of the Union will grant a clear discharge receipt for the money to be paid to him. This amount includes the cost of the Union.

(iii) That the amount received by the Union will be distributed by the General Secretary to the twenty-three persons mentioned in the above order of reference; for which the said General Secretary will be solely responsible.

(iv) That the persons mentioned in the order of reference numbering twenty-three will not have any further claim from the employer in any shape or form.

(v) That the dispute is thus settled between the parties once for all.

Your petitioner therefore, most humbly pray that Your Honour would be graciously pleased to accept the above terms of compromise as just and fair; and pass an award in terms thereof making this compromise petition as an annexure to the same.

And your petitioners, as in duty bound, shall ever pray.

Award

This proceeding arises out of an application under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, by Shri Aklu Rajbhor, a workman of the Company O. P. Messrs. Victory Industries Pvt. Ltd., complaining of his alleged illegal and wrongful discharge from service during the pendency of the adjudication proceedings of another dispute between the Company and its workmen, referred to this Tribunal by Government Order No. 3537-I.R., dated the 6th August 1962.

The Company O.P. appeared and filed its written statement. After preliminary proceedings, the case was fixed for hearing on 16th September 1964. On that date, the Company's representative was present, but there was no appearance by or on behalf of the applicant workman and no step was taken on his behalf. In these circumstances, the Tribunal suo moto adjourned the case to 29th September 1964 in order to give the workman another chance to appear and pursue his application. On 29th September 1964, both parties were again absent without taking any step. From the aforesaid conduct of the parties, it is clear that the dispute is not being pursued and it has been given up and has ceased to exist. Accordingly, the case is to be disposed of by a "no dispute" award.

In the result, I make a "no dispute" award in the case.

No. 6001-I.R./IR/10L-149(A)/64.—27th October 1964.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 3537-I.R./IR/10L-97/62. dated the 6th August 1962, hereinafter referred to as the said order, the industrial dispute between the employers of the Engineering Establishments mentioned in the list I of the said order and represented by themselves or by the organisations mentioned in the list II of the said order on the one hand, and their workmen represented by the Trade Unions mentioned in list III of the said order, on the other, regarding the issues mentioned in the said order, being matters specified in the Third Schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred to the Seventh Industrial Tribunal for adjudication;

And whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Industrial Tribunal, Shri Ram Nath Jadav, a workman of Messrs. Victory Industries (P) Ltd., 77A Banaras Road, Howrah, one of the companies involved in the said disputes, made a complaint in writing to the said Industrial Tribunal against the said Company alleging that the said Company had discharged the said workman concerned in such dispute;

And whereas in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the said Industrial Tribunal has adjudicated upon the said complaint and submitted its award to the State Government;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

BEFORE THE SEVENTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri S. K. RAY, Judge, Seventh Industrial Tribunal.

AWARD

This proceeding arises out of an application under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, by Shri Ram Nath Jadav, a workman of the Company O.P. Messrs. Victory Industries Pvt. Ltd., complaining of his alleged illegal and wrongful discharge from service during the pendency of the adjudication proceedings of another dispute between the Company and its workmen, referred to this Tribunal by Government Order No. 3537-I.R., dated the 6th August 1962.

The Company O.P. appeared and filed its written statement. After preliminary proceedings, the case was fixed for hearing on 16th September 1964. On that date, the Company's representative was present, but there was no appearance by or on behalf of the applicant workman and no step was taken on his behalf. In these circumstances, the Tribunal suo moto adjourned the case to 29th September 1964 in order to give the workman another chance to appear and pursue his application. On 29th September 1964, both parties were again absent without taking any step. From the aforesaid conduct of the parties, it is clear that the dispute is not being pursued and it has been given up and has ceased to exist. Accordingly, the case is to be disposed of by a "no dispute" award.

In the rsult, I make a "no dispute" award in the case.

By order of the Governor,
S. C. MUKHERJEE, Asst. Secy.

No. 6002-I.R./IR/10L-149(A)/64.—27th October 1964.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 3537-I.R./IR/10L-97/62, dated the 6th August 1962, (hereinafter referred to as the said order), the industrial dispute between the employers of the Engineering Establishments mentioned in the list I of the said order and represented by themselves or by the organisations mentioned in list II of the said order on the one hand, and their workmen represented by the trade unions, mentioned in the list III of the said order, on the other, regarding the issues mentioned in the said order, being matters specified in the Third Schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred to the Seventh Industrial Tribunal for adjudication;

And whereas, during the pendency of proceedings before the said Industrial Tribunal Shri Ramjore Kahar, a workman of Messrs. S. N. Sen & Co., 18/1 Shib Narain Das Lane, Calcutta-6, one of the companies involved in the said disputes, made a complaint in writing to the said Industrial Tribunal against the said Company alleging that the said Company had terminated the service of the said workman concerned in such dispute;

And whereas in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the said Industrial Tribunal has adjudicated upon the said complaint and submitted its award to the State Government;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the mater of a complaint under sction 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, by Shri Ramajore Kahar, c/o General Trading & Engineering Workers' Union, 26/8 Dum Dum Road, Calcutta-2, against Messrs. S. N. Sen & Co. of 18/1 Shib Narain Das Lane, Calcutta-6. (Case No. 17 of 1964 under section 33A.)

Shri S. K. RAY, Judge, Seventh Industrial Tribunal

AWARD

This proceeding arises out of an application under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, by Shri Ramjore Kahar, a workman of Messrs. S. N. Sen & Co. the O. P., complaining of his alleged illegal and wrongful termination of service by not allowing him to join his duties on 22nd November 1962, after return from leave. The application was made because at the time of his alleged termination of service, the adjudication proceedings of another dispute between the Company and its workmen, referred to this Tribunal by Government Order No. 3537-I.R./IR/10L-97/62, dated the 6th August 1962, were pending.

The Company O.P. appeared and filed its written statement. Since then, both parties ceased to appear before the Tribunal. The case was finally fixed for hearing on 26th September 1964. On that date too, both parties were absent and no step was taken. The Tribunal suo moto adjourned the case to 29th September 1964 for orders. On 29th September 1964, the parties filed a joint petition of compromise setting out the terms upon which the dispute between them had been settled and praying for a compromise award accordingly.

I have considered the terms of compromise. These appear to be fair and lawful. I am satisfied that there has been a bona fide settlement of the dispute between the parties on these terms. Accordingly, I would dispose of the application under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, by a compromise award in terms of the joint petition of the parties.

In the result, I make a compromise award in terms of the joint petition of the parties, a copy whereof is made a part of the award as an Annexure.

For the Union: Shri N. Das, Advocate.

For the Company: Shri A. Sarkar, Advocate.

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act over an industrial dispute between Messrs. Hindusthan Metal Works, 48 Dum Dum Road, Calcutta-30, and their workmen represented by Hindusthan Metal Workers Union, 9 Jawpore Road, Calcutta-30. The issue has been framed as follows:

Issue

Whether the termination of services of the following workmen is justified? What relief, if any, are they entitled to?

(i) Shri Mangal Thakur, (ii) Shri Budhan Ram, (iii) Shri Jiten Bhagat, (iv) Shri Ranlagan Prasad, (v) Shri Laksman Prasad.

The parties filed a compromise petition when the case is taken up for hearing today. I have heard Shri Das for the Union and Shri Sarkar for the Company. It appears that the compromise petition is voluntary, reasonable and legal and, as prayed for by the parties, I pass an award in terms of the compromise petition which shall form part hereof as Annexure "A".

AWARD

By Order No. 4693-I.R.|IR|11L-434|63, dated the 21st November 1963, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Shah Optical Company, 4A Sonatan Sil Lane, Calcutta-12, and their workmen represented by Optical Workers' Association, 19|2A Pitambar Ghatak Lane, Calcutta-27, regarding the matter specified in the schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by Notification No. 808-I.R.|IR|3A-2|57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issue

Whether the dismissal of Shri Netai Sarkar is justified? What relief, if any, is he entitled to?

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act made by the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, for adjudication of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Shah Optical Company, 4A Sonatan Sil Lane, Calcutta-12 (hereinafter be referred to as the company) and their workmen represented by Optical Workers' Association, 19|2A Pitambar Ghatak Lane, Calcutta-27 (hereinafter be referred to as the Union).

Immediately after receipt of the reference notices were served upon both the parties who entered appearances and filed written statements of their cases. After completion of the intermediate steps the case was ready for hearing and actually heard. Both parties adduced evidence—oral and documentary.

But before arguments of the parties were heard the dispute in question was settled amicably to the satisfaction of both parties. The dispute under reference relates to dismissal of a workman Shri Netai Sarkar. That dispute has been peacefully settled although after some progress in the hearing of the case. However, all well that ends well. Both parties have filed a joint petition of compromise before this Tribunal on 8th October 1964. I have perused the document. It has been agreed that the said workman Netai Sarkar will be reinstated to his post with effect from 17th October 1964. It has been further agreed that he will receive a sum of Rs. 200 from the company as ex-gratia payment. This payment has since been made as reported by the parties. The aforesaid terms of settlement appear to be reasonable and fair. So, I accept them and make an award on compromise, as prayed for, in terms of the settlement as incorporated in the joint petition, dated 8th October 1964, which do form a part of the compromise award as annexure thereto.

(Vide Government Order No. 4683-I.R./IR/11L-434/63, dated 22nd November 1964.)

The humble joint petition on behalf of the parties abovenamed—

Most respectfully sheweth:

That the company and their workmen represented by the union abovenamed have amicably settled the dispute under above order of reference on the following terms:

(a) It is agreed that the workman Shri Netai Kumar Sarkar will be reinstated to his post with effect from 17th October 1964 when the workman will report for duty.

(b) It is agreed that the company will make an "ex-gratia" payment of Rs. 200 (two hundred) only to the workman Shri Netai Sarkar. The payment has been made today against proper receipt.

(c) The workman agrees to forego all his claims against the Company in respect of his wages from his date of suspension to the 16th October 1964 and this period will be treated as leave without pay.

It is now jointly prayed that the Tribunal may graciously be pleased to approve this settlement and pass an award incorporating the terms as given above and pass necessary order or orders as Your Honour may deem fit and proper.

And for this act of kindness, the petitioners, as in duty bound, shall ever pray.

AWARD

Government of West Bengal in its Labour Department, Order No. 3276-I.R./IR/9L-28(A)/63, dated the 10th August 1963, referred an industrial dispute to this Tribunal between Messrs. Hantapara Tea Company Limited, P.O. Ramjhora, district Jalpaiguri, and their workmen employed in the Hantapara Tea Estate and represented by the National Union of Plantation Workers' Union, P.O. Birpara, district Jalpaiguri, under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act for adjudication.

The issue as framed in the order of Reference in this case runs as follows:

Whether the dismissal of Shrimati Amritmaya and Shrimati Padamful of Bahadur Sirdar is justified? To what relief, if any are they entitled?

After receipt of the order of Reference on 17th August 1963, usual notices were issued to the parties fixing on 3rd September 1963 for appearance and for filing of the written statement by the Union. The Company entered appearance on 30th August 1963 and the Union appeared on 3rd September 1963 and the case was adjourned till 18th September 1963 for filing of the written statement by the Union. The Union filed its written statement on 18th September 1963 and the Company filed its written statement on 30th November 1963. After several adjournments the case was fixed for hearing on 1st October 1964. On that day, the parties filed a joint petition of compromise stating that they had amicably settled their dispute out of Court on terms set forth in the petition of compromise and prayed that an award may be passed in terms of the petition of compromise. I have heard the parties and perused the petition of compromise. I am satisfied that the settlement is bona fide and its terms are fair and reasonable. The settlement is therefore recorded and an award be passed in terms of the joint petition of compromise filed. The joint petition of compromise do form part of the award as annexure "A".

ORDERS

No. 6075-I.R.|IR|14L-6|63.—4th November 1964. —Whereas under the Governme it of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 2187-I.R./IR/14L-6/ 63, dated the 31st May 1963, the industrial dispute between Shri Dhirendra Nath Sen, Shri Jitendra Nath Sen and Shri Bishnu Charan Sen, Lessees, Dhapa Square Miles, 44 Ram Kanta Bose Street, Calcutta-3, on the one hand and their workmen represented by Dhapa Mazdoor Sabha, 44|20 Debendra Chandra De Road, Calcutta-15, on the other regarding the issue mentioned in the said Order, being a matter specified in the Second Schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred to the Second Industrial Tribunal for adjudication;

And whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Industrial Tribunal Shri Purna and 100 other workmen of the said employers made a complaint in writing to the said Industrial Tribunal against the said employers alleging that the said employers had punished the said workmen concerned in such dispute;

And whereas in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the said Industrial Tribunal has adjudicated upon the said complaint and submitted its award to the State Government;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an application under section 33A jointly filed by Shri Purna and 100 others against their employers Shri Dhirendra Nath Sen and other lessees, Dhapa Square Mile, 44 Ramkanta Bose Road, Calcutta-3. (Case No. 117 under section 33A of 1964.)

AWARD

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act jointly filed by Purna and 100 others represented by Dhapa Mazdoor Sabha, 44|20 Debendra Chandra De Road, Calcutta-15, against their employers Shri Dhirendra Nath Sen and other lessees, Dhapa Square Mile, 44 Ramkanta Bose Road, Calcutta-3, stating that an order of reference (G.O. No. 2187-I.R., dated 31st May 1963) is pending before this Tribunal in respect of those persons, and during the pendency of the aforesaid reference, the workmen in question were punished for their union activities. The workmen claim reinstatement in service.

Decision

The case was taken up for hearing on 26th September 1964. On that date, the employer Company came ready to fight out the case, but the workmen remained absent. The aforesaid reference which was pending before this Tribunal ended in an Award, dated 20th July 1964, which has been duly published in the "Calcutta Gazette." The issue in that case was whether the lessees were justified in refusing employment to the 65 workmen mentioned in the order of reference. In that reference, a point was raised as to whether it was an industrial dispute. In the award passed by me, it was held that the 65 workmen mentioned in the order of reference were not workmen within the definition of section 2(s) of the Act. In the absence of relationship of master and servant as contemplated in the Act, the reference was held to be bad in law. Since I held that the reference was incompetent and also because jurisdiction of the Tribunal to adjudicate upon the application under section 33A arises out of the said reference, the present application under section 33A is bound to be rejected as similarly bad in law. On this preliminary point, the instant application under section 33A stands rejected.

This is my award.

No. 6076-I.R.|IR|8L-49|63.—5th November 1964. —Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 4692-I.R.|IR|8L-49|63, dated the 21st November 1963, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Bharat Hosiery Factory, 7|1 Babulal Lane, Calcutta-7, and their workmen represented by Hosiery Workingmen's Union, 66 Sova Bazar Street, Calcutta-5, regarding the issue mentioned in the said order being a matter specified in the second schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the Second Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Second Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Bharat Hosiery Factory, 7|1 Babulal Lane, Calcutta-7, and their workmen represented by Hosiery Workingmen's Union, 66 Sova Bazar Street, Calcutta-5, referred under G.O. No. 4692-I.R., dated the 21st November 1963. (Case No. VIII-273|63.)

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri A. P. BHATTACHARYA, Judge.

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri K. K. Moitra, Advocate.

For the Union: Shri Parimal Das Gupta, Advocate.

The Government of West Bengal in its Labour Department Order No. 4692-I.R.|IR|8L-49|63, dated the 21st November 1963, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. Bharat Hosiery Factory, 7|1 Babulal Lane, Calcutta-7 (hereafter be referred to as Company) and their workmen represented by Hosiery Workingmen's Union, 66 Sova Bazar Street, Calcutta-5 (hereafter be referred to as the Union), for adjudication under Section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

Issue

The issue as framed in this case for adjudication runs as follows:

Whether the refusal of employment to Shri Swadesh Basu is justified? What relief, if any, is he entitled to?

AWARD

After service of notices upon the respective parties and filing of written statements by them the case was fixed for hearing. Both parties adduced oral and documentary evidences in support of their respective cases. Arguments were advanced on both sides at length. The case of the Union is that Shri Swadesh Bose was a cutter in Bharat Hosiery Factory. Kapoor Brothers are the proprietors of that Factory. They are the employers. On 24th November 1962 Shri Harichand Kapoor accused him of exciting labourers and asked him not to come for work the next day. He was refused employment thereafter. There was no charge-sheet against him, no enquiry and no letter of dismissal. He was a member of the Hosiery Workingmen's Union. Other workmen of the factory were also members of that Union and they are championing the cause of Swadesh Bose. As conciliation failed, the Government referred the dispute to the Tribunal. A written statement was submitted on behalf of Messrs. Bharat Hosiery Factory denying that the dispute is not an industrial dispute. The dispute of Swadesh Bose is an individual dispute and Hosiery Workingmen's Union, which is an outside

Union, has no right to represent the workmen in this dispute. No workman of Bharat Hosiery Factory is a member of Hosiery Workingmen's Union.

The written statement with regard to the merits of the case is that Swadesh Bose is not a workman in the employment of Bharat Hosiery Factory. It is true that Kapoor Brothers are the proprietors but they did not employ Swadesh Bose in the factory work prior. He was under the employment of a Contractor, Kalidas Paul, through whom was run by the partners. The reference as such is incompetent because Bharat Hosiery Factory is not the employer of Swadesh Bose.

The issue has already been set forth above.

Decision

Before deciding the issue under the reference, I shall have to dispose of the point raised on the side of the Company that it is not an industrial dispute and that Hosiery Workingmen's Union has no right to represent the workman in this dispute. It is admitted that Hosiery Workingmen's Union is not an exclusively Union of this Factory but that it is an outside Union and as such it can represent the cause of a workman only if a substantial number of workmen of this factory are members of that Union or they champion the case of Swadesh Bose. That proposition is not in dispute. The evidence on this point may be analysed. Swadesh Bose gave evidence himself and stated that he was a member of the Union at the time of his dismissal, and he is still a member of the Union. He further stated that about 10 or 12 workers of this Factory were members of that Union at the time of his dismissal. At that particular time the total number of workmen in the Factory was 24 or 25. His evidence is corroborated by that of Santosh Kumar Ganguly, the Vice-President of the Hosiery Workingmen's Union. His evidence is that, up to the last year, 13 or 14 workmen of Bharat Hosiery were members of this Union. He admitted that there was a membership register. That register was not filed. The Company did not however call for the register. If that evidence is believed then the dispute of Swadesh Bose can be championed by the Union because a substantial number of workmen are members of this Union and they espouse the cause of Swadesh Bose. Exhibit 1 is the letter which was addressed to the Company by Swadesh Bose. He stated therein that he was dismissed without notice. He asserted in that letter that he was working in the said factory as its workman. Exhibit 2 is another letter which has been proved by Santosh Kumar Ganguly. In this letter some workmen of this factory applied to the Secretary of this Union espousing the cause of Swadesh Bose. Santosh Kumar Ganguly stated that he knows the signatures of those workmen who signed Ext. 2. In cross-examination Swadesh Bose stated that Ananta, Karuna, Abhoy, Bijoykrishna Ghosh and others were members of the Union. They were the signatories to Ext. 2. It appears therefore that at least four workmen of this factory requested this Union to espouse the cause of Swadesh Bose. During conciliation proceedings, Hosiery Workingmen's Union was called by the Labour Commissioner for conciliation. The correspondences are Ext. 3 series. Bharat Hosiery was asked to appear before the Lobour Commissioner. Having regard to the above evidences, I am compelled to hold that the dispute raised by Swadesh Bose is not an individual dispute but an industrial dispute since it is espoused by other workmen of this factory and the Union has been duly authorised to take up the dispute on behalf of the dismissed workman. The Union has right to represent the present dispute and the objection on this ground must fail.

Now I will enter into the merits of the objections raised on the side of the factory. The substance of the written statement of the Company is that Swadesh Bose is not in the employment of Messrs. Bharat Hosiery Factory but that he was employed by the Contractor Kalidas Paul. The question which therefore falls to be decided is whether Swadesh Bose is a workman employed by Messrs. Bharat Hosiery Factory or he was a workman of a contractor Kalidas Paul. On a perusal the entire evidence before me I am not satisfied that Kalidas Paul was employed as a contractor by the proprietors and that Swadesh Bose was an employee under the said contractor. The factory premises belong to the partners Kapoor Brothers. The machineries which are installed in the premises are utilised for the manufacture of Ganjis belonging to the Kapoor Brothers. The evidence of Laxi Narayan Kapoor discloses the above facts. The workers work with those machines and in the said factory premises. The contractor who gave evidence is O.P.W. 2 Shri Kalidas Paul. The evidence of O.P.W. 1 Shri Kapoor is that he supplies raw materials to the contractor Kalidas Paul who get the Ganjis manufactured at the machines with the help of the labourers employed by him and supplies finished products to the parties. The raw materials are supplied by the partners and finished products are also received by them. The contractor's business accordingly is that he gets a manufacture of goods done with the help of labourers employed by him. The payment to the labourers and supervision over the labourers are important criterion to decide as to who was the employer. There is no document produced either by the contractor or the employer to show as to who paid the wages. It is significant to note in the evidence of the alleged contractor Kalidas Paul that he has no records or papers. He did not grant receipt over the raw materials nor any receipt for the supply of finished goods. If the contractor was making payment to the labourers, some records are expected to be forthcoming from the contractor showing payment of wages to the labourers. No such records is maintained by Kalidas Paul according to his own admission. His evidence is that he used to grant receipt for the money received by him from time to time from the proprietors and his payments were recorded in the records of proprietors. The proprietors filed 3 books showing endorsements of Kalidas Paul which are purported to be receipts of money from time to time as labour charges. The English Translation is Ext. B. They are nothing but receipts showing certain dates. These documents are challenged on the side of the Union. Such records as are presented by the Company can be easily manufactured and in the background of the evidence of Kalidas Paul I am satisfied that these records are likely to be fabricated and cannot be relied upon. It is only to be expected that Kalidas Paul should maintain proper records. I have discussed that part of evidence already. There is no labour contractor in writing. If the entire business was run by Kalidas Paul, he should have been in possession of proper records and register showing payment of wages to the labourers and other details of the transactions such as supply of raw materials, supply of finished goods, etc. Kalidas Paul is a man of Kapoors. He was working in the Shop Factory of Kappors. Top of all, the proprietors never disclosed the name of Kalidas Paul as a contractor during conciliation proceedings. It is the positive evidence of Kalidas Paul that he did not receive any letter from the Labour Commissioner nor did he write any letter to the Labour Commissioner. He further added that on one occasion he went to the Labour Commissioner's office under instructions of the proprietors but did not see the Officer concerned. From the above evidence, the nature of conclusion should be that he is a got-up man and the story of employment by a contractor is an after-thought. I am unable to rely upon the three books that were filed by the Company in the background of the entire evidence before me. The workman was employed in the Gangi Factory of Messrs. Bharat Hosiery Factory and the proprietors of the said Factory are the employers of Swadesh Bose. He is, therefore, a workman under the employment of the Factory named in the Order of Reference.

With regard to the merits of the case, the evidence is ex-parte. Swadesh Bose stated that on 24th November 1962, he was suddenly dismissed and he was refused employment thereafter. Admittedly there was no enquiry, no charge-sheet, no letter of dismissal. The natural conclusion, therefore, should be that it is a case of refusal of employment and that refusal not justified. The workman is entitled to reinstatement with back wages.

This is my award which is to be implemented within 30 days from its publication in the "Calcutta Gazette."

ANNEXURE

In the matter of a complaint under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, by Shri Rashbehari Ghosh of 5|1 Nabin Chand Baral Lane, Calcutta-12, against Messrs. A. P. Banerjee & Co. of 71|A Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta-1. (Case No. 172 of 1963 under section 33A.)

BEFORE THE SEVENTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri S. K. RAY, Judge,

Seventh Industrial Tribunal.

AWARD

This is a proceeding under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, arising out of a complaint made by the applicant, Shri Rashbehari Ghosh, against his employer, Messrs. A. P. Banerjee & Co., the O.P., to the effect that the Compasy terminated his service with effect from 7th December 1963, during the pendency of the adjudication proceedings of another dispute between the Company and its workmen, referred to this Tribunal by Government Order No. 6244-I.R./IR/11L-91/62, dated 7th November 1962, and the said termination of his service was unjustified, mala fide, illegal and in contravention of the relevant provisions of section 33, Industrial Disputes Act.

Tne Company, O.P., filed its written statement after preliminary proceedings and some adjournments. The case was finally fixed for hearing on 30th September 1964. In the meantime on 1st July 1964 the Company filed a petition along with another petition of the applicant and both the petitions were to the effect that the dispute between the Company and the concerned workman had been amicably settled and the workman had taken a sum of Rs. 253.19 nP. in full settlement of all his claims against the Company and he had no further claims against the Company. Both the petitions were directed to be put up on the date already fixed 30th September 1964. On that date, none appeared for the applicant, but the Company's Advocate appeared and pressed for passing an award in terms of the petitions filed by the Company and the workman.

I have considered the petitions of the Company and the workman regarding the amicable settlement and I am satisfied that the instant dispute between the Company and the workman has been amicably settled and the workman has accepted a certain sum of money in terms of the settlement. The dispute has thus ceased to exist by virtue of the amicable settlement and accordingly, the case is to be disposed of by a "no dispute" award.

In the result, I make a 'no dispute' award in the case.

Present:

Shri K. P. MUKHERJI, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal

The above dispute over the issue given in the order of reference and reproduced below, was referred for adjudication to this Tribunal by Government Order No. 3193-I.R./IR/4L-30/64, dated the 25th July 1964.

Issue

Whether the termination of service of Shri Surendra Nath Seal is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

On receipt of the reference on 31st July 1964, usual notices were issued to the parties fixing 26th August 1964 for their appearance and for filing written statement by the Union. On 26th August 1964 none appeared on behalf of the owner of the bus, but a telegram was received from the General Secretary of the Asansol Subdivisional Bus Workers' Association intimating that the written statement on behalf of the workmen had been sent by post. The case was adjourned till 26th September 1964, but no written statement of the Union was received and no steps were also taken by the parties who were also absent. The case was again adjourned till 26th October 1964, but the parties were absent on that date also, and no steps were taken by them. From the aforesaid facts and circumstances, it is clear that the Union is not taking any interest in the dispute, though it was raised by it, and the Union and the workmen concerned are not pursuing the dispute, and have given up the dispute which has thereby become nonexistent. The dispute is, therefore, to be deemed to be nonexistent, and an award is to be made accordingly on the footing that at present there is no subsisting dispute between the parties for adjudication.

In the result, I make a "no dispute" award in the case.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department Order No. 3691-I.R., dated 31st August 1963, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. Avery Company of India (P) Ltd., 28/2 Waterloo Street, Calcutta-1, and their workmen represented by Avery Co. Ltd. Employees' Union, 43 Baikuntha Chatterjee Lane, Howrah, for adjudication, and the present two applications under section 33A have been filed alleging that the services of the workmen concerned were wrongfully terminated by the Company during the pendency of the said dispute. Of the two applications under section 33A, one is made by Shri Netai Chandra Polley and five others, and another by Shri Gourhari Mitra and Samarendra Nath Sarkar, complaining that the employers had contravened the provisions of section 33 of the Act, and the workmen were aggrieved by such contravention.

Decision

Both the applications were heard together as some evidences were common, and so the award that is passed will cover both the cases. In an application under section 33A, the workmen who apply thereunder must prove that the employer had contravened the provisions of section 33 of the Act. Unless such contravention is proved by the workmen, the complaint which is made to the Tribunal need not be adjudicated upon on merits. The Tribunal will proceed to adjudicate upon the complaint after finding that there had been contravention of the provisions of section 33. In the present two applications, eight workmen are altogether concerned. Six workmen are included in the application of Netai Polley, and two in the application of Gaurhari Mitra. Out of the six applicants in the case of Netai Polley, two are Tulshi Charan Shaw and Haradhan Manjee. The employer [Messrs. Avery Company of India (P) Ltd.] applied for express permission in writnig to this Tribunal in respect of Tulshi and Haradhan under section 33(1)(b). With regard to the other six workmen with whom we are concerned here, applications for approval had been made before the Seventh Industrial Tribunal under section 33(2)(b) of the Act, as a reference is pending before that Tribunal in respect of a dispute over wages, leave and holidays in which these workmen are also concerned. I have already held by my previous order, dated 30th July 1964, that since the employer had applied under section 33(2)(b) before the Seventh Industrial Tribunal, there is no contravention of the provisions of section 33(2)(b) of the Act in view of that fact that application for approval could also be made to the Seventh Industrial Tribunal where also a reference is pending in which the present workmen are concerned. I have already referred to the case of the Division Bench of the Labour Appellate Tribunal reported in L.A.C. 1953 page 707 at page 708. The Seventh Industrial Tribunal will decide on merits whether approval should be granted under section 33(2)(b) as filed before it. The argument on behalf of the workmen is that the order of dismissal was made for a misconduct connected with the disputo pending before this Tribunal, and as such applications should have been made under section 33, sub-section (1) before this Tribunal in respect of Netai Polley and three others and also with regard to Gaurhari Mitra and Samarendra Nath Sarkar. No such application has been made, though the employer had appliled under section 33, sub-section (1)(b) before this Tribunal in respect of Tulshi and Haradhan. With regard to Tulshi and Haradhan, I have already passed orders granting express permission in writing to the employer for their proposed action of dismissal. The application under section 33A would not therefore lie in respect of Netai and Tulshi as, in so far as they are concerned, there had been no contravention of the provisions of section 33.

With regard to the other six workmen, there had been no application under section 33, sub-section (1), clause (b). It got to be decided as to whether there had been contravention of the provisions of section 33 by the absence of applications under section 33(1)(b) on the side of the employer, so far as these six workmen are concerned. Unless it is proved by the workmen that the action that was taken against them was connected with the dispute before this Tribunal, I am unable to say that such an application ought to have been made by the employer. The dispute pending before me is in respect of Khoraki allowance of the workmen, tiffin allowance for the labourers, train fare and termination of service of four workmen. I should have to consider whether the six workmen—Netai Polley, Shyamapada, Bibhuti, Madhusudan, Gaurhari and Samarendra—were dismissed for any misconduct connected with the dispute which is pending before me. To decide this matter, I shall have to peruse the evidence on this point. An order was made by the Company on 26th September 1963 asking these six workmen to proceed on up country work to Bihar. The order is identical in respect of all the workmen, and so it would be enough to peruse one such order (Ext. E) for our present purpose. The workmen were asked on 26th September 1963 to proceed on up country work on 29th September 1963. This order, according to the Company, was communicated to the workmen concerned on that very date. Subsequently on 27th September 1963 the Company served another order upon these workmen asking them to report by 4 p.m. whether they would proceed up country on 29th September 1963. According to the evidence of the Company, those orders were served upon the workmen. Exhibit D is one such order, and other orders were similar. On that very date, chargesheets were issued to all the workmen on the ground that they did not report on 27th September 1963 by 4 p.m. to express their willingness to proceed on up country work. The chargesheets were similar in respect of all the workmen. The allegation in the chargesheet was that the workmen had no intention to carry out the lawful and reasonable order of the Company, and that action constituted a serious misconduct on the part of the workmen and was in violation of the provisions of items 1 and 11 of the standing orders. After enquiry the wrokmen were dismissed. The Company accordingly dismissed the workmen for not carrying out the order asking them to proceed on up country work. It is not the case of the workmen that they refused to proceed on up country work because of khoraki matter, which is in dispute before this Tribunal. The case of the workmen is that no such order had been communicated to them, and as such there was no question of disobedience or indiscipline. In the circumstances, I am unable to say that the action that was taken by the Management was connected with the dispute over the question of khoraki, tiffin or train fare which is pending before this Tribunal. That being so, the Company is not guilty of contravention of the provisions of section 33 by not applying for permission under section 33, sub-section (1), clause (b). The Company complied with the provisions of section 33 by having applied before the Seventh Industrial Tribunal for approval of the action of dismissal under section 33(2)(b) of the Act, and that Tribunal will adjudicate upon that application on merits. So, there is no contravention of the provisions of section 33, sub-section (2). There is no contravention of the provisions of section 33, sub-section (3) either, because the workmen concerned cannot be said to be protected workmen under sub-section (3) of section 33 of the Act. Rule 71 lays down the rule for recognition of protected workmen. In the case of none of the workmen concerned, rule 71 was followed. The workmen cannot, therefore, be described as "protected workmen" within the meaning of section 33, sub-section (3).

Accordingly, there is no contravention of the provisions of section 33 by the employer in the present case, and as such the present two applications under section 33A must be dismissed, and no adjudication upon the complaints would be necessary. In the result, the applications under section 33A of Netai Polley and five others, and of Gourhari Mitra and another are dismissed.

This is my award.

The Government of West Bengal in its Labour Department Order No. 4655-I.R./IR/10L-63/63, dated 16th November 1963, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. Manton & Co. Ltd., 13 Old Court House Street, Calcutta (hereafter be referred to as the Company), and their workman represented by Manton Workers' Union, 19/2A Pitambar Ghatak Lane, Calcutta-27 (hereafter be referred to as the Union), for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The issue as framed in this case for adjudication runs as follows:

Whether the dismissal of Shri Jagannath (night guard) is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

AWARD

This reference was received on 26th December 1963 and after service of usual notices and filing of written statements it was fixed for hearing on 11th May 1964. After some adjournments at the request of the parties for an amicable settlement, it was finally fixed for hearing on 1st October 1964. On that day, Shri N. M. Das Gupta on behalf of the Company and Shri H. L. Roy on behalf of the Union filed a joint petition stating that the dispute had been settled. On a perusal of the said petition and the record, I found that none of them held any authority for the respective parties. On 3rd October 1964 they filed respective authorities and duly proved the same. They signed the joint petition showing that the dispute had been settled amicably and a 'No-dispute' award is prayed for. In the aforesaid circumstances, a 'No-dispute' award is made.

AWARD

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947.

The grievance of the applicant is as follows:—

The applicant workman Shri Murali is in the employ of the opposite party Kesoram Industries & Cotton Mills Ltd. for the last 12 years. On 19th July 1963 as ill luck would have it. the applicant sustained some injuries on his person due to an accident and he was admitted to Sambhunath Pandit Hospital for his treatment by the Company aforesaid. There he was treated till the end of the month of November 1963. Thereafter as usual he met his boss and prayed for his monthly allowance. That was denied to him. He demanded compensation. That too was turned down. Nay, his Labour Welfare Officer at last intimated him that his services had been terminated. Being hard hit and aggrieved thereby the applicant filed the present application and this application was filed under section 33A precisely because of the fact that an industrial dispute between Kesoram Industries & Cotton Mills Ltd. and its workmen was then pending in this Second Labour Court, West Bengal (vide Order No. 1884-I.R., dated 26th April 1960 and Order No. 4459-I.R., dated 1st October 1962).

After filing of the aforesaid application by Shri Muralii the Company entered its appearance and filed a written statement challenging the maintainability of the said application and denying the averments adumbrated therein. This written statement was filed on 2nd August 1964.

From what has been said above it is clear that the nature of the dispute was gradually assuming a graver shape day by day and perhaps the consequences thereof would have proved disastrous but for the timely good sense which goaded both the parties to arrive at a peaceful settlement by themselves. On 22nd October 1964 this court received one letter from Shri Murali by post. In this letter he prayed for withdrawal of his application made under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act. The application speaks for itself. I would not, therefore, attempt incorporating the contents thereof. It would suffice to say that the industrial dispute pending between the parties before me no longer exists, that the parties have mutually settled down their dispute, so much so, that the applicant has taken all his dues in full and final settlement of all his claims from the Company. The applicant is also not willing to press his application any more before this court. Shri Pathak an officer of the Union appearing for Shri Murali has also confirmed the contents of the withdrawal petition to be true. The industrial peace in respect of which our relevant Act is so particular and expressive has thus been successfully achieved by the parties themselves without the intervention of this court, and indeed I find a great pleasure and satisfaction in recording this fact in black and white. The sooner such petty but pinching industrial dispute are peacefully settled by the parties themselves, the better for the industrial world. As Shri Murali has withdrawn his application and as the case has been compromised between the parties. I would warmly welcome the prayer for withdrawal of the case and dispose of the present application as compromised and withdrawn by the worker concerned.

In the result, I dispose of the case as compromised and withdrawn by the worker and ward accordingly.

Serampore, Hooghly, regarding the natters specified in the schedule, to the Third ndusttrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A f the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, dated the 11th larch 1957, for adjudication.

Issue

Whether the dismissal of Shri Sambhu Nath Jain nd Shri Badal Chandra Roy is justified? To what elief, if any, are they entitled?

This reference was received from the Government f West Bengal in their Labour Department (Order Vo. 3660-I.R., dated 20th August 1964) for adjudica- ion of an industrial dispute said to be existing etween Messrs. Makhan Silk Prinitng & Dyeing Vorks, 71 Patuapara Lane, P.O. Serampore, Hooghly hereinafter referred to as the Company), and their vorkmen represented by Makhan Silk Printing Vorks Workers' Union, 53 G. T. Road, Kalitala. P.O. Serampore, Hooghly (hereinafter referred to as he Union).

As usual, immediately after receipt of the eference, notics were issued to the parties. They were duly served upon them. Thereupon the Company entered appearance but the Union did not. Postal acknowledgment shows that the notice was duly received by the Union Secretary. However, another opportunity was given to the Union by issuing notice afresh by registered post with acknowledgment due but this time it was received back with the remark of the Postal Authority to the effect that the addressee was found present but he refused to accept. So the Union deliberately disobeyed and neglected to appear in spite of knowledge through proper service of the notice. The Company made appearance through a Lawyer. Therefore, in the circumstances, I am to make a "No dispute" award as the dispute under reference does no appear to be any longer in existence.

Accordingly I give a "no dispute" award.

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department order No. 7275-I.R./IR/10L-118(A)/61, dated 27th November 1961, and subsequent corrigendum No. 84-I.R./IR/10L-118(A)/61, dated 8th January 1962, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. Shree Hanuman Foundries Limited, 16 Belur Road, Lillooah, Howrah (Head Office at Agarwala Mansions, 370 Upper Chitpur Road, Calcutta-6) and their workmen represented by Howrah Metal Workers' Union, 12/13 Cowis Ghat Road, Howrah, for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The following issues have been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication in this case:

(1) Bonus payable in 1961.

(2) What financial relief, if any, the workmen are entitled to for the period of stoppage of work for the 1st October 1961?

AWARD

This reference was received on 28th November 1961. After notices to the parties and filing of written statements by them, the case was fixed for hearing on several dates. But the parties did not take any interest in pursuing the case, for which the case could not be made ready within the period of last 3 years. The case was fixed for hearing on several dates in order to afford the parties opportunity for getting the reference heard. The last date that was fixed was on 23rd October 1964, and as usual both the parties remained absent on that date also. From the conduct of the proceedings, I am satisfied that both the Union and the Company are not interested in the present dispute. I accordingly make a "no dispute" award in this case.

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department Order No. 3562-I.R./IR/10L-171(A) 63, dated 26th August 1963, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. G.S.A. Company Ltd., G. T. Road, Asansol, Burdwan, and their workmen represented by G.S.A. Company Workers' Union, Bari Smriti Bhawan, Subhas Pally, P.O. The issue framed in this case for adjudication runs as follows:

Whether the refusal of employment to Sarbashri Sher Bahadur and Narsingh is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

AWARD

The Company involved in this industrial dispute is Messrs. G.S.A. Company Ltd., G. T. Road, Asansol. A written statement was filed on behalf of G.S.A. Company Steel Fabrication Works, G. T. Road, Asansol, stating that the Company has been wrongly described in the order of reference. I think, the description of the Company in the order of reference is not proper. The Tribunal was informed that the Union was trying to correct the order of reference by a fresh Government order. It appears that the same issue as in this reference has been sent to this Tribunal by another Reference No. 4212-I.R./IR/10L-171(A)/63, dated 15th September 1964. Since a fresh reference has been received on the same issue, there is no point in adjudicating upon this reference. The reference is accordingly rejected on the aforesaid ground.

This dispute between Messrs. Great Gopalpur Tea Company Ltd., P.O. Jalpaiguri (hereafter be referred to as the Company) and their workmen employed in the Sonali Tea Estate, P.O. Pillansat, district Jalpaiguri, represented by Zilla Cha Bagan Workers' Union, P.O. Mal, district Jalpaiguri (hereatfer be referred to as the Union), was referred to this Tribunal under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 1697-I.R./IR/9L-33/62, dated 25th April 1963, for adjudication upon the issues mentioned below:—

Issues:

(1) Whether the discharge of Shri Pronab Kumar Chakrabarty is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

(2) Whether dismissal of Sarbasree (i) Simon Uraon, (ii) Powloo Uraon, (iii) Sancharowa Uraon, (iv) Budhoo Uraon, (v) Kandroo Uraon, (vi) Soharai Uraon, (vii) Sukhi Uraon and (viii) Kandroo Uraon (Medicine Carrier), is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

(3) Whether the workmen are entitled to wages for the strike periods from 7th July 1962 to 15th July 1962 and from 10th August 1962 to 8th September 1962?

AWARD

The case of the Union as set forth in its written statement is shortly stated as follows:—

The Great Gopalpur Tea Company Ltd. took over the management of the Sonali Tea Estate in the month of January 1961. Messrs. J. C. Ghosh and Sons is the Managing Agent of Bamandanga Tandu Tea Estate, Cooch Behar Tea Estate and Sonali Tea Estate and some other Tea Estates. Shri B. C. Ghosh is one of the Partners of Messrs. J. C. Ghosh and Sons and he is also the Controlling Director of the Great Gopalpur Tea Company Ltd. After the Great Gopalpur Tea Company Ltd. became the owner of Sonali Tea Estate in January 1961, more than 400 workers of the Sonali Tea Estate joined the Zilla Cha Bagan Workers' Union and office bearers and members of the Executive Committee were elected from amongst them. Shri Pranab Kumar Charkrabarty, a Clerk of the Tea Estate, also joined the Union and took much interest in the affairs of the Union. Shri Chakrabarty thereby incurred the displeasure of the Company and the Company wanted to get rid of him on account of his Union activities. Shri Chakrabarty was first appointed in Bamandanga Tandu Tea Estate in January 1959 and worked there for about a year and 4 months and thereafter he was transferred to Cooch Behar Tea Estate in April 1960. He worked in Cooch Behar Tea Estate till the 8th of January 1961, when he was discharged from service as he applied for making him permanent. He was however re-appointed in Sonali Tea Estate on 3rd April 1961 but his service was again terminated with effect from 3rd October 1961. He was again appointed on 16th October 1961 and a letter of appointment was given to him. While in service, Shri Chakrabarty fell ill in May 1962 and he was removed to Central Hospital of the Company. He was discharged from the Hospital but he again fell ill on 3rd January 1962. He joined his duty on 12th June 1962 and on the same day, he received a letter of termination of his service with immediate effect on the ground that he failed to make up arrears of work after he was discharged from the Hospital. The discharge of Shri Chakrabarty on the alleged ground of his failure to make up arrears of work, is said to be illegal, improper and mala fide and against all principles of natural justice. It is alleged that Shri Chakrabarty was not given any opportunity to refute the allegations made against him and this amounted to violation of the principles of natural justice. The discharge of Shri Chakrabarty is said to be actuated by a motive of unfair labour practice and is an act of victimisation on account of his association with the Union. This is with regard to the discharge of Shri Pranab Kumar Chakrabarty.

As regards the dismissal of the 8 other workmen, it is alleged that they were active members of the Union and for reason of their Union activities, they were dismissed from service on false and frivolous charges. The workmen of the Sonali Tea Estate formed a Union on 7th August 1961 and on 14th August 1961 some demands were placed before the Management. A demand was also made for making Shri Pranab Kumar Chakrabarty permanent in his post. Thereafter on 22nd January 1962 a Charter of Demands was given to the Secretary of the Great Gopalpur Tea Company Ltd. and thereby the workmen incurred the wrath of the Management and the Management resorted to all sorts of unfair labour practices. The demands of the workmen included that Budhoo Uraon, who was working as Dak-walla should be made permanent and he should also be given a cycle allowance. The Management, however, did not accede to these demands and demoted Budhoo Uraon from the post of Dak-walla and the Union strongly resented this action on the part of the Management. The Charter of Demands given by the workmen was not considered by the Management and the Union made a representation to the Manager of the Sonali Tea Estate on 6th February 1962 to enquire about the demands made by them on 22nd January 1962. At this, the Manager got infuriated on the impertinence on the part of the workmen and concocted a false story of riotous behaviour and submitted false charge-sheets against the 8 workmen concerned and mentioned in issue No. 2 of the Reference. The workmen concerned denied the charges brought against them and after a show of enquiry, they were dismissed from service. It is alleged that the domestic enquiry was made in violation of the principles of natural justice and the workmen concerned did not understand the proceedings as these were not explained to them. The finding of the enquiry officer is said to be perverse, and in dismissing the workmen the Management, it is alleged, was actuated by a desire of victimising them for their trade union activities.

With regard to issue No. 3 it is stated by the Union that the decision to go on strike was taken by the workmen of the Sonali Tea Estate in a general meeting held on 1st June 1962. The copies of the notice was duly served on the Manager of the Tea Estate, the Secretary, Great Gopalpur Tea Company Ltd., the Assistant Labour Commissioner and others on 4th June 1962. On receipt of the notice, a conciliation meeting was called by the Assistant Labour Commissioner on 15th June 1962 and it was agreed that a tripartite conference would be held on 22nd June 1962. The date of the conference was subsequently changed to 6th July 1962 and the proposed strike was also postponed up to 6th July 1962. No meeting, however, was held on 6th July 1962 and the workmen went on strike from 7th July 1962. The Union called off the strike on 15th July 1962 as the Management agreed to hold a tripartite conference to settle the dispute in a conciliation meeting to be convened by the Assistant Labour Commissioner. The Management, however, after the workmen joined their duties, indulged in acts of repression on the workers in various forms and the act of the Management made it almost impossible for them to go on with their work peacefully. The attitude of the Management was unsympathetic and uncompromising and instead of holding a tripartite conference, the Management got all the leading members of the Union arrested on false accusations. The workmen therefore found it impossible to continue their work and they again struck work on 10th August 1962 and the strike continued up to 8th September 1962. The workers were absolutely peaceful during the strike period and the strikes were fully justified and the workers are also entitled to wages for the strike period.

The case of the Company as set forth in its written statement, shortly stated is as follows:—

Shri Pranab Kumar Chakrabarty was first appointed for 6 months as an Assistant in the office of the Sonali Tea Estate. On 27th March 1961 as his service as found unsatisfactory he was discharged from service on 3rd October 1961. He was, however, again appointed to a temporary post for 2 months on 10th October 1961. Subsequently the post to which Shri Chakrabarty was appointed was advertised in the local newspapers and Shri Chakrabarty applied for the post. He was selected for the post and was appointed on probation for 6 months and a letter of appointment was issued to him. During the period of probation, the work of Shri Chakrabarty was not at all satisfactory and he was verbally warned to improve his work. He was given sufficient opportunity to make up his arrears of work but he falied to make up the arrears and he was therefore discharged from service. The discharge of Shri Chakrabarty is said to be justified and it is denied that the action of the Management in discharging Shri Chakrabarty is mala fide, or the Management was actuated by a desire of victimisation in discharging him for his Union activities.

As regards 8 dismissed workmen mentioned in issue No. 2 of the Reference, three of them, viz., Powloo Uraon, Sancharowa Uraon and Soharai Uraon have been reinstated on their tendering apology and there is no dispute with regard to these 3 workmen. As regards the remaining 5 workmen it is alleged that Budhoo Uraon, who was temporarily working as Dak-walla, all on a sudden took up a defiant attitude and refused to carry out Dak from the Estate on 3rd February 1962 and absented himself from work without notice. He was given a charge-sheet and after a proper and fair enquiry, he was found guilty by the Management and was dismissed from service. The 4 other workmen along with Pranab Kumar Chakrabarty and others, with a view to coerce the Management to make Budhoo Dak-walla permanent, trespassed into the compound of the Officer-in-Charge of Sonali Tea Estate and indulged in riotous and disorderly behaviour and also threatened other workers not to take the work of Dak-walla. The Management issued charge-sheets to these workmen for misconduct and after a fair and proper domestic enquiry in conformity with the principles of natural justice, these workmen were dismissed from service as they were found guilty of the charges brought against them. The order of dismissal is said to be perfectly justified and it is denied that the Management in dismissing these workmen was actuated by a desire of victimisation or unfair labour practices.

As regards issue No. 3 it is alleged that the workmen threatened the Management to go on strike with effect from 20th June 1962 if their demands were not fulfilled and they also made a demand for reinstatement of the dismissed workmen. Correspondences passed between the Company and the Union and the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Jalpaiguri, intervened in the matter. The workmen, however, without any notice, went on strike from 7th July 1962 for an indefinite period and during the strike period, the workers indulged in riotous and disorderly conduct and they also forced the loyal workers to join the strike on threat of assault. The strike continued from 7th July 1962 to 15th July 1962 and it was called off unconditionally on 16th July 1962 on account of the pressure from the Assistant Labour Commissioner. The workers again suddenly went on strike without any notice from 10th August 1962 to 8th September 1962 and during this period they resorted to all sorts of overt acts of violence and appeals by the Management to the workers to resume their duties were in vain. During this period of strike, which is unjustified, the Company suffered heavy loss as it was the plucking season. The strike resorted to by the workmen is said to be illegal and unjustified and the workmen are therefore, not entitled to any wages for the strike period as claimed by them.

Decision

Issue No. 1: This issue relates to the discharge of Shri Pranab Kumar Chakrabarty. The undisputed facts bearing to the dismissal of Shri Chakrabarty are these:

He was appointed as a Clerk in Sonali Tea Estate from 27th March 1961 for a period of 6 months as evidenced by the letter of appointment, Ext. A and his services were terminated on 2nd October 1961 as appears from Ext. B. He sent a representation to the Company and a fresh appointment was given to him for 2 months on 10th October 1961 (vide Ext. C). The post to which he was appointed was advertised in the local newspapers inviting applications from candidates for the post. Shri Chakrabarty submitted an appilcation for the post, Ext. E, on 18th November 1961 and he was selected for the post and was given a fresh appointment on 16th December 1961 by a letter of appointment, Ext. F, and he joined his appointment on 16th December 1961 as appears from the joining report, Ext. F(1). His service was terminated with effect from 11th June 1962 as appears from the letter, Ext. G. There is no dispute with regard to these facts. According to the Company, Shri Chakrabarty was appointed as a probationer for 6 months and his services were terminated as his work was found unsatisfactory.

The version of the Union is that the discharge of Shri Chakrabarty was an act of victimisation and unfair labour practice and his discharge was also illegal and improper as he must be deemed to be in permanent service at the time of his discharge. It is now to be seen which version is to me accepted in view of the facts and the circumstances of the case and the evidence on record. The first question that arises for consideration is the nature of appointment of Shri Chakrabarty. The letter of appointment, Ext. F, clearly indicates that he was appointed on probation for 6 months and he would be confirmed after the expiry of the probationary period if his work was found satisfactory. In view of the appointment letter, Ext. F, there cannot be any dispute that Shri Chakrabarty was appointed on probation for 6 months and he joined his appointment on 16th December 1961 as appears from the joining report, Ext. F(1). It is also admitted by Shri Chakrabarty in his evidence that he accepted the job on terms and conditions mentioned in the letter, Ext. F. It is contended that Shri Chakrabarty is to be deemed to be a permanent workman as his appointment on 16th December 1961 is to be taken as continuity of his appointment for 2 months on 10th October 1961. In other words, the contention is that the service of Shri Chakrabarty prior to his appointment on 16th December 1961 is to be tacked with his service during the period on probation. This contention does not appear to be well founded and cannot be accepted. The appointment of Shri Chakravarty on 16th December 1961 for all intents and purposes was a fresh appointment on probation for 6 months and he accepted the appointment on terms and conditions contained in the letter of appointment, Ext. F. It is true that at the time he was appointed on probation, he was holding temporary appointment for 2 months but this period cannot be tacked with the period of service during the period of probation. The position of a probationer has been considered by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of the Management of the Express Newspapers (Pvt.) Ltd., Madurai and Presiding Officer, Labour Court, Madurai and another [F.L.R. 1964(8)289S.C.]. It has been laid down in that case that an employee appointed on probation for 6 months continues as a probationer, even after the period of 6 months, if at the end of the period of his services had either not been terminated or he is confirmed. At the end of 6 months' period, the employer can either confirm him or terminate his services because his service is found unsatisfactory. If no action is taken by the employer, either by way of confirmation or by way of termination, the employee continues to be in service as a probationer. It is clear from this decision that a probationer does not acquire any right to automatic confirmation on expiry of the period of probation and he continues to be a probationer if no action is taken by the employer either by way of confirmation or by way of termination. In the instant case, the service of Shri Chakrabarty was terminated with effect from 11th June 1962, i.e., a few days before the completion of 6 months for which he was appointed on probation. The question of his confirmation does not arise as he was discharged before the completion of the period of probation. The appointment of Shri Chakrabarty on probation for 6 months however gives the employer no right to terminate his service before 6 months had expired except on the ground of misconduct or other sufficient reasons in which case even the services of a permanent employee could be terminated. The ground on which the service of Shri Chakrabarty has been terminated as given in the dismissal letter, Ext. G, is failure to make up arrears of work and also his unstability for the post to which he was appointed. The Company has adduced some evidence to show that Shri Chakrabarty committed mistakes in the preparation of provident fund accounts of the workmen for which the Regional Provident Fund Commissioner wrote to the Manager, Sonali Tea Estate, drawing his attention to the defects and irregularities in the Provident Fund Return which was prepared by Shri Chakrabarty. It is also not disputed that Shri Chakrabarty was in arrears of work but it is pleaded that he was ill for some days and was admitted to Hospital in May 1962 and again he fell ill on 3rd June 1962 and his illness continued till 11th June 1962 and due to his illness, he might be in arrears of work. In view of the fact that there was accumulation of arrears of work of Shri Chakrabarty and the mistakes and irregularities had committed in the preperation of the return of provident fund accounts, it cannot be said that the action of the Management in discharging him from service on the ground of unsatisfactory work, is not bona fide. Shri Chakrabarty was first appointed on 27th March 1961 for 6 months and his service was terminated on 3rd October 1961. He was again appointed as a temporary clerk for 2 months on 10th October 1961 and fresh appointment was given to him on 16th December 1961. This fact indicates that the Company bore no malice towards Shri Chakrabarty or the Company acted mala fide in discharging Shri Chakrabarty. The Company, however, should have discharged Shri Chakrabarty on the expiry of the period of probation, i.e., on 16th June 1962 as his service was terminated not on the ground of any misconduct on his part but on account of the unsatisfactory nature of his work. The Management was within its rights to terminate the services of Shri Chakrabarty on the expiry of the period of probation if his work was not found satisfactory and this subjective satisfaction of the employer cannot be questioned by the employees. The employer has no right to terminate the service of an employee before the period of probation had expired except under certain circumstances, viz., misconduct or other sufficient ground. In this view of the matter, the termination of the service of Shri Pronab Kumar Chakrabarty is justified but he is entitled to wages from 11th June 1961 to 16th June 1961 and the Company is directed to pay this amount to him within a month from the date of the publication of the award.

Issue No. 2: This issue relates to the dismissal of the 8 (eight) workmen mentioned therein. Out of these 8 workmen Pawloo Uraon, Sancharowa Uraon and Soharai Uraon have been reinstated by the Company and their claims for reinstatement and other reliefs were therefore not pressed by the Union at the time of hearing. The Union confined its claim for reinstatement and back wages in respect of the remaining 5 (five) workmen, viz., (i) Simon Uraon, (ii) Budhoo Uraon, (iii) Kandroo Uraon (Dafadar), (iv) Sukhi Uraon and (v) Kandroo Uraon (Medicine Carrier). It is an undisputed fact that charge-sheets were issued to these 5 workmen and enquiries were made into the charge-sheets which were issued to these workmen. The enquiries were held by O.P.W. 3 Shri Akhil Bandhu Sarkar, who is one of the Directors of the Great Gopalpur Tea Company Ltd. He has stated that on 17th March 1962 he held an enquiry against the workman Budhoo and another enquiry against the other workmen mentioned in this issue and also Shri Pranab Kumar Chakrabarty. In paragraph 19 of the written statement of the Union, it is stated that there was merely a show of enquiry in violation of the principals of natural justice and the enquiry was also not fair as the evidence against the workmen was not explained to them and they did not understand the proceedings which were also not explained to them. The allegations made in paragraph 22 of its been denied by the Company in paragraph 22 of its written statemnet wherein it is stated that a full-fledged enquiry in conformity with the principles of natural justice was held against the charge-sheeted workmen and the enquiry was also fair and proper. It is now well-settled by a series of decisions of the Hon'ble Supreme Court that if before dismissing an employee an enquiry is fairly held by the employer and leads to the conculsion that the charge framed against the employees proved and the conduct of the Management is not mala fide or vindictive, the Industrial Tribunal should not sit in appeal over the finding recorded at the enquiry and should not interfere with the Management's right to dsmiss the workman who is found guilty of misconduct. It is thus clear that the enquiry conducted by the Management before the domestic tribunal, must be a fair and just enquiry and in bringing home to the workmen the charge framed against him, principles of natural justice must be observed. In view of this well-established principle it is to be seen whether there was any fair and proper enquiry against the workmen mentioned in this issue. I shall first take up the case of Budhoo Uraon. Admittedly there was an enquiry against him held by O.P.W. 3 Shri Akhil Bandhu Sarkar on 17th March 1962. The chahge-sheet issued to this workman has been marked Ext. H(5). This workman has admitted that he attended the enquiry and Anukul Babu and Rebati Babu deposed at the enquiry in Bengali and Sancharowa and Bhawa gave evidence at the enquiry in Hindi. His grievance is that their evidence was not read over or explained to him and he also did not cross-examine them. The proceeding of the enquiry so far as this workman is concerned shows that he cross-examined all the witnesses examined by the Company and also put his signature both before and after he cross-examined the witnesses. He also admits that he put his signatures on the enquiry proceedings but goes to the length of denying his signatures on the proceedings when the proceedings were shown to him. This workman has very little regard for truth and he does not impress me as a truthful witness. As against his evidence there is the evidence of O.P.W. 3 Shri Akhil Bandhu Sarkar that this workman cross-examined the witnesses for the Company and the proceedings of the enquiry were also explained to him and he put his signatures on the proceedings of the enquiry. The proceedings of the enquiry have been marked Ext. U(1). There cannot be any doubt that this workman was given fullest opportunity to defend himself at the enquiry and he actually defended himself by cross-examining the witnesses examined on behalf of the Company. It is difficult to believe that the evidence adduced by the Company was not explained to him as, he could not have cross-examined the witnesses unless their evidence was explained to him. This witness has admitted that he did not inform the Company at any time after the enquiry that the proceedings of the enquiry were not explained to him. This conduct also goes to indicate that he participated at the enquiry and also cross-examined the witnesses examined by the Company. I am satisfied on a careful consideration of all the recorded evidence, the proceedings and other evidences on record that a thorough enquiry following the principles of natural justice was held regarding the charge-sheet that was issued against this workmen and he had the fullest opportunity to defend himself against the charge-sheet and he defended himself by cross-examining the witnesses examined on behalf of the Company. I am therefore unable to hold that there was no proper or fair enquiry against him or that the findings of the enquiry officer were baseless or perverse. The decision of the Management in dismissing this workman in view of the report of the enquiry officer does not appear to have been actuated by a desire of victimisation or unfair labour practice and the decision must therefore prevail and should not be interefered with.

As regards the enquiry against Siman Uraon, Kandroo Uraon (Dafadar), Kandroo Uraon (Medicine Carrier) and Sukhi Uraon, the grounds on which it has been challenged have been stated in paragraph 19 of the Union's written statement. It is stated in that paragraph that there was merely a show of enquiry inasmuch as the workmen were not given to understand what was the evidence adduced against them and no copy of the evidence was supplied to them. The only grievance of the workmen against the enquiry is that the proceedings of the enquiry were not explained to the workmen and they did not understand the proceedings. Evidence has been led by the Union and much has been said that the enquiry cannot be regarded as a fair enquiry as the charge-sheeted workmen were not given opportunity to cross-examine the witnesses examined by the Company. This fact however does not find any mention in the wrtiten statement and appears to be an after-thought as the conduct of the workmen will show. The evidence of the enquiry officer who is also one of the Directors of the Company is that Shri Pranab Chakrabarty cross-examined the witnesses on his behalf and on behalf of the other workmen and Shri D. P. Ghosh assisted him in cross-examining the witnesses. Shri Pranab Chakrabarty has denied that he cross-examined the witnesses on behalf of these workmen. He has further stated that the enquiry officer did not ask the workmen to cross-examine the witnesses though he has admitted that he was asked to cross-examine them. P.W. 3 Simon Uraon has stated that he was not asked by the enquiry officer to put questions to two of the Company's witnesses Shri Anukul Chandra Sarkar and Shri Monojendra Nath Sen. He has further stated that they were not allowed to adduce their evidence though none of the other charge-sheeted workmen has stated so. P.W. 4 Kandroo Uraon does not say that no opportunity was given to him to cross-examine the Company's witnesses. It is stated by Shri Pranab Chakrabarty that he reported to the Union that no opportunity was given to them to cross-examine the Company's witnesses or to examine their own witnesses. P.W. 6 Shri Deb Prosad Ghosh, General Secretary of the Union, however, does not say that Shri Pranab Chakrabarty reported to him at any time that the charge-sheeted workmen were not allowed to cross-examine the Company's witnesses or to examine their own witnesses. If any complaint was made by Shri Pranab Chakrabarty to the Union to the effect that the workmen were not allowed to cross-examine the Company's witnesses, it can reasonably be expected that the Union would write to the Company drawing its attention to the fact that the enquiry officer did not allow the charge-sheeted workmen to cross-examine the Company's witnesses. None of the workmen also made any complaint to the Company that he was not allowed to cross-examine the Company's witnesses. Both Simon Uraon and Kandroo Uraon have admitted that they did not inform the Company at any time after the enquiry that they were not allowed to cross-examine the Company's witnesses. It is not very clear from the enquiry proceedings that each workman was given opportunity to cross-examine the Company's witnesses but there is a note by the enquiry officer in the proceedings which indicates that all the charge-sheeted workmen cross-examined the witnesses examined by the Company. The conduct of the workmen show that they were not given the opportunity to cross-examine the witnesses examined by the Company and in view of the fact that no such allegation is made in the written statement. I am not prepared to hold that the charge-sheeted workmen were not allowed any opportunity to cross-examine the witnesses examined by the Company when admittedly Shri Pranab Chakrabarty was given full opportunity to cross-examine the Company's witnesses. The plea of the Union that the enquiry is vitiated inasmuch as no opportunity was given to the charge-sheeted workmen to cross-examine the Company's witnesses, cannot be accepted and is rejected. The other main ground on which the enquiry has been challenged is that the proceedings of the enquiry were not explained to the charge-sheeted workmen by the enquiry officer. There is no note by the enquiry officer in the proceedings of the enquiry that the proceedings of the enquiry were explained to the charge-sheeted workmen. The evidence of the enquiry officer is that statement of each witness was explained to the charge-sheeted workmen and also the statements made by their wtinesses were explained to them.

P.W. 2 Shri Pranab Chakrabarty has denied that the statements of the witnesses for the Company were explained to the charge-sheeted workmen and they understood the contents thereof. P.W. 3 Simon Uraon has also denied that the statements made by the witnesses examined by the Company were read over and explained to him and the other charge-sheeted workmen by the enquiry officer. He has further stated that the statement made by him and recorded by the enquiry officer was not read over to him but he simply put his signature at the proceedings of the enquiry as asked by the enquiry officer after the enquiry was over. P.W. 4 Kandroo Uraon has also stated that the statements made by the witnesses for the Company were not read over or explained to them but he put his signature on the recorded proceedings as asked by the enquiry officer. There is thus oath against oath and the conduct of the workmen has to be looked into before their evidence on this point, can be accepted as true. Both P.W. 3 Simon Uraon and P.W. 4 Kandroo Uraon have stated that they never informed the Company at any time that the proceedings of the enquiry were not explained to them or they did not understand the proceedings. P.W. 4 has stated that 3 or 4 days after the enquiry he told the Union's Secretary, Shri D. P. Ghosh, that the proceedings of the enquiry were not explained to him and the other charge-sheeted workmen. P.W. 6 Shri Deb Prosad Ghosh, the Secretary of the Union, has admitted that he did not send any written representation to the Company about the unsatisfactory nature of the domestic enquiry though he received complaints from the workmen concerned regarding the nature of the enquiry. The fact that no protest was made to the Company regarding the alleged unsatisfactory nature of the enquiry goes to indicate that the charge-sheeted workmen who were admittedly present at the enquiry understood the proceedings which were explained to them by the enquiry officer as stated by him and they also put their signatures on the recorded proceedings. It is difficult to believe that the Union's Secretary would remain silent and would not make any protest to the Company if any complaint was made to him by the workmen that the proceedings of the enquiry were not explained to them and they also did not understand the proceedings but simply put their signatures on the recorded proceedings at the request of the enquiry officer. The mere fact is that there is no endorsement on the recorded proceedings that the proceedings were explained to the charge-sheeted workmen in view of the facts discussed above is not sufficient to lead to a conclusion that the proceedings were not explained to the charge-sheeted workmen. The proceedings of the enquiry were in the custody of the Company and it was not very difficult for the enquiry officer, who happens to be a Director of the Company, to make such an endorsement later on had he any mind to do so. The Industrial Dispute Act does not prescribe any procedure for the management to follow in a domestic enquiry for investigating misconduct of its employees. In the absence of any statutory provisions relating to the procedure in a domestic enquiry, the only obligation of a person conducting the enquiry is that he will have to act according to the rules of natural justice. What are the rules of natural justice have not been completely or absolutely defined, but some principles have been laid down and two of these principles are generally applicable to all departmental enquiries, viz.,

(a) A person must be told clearly and specifically of the offence with which he has been charged, and

(b) He must not be condemned unheard.

Applying these 2 tests in the present enquiry, it cannot be said that the enquiry is not fair and proper and not in conformity with the broad principles of natural justice as laid down in a series of decisions. It is now well-settled by a series of decisions of the Hon'ble Supreme Court that where before dismissing an employee on a charge of misconduct, an enquiry is held by the management and the enquiry is fair and proper and leads to the conclusion that the charge framed against the employee is proved, the Industrial Tribunal should not sit in appeal over the finding recorded at the enquiry and should not interfere with the management's right in dismissing the workman who is found guilty of the misconduct. In this connection I may only refer to the recent decision of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in Khardah Company Ltd. vs. its workmen reported in 1963 (II), L.L.J., 452. I have carefully considered the evidence and also the recorded proceedings of the enquiry in this case. The charge-sheeted workmen attended the enquiry and they were given opportunity to cross-examine the witnesses examined on behalf of the Company and also to examine their witnesses. They examined 2 witnesses on their behalf and they were also cross-examined by an officer of the Company. I am satisfied on a careful consideration of the evidence, the recorded proceedings of the enquiry and the facts and circumstances of the case that a thorough enquiry following the principles of natural justice was held against the charge-sheeted workmen and they had the fullest opportunity and liberty to defend themselves. I am therefore unable to hold that there was no proper enquiry against them.

The finding of the enquiry officer cannot also be regarded as perverse or baseless. It is settled law that in dealing with industrial disputes of such kind, the Industrial Tribunal would be justified in characterising the finding recorded at the domestic enquiry as perverse only if it is shown that such a finding is not supported by any evidence or is entirely opposed to the whole evidence adduced before it. There appears to be little doubt that the enquiry officer considered the materials placed before it by the parties at the enquiry and came to the conclusion that the charge-sheeted workmen were guilty of the charges brought against them. The enquiry officer in his report Ext. U has carefully analysed the evidence adduced at the enquiry and has also given reasons for his decision. The report clearly shows that the enquiry officer applied his mind to the facts of the case and considered the evidence carefully in coming to his decision. I therefore see no reason to hold that the finding of the enquiry officer is perverse in any way and the action of the Company in dismissing the workmen pursuant to the recommendation of the enquiry officer is not bona fide and actuated by a desire of victimisation or unfair labour practice. The order of dismissal of the workmen concerned as a result of the domestic enquiry is therefore justified.

These workmen worked under the Company for some time though the exact period of service of each of them is not known and they seemed to have been swayed by anger as some of their demands were not conceded to by the Company. They were misguided in resorting to disorderly act for redress of their grievances and the order of dismissal undoubtedly caused great hardships on them, and it is only fair and proper that the Company should make some ex-gratia payments to these workmen for loss of their employment in these hard days. The Company is therefore directed to make an ex-gratia payment of a sum of Rs. 300 (Rupees three hundred) each of these workmen for loss of employment, and this amount is to be paid within one month from the date of the publication of the award. This issue is accordingly disposed of.

Issue No. 3: Admittedly there was a strike by the workmen of the Sonali Tea Estate on 7th July 1962 and it continued till 15th July 1962 when the strike was called off and the workmen resumed their duties on 16th July 1962. Then again there was another strike on 10th August 1962 and it continued till 8th September 1962 and the strike was called off after an agreement was reached between the parties on 8th September 1962. The circumstances under which the strikes were resorted to by the workmen have been set forth in paragraphs 21, 22, 23, 24 and 25 of the written statement filed by the Union. The Company in paragraphs 25, 27, 28, 31 and 32 of their written statement has set forth the circumstances under which the workmen struck work and the strikes have been characterised as illegal and unjustified. As regards the strike for the period from 7th July 1962 to 15th July 1962, it appears that a decision was taken by the workmen in a meeting on 1st June 1962 that if the 9 dismissed workmen named in item number 1 of Ext. P were not reinstated by 20th June 1962 then the workers would go on strike for an unlimited period from any day after 20th June 1962. A notice of the proposed strike was given to the Company and also to the Assistant Labour Commissioner. The Assistant Labour Commissioner called a meeting and it was agreed that a bi-partite conference would be held on 22nd June 1962. The date of the meeting, however, was subsequently changed to 6th July 1962 and the proposed strike was deferred till that date. The Union insisted on the presence of Shri B. C. Ghosh at the bi-partite meeting and the Secretary of the Company by his letter, dated 2nd July 1962 (Ext. M/4), informed Shri D. P. Ghosh, the General Secretary of the Union, that it will not be possible for Shri Ghosh to be present at the meeting fixed on 6th July 1962 and suggested that it would be convenient if the date of the conference be fixed on 9th July 1962. This letter of the Management led the Union to believe that the Management was not sincere and was trying to defer the bi-partite conference on filmsy ground and the workmen struck work from 7th July 1962. The Management by its letter, dated 7th June 1962 (Ext. N/2), expressed its willingness to settle the disputes by negotiation or by adjudication after receipt of the copy of the resolution passed by the workmen in their meeting held on 1st June 1962 and requested the workmen not to resort to any strike. In view of this letter it cannot be said that the Management was not willing to consider the resolutions which were passed by the workmen in their meeting on 1st June 1962 and the fact that the Management suggested that the bi-partite conference be fixed on 9th July 1962 so that Shri B. C. Ghosh might attend the meeting, does not go to indicate that the management was trying to defer the bi-partite conference on any flimsy ground. The issue on which the strike was resorted to was not of such an urgent nature that the interests of the workmen would suffer and it was not possible for the workmen to wait for sometime more to give the Management an opportunity to have the demands of the workmen settled amicably, if possible, by negotiation with the Union. The dispute that arose between the Management and the workmen over the dismissal of some of the workmen was brought to the notice of the Assistant Labour Commissioner and at his instance, the Management and the representatives of the Union agreed to hold a bi-partite conference and it cannot be said that there was any necessity for the workmen to go on strike when the conciliation proceedings were started at the instance of the Assistant Labour Commissioner. The strike by the workmen was unconditionaly called off on 15th July 1962. The act of the workmen in resorting to a strike on 7th July 1962 is rather hasty and it was not a necessity in view of the facts and circumstances stated above. The strike for the period from 7th July 1962 to 15th July 1962 therefore cannot be held justified.

As regards the strike for the period from 10th August 1962 to 8th September 1962, it is admitted by P.W. 6 Shri Deba Prosad Ghosh, the General Secretary of the Union, that no resolution was taken by the workmen for resorting to strike from 10th August 1962 and no notice of the proposed strike was also given to the Company. It has also not been proved that any information about the proposed strike to the Labour Commissioner, West Bengal, was given. According to the Union, after the workmen resumed their duties on 16th July 1962, after the strike was called off, the Management was very much unsympathetic to the workmen and began to terrorise the workmen and it was impossible for the workers to continue the work and they again struck work on 10th August 1962 which continued up to 8th September 1962. This allegation has been denied by the Company and it is pleaded in paragraph 32 of the written statement that during this period of strike the workmen resorted to all sorts of over acts of violence and subversive nature and caused huge financial loss to the Company. There is no evidence except the bare statement of P.W. 6 that the Company started terrorising the workmen and it became impossible for them to work in the Garden and the workmen again went on strike. As against this evidence, there is evidence on record to show that some of the workmen indulged in a riotous conduct in the Garden on 8th August 1962 and information of the incident was given to the O.C., Mal police-station, on 9th August 1962 by an employee of the Garden and a case was started by the Police. This fact instead of supporting the case of the Union, lends support to the case of the Company that some of the workmen were trying to create disturbance and hampered the smooth running of the Garden. There is no satisfactory evidence on record to show that the workmen were compelled to resort to strike on account of acts of repression on the workers by the management as alleged in the written statement of the Union. There is no justification for the strike all on a sudden and he srikte for the period from 10th August 1962 to 8th September 1962 cannot therefore be held justified. It is now well-settled that workmen cannot claim wages when strike is found to be unjustified. Moreover, it appears that a joint conference between the representative of the Union and the representative of the Company was held in presence of the Deputy Labour Commissioner, Jalpaiguri, on 8th September 1962 over the two strikes which were resorted to by the workmen and an agreement was reached on certain terms. This agreement has been marked Ext. Q and it also bears the signature of the Conciliation Officer besides the signatures of the representative of the Union and the representative of the employer. There is nothing in this memorandum of settlement, Ext. Q, to show that any claim for wages was set up by the workmen for the strike period and in the absence of any such term in this memorandum of settlement, it can reasonably be said that the Union did not set up any claim for wages for the workmen at the time the agreement was made during the strike period, nor was this question left open to be considered subsequently. There appears to be no doubt that the Union did not claim wages for the workmen during strike period and as such, this question did not arise for consideration at the time the memorandum of settlement was made between the parties on terms agreed upon by them. The workmen, therefore, are not entitled to get wages for the strike period as claimed by them. This issue is accordingly disposed of.

This is my award.

By order of the Governor,
S. C. MUKHERJEE, Asst. Secy.

No. 6222-I.R./IR/1A-20(D)/64.—18th November 1964.—Whereas by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, notification No. 6221-I.R./IR/1A-20(D)/64, dated 18th November 1964 under sub-rule (1) of rule 126-AA of the Defence of India Rules, 1962 (hereinafter referred to as the said rule), employment in the Company styled the Braithwaite Burn and Jessop Construction Company Limited, Victoria Works of P-61 Circular Garden Reach Road, Kidderpore, Calcutta (hereinafter referred to as such employment), has been declared to be employment to which the said rule applies;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by sub-rule (4) of the said rule, the Governor is pleased hereby to regulate dearness allowance payable to persons who are workmen as defined in clause (S) of section 2 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), and are engaged in such employment (hereinafter referred to as the said workmen), in the following manner, that is to say,—

(a) for the month of September 1964 a sum of rupees ten in addition to such amount as would be payable to them as dearness allowance following the principles laid down in the award, dated the 13th October 1958, of the Third Major Engineering Tribunal published with the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 4427-I.R./IR/10L-4(D)/57, dated the 15th October 1958, at pages 5413 to 5454 of Part I of the "Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary" of the 5th November 1958 such total amount of dearness allowance thus calculated (hereinafter referred to as the consolidated dearness allowance) being linked to the cost of living index figure 465 in relation to the base year 1939 (hereinafter referred to as the said index figure); and

(b) for every month after the month of September 1964 the consolidated dearness allowance increased or decreased, as the case may be, at the rate of twenty paise per point of rise or fall in the said index figure calculated on the average of three months next proceeding;

Provided that the consolidated dearness allowance once increased or decreased shall not be further changed until after a period of three months.

By order of the Governor,
S. M. BHATTACHARJI, Secy.

No. 6248-I.R./IR/11L-159/63. — 20th November 1964.— Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 4106-I.R./IR/11L-159/63, dated the 30th September 1963, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Eastern Traders Syndicate, 6 Muralidhar Sen Lane, Calcutta-7, and their workmen represented by Glass Blowers' Union, 14/2C Nirode Behari Mullick Road, Calcutta-6, regarding the issue mentioned in the said order being a matter specified in the Second Schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the Fourth Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Fourth Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Eastern Traders Syndicate, 6 Muralidhar Sen Lane, Calcutta-7, and their workmen represented by Glass Blowers' Union, 14/2C Nirode Behari Mullick Road, Calcutta-6 (Government Order No. 4106-I.R., dated 30th September 1963.) (VIII-225/63.)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri R. BHATTACHARYA, Judge,
Fourth Industrial Tribunal

For the Company: Shri K. K. Moitra, Advocate.

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The parties are Messrs. Eastern Traders Syndicate, 6 Muralidhar Sen Lane, Calcutta-7, and their workmen represented by Glass Blowers' Union, 14/2C Nirode Behari Mullick Road, Calcutta-6. The issue has been framed in the following words:

Issue

Whether the dismissal of the five workmen noted below is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled:—

(i) Shri Purna Bardhan.

(ii) Shri Santi Ranjan Dey.

(iii) Shri Mukul Lal Sarkar.

(iv) Shri Amulya Ch. Dutta.

(v) Shri Satya Ranjan Paul.

In short, the case of the Union representing the workmen as stated in the written statement is that there was a dispute between the management of Messrs. Eastern Traders Syndicate (hereinafter described as the Company), and their workmen over the question of Provident Fund and allotment of work to the workmen. On 18th May 1963 Purna Chandra Bardhan came to the factory and he was given a piece of work of which he had no previous experience and which he was not able to do. He objected to the allotment of work but he was abused by the management and suspended forthwith. That very day Shri Bardhan was given chargesheet and on the very day the four other workmen were also given chargesheets. These five persons replied to the chargesheets denying the allegations. On 24th June 1963 when Shri Bardhan and four others mentioned in the order of reference came to the factory, they were verbally directed by Shri Ajit Das, the Manager of the factory, not to take up any duty. These workmen had to come back from the factory and the matter was referred to the government. It has been alleged that these persons were dismissed from service illegally and without any enquiry.

The Company, on the other hand, has stated in its written statement that the Glass Blowers' Union does not represent the workmen of this factory and that it has no locus standi to represent the workmen. The case of the Company is that this is not an industrial dispute and that the workmen are not interested in the issue. Regarding the merits of the case it has been alleged that on 18th May 1963 Shri Purna Bardhan abused the partner of the Company, Shri Satya Ranjan Dutta, and attempted to assault him without any provocation while the said partner was distributing the duties to the workmen. While Shri Bardhan was misbehaving with the partner, Santi Ranjan Dey, Mukul Lal Sarkar, Amulya Ch. Dutta and Satya Ranjan Paul joined him by using abusive language and holding out intimidation. On the ground of insubordination and disorderly conduct, these persons were chargesheeted on the very day of incident. The police-station was informed. The chargesheeted persons submitted their explanations. The explanations were unsatisfactory. In the meantime the chargesheeted persons started various illegal activities for which the management of the Company could not hold domestic enquiry. As the situation did not improve, Shri Bardhan and others were removed from service without any enquiry.

Out of the five dismissed workmen mentioned in the order of reference, Purna Bardhan and Mukul Sarkar filed two applications stating that the dispute between them and the Company had been settled and that their names may be deleted from the order of reference or cancelled. At the time of hearing also the Union has submitted before me that it has no interest in the cases of Shri Bardhan and Shri Sarkar, and that their cases would not be pressed.

I shall, however, consider the case of the other three persons mentioned in the issue. They are Santi Ranjan Dey, Amulya Ch. Dutta and Satya Ranjan Paul. It is admitted that no inquiry was held against any of the dismissed workmen. It is also admitted that they were dismissed. The case of the Union is that the workmen have been dismissed because of their gross misconduct and insubordination. Ext. A(1) is the copy of the chargesheet in respect of Shri Bardhan. The allegation in the chargesheet is that on 18th May 1963 at about 10 a.m. Shri Bardhan abused and attempted to assault Satya Ranjan Dutta, the partner of the Company, without any reason or provocation. He was asked to explain his conduct. Ext. A will show the nature of allegations made against Amulya Dutta, Santi Ranjan Dey, Satya Ranjan Paul and Mukul Sarkar. It is dated 18th May 1963. The charge is that when Shri Bardhan abused and attempted to assault Satya Ranjan Dutta, Santi Dey and others joined him and helped him in the matter. These four persons were also asked to explain their conduct. The chargesheeted persons submitted their explanations. They are Ext. B series. Shri Bardhan stated that he was abused and that the allegations made in the chargesheet were all false. Mukul Sarkar stated that at the time of alleged incident he was at his house. The case of Satya Ranjan Paul in his explanation, dated 20th May 1963, is that the allegations were false and that at the time of alleged incident he was working in his own seat. Amulya Dutta has stated that he was not involved in the alleged incident and that he was doing his duty at his own place. Santi Dey has stated that at the time of the alleged incident he was not in the factory. It is to be noted that he has not stated in the explanation submitted that at the time of alleged incident he was doing his duty elsewhere. However, he had denied the allegations. The Company demanded further explanation from the chargesheeted persons and the copies of the letters are Ext. C series. Explanations were also submitted and they are Ext. E series. Amulya Dutta stated that at the time of the alleged incident he was in his seat and was doing his duty. Mukul Sarkar stated that he was not in the factory at 10 a.m. on 18th May 1963. Santi Dey stated that on 18th May 1963 he was not in the factory at 10 a.m.

On the side of the workmen three witnesses have been examined. They are Santi Ranjan Dey, Satya Ranjan Paul and Amulya Dutta, the chargesheeted persons, and no one else to support them. P.W. 1, Santi Ranjan Dey, has stated that he was not at all present at the factory at the time of the alleged incident. He does not know whether Shri Bardhan had created any disturbance on 18th May 1963. His evidence is that he attended the factory after 10-30 a.m. He has admitted that in case any workman comes after 10-30 a.m., he is to obtain permission to join his duty and, according to this witness, he obtained such permission from Ajit Das, who looks after the management in the absence of Satya Ranjan Dutta. He wants to say that at about 10-30 a.m. he joined his duty on 18th May 1963. In his explanation, in reply to the chargesheet, he has simply stated that at the time of alleged incident he was not in the factory. He has not stated that on 18th May 1963 he came late and that he was not present at about 10 a.m. P.W. 2 is Satya Ranjan Paul. His evidence is that he knows nothing about any dispute between Shri Bardhan and the Company or any quarrel between Shri Bardhan and Shri Satya Ranjan Dutta. He has stated that at about 9-35 a.m. on 18th May 1963 he was allotted duty and he immediately started working. He has denied the allegations that Shri Bardhan abused or attempted to assault Shri Satya Ranjan Dutta or that he joined in the matter. The other witness is Amulya Dutta. He also says that he does not know whether Shri Bardhan abused or assaulted Satya Ranjan Dutta. According to him, he was allotted duty on 18th May 1963 at 10-5 a.m. He has denied the allegations made in the chargesheet.

On the side of the Company four witnesses have been examined. Satya Ranjan Dutta, the partner of the Company, is O.P.W. 1. He himself has stated how Shri Bardhan abused him and threatened to kill him by pressing his neck and how Shri Bardhan attempted to assault him. Satya Ranjan Dutta, O.P.W. 1, has stated that Kishore came to his rescue and at the time of incident Bankim Babu and Ajit Babu were also present and they intervened. O.P.W. 1 has further stated that he came to the main office at College Street. According to him, no inquiry could be held against the chargesheeted workmen as the workmen went beyond control and wanted to assault him. O.P.W. 2 is Ajit Das, who looks after the management in the absence of the partner, Shri Dutta. His evidence is that on 18th May 1963 at about 10 a.m. Purna Bardhan came for allotment of duty and when Satya Ranjan Dutta allotted duties for ampoules, Shri Bardhan was unwilling to do that work. Shri Bardhan also called Satya Babu "sala" and approached him saying that he would teach Satya Babu by pressing his neck. From this witness we also get that Mukul Sarkar, Satya Paul and Santi Ranjan Dey abused the partner. This witness has denied that on 18th May 1963 Santi Dey had come late or that he was allowed to work under special permission. O.P.W. 3 is Bankim Ch. Ghosh. He has also supported O.P.Ws. 1 and 2 regarding the allegations made in the chargesheet. O.P.W. 4 is Krishna Kishore Chakraborty who has been referred to as Kishore. He also supports the Company's case. From the evidence adduced in this case, it is clear that the witnesses examined on behalf of the workmen are unreliable and that they are not corroborated by any reliable witness or evidence. The Company's witnesses should be believed. Satya Ranjan Dutta has been well corroborated by other competent and necessary witnesses. I find no reason to disbelieve them. The allegations made in the chargesheets are well proved and I am satisfied that the chargesheeted persons were guilty of gross insubordination and rowdyism on account of their using abusive language to their superior officer and holding out threats of assault. It is clear from the evidence that besides using abusive language to the superior officer. Santi Dey, Satya Paul, and Amulya Dutta aided and abated Shri Bardhan in his misconduct. The evidence also shows that the partner, Shri Satya Ranjan Dutta, could not attend the factory after the incident for a considerable period on account of illegal activities of the chargesheeted persons and that it was not possible for him to hold any inquiry. I am satisfied that the dismissal of the chargesheeted persons were justified, legal and proper. There is no malice in it.

The other question is whether the present dispute is an industrial dispute according to the Industrial Disputes Act. I am to decide whether the Glass Blowers' Union has locus standi to represent the workmen of the Company and whether the dismissal of these particular workmen were taken up by other workmen so as to bring it under the definition of "industrial dispute". P.W. 1 has stated that about 50 or 60 workers work in the factory and that they are all members of the Glass Blowers' Union. This witness has asserted that there are papers with the Union to prove this fact. He has denied the suggestion that the workmen of the Company are not members of the Union. This witness has further stated that he has receipts to show that he has paid subscriptions to the Union. He was examined on 4th November 1964. On the following day the Union examined two other witnesses. It is curious to note that the Union did not care or dare to examine any competent witness of the Union itself to show that all the workmen or at least an appreciable number of the workmen were members of the Union. Nobody has stated that all the workmen or a substantial portion of the workmen took up the cause of the dismissed workmen and requested the Union to espouse their cause. P.W. 2 has stated that all the workmen of the Company pay subscription to the Union. There is no reliable or documentary evidence in support of this statement. This witness has stated that the counterfoils of the receipts are lying with the Union but they have not been produced before the Tribunal by the Union and no explanation has been submitted for non-examination of any official of the Union or non-production of necessary and important documents. It may be that one or two workmen of this Company were members of the Union but that does not mean that the Union has gained status or authority to represent the workmen before this Tribunal. The Union knew from the written statement of the Company that its status to represent the workmen had been challenged but in spite of such objection from the side of the Company, the Union did not prove that it had authority to represent the workmen of the Company in the present reference before this Tribunal. From the evidence and circumstances of this case, I am inclined to hold that the present dispute is not an industrial dispute and that the Glass Blowers' Union has no locus standi to represent the workmen of the Company in the present reference.

In view of my findings above, the reference is decided against the workmen and in favour of the Company. The workmen are not entitled to get any relief.

Shri R. BHATTACHARYA, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed by Shri Bhagirathi Tewari against Messrs. Shree Lakshmi Flour Mills Ltd. Today was fixed for hearing of the matter but the applicant Shri Tewari files an application stating that the matter has been amicably settled between him and the company and that he is working in the mill at present. As the matter has been settled, the petitioner craves leave to withdraw the application. I have considered the matter and as the matter has been mutually compromised, the prayer of the petitioner is allowed and the original application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act stands withdrawn.

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri K. P. MUKHERJI, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal

The above dispute over the issue given in the order of reference and reproduced below was referred for adjudication to this Tribunal by Government order No. 2238-I.R./IR/10L-5/64, dated 17th June 1964.

Bonus for the year 1962 payable in 1963.

After receipt of the reference on 20th June 1964 usual notices were issued to the parties fixing 23rd July 1964 for appearance and for filing of the written statement by the Union. The Company entered appearance on 17th July 1964 and the Union on 23rd July 1964. The Union filed its written statement on 2nd September 1964, and the Company was allowed time till 24th September 1964 for filing written statement. The Company was again allowed time till 30th October 1964 for filing written statement; but the Company was absent and took no steps on that date. The case was again adjourned to 18th November 1964 for filing written statement by the Company. On 10th November 1964 a joint petition of compromise was filed by the parties stating that the dispute under reference had been amicably settled between the parties out of Court on term agreed upon and contained in the petition of compromise. The terms appear to be quite fair and reasonable, and I am satisfied that there has been a bona fide settlement of the dispute between the parties. I accept the petition of compromise and pass a "no dispute" award accordingly. The petition of compromise do form part of the award as Annexure.

The humble joint petition of Messrs. S. C. Das & Co. (Pvt.) Ltd., and their workmen represented by Howrah Small Factories Workers' Union.

Most respectfully sheweth:

That in the aforesaid bonus dispute the parties have come to an amicable settlement and have agreed as follows:—

That for the year 1962, i.e., the year in the dispute the Company will pay the workmen 37 days' basic wages as bonus and the advance of 33 days' basic wages paid to them by agreement, dated 18th October 1963, will be adjusted against such payment of the aforesaid bonus. Thus the payment of 37 days' basic wages as bonus will finally settle the dispute referred to this Tribunal under the above order of reference.

Under the above circumstances both the parties aforesaid humbly pray that your Honour will be pleased to accept the same and pass an award of no dispute in the aforesaid light with this agreement forgoing part of the award.

LABOUR DEPARTMENT

ORDERS

No. 6312-I.R./IR/9L-7/62.—25th November 1964. Whereas an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Birpara Tea Company Limited, Birpara Tea Estate, P.O. Birpara, district Jalpaiguri, and their workmen represented by the Duars Cha Bagan Workers' Union, P.O. Kalchini, district Jalpaiguri, relating to the matter specified in the Second Schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred by the employer and the workmen to arbitration of the Arbitrator named in the Arbitration Agreement published under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department Order No. 4594-I.R./IR/9L-7/62, dated the 9th November 1963;

And whereas the arbitration award on the said industrial dispute given by the said Arbitrator was received by the State Government on the 18th November 1964;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of sub-section (1) of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an arbitration reference of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Birpara Tea Company Ltd., Birpara Tea Estate, P.O. Birpara, district Jalpaiguri, and their workmen represented by Duars Cha Bagan Workers' Union, P.O. Kalchini, district Jalpaiguri, by a Voluntary Agreement between the parties and in the matter of Government order No. 4594-I.R./IR/9L-7/62, dated 9th November 1963, under section 10A(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act regarding the said matter. [Case No. VIII-E-3/63, under section 10(A)(3).]

BEFORE THE SEVENTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri S. K. ROY, Judge.

Appearances:

For the Union: Shri Anil Das Chowdhury, Vice-President, assisted by Shri M. Chatterjee, Secretary.

For the Company: Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate, assisted by Shri J. K. Ghosh, Advocate of Messrs. Orr. Dignam & Co., Solicitors.

An industrial dispute between Messrs. Birpara Tea Company Ltd., the Employers, and their workmen represented by the Duars Cha Bagan Workers' Union, over the issue of dismissal of Ghuran Pesha Sirdar, a worker in the Tea Garden, for habitual absenteeism, has been referred to me for arbitration under section 10(A) of the Industrial Disputes Act, by an agreement between the parties to the dispute. A copy of the arbitration agreement was forwarded to me from the Labour Department of the Government of West Bengal and I endorsed in it my consent to act as Arbitrator in respect of the matter in dispute specified in the agreement. The agreement was thereafter published in the "Calcutta Gazette" under Government order No. 4595-I.R./IR/9L-7/62, dated the 9th November 1963, according to the provisions of section 10(A)(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act.

In order to investigate the dispute referred to me for arbitration, I issued notice to the parties. Both parties filed their respective written statements regarding the dispute. Thereafter necessary interlocutory proceedings for production of documents were taken. When the case became ready for hearing, Shri Anil Das Chowdhury, Advocate for the Union, filed a petition praying for hearing of the arbitration matter at Darjeeling. The Company had no objection to the Union's prayer. Ultimately the case was fixed for hearing at Darjeeling from 2nd November 1964 to 5th November 1964. At the sitting held on 2nd November 1964 at Darjeeling in presence of Shri Anil Das Chowdhury, Advocate and Shri M. Chatterjee, Secretary of the Union, as representatives of the Union, and Shri S. C. Sen and Shri J. K. Ghosh, Advocates for the Company, it was intimated that the dispute had been amicably settled and the parties would file a joint petition of compromise. After some discussions a joint petition of compromise was filed. The petition was directed to be put up on 4th November 1964 for consideration, 3rd November 1964 being a holiday for Kali Puja. On 4th November 1964 the terms of the compromise were duly considered. Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate for the Company, appeared on that date but there was no appearance on behalf of the Union.

It appears from the terms of the compromise petition that the parties have agreed that the dismissal of the concerned workman, Ghuran, is justified and in accordance with the Standing Orders and shall accordingly stand, but there is an appeal by the Union and the concerned workman to the Company for a gratuitous payment to the workman on compassionate considerations and the Company has agreed to consider the appeal. As the parties to the dispute have amicably settled the dispute on the above terms and have prayed for disposal of the case on those terms, I as an Arbitrator cannot but accept the terms and make an award on the basis of the terms. I am satisfied that there has been a voluntary settlement of the dispute on those terms.

In the result, I accept the joint petition of compromise filed by the parties before this Tribunal on 2nd November 1964 and make an arbitration award in terms of the said petition. A copy of the petition is made a part of the award as an annexure.

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Central Calcutta Co-operative Power Loom Society Ltd., 48 Gowshala Road, Lilooah, Howrah, and their workmen represented by Howrah District Co-operative Weaving and Cotton Factories Mazdoor Sangh, 119/1 Shiva Gopal Banerjee Lane, Ghusury, Howrah. (Case No. VIII-237/63.)

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri A. P. BHATTACHARYA, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri S. Sen, Advocate.

For the Union: None.

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department Order No. 4202-I.R./IR/8L-28/63, dated 4th October 1963, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. Central Calcutta Co-operative Power Loom Society Ltd., 48 Gowshala Road, Lilooah, Howrah (hereinafter referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Howrah District Co-operative Weaving and Cotton Factories Mazdoor Sangh, 119/1 Shiva Gopal Banerjee Lane, Ghusury, Howrah (hereinafter referred to as the Union) for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The only issue framed in this case for adjudication runs as follows:—

Whether the dismissal of Shri Ali Hossain is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

AWARD

The Union alleged that the workman Shri Ali Hussain was victimised by way of dismissal for his Union activities. Ali Hussain did not abuse the Supervisor-in-charge, Shri Haridas Mehata on 25th December 1962 as alleged.

The Company filed a written statement upholding the charge against Ali Hussain. Ali Hussain went to the Supervisor-in-charge Shri Haridas Mehata and asked him to re-employ Mahabir, a casual worker, which Shri Mehata refused. At this Ali Hussain abused Shri Mehata and threatened him with violence. The second charge against Ali Hussain was that he abused and threatened with violence one Abu Hussain, a Jobber. Both Abu Hussain and Shri Haridas Mehata are superior officers of Ali Hussain. There was an enquiry held against Ali Hussain, and the Enquiring Officer found him guilty of the charges levelled against him with the result that he was dismissed.

Decision

Today was last fixed for hearing of the case, but the Union did not turn up. The Union was also found absent on previous dates. It appears that the Union has no interest in pursuing the case. On the other hand, the Company has proved by oral and documentary evidence that Ali Hussain was dismissed on a charge which has been proved by an enquiry. The charge-sheet against Ali Hussain is Ext. A. Ali Hussain abused his superior officers Shri Haridas Mehata and Abu Hussain. He submitted an explanation to the charge-sheet and an enquiry was held by Shri Mohan Bajoria, Chairman of the Society after due notification. Abu Hussain and Haridas Mehata were examined at the enquiry, but Ali Hussain declined to cross-examine them. The evidence of these two persons will prove that Ali Hussain was guilty of misconduct for which he was rightly dismissed. The Enquiring Officer found him guilty and he was dismissed. The dismissal is accordingly held to be justified.

This is my award.

Issue

Whether the suspension of Sarbasri K. P. Goswami and Robilochan Mukherjee with effect from 12th February 1964 is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

20th November 1964 was fixed for filing written statement by the union. On 14th November 1964 two joint applications were filed—one signed by the Works Manager of the Company and Robilochan Mukherjee and the other by the company and K. P. Goswami. In both the petitions the company and the suspended workmen mentioned in the order of reference have prayed for making a no dispute award as the matters have already been amicably settled. The terms of settlement between the parties have also been filed. I have considered the petitions and the terms, and I hold that the settlements are voluntary and legal and that there is at present no dispute. In the circumstances, I hereby make a no dispute award.

This reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act arises out of the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 1129-I.R./IR/11L-78/64, dated the 12th March 1964, over a dispute between Messrs. Eastern Traders Syndicate, 6 Muralidhar Sen Lane. Calcutta-7, and their workmen represented by Glass Blowers' Union, 14/2C

Nirode Behari Mullick Road, Calcutta-6. The issue is as follows:

Issue

Whether the termination of employment of Shri Rakhal Chandra Nandy is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

In short, the case of the Glass Blowers' Union (hereinafter referred to as the Union), appearing in the written satement is that Shri Rakhal Chandra Nandy was a workmen of Messrs. Eastern Traders Syndicate (hereinafter described as the company). His service was terminated by a notice, dated 29th July 1963. Thereafter the workman was not allowed to do work in the company. The workmen thereafter approached the union for necessary conciliation and relief. It is also alleged that the union of the workman met Shri Dutta, one of the partners of the company, on 19th August 1963, and Shri Dutta assured that on receipt of the explanation to be submitted by the workman in question, proper enquiry would be made. Thereafter Shri Nandi submitted his explanation on 21st August 1963 denying the allegations made in the letter, dated 29th July 1963. After the receipt of the explanation the management did not hold any enquiry. The case of the union is that the dismissal of Shri Nandi was illegal, mala fide and improper. The union prays for reinstatement of the workman with all back wages.

The company, in its written statement, has denied the allegations made by the union. It has been alleged that the Glass Blowers' Union has no connection with or activities in the company. The workmen of the company are not members of the said union, and the union does not represent the workmen of the factory. It is also stated that the workers are not members of the said union. The company has challenged the locus standi to raise the present dispute. The dispute, according to the company, if any, is not an industrial dispute. The company has challenged the jurisdiction of this tribunal to try the case with regard to the merits of the case. It has been alleged that the company did not terminate the service of Shri Nandi by a letter, dated 29th July 1963. There was a complaint against Shri Nandi that he had assaulted one Patit Paban Chakraborty, a co-worker, while on duty. Shri Nandi was charge-sheeted and put under suspension pending enquiry by the letter, dated 29th July 1963. After the receipt of the charge-sheet Shri Nandi did not care to submit his explanation, and the company concluded that Shri Nandi has no explanation to offer. Shri Nandi was, therefore, discharged from his service by a letter, dated 7th August 1963, without holding any enquiry. The company's case is that the dismissal of Shri Nandi was justified and bona fide.

At the time of hearing both the parties agreed that in the absence of the enquiry both the parties would lead evidence regarding the merits of the allegations made in the charge-sheet. On the side of the union Rakhal Ch. Nandy has been examined as P.W. 1. He has denied that he assaulted Patit Paban Chakraborty as alleged by the company. He has stated that on 29th July 1963 he received the charge-sheet. He says that he gave a reply to the charge-sheet on 21st August 1963. The copy of the reply is marked Ext. 2. His evidence is that the company gave him assurance to give work but ultimately he was asked to submit explanation. He says that due to the assurance given by the company, there was delay in submitting his explanation. He has denied that he ever received any letter of dismissal from the company. He has also stated that previously there was a union in this factory but at about the time of dismissal there was no seperate union in the factory. He does not admit that he ever received any letter of dismissal, dated 7th August 1963. He says that he has receipts granted by the union to prove that he was a member of the union. No other witness has been examined on the side of the union to support P.W. 1.

On the side of the company the partner of the company has been examined as O.P.W. 1. He has stated that while he was on his rounds inside the factory on 26th July 1963, he actually saw Rakhal Nandy fisting Patit Paban Chakraborty, another workman. He challenged Shri Nandi but the latter was defiant. He also says that at present Shri Chakraborty is no longer in the service of the company and the whereabouts of Shri Chakraborty or his Boudi who was present at the time of assault, are not known. On 27th July 1963 the company received the written complaint submitted by Shri Chakraborty. It is marked Ext. A. It was forwarded by Shri Ajit Das, the charge-man of the factory. The charge-sheet was issued to Shri Nandi and it is Ext. 1. According to O.P.W. 1 the company did not receive any reply from Shri Nandi. The witness says that as no reply was received from Shri Nandi, a letter of dismissal was sent to him. The copy of the dismissal letter is Ext. B. It is dated 7th August 1963. The certificate of posting is Ext. B/1. The company did not get any letter even after the dismissal. The witness has said that no letter, dated 21st August 1963, from Shri Nandi was received by the company. He has denied that any assurance was given to Shri Nandi. The explanation for not holding the enquiry is that as Shri Nandi did not submit any explanation in reply to the charge-sheet, it was presumed that Shri Nandi had no explanation to offer. Shri Dutta, O.P.W. 1, has stated further that Ajit Das and one Girin Chakraborty were present at the time of assault. O.P.W. 2 is Ajit Das. He has stated that at about 3 p.m. on 26th July 1963 he accompanied Shri Dutta inside the factory. He also saw Shri Nandi giving 2 or 3 fist blows on Patit Paban Chakraborty. During the examination-in-chief he has stated that on the day of incident the complaint was filed and he gave his endorsement. He has been confronted with Ext. A, the written complaint, and he says that he was mistaken when he said that the complaint was filed on the day of incident. In fact, it was submitted and written on 27th July 1963 and it was forwarded by him on that day. This contradiction is trifling no doubt for loss of memory. O.P.W. 3 is Girin Chakraborty, another employee of the company. He has also supported the story of the assault by Shri Nandi.

In this case two points have been urged from the side of the company. The first point is that the union has no locus standi to represent the workmen of the company and that the present dispute is not an industrial dispute. This point was specifically taken in the written statement but in spite of the fact the union has not examined any witness to show that the union is competent to espouse the cause of the workmen, that the workmen of the company took up this cause or that the workmen authorised the union to take up the cause. P.W. 1 does not say any where that the workmen of the company or an appreciable number of the workmen belong to the union, or that a substantial portion of the workmen took up the cause of the dismissed workman or that the union, in fact, took up the cause duly authorised by the workman to expouse on behalf of the workman. There is no evidence before me to substantiate the fact that the dismissal of this particular workman was taken up by a number of workmen of the company or that the Glass Blowers Union was the representative body of a substantial portion of the workmen or that the said union had authority to expouse the cause. It is strange that nobody on behalf of the union has come forward to depose before this Tribunal in this case. In view of the evidence on records and the circumstances, I am satisfied that the present dispute is not an industrial dispute according to the Industrial Disputes Act, and that the union before me is not competent to persue this dispute before this Tribunal. The reference is incompetent and the Tribunal has no jurisdiction.

Regarding the merits of the case it is admitted that no enquiry was held. I am to decide whether the dismissal of Shri Nandi was justified and legal. The evidence shows that Shri Patit Paban Chakraborty who was assaulted, is no longer in service of the company and that the whereabout of Shri Chakraborty or his boudi who was present at the time of incident are not known to the company. P.W. 1 has admitted that he does not know whether at present Shri Chakraborty works in the company. The non-examination of Shri Chakraborty or his boudi has been amply explained by the company. The assault by Shri Nandi on Shri Chakraborty has been described by Shri Dutta, the partner of the company who was at the relevant time on his rounds. Ajit Das, the charge-man, and Girin Chakraborty, a checker, have been examined in this case. They have corroborated O.P.W. 1 regarding the assault. All these three persons were eye-witnesses. It has been amply proved that on 26th July 1963 at about 3 p.m. Shri Nandi assaulted Shri Chakraborty, a co-worker, while on duty without any justification. This is an instance of gross insubordination and indisciplined behaviour wich should not be allowed to prevail in the factory, for the best interest of the industry. The charge-sheet is Ext. 1. It has been stated herein that on 26th July 1963 Shri Nandi gave 2 or 3 fist blows on Shri Patit Chakraborty . By this letter Shri Nandi was asked to explain his conduct and in the mean time he was suspended. I cannot hold that this Ext. 1 is the letter of dismissal. The company relies upon Ext. B to show that by this letter Shri Nandi was dismissed. This letter was sent under certificate of posting. The certificate of posting is Ext. B/1. At the time of argument the certificate of posting was not challenged in any way. The address given on Ext. B/1 has neither been challenged. In the absence of other evidence I cannot hold that the letter of dismissal did not reach the delinquent. The charge-sheet was delivered on the delinquent on 29th July 1963. This is admitted. P.W. 1 wants to say that he gave a reply to this charge-sheet on 21st August 1963. He has filed a copy of the alleged reply. That is Ext. 2. The receipt of this letter has been denied by the company. There is no reliable evidence before me that this reply was actually sent to the company or that it was received by the company. Even if this letter was sent, it cannot be treated as a bona fide one. P.W. 1 wants to say that he approached the management and he was assured about work and at that time he was told to submit an explanation. The delay has been explained in this way. In the written statement of the union it was stated that the union approached the management. There is no indication that the delinquent was assured of any work. Nobody from the union has been examined. I disbelieve P.W. 1 when he says that he approached the company and was assured of work. It is very reasonable to hold that if any letter like Ext. 2 was at all sent, though I do not believe it, it was a mala fide one to set up a false case. It was surely an after thought. However, I find that the charge levelled against Shri Nandi has been sufficiently proved and that the company was justified in dismissing him from service by the letter, dated 7th August 1963. The dismissal of Rakhal Chandra Nandi is justified, legal and bona fide. The workman is not entitled to get any relief. The reference is thus decided in favour of the company.

The present reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act arises out of the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 5850-I.R./IR/10L-166(A)/64, dated 26th October 1964, and the dispute is between Messrs. Electric Construction and Equipment Co. Ltd., E. C. E., Switchgear and Lift Division, P. O. Parbangla, 24-Parganas, and their workmen represented by the E. C. & E. (Switchgear and Lift Division) Mazdoor Union, 52/7 Bepin Behari Ganguly Street, Calcutta-12. The issue has been framed as follows:

Issue

Whether the dismissal of Shri Subal Chandra Saha is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

The reference order was received by this Tribunal on 30th October 1964 and notices were duly issued to the parties. On 13th November 1964 a joint petition of compromise was filed by the employer and the dismissed workman stating that the case of the aggrieved workman had been settled amicably and that the workman had no grievance. The prayer in the petition was for making a no dispute award. Today is fixed for appearance and filing of the written statement by the Union. Prosanta Das Gupta, the President of the Union, appears today and produces a written statement prepared for the union. When he learns that the dispute has been amicably settled between Subal Chandra Saha, the dismissed workman, and Messrs. Electric Construction and Equipment Co. Ltd., the employer, and that the dismissed workman has no interest or claim, it is submitted from the side of the union that it has, therefore, no interest in the dispute as well, as the aggrieved person has no grievance at present. The union, therefore, does not like to contest. On consideration of the petition filed by the employer and the dismissed workman and the circumstances, I am satisfied that the aggrieved workman has no grievance and that there is no dispute at present.

In the result, I make a no dispute award.

AWARD

This is a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, filed by a workman Dukhiram Nayak against his employer Messrs. Universal Rope Works of contravention of the provision of section 33 in the matter of his discharge/dismissal effected from 25th November 1963.

The workman's case is that he was in service of the company for nearly 19 years and lastly he was earning Rs. 12-14 annas per week on the average. He became a member of the trade union after its formation in 1961 which was not to the liking of the company. So, the company started to victimise the workmen who became members of the union, and this workman was similarly victimised by refusal of employment with effect from 25th November 1963 which action of the company amounted to dismissal/ discharge without compliance of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. Hence, this application for his reinstatement with arrears of wages for the period of forced unemployment.

The opposite party company resisted the application by filing written statement in which the allegation of victimisation has been denied. It has been contended that this application is not maintainable in view of the fact that the workman concerned was neither discharged nor dismissed from service but it was a case of refusal of employment to him on account of the fact that the nature of the work performed by the workman concerned required three workmen to work in a team. The other two workmen of the team having already left, the concerned workman could not be provided with any work. He was not at all charge sheeted for any misconduct or discharged or dismissed for proved misconduct. Therefore, question of compliance with the provisions of section 33(2)(b) proviso does not arise. There is no contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The application is accordingly not maintainable.

I, therefore, proceed to consider the preliminary objection raised by the opposite party company. Admittedly there was a proceeding under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act pending before this tribunal at the relevant time, i.e., on the 25th of November 1963 when the complainant (workman) was refused employment by the company. It is also admitted that the workman was not charge-sheeted. There was no enquiry and no order of dismissal or discharge in respect of the said workman. But the workman was refused employment with effect from 25th November 1963. He was a piece-rated workman and not a permanent monthly wage earner. His earning depended on his daily production in company with two others. The nature of the work he used to do required three workmen to work together. According to the company two other workmen of his group having left, he could not given work. But the workman's case is that he having joined the trade union that was formed in the year 1961, the company victimised him by refusing to give him work. Be that as it may, the fact remains that he was not dismissed or discharged for any misconduct. But it has been contended by Shri Banerji appearing for the workman that although it was not a dismissal or discharge for proved misconduct but the way in which the workman has been denied any work amounts to dismissal or discharge simpliciter, and as such the tribunal has jurisdiction to entertian the present application. This contention of Shri Banerji has been challenged by Shri P. R. Mukherji appearing for the company as unsound. Let me consider the section itself. It is provided in section 33(2) that "during the pendency of any such proceeding of an industrial dispute, the employer may, in accordance with the standing orders, applicable to a workman concerned in such dispute;—

* * *(b) for any misconduct not connected with the dispute, discharge or punish, whether by dismissal or otherwise, that workman:

Provided that no such workman shall be discharged or dismissed, unless he has been paid wages for one month and an application has been made by the employer to the authority before which the proceeding is pending for approval of the action taken by the employer.

It clearly appears that the employer is required to comply with the provisions contained in the proviso to section 33(2)(b) only when the workman is discharged or dismissed, and that dismissal or discharge must be for any misconduct not connected with the dispute under reference before this tribunal. Admittedly in the instant case there was no question of misconduct. The workman was not charge-sheeted for any misconduct and there was no dismissal or discharge for any proved, misconduct but the workman himself admits that it is a case of refusal by the company to give him work. He was not charged for any misconduct. His allegation is that he having joined the trade union, the company victimised him by refusal of employment. But there is no evidence to show his trade union activities for which any exception was ever taken by his employer. According to him he was in service of the company for 19 years. Company, of course, does not admit this. According to the workman he is aged 60 years, and he has been working for 19 years. Company does not dispute the age but disputes the length of service as alleged by him. However, in absence of evidence it is very difficult to believe trade union activities, if any, of this old man. No doubt there has been refusal of employment of this workman by the company, but it was not as a result of any misconduct on his part either alleged by him or by the company. There was no order of dismissal or discharge in connection with any misconduct on his part. It is a case of refusal of employment to the workman. It has been held by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Feroz Din versus State of West Bengal (1960 1 L.L.J. page 244 at page 249) that "it, therefore, seems to us that the words 'refusal by an employer to continue to employ any number of persons employed by him' in section 2(l) do not include the discharge of an employee.* * *". Therefore, in my view this case does not come within the purview of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The application is accordingly rejected as not maintainable. The workman, however, if so advised, may seek his relief in a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The complaint is rejected.

No. 6349-I.R./IR/11L-52/64.—28th November 1964.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 760-I.R./IR/11L-52/64, dated the 22nd February 1964, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Opera Cinema of 5 Dharamtalla Street, Calcutta-13, and their workmen represented by Bengal Motion Picture Employees' Union, 126A Dharamtolla Street, Calcutta-13, regarding the issue mentioned in the said order being a matter specified in the second schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the Third Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Third Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Opera Cinema of 5 Dharamtalla Street, Calcutta-13, and their workmen represented by Bengal Motion Picture Employees' Union, 126A Dharamtalla Street, Calcutta-13. (Case No. VIII-49 of 1964.)

AWARD

By Order No. 760-I.R./IR/11L-52/64, dated the 22nd February 1964, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Opera Cinema of 5 Dharamtalla Street, Calcutta-13, and their workmen represented by Bengal Motion Picture Employees' Union, 126A Dharamtalla Street, Calcutta-13, regarding the matter specified in the schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, by Notification No. 808-I.R./IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issue

Whether refusal of employment to Shri Jagannath Bahadur is justified? What relief, if any, is he entitled to?

This reference was received from the Government of West Bengal, in their Labour Department, for adjudication of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Opera Cinema of 5 Dharamtalla Street, Calcutta-13 (hereinafter be referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Bengal Motion Picture Employees' Union, 126A Dharamtalla Street, Calcutta-13 (hereinafter be referred to as the Union).

As usual, immediately after receipt of the reference, notices were issued and served upon both the parties who entered appearances and filed written statements. After completion of all intermediate steps the case was ready for hearing, when parties expressed their willingness to settle up the dispute amicably. They were given proper opportunity to do so and they successfully did so and filed a joint petition of compromise before this Tribunal on 19th Novmeber 1964. The dispute relates to refusal of employment to a workman Jagannath Bahadur. In terms of the settlement the said workman was promised payment of a sum of Rs. 370 in full and final settlement of his claims. The Company promised payment of the above sum to the workman positively on 20th November 1964. The payment has since been made before the Tribunal and a proper receipt has been obtained from the workman and taken by the Company's Manager. Therefore, the agreed terms have been fully complied with. Parties having mutually and voluntarily agreed to the terms I see no reason why they should not be accepted as fair and reasonable. Accordingly I accept the terms and make an award on compromise in terms of the joint petition of compromise, dated 19th November 1964, which do form a part of the award as annexure thereof.

This is my award.

AWARD

This application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act was filed by Shri Rebai, son of Ramkhelwan, against Messrs. Kesoram Cotton Mills Ltd., 42 Garden Reach Road, Calcutta, during the pendency of an industrial dispute between the aforesaid parties covered by reference No. 1884-I.R., dated 26th April 1960, and order of reference No. 4459-I.R., dated 1st October 1962.

The grievance of the applicant as adumbrated in the aforesaid application is as follows:

The applicant worked as a Slubbing Tenter in the Speed Frame section of "A" shift of the mills for about six years with very clean and good record. On 23rd December 1963 the applicant could not join his duties due to his sudden sickness. In fact he was then suffering from hydrocele. From 23rd December 1963 to 30th December 1963 he was naturally under the treatment of his physician and could not therefore attend the mill. On 1st of January 1964 he went to the mill but there he was denied work. He made several applications on 2nd January 1964 and on 3rd January 1964 for allowing him to his job as before. The Company turned a deaf ear to his prayer and in this way he was harassed day after day until it was verbally represented to him that his services had been terminated. Hence the present application with a prayer for an award directing the Company to reinstate him into his job with full compensation.

The Company entered its appearance and filed a written statement with allegations, inter alia, that the services of the applicant were never dispensed with and that there was no contravention whatsoever of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act as alleged by the applicant.

Today the applicant has filed a petition stating in clear terms that his grievances have now been redressed, that the Company has taken him back and that he is working there as before. He has accordingly prayed for withdrawal of his application under section 33A of the Act. I have heard Shri Pathak appearing for the applicant as also Shri K. P. Mukherjee, the learned Advocate appearing for the Company. The learned Advocate has frankly given out before me that in the facts and circumstances of the case he has no objection if the present application is simply disposed of as withdrawn.

In the result, I dispose of the case as withdrawn by the worker and award accordingly.

AWARD

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, made by workmen Shri Amir Box complaining of contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act in the matter of refusal of employment to him amounting to his discharge from the service of the Company-Opposite Party.

His case, in short, is that on 15th November 1963, he was asked by the Company to give evidence against two other workmen in some preceedings under section 33(2)(b) of the Act pending before Shri S. Ray. He having refused to ,comply the Company refused to give him employment which was amounted to his dismissal or discharge without compliance with the provisions of section 33. Hence the complaint.

The Company resisted the complaint by filing a written statement in which the allegations have been denied. The Company's case is that there was no refusal of employment, but the workman actually absented from fork for a few days. Thereafter he resumed his duties. So the present applications is not maintainable.

The complainant has not attended on the date fixed for hearing of the case, nor did he take any step whatsoever. The Opposite Party-Company was present and filed before the Tribunal a copy of notice of closure of the factory under section 25F of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, dated 1st October 1964 to show that the factory has since been closed with effect from 3rd October 1964 after payment of all dues and compensation in accordance with section 25F of the Industrial Disputes Act. Another petition has been filed before the Tribunal purported to have been signed by the workman Shri Amir Box who has admitted therein the closure of the factory, and also his acceptance of his dues from the Company in full and final settlement and on that consideration he applied for treating this application as withdrawn. The Company's Manager Shri S. Kothari has attested the L.T.I. of the workman and the signature of another workman in whose presence the complainant signed the application.

Therefore, in the circumstances, I dispose of the complaint as withdrawn and not proceeded with. The complainant's application is made a part of this award as annexure thereto.

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri K. P. MUKHERJI, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Company: Shri D. K. Choudhury, Advocate.

Present for the Union: Shri Ganesh Lal Subha, Advocate.

The Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, by Order No. 4727-I.R./IR/9L-23/63, dated the 22nd November 1963, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the abovementioned dispute to this Tribunal for adjudication.

Issue

Is the dismissal of Shri Jasbahadur Rai, Senior Compounder, and Shri J. K. Rai, Acting Assistant Factory Babu, justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

The case of the Union as made out in the written statement filed on behalf of the two workmen may shortly be stated as follows:

Shri Jashbahadur Rai was working as senior compounder in the Vah-Tukvar Tea Estate for about 43 years. His duty was to attend the dispensary at Vah-Tukvar Tea Estate at Malidhura and also to visit the branch dispensary situated at Dendhura four times a week from 2 p.m. to 3-30 p.m. On January 5, 1963, a letter from the Manager of the Tea Estate was received by Jasbahadur asking him to attend the branch dispensary at Dendhura daily from 8 a.m. to 3-30 p.m., from the 7th January 1963. He was very much upset by the new arrangement as, being an old man, it would be difficult for him to walk a distance of about two miles daily from his residence to the branch dispensary at Dendhura, and he made an oral representation to the Medical Officer requesting him to inform the Manager about his difficulties, and to rescind the order. He, however, did not attend the branch dispensary at Dendhura from 7th January 1963, but attended the dispensary at Malidhura as usual in anticipation of a favourable consideration of his representation. He however, received another notice from the Manager asking him to show cause why his services should not be terminated for non-compliance with the order contained in the letter, dated 5th January 1963. He submitted a reply on 9th January 1963 through Shri A. N. Hingman, the Head Clerk of the Garden Office. Thereafter he received another notice from the Manager asking him to submit his explanation on 12th January 1963. He sent a letter on 11th January 1963 to the Manager intimating him that he had already submitted his explanation on 9th January 1963. Thereafter on 12th January 1963 he received a letter from the Manager terminating his services with effect from the said date. The order of dismissal is said to be illegal, unjust and unfair, and the matter was taken up with the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Darjeeling by the National Union of Plantation Workers, Darjeeling Branch. The management did not take part in the conciliation proceedings which were started by the Assistant Labour Commissioner, and hence the present reference. The Union has claimed reinstatement of the workman Shri Jasbahadur, and also arrears of wages and compensation for hardship caused to him.

As regards the workman Shri J. K. Rai, the case of the Union shortly stated is that he was arbitrarily dismissed by the Manager with effect from 9th March 1963 without any proper enquiry into the false allegations brought against him saying that he was trying to hamper the smooth running of the Tea Estate by his activities prejudicial to the interest of the management over the dismissal of his father Jasbahadur. The Union has challenged his dismissal as improper and illegal and has prayed for his reinstatement and also back wages for the period of his non-employment.

The Company has filed a written statement in reply to the written statement filed by the Union on behalf of the two workmen. The case of the Company is that the workman Shri Jasbahadur Rai was dismissed in terms of the Standing Orders of the Company for non-compliance with the lawful order of the Manager of the Tea Estate, and he also tendered an unconditional apology for his conduct. His son Shri J. K. Rai, who is also an employee in the Tea Estate, took up the cause of his father and forcibly persuaded other workers of the garden to join in an agitation against the management which was very much detrimental to the interest of the Company. He was asked to show cause as to why he should not be dismissed from service on account of his disruptive activities which threatened to hamper the smooth running of the garden. He did not submit any explanation, but sent a lawyer's letter denying the allegations brought against him. Thereafter he was dismissed from service as the management was satisfied that his activities were very much prejudicial to the interest of the Company. The dismissals of both the workmen are said to be legal and justified, and they are not entitled to any relief as claimed by them. A plea that the present dispute is an individual dispute and not an industrial dispute under the purview of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, has also been taken by the Company.

Decision

There is little dispute with regard to the facts bearing on the dismissal of Shri Jasbahadur Rai, and they are as follows:

Shri Jasbahadur Rai was working as senior compounder in Vah-Tukvar Tea Estate and his duty as such was to attend the dispensary of the Tea Estate at Malidhura, and also to visit the branch dispensary of the Tea Estate at Dendhura four times a week. The Manager of the Tea Estate by a letter, dated 5th January 1963, directed him to attend the branch dispensary at Dendhura daily from 8 a.m. to 3-30 p.m. with effect from 7th January 1963. He did not comply with the order of the Manager, and on 7th January 1963 he was asked by the Manager to show cause why he should not be dismissed from service. He wrote to the Manager on 9th January 1963, and on the same date he was again served with a notice asking him to show cause on 12th January 1963 as to why he should not be dismissed immediately. He again wrote to the Manager in reply to the Manager's letter, dated 9th January 1963, but did not submit any explanation to the Manager on 12th January 1963 as asked by the Manager by his letter, dated 9th January 1963, and he was dismissed from service with effect from 12th January 1963. There is no dispute with regard to these facts, and the only question for consideration is whether the dismissal of this workman in the circumstances aforesaid is justified. The evidence of Jasbahadur (P.W. 1) is that on 5th January 1963 he got a copy of the letter addressed to the Medical Officer, Vah-Tukvar Tea Estate, asking him to attend the branch dispensary at Dendhura daily from 8 a.m. to 3-30 p.m. from 7th January 1963, and on receipt of this letter he made an oral representation to the Medical Officer, Malidhura, for requesting the Manager to allow him to continue the duty which he was doing, as it would be very much inconvenient for him to attend the branch dispensary at Dendhura daily which is at a distance of about two miles from Malidhura. The Medical Officer has not been examined to corroborate him. Shri D. K. Chakravorty (O.P.W. 1), the Manager of the Tea Estate, has denied that the Medical Officer communicated to him any oral representation said to have been made by Jasbahadur in connection with the order, dated 5th January 1963. It is therefore difficult to believe that any oral representation to the Medical Officer was made by Jasbahadur on receipt of the copy of the letter, dated 5th January 1963, from the Manager of the Tea Estate. He was again asked by the Manager by a letter, dated 7th January 1963, to show cause why his services should not be terminated for non-compliance with the directions contained in the letter, dated 5th January 1963. In reply to this letter, dated 9th January 1963, he does not give any explanation, but only suggested that the Assistant Compounder who lived close to the dispensary at Dendhura might be asked to work in his place. It is not the case of the workman that he was transferred to Dendhura dispensary with any motive by the management to put him into difficulties and inconvenience. The evidence of O.P.W. 1, the Manager of the Tea Estate, is that about 400 workmen are employed at Dendhura and for the sake of convenience of these workers Shri Jasbahadur was asked to attend the dispensary at Dendhura daily. He has not been cross-examined on this point, and there appears to be no doubt that Shri Jasbahadur was asked to attend the branch dispensary at Dendhura daily for the convenience of the workmen there. There was thus no reason for Jasbahadur not to comply with the order passed by the Manager and communicated to him on 5th January 1963. If he had any grievance he could have made a representation to the Manager after complying with the order, dated 5th January 1963. He was asked by the Manager by his letter, dated 9th January 1963, to explain his conduct on 12th January 1963, but he did not care to see the Manager on that date and to explain to him the circumstances under which he did not comply with the order, dated 5th January 1963. It is said that the workman did not comply with the order, dated 5th January 1963, under a bona fide believe that his oral representation to the Medical Officer would be favourably considered by the management. I find it difficult to accept this explanation for the simple reason that the workman was given opportunity to explain his conduct, but there is no ground for his failure to see the Manager on 12th January 1963. The subsequent conduct of the workman also does not show that he had no intention of flouting the order of the Manager. The Medical Officer of the Estate in his letter, dated 15th January 1963 (Ext. J), reported to the Manager that Jasbahadur forcibly entered the hospital dispensary in spite of his protest and also held out threats to him and the management. On receipt of this letter, an information was sent to the Officer-in-Charge, Sadar police-station, by the Manager on 15th January 1963, as appears from the true copy of the G.D. entry, Ext. Q. In view of this fact it cannot be said that this workman had no intention to ignore the order of the Manager, dated 5th January 1963. He himself has also admitted subsequently in his letter to the Manager, dated 29th January 1963, that he did not obey the order of the Manager and thereby he was guilty of an offence, and begged to be excused. The contents of this letter of apology were read over to him and it is clear from this letter that he did not comply with the order of the Manager for reasons best known to him. He is thereby guilty of misconduct in terms of section 13(c)(1) of the Company's Standing Orders. It is stated by the Manager that he held the enquiry against Jasbahadur on 12th January 1963 after giving him a notice of enquiry through the head chowkidar Bahadur Tamang. He has also produced and proved Ext. M which purports to be the proceedings of the enquiry with the findings of the Enquiring Officer. Nothing has been stated in the written statement about this enquiry, and the head chowkidar through whom the notice of enquiry is said to have been given to Jasbahadur has also not been examined. The proceedings of the alleged enquiry also show that there was no fair and proper enquiry, and it must be held that there was no fair and proper enquiry into the charge brought against Shri Jasbahadur. The facts admitted by the parties and the evidence adduced before me prove the circumstances under which Jasbahadur Rai was dismissed from service. As I have already stated, his dismissal is justified. He has not alleged that the management was actuated by any unfair labour practice or victimisation in dismissing him from service, and O.P.W. 1 has also denied that Jasbahadur was dismissed for his trade union activities. In the circumstances, the dismissal of Jasbahadur Rai must be held to be justified.

It now remains to consider whether he is entitled to any relief in this case. Admittedly he has put in service for about 43 years, and it has not been proved that his service record during this period is not clean. It appears that he was misguided in not complying with the order of the Manager which amounted to a misconduct under the Standing Orders of the Company. In view of the fact that he has put in service for a long number of years, and also in view of the fact that his service record is clean, I think that the Company should be directed to make a lump sum exgratia payment to him for the loss of his employment. I accordingly direct the Company to pay Shri Jasbahadur Rai a sum of Rs. 750 within one month from the date of publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette".

The other workman Shri J. K. Rai is the son of the dismissed workman Shri Jasbahadur Rai. He was working as acting Factory Babu in Vah-Tukvar Tea Estate at the time of his dismissal. A charge-sheet was given to him on 4th March 1963 asking him to show cause within three days from the date of receipt thereof why he should not be dismissed from service immediately. The charge against him, as appears from the charge-sheet, is that he made attempts to form a group of his own to make an agitation regarding the dismissal of his father and hampered the smooth working of the garden by disseminating seeds of discontent amongst the loyal workers of the garden. A reply to this charge-sheet was given by the workman through a lawyer on 6th March 1963, and this explanation was not accepted by the Manager as sufficient or satisfactory, and he was dismissed from service with effect from 9th March 1963. He was asked to collect his dues from the office of the Company on any day. These facts are not disputed. The only question for consideration is whether the dismissal of this workman is justified. It has been urged that the dismissal of this workman without holding any enquiry into the charge levelled against him is not legal or proper and cannot be held justified. The evidence of Shri D. K. Chakravorty, O.P.W. 1, the Manager of the Garden, is that he held an enquiry into the charge brought against him with due notice to him. There is no mention of any domestic enquiry in the written statement filed by the Company, and the proceedings of enquiry, Ext. O, also indicate that there was no fair and proper enquiry held into the charge brought against Shri J. K. Rai. The head Chowkidar, who is said to have informed the workman about the proposed enquiry to be held on 8th March 1963 has not been examined. It appears that a copy of the lawyer's reply to the charge sheet was forwarded to the Manager by J. K. Rai on 7th March 1963, and he was dismissed from service by the letter, Ext. P, dated 8th March 1963. It is clear that this workman was dismissed from service without any enquiry as his explanation was not found satisfactory. The evidence of O.P.W. 1 that he held the enquiry on 8th March 1963, even if accepted, is no enquiry in the eye of law. It is now to be seen whether the evidence adduced before me can be regarded as sufficient to justify the dismissal of this workman. There cannot be any doubt that J. K. Rai took up the cause of his father after he was dismissed from service on 12th January 1963, and he made attempts to coerce the management to reinstate his father by carrying on agitation against the management in various ways. P.W. 1 Shri Jasbahadur Rai has admitted that a meeting of some staff workers was held on 19th January 1963 at Vah-Tukvar Primary School at the instance of his son over his dismissal. He also took a leading part in sending a representation to the Director of the Vah-Tukvar Tea Estate (Ext. 3) over the signatures of some of the employees of the Tea Estate. He has admitted that his father did not ask him to send any mass-representation to the Director, and it is clear that he took the initiative in sending the representation Ext. 3 by obtaining the signatures of a large number of employees on it. In this representation a threat was held out to the management that the smooth running of the garden might be affected in case the order of dismissal of Shri Jasbahadur Rai was not withdrawn. The Company has examined B. B. Tamang, O.P.W. 4, and he has stated that he was forced to sign Ext. 3 by J. K. Rai. O.P.W. 5 H. B. Lama has stated that he put his signature on Ext. 3 at the request of J. K. Rai without going through its contents. These two witnesses also wrote to the Manager stating the circumstances under which they signed the representation, Ext. 3. Their reports to the Manager have been marked Exts. C and B. There can thus be no doubt that J. K. Rai made attempts to disrupt the normal work of the garden by carrying on an agitation against the management. It appears that after the dismissal of his father Shri Jasbahadur Rai he forced the Medical Officer Dr. G. K. Ganguly, by holding out threats to him, to forward the leave application of his father to the Manager of the Tea Estate (vide Ext. K). The conduct of the workman leaves no room for doubt that he took up the cause of his father and tried to coerce the management in various ways to reinstate him. If he had any grievance over the dismissal of his father, he could have, instead of carrying on agitation against the management by his activities, approached the Assistant Labour Commissioner to interfere in the matter. He, however, indulged in activities which were likely to disrupt the smooth work of the garden. He was, therefore, guilty of the misconduct as per clause (VIII) of paragraph 13 of the Standing Orders of the Company. The dismissal of this workman does not appear to amount to victimisation, and the action of the management cannot also in the circumstances be regarded as mala fide. The dismissal of this workman is, therefore, held justified.

Shri J. K. Rai was an employee under the Company, and it has not been proved that during this period of his service he was guilty of any misconduct. He appears to have been misguided in taking up the cause of his father in the manner he did. In view of the fact that there was nothing against him during the period of his service, I think that it will be proper and fair to direct the Company to make an ex-gratia payment to him in these hard days. The Company is directed to make an ex-gratia payment of Rs. 750 to him within one month from the date of publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette". This is my award.

Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation Ltd., Victoria House, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by Bijli Mazdoor Union, 7B Rani Rashmoni Road, Calcutta-13, regarding the issues mentioned in the said order being matters specified in the second and the third schedules to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the First Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said First Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation Ltd., Victoria House, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by Bijli Mazdoor Union, 7B Rani Rashmoni Road, Calcutta-13. (Case No. VIII-144 of 1963.)

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri RENUPADA MUKHERJEE, Judge,
First Industrial Tribunal

This industrial dispute between Messrs. Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation Ltd., Victoria House, Calcutta (hereinafter to be described as the Company), and their workmen represented by Bijli Mazdoor Union, 7B Rani Rashmoni Road, Calcutta-13 (hereinafter to be described as the Union), was referred to me for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act by the Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department Order No. 3001-I.R.|IR|10L-139(A)|63, dated 29th July 1963.

The Order of Reference contains the following 11 issues:

(1) Revision of grades and scales of pay.

(2) Revision of dearness allowance.

(3) Profit bonus for the years 1959-60, 1960-61 and 1961-62.

(4) Free housing or house rent allowance.

(5) Festival holidays for shift workers.

(6) Supply of waterproof and warm clothing to outdoor workers and extension of uniform facilities to all.

(7) Night shift allowance.

(8) Officiating allowance.

(9) Fixation of duty hours of shift workers at 45 hours per week or fixation of corresponding enhanced pay.

(10) Revision of gratuity scheme.

(11) Casual leave to be increased to 15 days.

Two more issues, namely, issues Nos. 12 and 13 were framed and added at the instance of the Company and they are as follows:

(12) Is the Order of Reference regarding issues 1 and 2 mentioned in the said Order of Reference valid in view of the statement referred to in paragraph 11 of the Company's written statement,

(13) Is the Bijli Mazdoor Union mentioned in the Order of Reference competent to raise any dispute in respect of the Company's workmen belonging to the middle class category?

Notices were duly issued on the parties after receipt of the reference. The Union filed its written statement on 11th September 1963 and the Company's written statement was filed on 14th November 1963.

The following is a brief summary of the Union's case with regard to the 11 issues formulated in the Order of Reference.

Issue No. 1—Revision of grades and scales of pay

The Company is the largest single unit in the whole of India engaged in the business of generation and distribution of electrical energy and it earns huge profits every year and has accumulated a big reserve fund. It employs about 7,000 workmen in its various establishments for performance of various jobs in connection with the generation and distribution of electricity and as a progressive concern it has always paid higher emoluments in the past to its workmen than what were paid by other comparable companies. From the year 1954 or thereabout the Company began to adopt retrograde measures in the matter of payment of basis wages and dearness allowance to its workmen. The Union prays that the grades and scales of pay should be revised and a new pay structure as per Annexures A and B should be evolved respectively for working class and middle class employees on the principles of need-based minimum as defined by the Fifteenth Indian Labour Conference held at New Delhi on 11th and 12th July 1957.

Issue No. 2—Revision of dearness allowance

The claim of the Union under this head is that dearness allowance at middle class scale of Bengal Chamber of Commerce should be paid to all workmen of the Company.

Issue No. 3—Profit bonus for the years 1959-60, 1960-61 and 1961-62

The Union has claimed that bonus for these years should be paid at the rate of five months' wages.

Issue No. 4—Free housing or house rent allowance

Under this issue, the Union has prayed that all workers should be provided with free quarters and where that is not possible the workmen must be paid house rent allowance at 15 per cent. of their wages subject to a minimum of Rs. 15 per month.

Issue No. 5—Festival holidays for shift workers

The Union has prayed that shift workers may be allowed to avail themselves of festival holidays commonly known as public holidays in the same manner as non-shift workers and if that is not possible on account of the continuous process of generating electricity, equivalent benefits may be given to them either by staggering the holidays within a reasonable period or by allowing such holidays to be accumulated to the leave account of shift workers.

Issue No. 6—Supply of waterproof and warm clothing to outdoor workers and extension of uniform facilities to all

The issue itself shows what the claim of the Union is under this head.

Issue No. 7—Night shift allowance

This allowance has been claimed at the rate of 25 per cent. of the normal wage for any work done between 6 p.m. and 6 a.m.

Issue No. 8—Officiating allowance

The Union prays for modification of the rules regarding payment of officiating allowance both as regards the period during which a workman officiates in a higher post and the amount of the allowance.

Issue No. 9—Fixation of duty hours of shift workers at 45 hours per week or fixation of corresponding enhanced pay

The issue itself shows what the Union claims under this head.

Issue No. 10—Revision of gratuity scheme

The Company pays gratuity according to a scheme of its own. The Union has suggested some alterations with which I shall deal in the appropriate place.

Issue No. 11—Casual leave to be increased to 15 days

The issue shows the claim of the Union under this head.

All the aforementioned claims of the Union have been controverted by the Company.

As regards issue Nos. 1 and 2, the case of the Company is that the question of pay-structure and dearness allowance has been the subject-matter of various adjudications in the past and on the representation of the workmen the Company revised in 1957 the pay scales and dearness allowance of the working class employees who alone are concerned in this reference. There was a further revision in 1961 in the shape of a bipartite agreement with C.E.S. Workers' Union which is the Union recognised by the Company. These two revisions were decidedly to the advantage of the workmen. The Company is a public utility concern and its functions are strictly controlled by Government. The company pays not only adequate but handsome wages, dearness allowance and other emoluments to its workmen and there is no reasonable ground for a further upward revision because the wages and dearness allowance paid by this Company compare favourably with those paid by other utility concerns and comparable industries and because the financial condition of the Company does not warrant any further increase.

Issue No. 3—Bonus for the years 1959-60, 1960-61 and 1961-62

The Company contends that no surplus would be available during the years in question for payment of bonus on the application of the Full Bench Formula. As regards issue Nos. 4 to 11, the Company categorically denies the claim of the Union arising under them and contends that all these demands should be rejected for reasons given by the Company. For avoiding repetition I do not set out those reasons here, but shall deal with them in their appropriate places.

I now proceed to deal with the issues one after another.

Appearances of the parties are as follows:

For the Company: Shri Niren Dey, Counsel, Shri B. Choudhury, Counsel, assisted by Shri D. Gupta, Advocate of Messrs. Sandersons & Morgans.

For the Union: Shri J. Pandey, General Secretary, assisted by Shri Bimal Chandra Mitra, Vice-President, Shri Shambhu Nath Ghosh, Assistant Secretary, and Shri Ziauddin, Assistant Secretary of the Union.

Issue No. 1—Revision of grades and scales of pay

The Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation Ltd. is a public utility concern of great magnitude generating electrical energy and supplying the same to a vast number of consumers, domestic and industrial, within its licensed area which covers Calcutta and its suburbs. Within the licensed area this Company enjoys a monopoly of its business. The total number of workmen involved in this reference would be more than 6,000 excluding the members of the clerical and supervisory staff who, according to a petition filed by Shri Pandey on behalf of the Union on 6th July 1964, are not members of this Union and cannot, therefore, be represented by this Union (vide Order No. 35, dated 6th July 1964).

Before I discuss this issue on the merits, I shall state some preliminary facts as to what was the shape of the wage structure at various time in the past and what revision or modification, if any, was effected from time to time either by adjudication or settlement or one-sided act of the Company. Shri Dey characterised it as a historical review of this part of the case. I shall begin with the award of Shri R. Gupta delivered in 1947 (Award Ext. H).

One of the issues referred for adjudication by Shri R. Gupta was "basic pay and grade system." At that time the workers were represented by two Unions, namely, Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation Mazdoor Union and Calcutta Electric Supply Workers' Union, the latter being the recognised Union of the Company. The present Union, namely, Bijli Mazdoor Union, came into existence only in the latter part of 1960. The award of Shri Gupta would show that the minimum basic wages of a workman in this concern was Rs. 16 per month before 1939, but it came to be raised to Rs. 26 for a workman of the type of a domestic servant and to Rs. 28 for other workmen before the making of the reference. The workmen demanded an all-round increase of 25 per cent. and for removal of certain anomalies with which latter question we are not concerned here. Shri Gupta refused to grant an all-round increment of 25 per cent. but allowed a flat rate increment of Rs. 7 per month to all employees of the working class and removed the distinction between workmen of the type of domestic servants and other workmen. The result was that the minimum pay of a workman of the lowest grade became Rs. 35.

The next award in order of sequence is the award passed by Shri M. C. Banerji in 1951 (Ext. H1). Issue No. 1 of this reference was revision of the scales and grades of pay of the manual and clerical workmen. Page 9 of this award would show that the following was the main claim of the Union in regard to this issue:

> "The minimum scale of Rs. 35—1—39 (for malis and sweepers) is to be replaced by a scale of Rs. 50—2—70 and the starting pay of other workmen, except the clerical staff, should be increased by 43 per cent. and the maximum should be increased by 80 per cent. with provisions for an adequate annual increment to reach the maximum of the scale at the end of 15 years."

After an exhaustive consideration of the respective contentions of the parties the learned adjudicator came to the following finding at page 41 of the award. "On a careful consideration I find that no major alteration of the scales of pay of the employees in the undertaking is called for or justified." He only made some minor alterations which need not be recounted here. The matter was taken up in appeal by the workmen to the Labour Appellate Tribunal. The judgment of that Tribunal has been marked Ext. H5. At page 6 of the judgment the learned Judges have held as follows:

> "With regard to the manual workmen, no materials have been placed before us which would sustain the demand of the Union. We have already stated that the wages they are getting are above the subsistence level and could be considered as 'fair wages'."

The next award which is relevant for our consideration is the award of adjudicator Shri G. Palit delivered in 1955 (Ext. H3). Issue No. 2 of that reference was the revision of pay scales. The decision of this issue begins from page 30 of the award. The Union contended that in spite of the adjudication of Shri Banerjee and the Labour Appellate Tribunal's judgment which held the wages of manual workmen to be fair wages, the wages paid by the Company to its workmen were really minimum wages and not fair wages and it compared very unfavourably with wage rates of other Companies in the neighbourhood. At page 39 of the award the learned adjudicator summed up his findings in the following terms:

"Having regard to all these facts and circumstances, I am clearly of opinion that the wage scale obtaining in this Company, taken with D.A. which is perfectly liberal, is such as does not call for any revision at the present moment."

The learned adjudicator allowed increase of wages to a very limited extent in a few cases. Both parties preferred appeals before the Labour Appellate Tribunal against portions of this award. The judgment of that Tribunal has been marked Ext. H-4. The Union's appeal embraced issue No. 2 of Shri Palit's award which was revision of pay scales. The learned Judges of the Labour Appellate Tribunal refused to entertain any claim for upward revision. This judgment was delivered in 1956.

Closely following the above decision of the Labour Appellate Tribunal came the revision of the pay scales of the workmen in 1957, made by the Company at its own instance. An order of the Agent of the Company (Ext. F-5) and some charts of Ext. F series were proved by the Company in this connection. I shall have to refer to those documents again later on. After this revision came the last revision of 1961 effected by a bipartite agreement between the Company and the C. E. S. Workers' Union on 6th September 1961 (Ext. K). The present pay scales and dearness allowance paid to the working class and middle class employees of this Company are reflected in this Memorandum of Agreement, and Ext. G-7 which is reproduced below shows the past and present pay scales of workmen of various categories:

It was contended on behalf of the Company that the wage scales as embodied in the agreement of 1961 have been arrived at through several stages of adjudication, exparte revision and bipartite agreement with the Company's recognised Union and any further upward revision would be unwarranted and unjustified and would seriously disturb the economic balance of the Company. The Union's case was that the minimum wages paid to the workmen is far below the need-based minimum as worked out in accordance with the principles of need-based minimum as defined by the Fifteenth Indian Labour Conference held at New Delhi on 11th and 12th July 1957 and the wage scales of this Company also compare unfavourably with those of similar or other industries of the neighbourhood.

I shall first of all take up the Union's claim of need-based minimum wages. Some charts about the essential needs of a workman's family of 3 consumption unit have been given by the Union at pages 28 and 29 of its written statement and these are said to have been prepared on the basis of the recommendations of the Fifteenth Indian Labour Conference. The minimum wages has been calculated at Rs. 187.45 nP. After giving up a few rupees from this amount, the Union has claimed Rs. 184.15 nP. as minimum wages which has been divided into two parts—Rs. 70 as minimum basic wages, and Rs. 114.15 nP. as dearness allowance calculated at 165 per cent. according to middle class scale of Bengal Chamber of Commerce.

Shri Dey challenged this claim of the Union in several ways. First of all he contended that the charts of the Union have been prepared on the basis of figures prevailing at Jamshedpur and it would not be proper or reasonable to apply those figures to Calcutta and its neighbourhood. There is no substance in this contention of Shri Dey for two reasons. In the first place, Union's witness Shri Sambhu Nath Das, as Assistant Secretary of the Union (P.W. 1), has stated in his evidence that he has verified these figures from the bazar at Shyamnagore and its neighbouring bazars which are close to Mulajore generating station of the Company. There is no reason to disbelieve this evidence in view of the fact that the Company has not adduced any counter-evidence. The second reason for rejecting the above contention of Shri Dey is that the Company has not prepared or filed any corresponding charts for controverting the correctness of the charts of the Union.

The second ground urged by Shri Dey for rejecting the need-based claim of the Union stands on a much firmer foundation. He contended that this claim of the Union is after all founded on some recommendations of the Indian Labour Conference and although they were made by that conference in 1957 they have not been given effect to either by any Company or any Tribunal and if they are imposed for the first time on this Company, they would revolutionise the whole pay scale and upset the entire economic balance of the Company. This contention of Shri Dey appears to me to be unassailable.

Taking the need-based minimum as the starting pay of a worker of the lowest grade the Union has evolved a pay scale for working class employees of different categories which has been shown in

Annexure A of its written statement. The Company has 19 different grades for these workmen with varying wages, incremental scales and spans. The following table of six grades—three from the bottom upwards and three towards the top—will show at a glance the extent of the revision suggested by the Union:

	Present pay scale of the Company (3 grades from bottom upwards).		Union's suggested pay scales.
Designation of of grade.	Post 1961 scale.	Span.	Scale.	Span.
1. Lamp Lighter, Mali, Sweeper, Masalchi, Vendor, Cleaner and Plate Washer.	40—1—50.	10	70—5—115. (Only for Sweeper.)	9
2. Assistant Cook.	44—1—58 ..	14	75—5—120 (For Masalchi, Vendor, Cleaner, Plate Washer and Khansama.)	9
3. Mazdoor—Mains, Mazdoor—Stores 'B', Night Watchman, Khansama, Syce.	44—1—58	14	80—5—125 (Assistant Cook and General Cleaner.)	9
	(3 grades towards the top.)
4. Head Fitter, Head Electrical Fitter.	91—3—142	17	160—12—268	9
5. Head Boiler Attendant, Head P.P. Attendant.	99—3—153	18	160—12—268	9
6. Head Winder	133—4—201	17	215—15—350	9

A comparison of the existing wage scales with those suggested by the Union will show that the Union is claiming an increase of 75 per cent. to 80 per cent. in the starting basic pay of bottom grades and an increase of 60 per cent. or more in the starting pay of top grades with far higher incremental scales than what obtain now. There is no reason why such a steep increase which may reasonably be characterised as phenomenal should be allowed in this case on the theory of need-based minimum particularly in view of the fact that this theory has not been put into practice as yet by any Company to our knowledge. So I reject the claim of the Union in so far as it is based on the principles of need-based minimum.

Shri Pandey next argued on behalf of the Union that the grades and categorisations of the workmen are arbitrary and unscientific and they should be substituted by grades and classifications which take due note of the skill of a workman and the arduousness and responsibility involved in his work. He contended that workmen should be classified under four broad categories, namely, unskilled, semi-skilled, skilled and highly skilled and grades should be evolved in accordance with the degree of skill involved in the work. Such a contention was made before Shri G. Palit in a previous reference but turned down by him (vide pages 30 to 39 of Ext. H-3). Moreover, the evidence of Company's Personnel Officer Shri Monoranjan Sen (O.P.W. 6) would show that during the revision of pay scales in 1957 there was an adjustment of grades and categories on merit rating system. This is evidence by paragraph 5 of Ext. F-6 which contains the provisions of 1957 revision. Shri Sen later on prepared a note on merit rating (vide Ext. F-7). The note would show that previously there were 28 separate grades for the Company's working class category which were reduced to 19 by applying the principle of merit rating based on assessment of skill and/or degree of literacy required of the workmen of particular jobs. After all the Company is the best judge for evaluating the different jobs held by its employees and in the absence of any expert evidence from the Union's side to show that the categorisations or classifications are unjust or wrong, I am not inclined to agree with Shri Pandey that there should be new categorisation of workmen based on the skill or any other factor involved in his work.

The next and the most important question which requires my adjudication is whether the pay scales of the workmen are fair and adequate and whether there should be any upward revision as claimed by the Union. Quite a volume of evidence has been adduced by the Union in support of this claim, but I am constrained to say that by far the greater part of this evidence is of a roving and diffuse nature and has no bearing on the real point at issue. Witnesses have been brought from different Companies for proving what emoluments in the shape of basic wages, D.A., etc., they earned in some particular months. I may mention the names of some of these witnesses here. They are Ajit Kumar Ghosal (P.W. 23) and C. D. Sharma (P.W. 24) of National Insulated Cable Co., Ram Bahal Singh (P.W. 25) and Bipat Goala (P.W. 26) of National Pipes and Tubes Ltd., Bimal Kumar Mukherji (P.W. 27) of Eastern Battery Makers (Private) Ltd. and Rejeswar Singh (P.W. 37) of Britannia Engineering Co. The evidence of these witnesses have no bearing on the question of revision of grades and pay scales.

The Union has also examined some witnesses and proved some documents including agreements for the purpose of showing the pay scales of some other companies which carry on different kinds of business in and around Calcutta. It has now become a well-recognised principle of industrial law that for the purpose of revising the pay scales of the employees of any particular concern, a comparison should be made with the pay scales obtaining in other concerns on industry-cum-region basis as far as practicable.

The Union filed a comparative statement of minimum wages prevailing in some major industries of West Bengal. Besides this Company, five other industries figure in this chart, namely, (1) Calcutta Tramways, (2) Jute Textile, (3) Cotton Textile, (4) Engineering Industry and (5) Colliery (vide Ext. 8). The various figures under the head Cotton Textile are blank and those under the head Colliery are half finished. So, it may be taken that a comparison of the minimum wages of these two major industries with that of the present Company would not support the case of the Union. The minimum wages of this Company in basic pay and dearness allowance is Rs. 102 per month which is appreciably higher than the minimum wages of Calcutta Tramways, Jute Textile and Engineering Industry which is respectively

Rs. 95, Rs. 72.67 nP. and Rs. 87. The only argument advanced by Shri Pandey on the basis of this chart is that this Company has not increased the wages of its workmen in the same proportion as was done by the three industries mentioned above within the last decade. This argument is fallacious. The minimum wages given by other companies was comparatively low and so the increment of wages in their case may have been somewhat greater when compared with the recent increments given by this Company. But this Company was the pioneer in substantially increasing the wage-level and at the present time also it is giving higher wages to its workmen than some other major industries of West Bengal. The argument of Shri Pandey that this Company should maintain its scale of generosity in the matter of increment of wages does not appeal to me to be convincing in any way.

On behalf of the Union an appreciable amount of evidence was adduced for the purpose of showing the general wage rate prevailing in several concerns —both electrical and non-electrical—in and around Calcutta and its suburbs. During arguments Shri Pandey frankly conceded that he would not compare the pay scales of this Company with those of other electrical companies because excepting the State Electricity Board the other electrical Companies, such as Naihati Electric Supply Corporation Ltd. (evidence of P.W. 34), Riverside Bhatpara Electric Supply Ltd. (evidence of P.W. 32) and East India Electric Supply and Traction Co. Ltd. (evidence of P.W. 53) are much smaller than the C.E.S. Corporation and so the wages and dearness allowance taken together paid by these companies are necessarily lower than those paid by Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation. The State Electricity Board also generally pays lower emoluments to its workmen, than this Company and the seemingly attractive basic pay and incremental scales of the former company do not compare favourably with those of the C.E.S. Corporation because the dearness allowance paid by the State Electricity Board is negligible being Rs. 5 up to basic pay of Rs. 150 and Rs. 10 above that basic pay (vide evidence of O.P.W. 11, R. N. Mitra and a comparative chart Ext. R). The consideration of D.A. scales for fixing wage rates has been indirectly approved by the Supreme Court in the case of Cochin State Power Light Corporation versus Its workmen reported in 1964, II, L.L.J., page 100.

The Union also examined some other witnesses and proved some agreements for the purpose of showing the wage rates of other companies in and in the neighbourhood of Calcutta. The witnesses are P.W. 36 Ajit Kumar Chatterji of Hindusthan Lever Ltd. who proves agreement Ext. 12(b), P.W. 46 Abdul Mannan of Caltex Ltd., who proves an agreement (Ext. 12F), P.W. 54 Ajit Kumar Mukherji of Voltas Ltd. who proves Ext. 12h, P.W. 55 Animesh Roy Chowdhury of Alkali and Chemical Corporation of India Ltd. who proves some extracts from an agreement marked Ext. 16(a) and P.W. 60 H. L. Ajwani of B.O.A.C. who proves an agreement marked Ext. 12(i). Shri Dey argued on behalf of the Company that these other companies which carry on entirely different kinds of business and about whose standing extent of business, amount of capital, etc., there is no evidence, should not be regarded as comparable concerns at all. Shri Pandey contended that they should be regarded as comparable concerns for the purpose of showing the prevailing rates of wages and referred me to some passages from the report of the Committee on Fair Wages. In this connection both parties cited some decisions of the Supreme Court for the purpose of showing whether the abovementioned concerns should be regarded as comparable concerns. It has been held by their Lordships of the Supreme Court in the case of Express Newspapers (Private) Ltd. versus Union of India, reported in 1961 (I), L.L.J. page 339 that in fixing the wages rates and wage scales the capacity of the industry to pay is an important circumstance and it is to be considered on an industry-cum-region basis after taking a fairly cross-section of the industry. Again in the case of French Motor Car Co. versus Their workmen reported in 1962 (II), L.L.J. page 744 Their Lordships of the Supreme Court reiterated the same principles by observing that it is now settled that the principle of industry-cum-region has to be applied when the Industrial Tribunal proceeds to consider questions like wage structure, dearness allowance and similar conditions of service. So for the purpose of comparison the industry part of the formula cannot be left out of consideration in spite of any observations to the contrary made in the report of the Committee on Fair Wages. This has been further emphasised by the Supreme Court in the case of workmen of Jessop & Co., reported in 1964 I, L.L.J. page 451. in which the Tribunal refused to compare the wage scales of companies carrying on other and different industries and the decision was confirmed by the Supreme Court. This being the position in law, I am not prepared to compare the wage scales of this Company with those of other non-electrical concerns because the latter carry on industries of a completely different nature. Even assuming that such comparison was permissible, the Union has not adduced any evidence regarding the amount of capital and extent of business, the rates of dividends paid, the order of profits made, the number of employees employed, etc., in respect of these allegedly comparable concerns [vide the case of French Motor Car Company Ltd. (supra) and the case of workmen of Balmer Lawrie & Co. reported in 1964 (I), L.L.J., page 380]. Furthermore this Company cannot make unrestricted profits and its finances and other material affairs are strictly regulated by the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1948. On all these grounds I do not accept the non-electrical concerns as comparable ones for the purpose of revising the grades and scales of pay which is a matter of long term policy.

Shri Pandey next argued on behalf of the Union that the spans for the purpose of incremental scales are unreasonable inasmuch as there is no uniformity for different classes and categories of workmen and also because in many cases workmen, who have got no opening for promotion, will stagnate at the maximum of their grades for a good many years before their retirement. It is true that there would be such stagnation in many cases. But this cannot be helped. The spans have got to be fixed with due regard to the minimum and maximum pay of each category. The annual increments are also dependent on the minimum and maximum pay. Exhibit G7 is a comparative chart which shows that as compared with the wage scales prior to 1957 revision with those of 1961 revision the spans in all cases have been increased resulting in the increase of maximum pay in all cases. It is not possible to make the spans uniform in all cases without disturbing seriously the maximum pay which has been fixed by evaluation of jobs. Shri Pandey could not be point out any authority in support of his contention that for the purpose of incremental scales the spans must be uniform in the cases of all classes and categories of workmen.

Shri Pandey next submitted that some categories of workmen suffered prejudice by the revision of 1957 and their cases should be specially considered by this Tribunal. He pointed out that in the cases of workmen whose old grades are designated by the letters (e), (m), (s), (v), (x), (y) and (z) in the left hand side of Ext. F2 which shows the old grades and new grades, there has been a reduction of initial pay ranging from Re. 1 to Rs. 5 notwithstanding the fact that there was a curtailment of Rs. 5 from D.A. and addition of that amount to basic pay. It is true that new comes to the above jobs will start with lower minimum salaries. But the grades and scales of pay have been revised in the light of job valuation and if the Company's experts have put a lower valuation on some jobs, I do not think that the Tribunal would be justified in imposing its own views without sufficient evidence to show that the reduction of minimum pay in some cases has been arbitrary or capricious. Moreover, Shri Choudhury pointed out that the so called low-graded posts are such as would be normally filled up by promotion and so no question of prejudice to any worker arises. The transposition tables of 1957 revision (Ext. F3) read with paragraph 6 of Ext. F6 which provided that in placing workers in the new grades the principle to be followed was that the total of basic pay plus D.A. in the new grade should be at least Rs. 2 more than the existing total of basic pay plus D.A. would show that the existing workers instead of being adversely affected, were all benefited by the revision of 1957.

It was next argued by Shri Pandey that the benefit given to some of the middle class employees particularly the clerks was larger than that given to some of the Technical workmen such as fitters, etc., who previously got as much pay as the clerks. This is true. In recent times the Company appears to have put a higher valuation on the work of workers possessing a comparatively high degree of literary education that what it did before. I cannot say that this is unreasonable or arbitrary.

Shri Pandey further argued that the activities of the Company are daily expanding resulting in increase of sale of electricity and this in itself is a fact which should entitle the workmen to higher and better wages specially in view of the fact that the workmen at best getting fair wages at present and there is still a large gap between fair wages and living wages which can only be filled up—though not fully at least partially—by a substantial increase of wages. In support of his contention he cited the Supreme Court case of Hindustan Times Ltd. versus Their workmen reported in 1963 (1), L.L.J., page 108. In that case Their Lordships of the Supreme Court confirmed the decision of the Tribunal which had directed an upward revision of pay scales because they had practically remained static for a period of 12 years and the industry had the capacity to meet the additional expenditure. In the present case there have been two revisions of pay scales in recent times—once in 1957 and again in 1961. Although Shri Pandey characterised the revision of 1961 by agreement as mala fide, I do not see any reason for subscribing to that view. Compared with other electrical companies of a smaller magnitude this Company is paying handsome wages, and taken by and large, the wage scales of the workers of the Company are better than those of the State Electricity Board which is certainly a comparable concern (vide Ext. R). This being the position the wage scales should not be revised or disturbed, simply because the Company's financial position is sound. Shri Pandey referred me to the report of the directors and statement of accounts for various years from the year ended March 1959 (Ext. O to Ext. O4) and showed that the number of units sold during year ended March 1959 was 1,667.1 millions whereas the number of units of electric energy sold was 2,327.7 millions during the year ended March 1964 (vide page 2 of Ext. O and page 4 of Ext. O4). The increase in the sale of units of electric energy cannot, however, be a sure indication of the profit position. Page 4 of Ext. O3 would show that for the year ended March 1962 the balance carried to net revenue account was £ 1,765,251 as against £ 2,223,894 of the previous year although page 2 of Ext. O3 would show sale of 2,048.9 million units and 1,955.0 million units for the two respective years. In this connection Company's Accountant Salil Kumar Mitra (O.P.W. 10) proved copies of some charts prepared under Schedule VI of the Electricity Supply Act and submitted to Government for the purpose of showing the capital base and clear profit and reasonable return. These charts have been marked Exts. Q, Q1 and Q2 for the three bonus years involved in this case. They show a deficiency of £ 67,353, £ 356,541 and £ 515,618 respectively for the years 1959-60, 1960-61 and 1961-62 between reasonable return and clear profit. The shortfall is noticeable. This being the position there would be no justification for an upward revision of wage scales simply because the workmen are not getting living wages. I am of opinion that the financial capacity of the Company is not such as would warrant the imposition of any heavy permanent burden on it.

Last of all Shri Pandey argued on behalf of the Union that the categorisation of workers is arbitrary and not in consistency with the nature of their jobs and there should be fresh categorisation as suggested in the remarks column of Annexure A of his written statement. By way of specific instance he suggested that the garage electrician should be placed in the same category as electrical fitter and both of them should be redesignated as electrician. The shift cleaner should be designated as Assistant Power Plant Attendant being a prototype of Assistant Boiler Attendant. The Khalasie should be designated as Assistant Fitter in the Turbine Section of Generating Stations and as Assistant Elecrician elsewhere and Coal Mazdoors and Mains Mazdoors should be designated as Khalasies. These suggested changes will completely upset the present categorisations which are based on job valuation and in the absence of proper and sufficient evidence I am not inclined to accede to this demand of the Union.

In the result I reject the prayer of the Union for revision of the existing grades and scales of pay.

Issue No. 2—Revision of dearness allowance

The claim for revision of dearness allowance was put forward in item No. 4 of the Union's charter of demands, dated 21st November 1960. This demand was that "dearness allowance should be fixed and paid on the scale of Bengal Chamber of Commerce with a minimum of Rs. 60 per month" (vide item No. 4 of Ext. 1). The claim was further elaborated in a letter of the Union, dated 12th June 1961, addressed to the Assistant Labour Commissioner in which the minimum was raised to Rs. 65. In the history portion of its written statement the Union has stated in paragraphs 8 to 19 that previously dearness allowance was paid to all employees according to Bengal Chamber of Commerce scale irrespective of their category or designation until the year 1954 or thereabout and thereafter an invidious and arbitrary distinction was made between working class and middle class against all canons of social and economic justice and the dearness allowance of the working class was unjustly reduced. In paragraph 8 of the relief portion of the written statement at page 31 the Union has prayed that dearness allowance should be paid to all workmen at the middle class rate of Bengal Chamber of Commerce.

The Company opposes this claim of the Union alleging that the scales of dearness allowance paid to the workmen have been put into operation by an agreement with the Company's recognised Union in 1961. They are fair, reasonable and generous and having regard to the company's capacity to pay they compare favourably with those of other public utility concerns and there is no justification for a revision of the same.

The real bone of contention between the parties on this issue is whether the workmen of the working class category are entitled to get dearness allowance at middle class rate of Bengal Chamber of Commerce and whether the division of workmen into working class and middle class for the purpose of payment of D. A. is unreasonable and unjustified and should, therefore, be abolished. While dealing with this initial question I shall first make a historical survey of this part of the case.

The amount of dearness allowance paid to the bulk of the workers in cash and kind was Rs. 26 per month according to the case of the company as put forth before Shri R. Gupta in the reference case of 1947. According to the Union this amount was Rs. 31-3-6p. The learned arbitrator fixed it at Rs. 31-3-6p. for workmen of all grades and categories (vide Ext. H). There was a substantial variation in payment of dearness allowance in 1948. No papers are forthcoming to show the extent of that variation, but it can be gathered from a note on dearness allowance of the year 1949 to which I shall presently refer (Ext. E). The award of Shri M. C. Banerji of 1951 (Ext. H1) would show that under issue 2 a flat increment of Rs. 10 per month in D. A. was prayed for on behalf of non-clerical workmen drawing basic salary of less than Rs. 70 per month. This demand was turned down by the learned arbitrator at pages 42 and 43 of his award. While dealing with the pay scales and D. A. of the clerical staff the same adjudicator says as follows at page 39 of the award:

> "The Company, as has been mentioned above, pays the dearness allowance according to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scale with a minimum of Rs. 65 for the present by its circular, dated 18th February 1950."

Again at page 40, the learned arbitrator states as follows:

> "There are other scales (of D. A.) relating to the workmen of various categories in the wage structure."

These statements fit in with the evidence of O.P.W. 6 Monoranjan Sen, the Personnel Officer, that "from 1949-1950 the D. A. for the working class and middle class remained the same. In 1950, the middle class category started receiving D. A. at Bengal Chamber of Commerce Scheme, middle class rate." The above statements in the award of Shri Banerji coupled with the nature of the claim of the Union which made a distinction between D. A. of the clerical staff and that of non-clerical staff completely demolishes the claim of the Union that the working class also received D. A. on the same footing as the middle class according to Bengal Chamber of Commerce scale for the middle class.

I next deal with the award of Shri G. Palit of 1955 (Ext. H3). Issue No. 16 of that reference which has been dealt with from pages 12 to 14 of the award relates to the question of D. A. The award of the learned arbitrator who rejected the claim of the Union for increasing D. A. would unmistakably show that D. A. was paid to the workers, as distinguished from clerks and middle class employees, on the basis of Ext. E and not according to middle class scale of Bengal Chamber of Commerce.

The Union's Assistant Secretary Sambhu Nath Ghose (P.W. 1) of course denied in his cross-examination the suggestion that the Company never paid D. A. to the working class on the basis of Bengal Chamber of Commerce scale. It is also true that he proved a chart of dearness allowance apparently for the purpose of showing that D. A. was paid to the working class at middle class rate of B. C. C. This chart is marked Ext. 8(b). This chart is said to have been prepared from another chart showing payment of D. A. to workmen. That chart has not been produced. So at the utmost Ext. 8(b) is secondary evidence of the contents of a document and its evidentiary value judged in the light of the awards mentioned by me and the not of dearness allowance of 1949 proved by the Company (Ext. E) is practically nil.

Shri Pandey produced the service book of one or two workmen and tried to show that prior to 1957 they had received D. A. at B.C.C. scale for middle class. I showed him that his calculations were wrong.

From my previous findings it would be clear that the working class employees of this Company were never paid D. A. at B.C.C. rate for the middle class, but were paid at a separate rate of their own. Still there remain two points for my consideration, first whether this rate is fair and adequate and, secondly, whether the distinction between the middle class and the working class for the purpose of payment of D. A. should be abolished.

As regards the first point, I have already observed that the amount of D. A. fixed for the bulk of workers by Shri R. Gupta by his award of 1947 was a fixed and rigid amount of Rs. 31-3-6p. There was a marked liberalisation of the system of payment of dearness allowance in 1948 for all classes of workmen by the introduction of payment of slab basis and also of sliding scales linked to the cost of living index. These rates and scales can be gathered from a note on dearness allowance scale prior to 1957 (vide Ext. E). With effect from 1st April 1949, those rates and scales of 1948 were altered only to this extent that there was an increase of Rs. 5 for pays below Rs. 70 per month and of Rs. 10 for Rs. 70 and above per month. In 1950 there was a bifurcation of rates and scales of D. A. in as much as middle class employees began to be paid at B.C.C. rates and the working class at the existing rates. Ext. E is reproduced below:

"Note on Dearness Allowance Scale Prior to 1957

With effect from 1st April 1949, the Company entered into an agreement with its recognised Union and adopted a slab system of dearness allowance payable over fixed pay ranges, the slabs were linked to the cost of living index for the working class and were variable. The dearness allowance scale is appended hereunder:

Dearness Allowance is paid for a three-monthly period based on the average working class cost of living index for preceding three months as follows :—

Index Group. (Base year 1939).	305 329	330 354	355 379	380 404
Baisc Pay per month—
Up to Rs. 50 ..	40	45	50	55
Rs. 51 to Rs. 69 ..	50	55	60	65
Rs. 70 to Rs. 100 ..	55	60	65	70
Rs. 101 to Rs. 150 ..	65	69	72	75
Rs. 151 to Rs. 200 ..	76	81	85	88

It may be mentioned, however, that a similar dearness allowance scale was introduced by the Company in 1948 but that scale then afforded Rs. 5 less for pays below Rs. 70 per month and Rs. 10 less for pays of Rs. 70 and above per month in comparison to the scale mentioned above.

Prior to 1948, a fixed dearness allowance was in force which was a comparatively small sum and has no bearing on the context of the dearness allowance available in this Company for the last sixteen years."

In 1957 there was a further revision of D. A. by the Company by consolidation of Rs. 5 of the current D. A. with basic pay in lower ranges of pay scales and also by making some other major alterations. These changes will appear in paragraphs 3 and 4 of Ext. F6 as reproduced below:

"THE CALCUTTA ELECTRIC SUPPLY CORPORATION LIMITED

Dearness Allowance and Basic Pay

3. A simpler dearness allowance table has been framed which has the following advantages for the workers as compared with the present table:

(a) the increase referred to above in the quantum of D. A. payable to senior skilled workers;

(b) consolidation of Rs. 5 of the present D. A. with basic pay in the case of workers in the lower range of pay scales with the consequent benefit as regards bonus, provident fund and gratuity etc.;

(c) after the above consolidation, the minimum D. A. at the present index group will be Rs. 50 and this minimum will come into force at a lower index number than the present minimum and will remain operative over a longer range, thus avoiding frequent fluctuations in D. A.;

(d) earlier compensation for the rise in cost of living by bringing into force a higher rate of D. A. at a lower index number than before;

(e) closer adhereance to abnormal changes in the cost of living by having the new D. A. scale linked with the index number for the preceding month.

4. The revised D. A. scale is tabled hereunder and will be introduced with effect from the 1st July 1957 to apply to those workers who are at present receiving D. A. based on the working class cost of living index as published by the Government of West Bengal.

Index Group.	Above 115, up to and including 124. Subject to a minimum of Rs. 47.	Above 124, up to and including 149. Subject to a minimum of Rs. 50.	Above 149, up to and including 159. Subject to a minimum of Rs. 53.
D.A. Scale.	95 per cent. on 1st Rs. 100 of basic pay and 47·5 per cent. on 2nd Rs. 100 of basic pay.	100 per cent. on 1st Rs. 100 of basic pay and 50 per cent. on 2nd Rs. 100 of basic pay.	105 per cent. on 1st Rs. 100 of basic pay and 52·5 per cent. on 2nd Rs. 100 of basic pay.

N.B.—In the above table the Index referred to is the Consumers Price Index Number for the working class (Year 1944=100) as published by the Government of West Bengal. In accordance with a recent notification from Government these numbers will be used instead of those with the 1939 base as hitherto. In order to convert index numbers on the 1944 base to the 1939 base, a conversion factor of 2.63 must be used."

There was a further revision by the bipartite agreement of 1961 (Ext. K). The Company has filed a comparative chart showing the different rates of D. A. for the working class for these periods: (1) Pre-1957 revision, (2) Post-1957 revision and (3) Post-1961 revision (Ext. G4). The cost of living index for the working class has been shown both on 1939 base and 1944 base. The following is a reproduction of Ext. G4:

The Bengal Chamber of Commerce has got only one scheme for payment of D. A. which is worked out on the cost of living index for the middle class. Although in paragraph 8 of the written statement it was stated that till 1954 the Company has been paying D. A. to all its employees at that rate, Shri Pandey gave up that position during argument and practically conceded that since 1950 the Company paid dearness allowance to the working class according to a scheme of its own and that D. A. was calculated on the basis of the cost of living index for the working class. He, however, attacked the revision of 1957 and 1961 on several grounds with which I shall deal one after another.

The revision of 1957 does not require any serious consideration because it has been supplanted by the bipartite agreement of 1961 which contains the current rate of dearness allowance for the working class. I may only mentions that the revision of 1957 effected two important changes. The first change was that while dearness allowance was previously paid at fixed amounts for different pay slabs, by the revision of 1957 the payment of dearness allowance on percentage basis was brought into operation subject, of course, to a minimum amount for the benefit of workmen of lower categories. The second change was the widening of the ranges of living index number groups for the purpose of calculation of dearness allowance. The revision of 1961 shows that the percentages were increased and the ranges of index groups were also shortened. Shri Pandey contended that this last revision was a retrograde measure and is more injurious to the interest of workmen than the revision of 1957. I do not see any force in this contention, because the introduction of a higher percentage and the hortening of the ranges of living index number groups were decidedly an improvement on the revision of 1957 and benefited all workmen who got dearness allowance on percentage basis.

Shri Pandey next submitted that the percentage of dearness allowance as appearing in the revision of 1957 and 1961 is higher at least within the first few ranges of index number groups as compared with the percentage of dearness allowance of the scheme of Bengal Chamber of Commerce as it appears in the award of the First Omnibus Engineering Tribunal, an extract from which was submitted by Shri Pandey during arguments. He contended that this proportion has not been maintained in respect of the upper ranges of index number groups which is unfair and inequitable. I do not see any force in this contention because the Company has not evolved its scheme of dearness allowance on the model of the scheme of Bengal Chamber of Commerce and is not bound to follow it in all respects.

Shri Pandey next submitted that grave injustice has been done by the two revisions to those workmen for whom it is convenient to take the minimum dearness allowance and not to avail themselves of the percentage method. Exhibit G4 which has been quoted above would show that prior to 1957 specified amounts of dearness allowance were paid in respect of different slabs of pay. When the percentage system was introduced in 1957 and elaborated in 1961, a minimum dearness allowance was also fixed for different groups of living index numbers. I may just mention here that by the revision of 1957 an amount of Rs. 5 from out of the dearness allowance was amalgamated witht basic pay of lower categories. It may be that the amount of D. A. was reduced by Rs. 5 in the case of some of the workmen of lower categories as would be evidenced by the transposition table (Ext. F3), but the amount of total pay and dearness allowance exceeded in the case of each such worker at least by Rs. 2. An increase of minimum dearness allowance to the extent of Rs. 4 to Rs. 7 for the different groups of index numbers was provided for in the revision of 1961 (vide Ext. G4 and Annexure Y of Ext. K). It is true that the minimum dearness allowance fixed by the revision of 1961 does not bear the same proportion to the minimum pay which the minimum dearness allowance prior to 1957 bore to the minimum pay. This is, however, quite irrelevant for our consideration because in the case of minimum dearness allowance no question of percentage or ratio arises.

Shri Pandey also submitted in the above connection that minimum dearness allowance has also been fixed by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce in respect of different groups of index numbers and such minimum is decidedly higher as compared with the Company's minimum dearness allowance. This argument is fallacious in that it does not take note of the fact that so long as the Company is not made to accept the Bengal Chamber of Commerce Scheme for dearness allowance for the middle class for all its workmen, a comparison between the two schemes would be irrelevant and out of place. This Company has revised its scheme of dearness allowance for the working class at least on four occasions after the award of Shri R. Gupta in 1947, namely (1) in 1948, (2) in April 1949, (3) in July 1957 and in September 1961. The last revision was made with the consent of the C.E.S. Workers' Union which has been in existence since 1934 and has consistently sponsored the case of the workmen from time to time. Each revision has been an improvement on the previous system and the revisions have always been fair to the workmen.

Let me now consider the question whether the dearness allowance paid by this Company is adequate as compared with the dearness allowance paid by some other concerns in and around Calcutta. The Union has examined several witnesses to prove what dearness allowance is paid by some other companies to its workmen. The witnesses are Debi Das Ghose of WIMCO (P.W. 22), Ajit Kumar Ghosal (P.W. 23) of National Insulated Cable Company of India Limited, Ajit Kumar Chatterjee (P.W. 36) of Hindusthan Lever Ltd., Abdul Mannan (P.W. 46) of Caltex (India) Limited, Ajit Kumar Mukherji (P.W. 54) of Alkali and Chemical Corporation of India Ltd. and H. L. Ajwani (P.W. 60) of B.O.A.C. Among these companies, Voltas, B.O.A.C. Hindusthan Lever and Caltex pay dearness allowance to all their employees at the middle class rate of Bengal Chamber of Commerce. National Insulated Cable Company pays dearness allowance according to the Third Engineering Tribunal's award and the remaining companies pay dearness allowance according to schemes of their own which are not fully set out before me. I shall presently discuss whether for the sake of justice and fair-play the scale of Bengal Chamber of Commerce should be extended to this Company. In the meantime I may state that there is absolutely no material before me to show that the above concerns or companies are in any way comparable with the present Company for the purpose of revision of its dearness allowance scheme. It has been held by the Supreme Court in the case of Remington Rand of India versus its workmen reported in 1962(1),

L.L.J., page 287, that in deciding the question as to what concern or company may be comparable for the purpose of revision in the rates of dearness allowance regard must be had to the extent of the business carried on by the said Company, the extent of the profits made by it and the nature of its business. It may also be necessary to consider the standing of the said Company and the strength of its labour force, as well as the structure prevailing in that Company.

In the absence of any evidence on these points and also in view of the fact that all these concerns are non-electrical concerns the Union is not justified in asking the Tribunal to revise the dearness allowance scheme of this Company by simply showing that a few other industries are paying dearness allowance to their workmen at different and, may be, somewhat higher rates.

Shri Pandey next contended that the several groups of living index numbers for calculating dearness allowance of this Company are wide in range resulting in stagnation of workers in the same dearness allowance for a considerable period of time and the increase of percentage is not also in proportion to the increase of living index numbers. In this respect he drew a comparison between the dearness allowance scheme of this Company and the dearness allowance scheme propounded in the award of the Third Engineering Tribunal, published in "Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary", dated November 5, 1958. Page 5441 of the award would show that a sliding scale was introduced providing for an increase or decrease of Re. 1 for rise or fall of every five points of the cost of living index. By a Government notification No. 3803-I.R./IR/1A-20/64, dated 26th August 1964, published under Defence of India Rules, 1962, an increase of Rs. 10 has been allowed with effect from September 1964, and also an increase or decrease of 20 nP. has been provided for rise or fall of one point of the cost of living index. Shri Pandey argued that a similar sliding scale should be introduced in this Company. I do not agree with this suggestion because the two schemes of dearness allowance in question are entirely different. The scheme of the dearness allowance fixed by the Third Engineering Tribunal was to allow a fixed quantum of dearness allowance on different slabs of pay and then to vary the quantum by introducing a sliding scale dependent on the rise or fall in the cost of living index. This Company, on the contrary, pays dearness allowance mainly on percentage basis subject to a minimum amount for workers for whom the percentage method is not advantageous. The two schemes being entirely different it would not be proper to engraft some of the provisions of one scheme on the other.

Shri Pandey lastly argued that the classification of workmen into two categories of middle class and working class for the purpose of payment of dearness allowance is nothing but an invidious distinction and as the workmen of the so called working class contribute equally with the workers of the other class towards the generation of electricity and as they need the same amount of money as the other class for maintaining their health and capacity for work and education of their children, this distinction, which has now become time-worn and artificial should be removed. In support of this contention he relied on a decision of the Supreme Court reported in 1964 (1), L.L.J. page 342 (Greaves Cotton and Co. versus Their workmen). It is true that in this case the award of the Tribunal giving the same scale of dearness allowance to all classes of workmen irrespective of their class or category, was upheld by the Supreme Court. In that case, however, the Tribunal found that there was a trend towards uniformity in the matter of scales of dearness allowance as between the clerical staff and other staff and factory workmen (vide the left hand column of page 349 of the report). This decision relates to a Bombay concern. In another case, which came from West Bengal, Their Lordships of the Supreme Court affirmed the award of the Tribunal which refused to allow dearness allowance to the subordinate staff on the scale of Bengal Chamber of Commerce which was the scale applicable to the clerical staff (vide the case of workmen of Jessop & Co. versus Jessop and Co. reported in 1964, I, L.L.J., page 451). The Union has shown that only four companies engaged in different types of industry pay dearness allowance to all its employees on the scale of Bengal Chamber of Commerce. The fact that a few isolated companies which have not been shown to be comparable have accepted the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scale for all its workmen would not justify me in overthrowing or modifying a scheme which the Company introduced in September 1961 in agreement with a Union of long standing for securing industrial peace and harmony. In this connection I may also refer to the evidence of Company's Personnel Officer Shri Monoranjan Sen who has stated as follows at page 153 of his deposition:

> "The basis of distinction between the working class employees and middle class employees is the job and our requirement for the job. In so far as middle class employees are concerned we have certain requisite qualification of education and so on for the recruitment. This is not applicable to the working class employees."

I am not prepared to say that this distinction is unreasonable or arbitrary. The prayer of the Union for revising the scheme of dearness allowance is rejected.

Issue No. 3—Profit bonus for the years 1959-60, 1960-61 and 1961-62

The Union's case is that although the Company has been paying two months' basic wages as bonus each year—one month's wages at the time of Durga Puja and one month's wages on the occasion of Holi festival—it is not paid on profit basis as prescribed by the Full Bench Formula but as customary bonus which, for all purposes, has developed into a condition of service. The Union has claimed five months' wages as bonus for the three years in question on the application of the Full Bench Formula.

The Company's case is that it has been paying bonus at the rate of two months' basic wages for securing industrial peace without any reference to the Full Bench Formula and nothing would be due to the workmen on account of profit bonus for the three years in question by calculating available surplus according to that formula. The claim is also challenged on the ground of belatedness.

Before considering this issue in the perspective of the Full Bench Formula I shall shortly trace out the history of payment of bonus to the workmen of this Company. Pages 2 and 3 of the award of Shri R. Gupta of 1947 (Ext. H) would show that up to the date of that reference, namely, 24th April 1947, no bonus was paid to the employees of workmen's category. Bonus was paid only to 391 officers and higher paid employees. For the first time Shri R. Gupta awarded one month's pay as bonus to the workmen for the trading year 1945. This was done mainly on equitable considerations because, the workers like higher paid officers, had also contributed towards the earning of profits by the Company. The Union's claim of bonus was four months' pay. This claim was reiterated before Shri M. C. Banerjee in 1951, but he rejected it and maintained the award of Shri R. Gupta in this respect (vide page 44 of Ext. H1). This matter was again agitated before Shri G. Palit in 1955 and was dealt with by him from pages 40 to 46 of his award (vide Ext. H3). Page 46 of the award will show that according to an agreement with the workmen the Company had agreed to pay additional bonus of one month's pay for the years 1951 and 1952. A similar additional amount was awarded by Shri G. Palit for the year 1953 with the result that since 1951 bonus is being paid at the rate of two months' basic pay and has been paid at that rate for the three trading years involved in this reference. Shri Palit did not apply the Full Bench Formula in awarding additional bonus.

The Union's case is that the workmen have been receiving bonus at the rate of two months' basic wages as customary bonus which has developed into a condition of their service. Shri Dey contended on behalf of the Company that the payment of such bonus has all along been a gratuitous one made out of the Company's good-will for securing industrial peace. In the present reference we are not concerned with the nature and character of this bonus, nor are we concerned with the question whether it can be withheld in a year of loss. The only question which confronts us is whether the Union can get anything more by working out and applying the Full Bench Formula with reference to the facts of this particular case.

Before I pass on to consider this part of the case on the merits, I need dispose of a preliminary objection of the Company that the claim for the last two years, namely, 1960-61 and 1961-62 should be rejected on the ground of belatedness. Shri Dey contended that demand for bonus for 1959-60 was made in time by the charter of demands, dated 21st November 1960 (Ext. 1), but the demand for the two subsequent trading years appears to have been made for the first time before the Deputy Labour Commissioner by a letter, dated 16th April 1963 (Ext. A). Item No. 3 of schedule A to this letter is the relevant demand. It appears that a copy of this letter was forwarded by the Deputy Labour Commissioner to the Company by his Memo., dated 29th April 1963 (vide Ext. I2). Paragraph 2 of the Union's letter in question would show that the Company was not showing any inclination to settle the disputes in Schedule A, and was desirous of referring them for adjudication. Item No. 3 of Schedule A is the claim for all the three years under reference. The second paragraph of the letter clearly shows that this demand must have been made by the Union before 16th April 1963 and it must have been under discussion for some period before that date. It was for the Company to show when the demand for the years 1960-61 and 1961-62 was raised by the Union for the first time. It may fairly be presumed that the Company is in possession of papers to show this. As those papers have not been produced, I make an adverse inference against the Company and held that demand for bonus for all the three years must have been made within reasonable time. The contention of Shri Dey that the demand for the last two years suffers from belatedness is, therefore, rejected.

Both parties have filed charts showing calculation of available surplus according to the Full Bench Formula. The Union's charts for the three trading years 1959-60, 1960-61 and 1961-62 have been respectively marked Exts. 18, 18(a) and 18(b). Each exhibit consists of two sheets, the first sheet containing the various items of amounts which are required to be considered for calculating available surplus and the second sheet showing the calculation of rehabilitation costs. The charts submitted by the Company have been marked Exts. P, P1, and P2 for the three years in question. Each of these exhibits contains several sheets. The first sheet corresponds to the first sheet of Union's charts and other sheets show calculation of rehabilitation costs, the amount of working capital, etc. As the Company is incorporated in U.K. it maintains its accounts in sterling currency.

According to the Union the following is the amount of available surplus:

1960-61	..	... £850,204
1961-62	...	... £495,139

According to the Company's calculations there has been no surplus in any of these years, but there has been deficit all through as tabulated below:

1959-60		... £1,210,377
1961-62	...	... £1,823,926

The calculation charts of both parties for all the three years follow the same pattern. So it will be sufficient if the charts of the parties relating to the first year of Union's claim are considered in detail.

The net profits for the year 1959-60 were £2,011,212 being the balance carried to Net Revenue Account of the following year (vide page 4 of Ext. O1 which is the Report of the Directors and statement of accounts for the year ended 31st March 1960). After adding back the depreciation amount for the year and subtracting interest on Debentures, the Union has calculated the gross profits to be £2,756,267. The Company has added back a further amount of £117,094 being bonus for the year and calculated the profits to be £2,873,361 which is higher than the Union's figure and is, therefore to the advantage of the Union. These figures appear in the first page of Ext. P (Company's chart) and Ext. 18 (Union's chart).

I now come to the various prior charges which have been categorised under six heads, namely, (a) to (f) by the Company. The first item is depreciation. According to Company's chart (Ext. P) this amount is £808,552 whereas according to Union's chart it is £879,743. Company's Chartered Accountant Shri Salil Kumar Mitra (O.P.W. 10) accounts for this difference at page 177 of his evidence by stating that for purposes of calculating depreciation he has taken income tax ordinary and extra-shift allowances whereas the Union has taken the depreciation figure from the statement of accounts and subtracted the estimated depreciation on assets added during the year. As the Company's figure under this head of prior charge is lower it is to the advantage of the Union.

Under item (b) of Prior charges the Company's chart shows a figure of £1,112,609 on account of notional income tax. The calculation of a tax has been shown at the bottom of the first page of Ext. P. According to Union's chart (Ext. 18) this figure is £822,191. This difference is due to two reasons as was pointed out by the Company's Accountant at page 178 of his evidence. The Union did not deduct a sum of £298,763 which was the amount of Development Rebate admissible to the Company and calculated tax at 45 per cent. instead of 63 per cent. which was the rate of income tax payable by a non-resident company like the present Company. I accept the Company's figure under this head and hold that the amount of prior charges under Income Tax should be £1,112,609 as claimed by the Company.

The next and third item of prior charge is fair return on capital under this head which is item (c) of Company's chart it has claimed a sum of £417,854, the corresponding amount in Union's chart being £350,759. This difference has been accounted for by the Company's Accountant at page 178 of his evidence by stating that for the purpose of calculating return on paid up capital he has included the premium received on the issue of share capital. No authority was shown by Shri Dey on behalf of the Company for justifying the inclusion of such premium on share capital and he practically conceded that the Union's figure may be accepted. So I accept the Union's figure of £350,759 under this head of prior charge.

I now pass on to item (d) which is the fourth head of prior charge, namely, fair return on Reserve used as working capital, which was one of the most contentious items. The Company has claimed a sum of £58,409 under this head which is nil in the chart of the Union. The Company has claimed a sum of £58,409 at 4 per cent. on a working capital of £1,460,216. The calculation has been made in accordance with the sixth schedule of the Electricity (Supply) Act. In the corrresponding chart of the Union the amount of working capital has been shown as £799,359 which is the excess of current assets over current liabilities, but no return has been allowed because the consumers' deposit amounting to £899,945 is sufficient to meet the working capital.

Shri Pandey on behalf of the Union drew my attention to two decisions of the Supreme Court for the purpose of showing that the Company's calculation of working capital and of the return claimed on it is not correct. One of these decisions is reported in 1963, II, L.L.J., page 358 (Bengal Kagazkal Mazdoor Union versus Titagarh Paper Mills Co.). It has been observed at page 364 of that report as follows:

> "What is usually done is to take into account the liquid assets of various kinds available at the beginning of the relevant year and the total of such assets available at the beginning of the year is considered as working capital for that year, if there is evidence that it has been actually used during the year."

Further down, Their Lordships again observe as follows:

> "But the liquid assets available at the end of the year will usually be of two kinds; firstly there will be cash assets in the various reserves and secondly there will be assets in the shape of raw materials, etc."

The evidence of the Company's Accountant Shri Salil Kumar Mitra (P.W. 10) at page 179 would show that the amount of working capital has been calculated exactly by this method. He has taken the balances of stores and cash and bank balances on the last day of each month from the books of accounts. The relevant statement appears at the last page of Ext. P. The average for a month would be £1,012,862 on account of stores and £631,249 on account of cash bank balances and fixed deposits. The total of these two figures is £1,644,111. The Company has taken a reduced figure of £1,460,216 because a certain amount had to be deducted under the Electricity (Supply) Act as per statement Ext. Q. The only objection which Shri Pandey could urge was that the Company has taken the figures of 12 months and divided the total amount by 12 for striking out an average whereas the Supreme Court decision says that the total amount of liquid assets available at the beginning of the year should be considered as the working capital of that year. In my opinion the Company's calculation of working capital in no way offends against the decision of the Supreme Court. Working capital varies from month to month and even from day to day. So there is nothing wrong if the Company has given the figures of 12 months and then struck out an average. Even if the figures of only the first month be taken, the total of stores cash and bank balances would be £1,011,688 + £349,142, or £1,360,830, which is not very much shorter than the amount of £1,460,216 claimed by the Company. So the decision of the Supreme Court does not help the Union in as much as the Company has proved that the working capital for the year in question was comprised of liquid assets, such as, stores, cash and bank balances.

The next and important point is whether the above liquid assets were actually used as working capital during the year in question. Shri Pandey referred me to the Supreme Court decision in the case of Aluminium Corporation of India versus Their workmen reported in 1963, II, L.L.J., page 629 and contended that the balance-sheet is not sufficient for proving this fact and it must be proved by the accountant or some other officer of the Company. In the present case the Company has examined its Accountant (P.W. 10) who has proved by his sworn evidence that working capital as calculated by him was actually employed in the business of the Company. The Union's case that the amount of working capital should be determined by deducting the amount of current liabilities from current assets is rather disfavoured by the two decisions of the Supreme Court cited above and its contention that working capital was provided from the consumer's deposit cannot be sustained as it runs counter to the evidence of the Accountant. It is also extremely unlikely that the Company would fall back on that amount for conducting its day-to-day business when it had sufficient liquid assets in the shape of stores, cash and bank balances. In the circumstances I hold that the Company has proved that it is entitled to the return on working capital claimed by it.

As to item No. (f) of prior charges I may say that both parties have deducted a sum of £85,866 on account of Contingencies Reserve Fund.

I next proceed to consider item (e) of the prior charges listed in the Company's chart marked Ext. P. Against this item the Company claims an amount of £1,600,448 as additional amount required for rehabilitation. This amount is shown as nil in the corresponding chart of the Units (Ext. 18). Naturally iit was a very hotly debated item.

Shri Pandey on behalf of the Union made some general submissions against this claim of the Company. He took me through portions of reports of the Chairman for the relevant years (Ext. O1 to Ext. O3) and submitted that the reports do not show that the Company has any programme or scheme for replacement of any plant or machinery. I am not aware of any decision which makes it incurbent upon a Company to have any actual scheme for replacements for the purpose of claiming rehabilitation costs under the Full Bench Formula. The reports of the Secretary show that in each year special appropriations are made for plant expansion and replacement (vide page 3 of Ext. O1, O2 and O3). Similarly pages 6 and 7 of these annual reports in which an account is given of capital expenditure and depreciation, would show that many items of plant and its accessories are scrapped during each year and there are additions in the block too. These additions obviously represent not only new additions, but replacements too. So the argument of Shri Pandey that the Company has no replacement programme and so, no necessity for replacement, must be rejected.

The second argument of Shri Pandey in this connection was that the Government may acquire this concern after 1970 by virtue of an agreement and so the Company is not likely to spend any more money for replacing obsolete and scrapped machinery. This argument does not appear to me to be sound because the acquisition of this concern by Government is after all a problematic fact and being a vital industry of public utility, the Company must keep its plant and machinery in good gear by making suitable replacements or substitutions where necessary.

I now come to the actual calculations of rehabilitation costs. The Company's calculations have been shown in the second, third and fourth sheets of Ext. P series and those of the Union are contained in the second sheet of Ext. 18 series. The original costs of various items of the blocks have, of course, been taken from the annual reports of the directors and statements of accounts (Ext. O series). It has been held by the Supreme Court in the case of South India Mill Owners' Association and others versus Combatore District Textile Workers' Union and others reported in 1962, (1) L.L.J., page 223, that in determining the claim of the employer for rehabilitation, two factors are essential to ascertain: first, the multiplier and that has to be done by reference to the purchase price of the machinery, and the price which has to be paid for rehabilitation or replacement; the second problem is the determination of the divisor and that has to be done by deciding the probable life of the machinery. It also goes without saying the rehabilitation claim must be proved by the Company.

Shri Pandey made an initial argument that the Company has wrongly included some items in its rehabilitation chart, such as meters and switch gear, and service connections—overhead and underground —and other assets such as vehicles and office equipment which do not form any part of the plant and machinery. This argument may apply to vehicles and office equipment but certainly not to meters and switch gears and service connections without which it would be impossible for the Company to distribute electrical energy among its consumers. Shri Dey was prepared to give up the claim regarding vehicles and office equipment.

Coming now to the multipliers I find that they have been given in column 2 of pages 2 and 3 of Ext. P series which are the charts of the Company. The highest multiplier is 3.50 for building containing generating plant and erected in or before 1939. For different parts of plant and machinery the figures vary between 3.25 at the highest and 1.0 at the lowest. The Company has examined three experts for proving the rise in prices of machinery and building materials. Shri H. C. Maxwell (O.P.W. 7) who is a B.Sc. of Electrical Engineering and a member of the Institute of Engineers and a representative of C. A. Parson & Co., Manufacturer of Turbo Alternative Equipment, has proved that the cost of replacement of turbine plant purchased in 1939 would be approximately 4.55 times the cost of 1939 at the present day. He supported his evidence by means of a graph (Ext. N). The Company has taken this multiplier as 3.5. This is to the advantage of the Union. Similarly Shri Tridib Ranjan Chakraborty (O.P.W. 8) who is a Sales and Contract Engineer of Messrs. Babcock & Wilcox of India has proved that the present value of Boiler plant and its ancillaries has gone up by 5 times as compared with the price of 1939. The Company has given the price factor as 3.5. Shri B. K. Roy (O.P.W. 9), a Civil Engineer of Associated Engineers Private Ltd., has filed a chart showing the gradual increase in costs of construction of buildings since 1939. The chart is marked Ext. N1. Compared with this chart the company has claimed lower price factors. The witnesses for the Company have proved this rise in costs not only on 1939 base but also by taking some other intermediate years as base. The rise in costs of installation of Mains is proved by the charts which are the third pages of calculation of rehabilitation costs. Those charts are proved by Company's Accountant (O.P.W. 10). As against this evidence the Union has examined only one witness, namely, Bimal Chandra Mitra (P.W. 59), the Vice-President of the Union. He is a matriculate and he does not possess any accountancy qualification. He serves in the Planning Department of Britannia Engineering Co. He has prepared the bonus charts for the Union. The rehabilitation charts for the Union would show that the price factors in the case of buildings, plant and mains have been taken respectively at figures of 1.5, 2.5 and 1.5. At page 80 of his evidence the above witness has said that regarding buildings he has taken the price factor as 1.5 from his general experience. Regarding machinery he has stated at page 81 that he has not purchased any machines or other materials used by this company. So his evidence on the question of comparative rise in prices of buildings and different parts of plant is altogether valueless and I accept the price factors as given by the Company which are lower than those given by the experts and are, therefore, to the advantage of the Union.

I next proceed to consider the other essential factor required to be ascertained in calculating rehabilitation costs, namely, the divisor or life of the plant. The Company has given the probable life of various parts of the plant in accordance with the table of life given in the seventh schedule of the Electricity (Supply) Act and also supported it by the oral evidence of the three experts I have already named. In the case of buildings containing generating plant the life has been taken as 30 years and in the case of other buildings as 50 years. The life of boilers and turbines has been taken as 25 years and that of meters and switch gears as 26 years. The life of transformers has been taken to be 35 years and those of underground mains and service connections and over-head mains and service connections as 40 years and 25 years respectively. Shri Pandey contended that the life of different parts of an electrical plant has been given in the Seventh Schedule for the purpose of creating a depreciation reserve under section 68 of the Act and it has no bearing on the actual useful life of various parts of an electrical plant. This argument of Shri Pandey has no force because when a statute allows depreciation on plant and machinery, it does so with due regard to their probable life and not arbitrarily. Moreover, there is the evidence of experts for the company in this case which would show that the life of different components of an electrical plant as given in the seventh schedule of the Electricity (Supply) Act may be fairly taken to be their normal probable life.

As against the above evidence of the Company, the Union has assessed 45 years as the life of buildings, 0 years as the life of plant and 100 years as the life f Mains. Such assessment of life is based only on ie evidence of P.W. 59, Bimal Chandra Mitra who is not an expert and about whose evidence I have lready made some comments. Moreover, this itness who prepared the rehabilitation charts for the Inion has not taken into account the life already run y different parts of the plant, but has proceeded on ie assumption that the whole plant has been installed the year of bonus claim. In view of all these facts ie Union's evidence about the probable future life of the plant is altogether worthless and I accept the evidence of the Company on this point.

I now come to the question as to what amount should be deducted each year from the total claim for rehabilitation. The foot notes at the bottom of page 2 of rehabilitation chart for 1959-60 (Ext. P) would show that general reserves as at 31st March 1960 less reserves used as working capital, have been set off against the item buildings and special appropriation and special reserves have been set off against the item plant. The consumers' deposit has also been set off. After these deductions, the claim for 1959-60 amounts to £2,409,000 from which the normal depreciation for the year amounting to £808,552 has been deducted and the balance of £1,600,448 has been claimed as net rehabilitation costs for 1959-60. I do not think that any further amount on account of reserves should be deducted from this amount.

I have already observed that the Company is not entitled to any return on share premium amount. The Company should not also be allowed any rehabilitation costs on account of vehicles and office equipment. These two reductions, will, however, amount respectively to £417,854 – £350,759 and £35,400, that is, a total of £102,495 and if that is deducted from the claim as made in the first page of Ext. P which is £1,600,448, the balance will still be a huge deficit of £1,497,953.

From my foregoing findings it will be clear that there was no available surplus for 1959-60, from which any amount can be given to the workmen as profit bonus. There was a huge deficit on the basis of the Full Bench Formula.

I have already said that the bonus calculations of both parties for all the three years are exactly of the same pattern. What I have said about the calculations for 1959-60 applies mutatis mutandis to the two subsequent years. The deficit for these two years are larger than the deficit for 1959-60 and the Union is not entitled to get any bonus for these two years either.

In the course of his argument Shri Dey filed three charts—one for each year—for the purpose of showing that even after making the largest concessions in favour of the Union it would be seen that there is a deficit in each year. In these charts which are marked X, Y and Z for identification and which are given below the amount of return on capital as claimed by the Union has been accepted. So also the amount of reserves used as working capital. The rehabilitation costs of buildings, plant, etc., up to 1939 have been eliminated as also costs of replacement of furniture vehicles, etc. Even after making these concessions, which are not admissions of the Company, it will be seen from the following charts that the amount of deficit for the years 1959-60, 1960-61 and 1961-62 was respectively £267,148, £274,458 and £645,427. So in any view of the matter the Union is not entitled to claim any profit bonus for the three years of claim.

The demand of the Union in the written statement under this issue is that all workers of the Company should be provided with free housing accommodation and where that is not possible the workmen must be paid house rent allowance at 15 per cent. of their wages subject to a minimum of Rs. 15 per month. In the charter of demands, dated 21st November 1960 (Ext. 1), house rent was claimed at 20 per cent. of total wages. So the demand was a little lowered in the written statement. The Company's case is that it provides free quarters only to those employees who require them for the exigencies of service and the cost of housing accommodation being one of the components of wage structure, no additional burden should be imposed upon the company under this item.

It is a matter of common knowledge that the problem of housing accommodation is very acute in Calcutta and its suburban industrial areas. Rented houses have become expensive as well. P.W. 30 Naruf Khan has stated in his evidence that he pays a rent of Rs. 16 for a small house at Shyamnagore. His evidence is corroborated by his landlord Sushil Kumar Basu (P.W. 33). Another workman Niranjan Dey (P.W. 50) has stated that he pays a rent of Rs. 25 for a small room and a kitchen at Matiabruz where the Southern Generating Station is situate. This is really very hard for the workmen, a substantial portion of whose earning goes towards payment of house rent. But the question is whether the Company should be asked either to provide all its workmen with free quarters or in the alternative to compensate them adequately on this account.

The question of providing workmen with free quarters or compensatory allowance in lieu thereof cropped up before Industrial Tribunals from time to time. This was so for the first time before adjudicator Shri R. Gutpa in 1947. The Union then claimed free housing quarters for its workmen and in the alternative 10 per cent. of basic pay with a minimm of Rs. 7. The claim was opposed by the Company and rejected by Shri R. Gupta (vide page 14 of Ext. H). The matter was again agitated before adjudicator Shri M. C. Banerjee in 1951 when house rent was claimed at 25 per cent. of the basic pay with a minimum of Rs. 15 per month. The claim was rejected by the Tribunal (vide page 43 of Ext. H1). There was an appeal against the award of Shri Banerjee and the learned Judges who heard the appeal confirmed the above award of Shri Banerji after observing that house rent is ordinarily taken into account in fixing wages and having regard to the wage level and the rate of dearness allowance of the Company, this claim of the Union was not justified (vide page 10 of Ext. H5). The self-same matter was agitated before Shri Palit in 1955 being issue No. 7 of that reference. The matter was dealt with by the learned Judge from pages 24 to 26 of his award (Ext. H3) and he negatived the claim of the Union expressing only a wish that the Company would make use of Government grant for constructing quarters for its workmen. There was an appeal aganist this award, but pages 13 and 14 of the appellate judgment (Ext. H4) would show that the question of house rent was not pressed in appeal. The Union has again raised this matter presumably in the belief that failures are the pillars of success.

On behalf of the workmen the Union has claimed free quarters or equivalent monetary benefits for all its workmen. Company's Personnel Officer Shri Monoranjan Sen (O.P.W. 6) stated at page 155 of his evidence that the Company provides housing to a nucleus of its workmen to meet emergent situations. He elaborated this statement in his cross examination at pages 164-165 in the following way:

> "In the whole of the Company approximately about 15 per cent. of the workers are provided with housing accommodation. There is nothing on record to show the criterion under which the 15 per cent. workers are provided with housing accommodation. This is left entirely to the departmental heads. This discretion is exercised in favour of such workers as are considered necessary for emergent circumstances."

Shri Pandey contended before me that the generation and distribution of electricity being a continuous process and the punctual attendance of workers being vitally necessary it would be advantageous to the company to provide free quarters to its workmen in the vicinity of the generating stations and sub-stations. He also submitted that the Company can easily construct quarters with Government loan and subsidy under the Industrial Housing Scheme. The construction of quarters for such a vast number of workers as is employed by this Company is a project of gigantic magnitude and the Company is the best judge to decide whether it would undertake the task. I do not think that the Tribunal would be justified in giving any direction to the Company.

Shri Pandey argued in the last resort that as a matter of fact some workmen are occupying a Company's building at Matiabruz station free of rent and some others have constructed quarters of their own on Company's land at that station and also at Cossipore generating station without payment of any rent and there should be no reason why the remaining workmen should not get the same privilege. The evidence of Company's witnesses No. 4, George Edrick Turbatt at pages 130 and 144 would show that some workers were allowed to occuply an ex-Japanese match factory at Metiabruz and some were allowed to construct quarters on Company's land at Metiabruz and Cossipore during the last war and also during the riots of 1946. These were emergent and temporary measures and the workmen are not vacating the building which has become dilapidated and are not also quitting the Company's land. I believe this evidence and I am of opinion that no case for providing the workmen with free quarters or in the alternative for allowing monetary compensation has been made out.

Issue No. 5.—Festival holidays for shift workers

Issue No. 7—Night shift allowance

Issue No. 9.—Fixation of duty hours of shift workers at 45 hours per week or fixation of corresponding enhanced pay

As all the above issues concern shift workers, they are taken together for adjudication.

The generation and supply of electricity being a continuous process, a substantial number of shift workers has to be employed at the various generating stations of the Company. Mr. George Edrick Tarbatt (O.P.W. 4), Deputy Chief Engineer, Operation, has stated some of the conditions of service of a shift worker at page 118 of his evidence which runs as follows:

> "There are two distinct categories of workers in the generating stations, namely, shift workers and non-shift workers. Shift workers work eight hours per shift and six shifts in six days. In a span of twenty-four hours we have got three shifts. The hours of the first shift which is the night shift are from 11 p.m. to 7 a.m. Second shift is known as the day shift which is from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. and the third shift is known as the evening shift and it is from 3 p.m. to 11 p.m. A shift worker gets a day off after the completion of six shifts. This day off may fall on any day of the week from time to time."

Having mentioned these preliminary facts about shift working I shall now deal with issues Nos. 5, 7 and 9 one by one.

The demand under this issue figures under item No. 8 of the Union's charter of demand (Ext. 1). In its written statement the Union has prayed that shift workers may be allowed to avail themselves of all festival holidays which are also known as public holidays like all other workers for the Company, and if that is not possible by reason of the continuous process of their work, then the holidays may either be staggered out for them within a reasonable period or they may be allowed to accumulate as leave to their credit. The Company contends that additional payment is made to shift workers for working on holidays and there is no valid reason for changing the existing practice.

It is almost compulsory for a shift worker to work on a festival holiday. He can avail himself of a festival holiday only if it coincides with his weekly off day. Otherwise, he is marked absent and his wages for the day is deducted if he does not turn up for duty on a festival holiday (vide evidence of Tarbatt, O.P.W. 4 at page 137). If a shift worker works on a holiday he is paid two and half times his normal daily wages which is technically called time and a half rate (vide evidence of Tarbatt, O.P.W. 4 at page 137 and the evidence of Monoranjan Sen O.P.W. 6 at page 155). The Union contends that shift workers and non-shift workers should be treated on the same footing in the matter of enjoyment of public holidays and if that is not possible, then either the holidays may be staggered out for shift workers or they may be allowed to accumulate as leave to the account of shift workers to be availed of in future as and when necessary. It would appear that a demand of a very similar nature was put forward before Shri R. Gupta and accepting the demand of the Union be allowed one day's wages, meaning evidently one day's additional wages, to shift workers for working on Sundays and other Gazetted holidays (vide pages 11 and 12 of Ext. H). This double wages has since been raised to two and half times the normal wages for one day. It has been conceded by the Union that the work of shift workers being of a continuous nature, it cannot be stopped for a moment during the day or night. They are given adequate compensation for working on a holiday. The Union wants to retain this benefit for shift workers and at the same time it claims that for working on a holiday, shift workers should be given a paid day off either shortly before the festival holiday or soon after it. In my opinion this is a claim of a double benefit.

Shift working has been specifically provided for in paragraph 12 of the standing orders of the Company (Ext. C) which lays down that shift working shall conform to the regulations of the Factories Act. Shri Pandey submitted that sometimes a non-shift worker is transferred to shift work and such transfer results in the curtailment of his holidays which is nothing but a prejudicial change in the condition of his service. Shri Choudhury, however, made a positive statement on behalf of the Company that there is no such transfer without the consent of the worker concerned and if he does not give his consent he does not incur any penalty or punishment. So there is no substance in this submission of Shri Pandey.

Shri Choudhury submitted on behalf of the Company that it is prepared to stagger out festival holidays for shift workers but in that case they should not be allowed two and half times of their wages for their work on holidays which would then be their normal working days. Shri Choudhury further submitted that the Company is prepared to give the shift workers one and half times of their wages for working on a festival holiday and give them a corresponding day off with full wages within a reasonable period. This suggestion is very fair and reasonable and I accept it. So my adjudication under this issue is as follows:

> If a shift worker works on a festival holiday and does not want any corresponding holiday the existing practice will apply. If he works on a holiday and wants a corresponding day off then he will get one and half times of his wages for working on the holiday and another paid off day to be staggered out by the Company within a reasonable period before or after the holiday. But in such a case the workman concerned must give at least ten days' prior notice to the Company that he desires to have a corresponding holiday.

Issue No. 7—Night shift allowance

On behalf of shift workers night shift allowance has been claimed by the Union at 25 per cent. of the normal wage for any work done during 6 p.m. and 6 a.m. Incidentally such a claim has also been put forth on behalf of workers who are sometimes required to work duirng night, such as emergency workers. In the letter of demand this claim was made at 50 per cent. of normal wages (Item 13 of Ext. 1). The Company's case is that work in the night shift is done by rotation and work-load during the night is much less than at other times and there is no justificaion for any such claim.

On behalf of the Union several witnesses were examined for the purpose of proving that night allowance and night shift allowance are paid by many companies at various rates. These witnesses are Sammu Khan of Lever Brothers (P.W. 16), Debi Ghose of WIMCO (P.W. 22), Bimal Mukherjee of Eastern Battery Makers (Private) Ltd. (P.W. 27), Ajit Kumar Mukherjee of Hindusthan Lever Ltd. (P.W. 36) who proves a memorandum of agreement (Ext. 12b) which provides for shift allowance, Rajeswar Singh of Britannia Engineering Co. (P.W. 37), Ahi Bhusan Ganguly of Eastern Railway (P.W. 38), Ajmatullah of National Engineering Works (P.W. 39), Abdul Mannan of Caltex (India) Ltd. (P.W. 46) and Ashimes Roy Chowdhury of Alkali and Chemical Corporation of India Ltd. (P.W. 55).

It would appear that a night allowance at Rs. 5 per hour was claimed before Shri G. Palit in 1955 on behalf of workmen not routined to do night work. This demand was turned down by the learned arbitrator (vide pages 27 and 28 of Ext. H3). No such claim was then put forth on behalf of shift workers who have got to work at night by rotation. It was urged on behalf of the Company that it is not permissible for workmen to claim any such special allowance where night work is an incidence of their normal work and where it is done by rotation. In support of this contention the Company relied on the Full Bench decision of the Labour Appellate Tribunal in the case of Asbestos Cement Ltd. reported in 1954, 1, L.L.J., page 656. It was held in that case that where the manufacturing process, for technical reasons, is a continuous one and work in night shift is done by rotation no additional remuneration can be claimed by workmen for night shift work. Shri Pandey could not point out any case in which any departure has been made from the above view. The present case is covered by the authority of the above decision. Night shift work is done in some of the departments of generating stations of the Company not with the object of making additional profit as in the case of other companies, but because the very nature of the industry necessitates continuous work in those departments thoroughout day and night. So I hold that the workmen are not entitled to claim any additional money or benefit for their night shift work.

Issue No. 9.—Fixation of duty hours of shift workers at forty-five hours per week or fixation of corresponding enhanced pay

At page 23 of its written statement the Union has stated that the normal duty hours of the Company in the generating stations are 45 hours a week. The working hours in the office are still less. Nearly 40 per cent. of the workers engaged in shift work are required to work 48 hours a week. They are not also allowed half an hour's daily recess which is enjoyed by other workers and which is provided in the Factories Act. So the Union prays at page 39 of its written statement that shift workers should have 45 hours' work per week with a rest period of half an hour each day, or in the alternative 50 hours' extra wages per month—24 hours' wages for extra period work and 26 hours' wages for working during recess period.

The Company's contention is that it is permissible to fix different working hours for different categories of workers so long as it does not militate against the provisions of the Fatcories Act. As shift workers are engaged in a continuous process the Company is justified in not allowing them the rest interval of half an hour every day which is allowed to other workers under the Factories Act.

It appears that the question of the number of G. Palit in 1955, but the Mazdoor Union excluded the case of shift workers. The Tribunal refused to disturb the existing working hours of the Company vide page 16 of Ext. H3).

Paragraph 12 of the Standnig Orders of the Company provides for the carrying on of shift working according to the regulations of the Factories Act. Shri Chowdhury, learned Counsel who argued this part of the case on behalf of the Company, contended that the working hours fixed for shift workers do not violate any of the provisions of the above Act. He draw my particular attention to sections 51, 55 and 64 of the Factories Act, 1948. The first section provides that an adult worker in a factory may be made to work up to 48 hours in any week. Section 55 provides for the rest interval of half an hour after five hours' work under sub-section (1) and six hours' work under sub-section (2), clause (d) of sub-section (2) of section 64 of the Act provides for exemption of the operation of section 55 of the Act in cases where, for technical reasons, the work must be carried on continuously. The net position, therefore, is that a shift worker may be made to work for eight hours a day without any rest interval for six days in a week if the nature of his work is such, as in the present case, that it must be carried on continuously.

Shri Pandey, however, contended that as compared with other workers shift workers put in three hours of extra work in a week and for this they must be suitably remunerated. His contention that a shift worker must also get additional remuneration for not getting the rest interval may at once be negatived because a non-shift worker enjoys the rest interval outside his weekly duty hours of 45 hours. After hearing the learned representatives of both parties I do not see why a shift worker should not get some additional remuneration for his extra three hours' work in a week. As compared with a non-shift worker he labours under some disadvantages. He has to work at night during night shifts for which he does not get any additional allowance. He has to work continuously for eight hours and he does not get any rest interval for relaxation. Normally he has got to work on festival holidays. Of course he gets additional remuneration for this. But then it is somewhat hard for a workman not to be able to enjoy a festival holiday on the day the festival actually happens. On all these considerations I am of opinion that a shift worker should be remunerated for work done over and above 45 hours in a week.

The next question is what should be the measure of remuneration for such extra work. Shri Pandey contended that it should be paid on overtime basis as provided in section 59 of the Factories Act. I do not accept this contention because this additional work is done by a shift worker in the course of his normal duties. But I call it additional work as compared with the work of his non-shift fellow workers. In the circumstances I direct that the additional payment will be the payment of normal wages including D.A. and for each hour of extra work done by a shift worker in a month over and above 45 hours in a week, he shall get 1|8th of his daily wages including D.A.. To illustrate, if a shift worker works for 12 such extra hours in a month he will get basic wages and D.A. for one and half days for each work in addition to his monthly wages.

Issue No. 6—Supply of waterproof and warm clothing to outdoor workers and extension of uniform facilities to all

This demand of the Union has been set forth at pages 36 and 37 of its written statement. The various kinds of uniforms and other clothings and outfit required for different kinds of workers have been mentioned there. The Union has also prayed that the uniforms may be periodically washed at Company's cost or a washing allowance of Rs 8 per month may be allowed.

The Company's case is that uniform is supplied to some of its workmen either for its own prestige or where the workers are likely to spoil their own clothing in the discharge of their duties. This matter is concluded by the last adjudication proceedings and the claim of the Union is extravagant and absurd.

It appears that this matter was agitated before Shri G. Palit and by his award of 1955 he allowed some uniform to coal mazdoors consisting of blue shirts and khaki shorts (vide pages 18 to 20 of Ext. H3). It would further appear that in 1961 there was a reference before adjudicator Shri S. N. Guha Roy in which "Boiler Suits" were claimed on behalf of workmen while engage in the operation of floating safety valves in boilers. This demand of the Union was rejected by him (vide Award—Ext. H6).

The Union is claiming uniform consisting of four suits of dress of different descriptions for different classes of workers, two pairs of shoes every six months, winter clothing and waterproof and umbrellas during rains. The demand, on the face of it, appears to be unrealistic and fantastic. If all the workers of this Company numbering about 7,000 are to be supplied with such uniform and outfit as are demanded by the Union then it would entail very heavy expenditure and will seriously affect the finances of the Company. The Union examined some witnesses for proving that some companies supply their workmen with uniform. I mention the names of some of these witnesses. They are Ajit Kumar Chatterjee (P.W. 36) of Hindusthan Lever Ltd., S. M. Ajimatullah (P.W. 39) of Harbanslal Malhotra & Sons (Private) Ltd., Abdul Mannan (P.W. 46) of Caltex (India) Ltd., Sailaja Bhusan Das (P.W. 52) of Riverside Bhatpara Electric Supply Co. Ltd. and Hari Sankar Jha (P.W. 56) of Calcutta Tramway Company. The Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation also gives some clothings, waterproofs, umbrellas and other kinds of outfit to some of its workmen as per chart marked G5.

Shri Chowdhury submitted on behalf of the Company that uniform and other articles of outfit are supplied to some of its workers on two principles, namely, for the prestige of the Company and secondly, in cases where the clothings of workers are likely to be spoiled or soiled by reason of the dirtiness of the work. He contended that the fact that a few other companies are supplying uniform to some of its workmen should not be made a ground for making this Company supply uniform and other articles of outfit to all its workmen without any exception. I agree with the contention of Shri Choudhury that the principles adopted by this Company in the matter of supplying uniform are just and reasonable. For the purpose of satisfying myself as to whether any workmen of generating stations the atmosphere of which was said to be very dirty and sooty by Shri Pandey, can reasonably claim any uniform on the application of the above principles, I inspected the Southern Generating Station of the Company at Metiabruz. I went round the coal yard, the boiler house section, the turbine plant section and the workshop which are the principal departments of this station. The turbine plant section appeared to be fairly clean and no worker of that section can reasonably claim any uniform facility. The atmosphere of the workshop, though not as clean as that of the turbine house, did not appear to be so dirty or sooty as to entitle the workmen of that section to get any uniform. The coal yard mazdoors are getting some uniform under the award of Shri G. Palit. It is the boiler house section which struck me as deserving of special consideration in this matter. I saw the workers of different categories doing their work in boiler house shift and boiler house maintenance. The work of Assistant boiler attendants struck me as particularly dirty job. They remove ashes and cinder from boilers and work in close proximity of the coal yard. Their own clothing is very soon soiled by the nature of their job. They should be supplied with two blue full plants and two blue shirts every year.

In the boiler house maintenance the work of Khalasis, Mazdoors, now known as Boiler Cleaners and general cleaners, appeared to be very dirty and their work cannot but soil their own clothing in very little time. They should be supplied with two Khaki shorts and two blue shirts every year.

On similar consideration Mains Mazdoor should get some uniform. Among other work, they have got to dig trenches to a depth of 2½ feet to 3½ feet and lay cables there. Although it is said on behalf of the Company that the Mazdoors dig trenches by tucking up their clothes, I am satisfied that this job cannot but soil their clothes in very little time. So I direct that Mains Mazdoors will get 2 Khaki half pants and two cotton jerseys every year.

With the exception of the abovementioned uniform facilities I reject the rest of the demand of the Union under this head. The periodical washing costs of the uniform will be borne by the Company.

Issue No. 8—Officiating allowance

This allowance is paid by the Company in accordance with a circular of the Agent, dated 12th June 1962 (Ext. L). The material portion of the circular is quoted below:

Acting appointment to fill a leave vacancy

Acting allowance is payable when an employee acts in a senior post in a leave vacancy for a continuous period of not less than thirty days and shall be whichever is the greater of—

(a) an allowance equivalent to the amount by which the basic pay of the employee falls short of the minimum basic pay of the senior post, or

(b) an allowance equivalent to the annual increment of the scale of basic pay of the senior post. On completion of the acting period the employee reverts to his substantive basic pay.

H. C. Bowker, Agent.

The Union contends that the provision for payment of officiating allowance is inadequate and unreasonable and such allowance should be paid even for a day's work in the higher grade and the amount should be the difference between the wages of the man officiating and the wages drawn by the man going on leave. The Company's case is that the existing rule regarding payment of acting allowance is just and appropriate and does not call for any revision.

It would appear that a similar claim that officiating or acting allowance should be paid even though such period may be one or two days was put forward before Shri G. Palit in 1955 but rejected by him (vide pages 28 and 29 of Ext. H3). The claim was also dismissed by the Appellate Tribunal (Judgment Ext. H4). Shri G. Palit held that the payment of acting allowance for officiating for a period of 30 days or more is a salutary rule and does not require any change. I am of opinion that the time has come when the minimum period for qualifying a worker for officiating allowance should be shortened. The days have become hard for every body and workers should be given some incentive for acting in a higher post for a reasonable period.

The Union's claim that it should be paid even for a day's work in the higher grade is manifestly absurd and unworkable. After hearing the learned representatives for both parties I think that the minimum period for payment of acting allowance should be 15 days at a stretch which would include holidays and rest days.

As regards the amount, the Union contends that this should be the difference between the wages of the man officiating and the wages drawn by the man going on leave may have been earned by him after having worked in the superior grade for a number of years and after having obtained several increaments. There is no reason why a worker of an inferior grade would get that pay although he may happen to officiate in the superior grade for the first time. The rules of the Company appear to be fair and just in this respect except for this that in clause (a) of its circular marked Ext. L the words basic pay which occur twice there should be substituted by basic pay and dearness allowance. The rules will, therefore, stand modified to the extent that officiating allowance should, from the date of operation of the award, be paid for a minimum period of 15 days including holidays and rest days and the quantum of such allowance would be the same as at present with this difference that the allowance would include both basic pay and dearness allowance.

Issue No. 10—Revision of gratuity scheme

The Company has got a scheme of gratuity which is embodied in its standing orders except for a slight recent variation. The Union contends that the retiral benefits under the existing scheme are inadequate, irrational and out of date and they call for a thorough revision in many respects. I shall presently set out the various items in respect of which revision has been prayed for. The Company contends that the scheme is a liberal one and taken along with the generous provident fund scheme of the Company, it must be held to be adequate and fair.

The retiring gratuity rules of the Company are embodied at page 18 of its standing orders (Ext. C). They are reproduced below:

Gratuities will be admissible to all workmen as follows:

(1) On death, if he has served nineteen years or more.

(2) On retirement after nineteen years of more continuous service.

(3) On retirement before completing nineteen years continuous service by reason of permanent physical or mental infirmity.

(4) On abolition of employment due to reduction of staff or similar reasons.

The amount of the gratuity will be 6¼ per cent. of the total basic wage, or salary, of the workman during his period of continuous service if such period is under twenty-four years. If the period of continuous service is twenty-four years or over, the amount will not be less then 10 per cent. of the total basic wage, or salary of the workman during his period of service.

Company's Personnel Officer, Monoranjan Sen (O.P.W. 6) has stated at page 151 of his evidence that there has been a slight variation of the first clause to the effect that in case of death of a confirmed workmen gratuity shall be admissible irrespective of the number of years of his service.

The Union wants the following alterations in the gratuity rules as regards its quantum:

(1) 12½ per cent. of total earnings of a workman on completion of three years' service;

(2) 15 per cent. of total earnings on completion of three to seven years service; and

(3) 20 per cent. of total earnings for service above seven years.

As regards the qualifying period for earning gratuity the Union has prayed that it should be made payable on completion of three years' service —no matter what may be the reason for the termination of the service of the workman concerned.

Shri Chowdhury contended on behalf of the Company that the question of gratuity was canvassed before several Tribunals in the past and the results of those awards have been crystallised in the Standing Orders of the Company as slightly modified in the case of premature death of a workman and they should not be disturbed at the instance of the Union. The award of Sri R. Gupta of 1947 shows that he made some modifications regarding the qualifying period and amount (vide pages 15 and 16 of Ext. H). The question of revision of gratuity rules was next agitated before Shri M. C. Banerjee in 1951 but he refused to make any alteration in the existing gratuity rules (vide pages 59 to 61 of Ext. H1). The matter was again raised before Shri G. Palit in 1955 who refused to revise the existing gratuity rules (vide pages 9 and 10 of Ext. 113).

Gratuity as a mode of retiral benefit has come to be recognised by Industrial Tribunals. The present gratuity rules of the Company have been in vogue since the award of Shri R. Gupta was given in 1947 except for the slight modification in the case of the death of a workman. Shri Pandey urged on behalf of the Union that the provisions for payment of gratuity are inadequate, unsatisfactory and antiquated in many respects and they require a thorough revision. He contended, in the first place, that the minimum qualifying period for earning gratuity should be three years and a graduated percentage should be introduced varying from 12½ per cent. to 20 per cent. according to length of service. At present the minimum period is 19 years and the rate is 6¼ per cent. for service for 19 years but less than 24 years and not less than 10 per cent. for service for and above 24 years.

I shall presently come to the question of rate. As to the qualifying period I think 19 or 24 years is too long and a period of three years is too short. It has been observed by the Supreme Court in the case of Express Newspapers versus Union of India reported in 1961, (1) L.L.J., page 339, at page 398 that where an employee voluntarily resigns from service of the employer after a period of only three years there would be no justification whatever for awarding him a gratuity. Again at page 397 of the report their Lordships observe as follows:

> "Gratuity being a regard for good, efficient and faithful service rendered for a considerable period, there would be no justification for awarding the same when an employee voluntarily resigns and brings about a termination of his service, except in exceptional circumstances."

Bearing in mind the above observations of the Supreme Court and keeping in view the fact that under the present scheme of the Company the qualifying period for earning the lower scale of gratuity is 19 years and the period is 24 years for earning full gratuity, I fix 15 years as the minimum period for earning gratuity. To this extent the present rules of gratuity will stand modified.

At present gratuity is paid on certain percentages of basic wage. Shri Pandey argued that it should be paid both on basic wage and dearness allowance because the contribution of employees to Provident Fund under the Employees' Provident Funds Act, 1952, which formerly did not include dearness allowance, now includes it by an amendment of the Act in 1960. Shri Pandey contended that on the same analogy the company should pay gratuity both on basic wage and dearness allowance. I cannot agree with this suggestion because contribution to Provident Fund and payment of gratuity are two distinct and separate modes of retiral benefits and the provisions of one should not be incorporated into the other. The inclusion of D.A. in gratuity will cause a very heavy burden on the Company. I direct that gratuity would be paid only on basic wages as before.

The next question for my decision is what should be the percentage of payment. Under the present scheme the percentage is 6¼ per cent. where service is for 19 years and less than 24 years and not less than 10 per cent. where it is 24 years or more. I have decided that 15 years of service is the minimum qualifying period for earning gratuity.

In my opinion the two different rates should be maintained because that would encourage a workman to serve the company in the years of his mature experience. As I have reduced the qualifying period by four years, I shall correspondingly reduce the period of earning of the higher percentage of gratuity by four years. In the result I direct that for service up to 20 years gratuity shall be payable at 6¼ per cent. of basic wage and for service over 20 years gratuity shall be payable at no less than 10 per cent. of basic wage.

The gratuity rules, in my judgment, require one other modification. At present gratuity is forthwith payable irrespective of period of service under the following circumstances:

(1) death;

(2) on retirement by reason of permanent physical or mental infirmity; and

(3) on abolition of employment due to reduction of staff or similar reasons.

To this I would also add that gratuity would be payable in the case of removal or dismissal of a workman from service for any reason not involving financial loss or loss of property of the Company by reason of the workmen's misconduct. To this extent also the gratuity rules of the company will stand modified.

The existing gratuity rules will thus stand modified in respect of the qualifying period, the amount of gratuity and the circumstances under which it will be paid irrespective of the period of service in accordance with my previous directions.

Issue No. 11—Casual leave

Besides other kinds of leave the Company at present allows seven days' casual leave in a year to its workmen. The Union claims that the total period of such leave should be extended to 15 days in a year and the rules regarding giving of prior intimation should also be modified. The Company contends that the leave rules and leave facilities are quite liberal and they do not call for any modification.

It would appear from pages 10 and 11 of the award of Shri R. Gupta (Ext. H) that until that award was given, there was no provision for casual leave in this Company. The learned arbitrator for the first time made a provision for seven days' casual leave in addition to other leave facilities of the Company. The Union's claim was for 15 days which was only partially allowed to the extent of seven days. This matter was again agitated before Shri M. C. Banerjee in 1951. The prayer then was that the workmen should be allowed to take the entire period of seven days at a time and they should also be allowed to take casual leave to other holidays. This claim was rejected by the learned arbitrator (vide pages 49 and 50 of award Ext. H1). The matter was again agitated in a limited form before Shri G. Palit in 1955. Pages 22 and 23 of his award (Ext. H3) would show that he declined to accede to the Union's prayer that the workmen should be allowed to enjoy the entire period of seven days at a time. The Company's casual leave rules as contained in paragraph 5(a) of page 17 of the Standing Orders (Ext. C) would show that in special cases the entire period of leave may be granted at a time on a prior application being made to the Superintendent of the Department.

The leave rules of the Company as embodied in the Standing orders appear to be fair and liberal as has been observed by some other tribunals before me. There is absolutely no ground for enlarging the period of casual leave. I would only like to make some minor modification of the rules. Sub-paragraph (b) of paragraph 5 at page 17 of Ext. C requires a workman to give prior information to the Superintendent of his department before he avails himself of the leave. Failure to give such notice would entail loss of wages. This is not reasonable. If a workman or any member of his family suddenly falls seriously ill or meets with an accident or if the workman has got to leave the station on receipt of a telegram, it may not be physically possible for him to give prior intimation. So I propose that in cases of emergency of the nature mentioned above it would be sufficient if the workman sends intimation of his intention to go on casual leave either by post or by a messenger as soon as necessity for the leave arises.

As regards the prohibition in sub-paragraph (e) of paragraph 5 that casual leave cannot be allowed to be tacked to holidays, I direct that such tacking would be allowed in cases where the actual period of leave, excluding the holiday or holidays does not exceed three days. In such cases the holiday or holidays will not be included in the period of leave. Same for these modifications the existing casual leave rules will remain operative.

Issue No. 12—Is the order of reference regarding issues 1 and 2 mentioned in the said order of reference valid in view of the settlement referred to in paragraph 11 of the Company's written statement?

A point was raised in paragraph 11 of the Company's written statement that the reference is not valid with regard to issues Nos. 1 and 2 because they are concluded by the bipartite agreement with C.E.S. Workers' Union, dated 6th September 1961 (Ext. K), and that was the only Union recognised by the Company. Shri Dey did not press this point during arguments because the Bijli Mazdoor Union had come into existence and was also agitating these and other issues before the above settlement was arrived at and so the workmen represented by that Union are not bound by it. This issue is answered against the Company.

Issue No. 13.—Is the Bijli Mazdoor Union mentioned in the Order of Reference competent to raise any dispute in respect of the Company's workmen belonging to the middle class category?

It is admitted by the Union that no employee of middle class category is its members. So this Union has no power to represent employees of that category. Shri Pandey also adduced evidence and argued the case on behalf of employees of workmen's category as distinguished from middle class category. This issue is answered in favour of the Company.

I have given my adujdications under different issues and they constitute my award which will come into operation immediately after expiry of thirty days from the date of publication of the award in the "Calcutta Gazette". Before parting with this reference I must express my appreciation of the valuable assistance given by Shri Dey and Shri Chowdhury on behalf of the Company and Shri Pandey on behalf of the Union.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Avery Company of India Private Ltd., 22|2 Waterloo Street. P.O. Box No. 377, Calcutta-1, and their workmen represented by Avery Co. Ltd. Employees' Union, 43 Baikuntha Chatterjee Lane, Howrah. (Case No. VIII-139|64.)

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri A. P. BHATTACHARYA, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri J. N. Chatterjee, Deputy Labour Adviser, Indian Engineering Association.

For the Union: Shri Bimal Mitra.

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department Order No. 1889-I.R./IR/10L-202(A)/63, dated 19th May 1964, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. Avery Company of India Private Ltd., 28/2 Waterloo Street, P.O. Box No. 377, Calcutta-1 (hereinafter referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Avery Co. Ltd. Employees' Union, 43 Baikuntha Chatterjee Lane, Howrah (hereinafter referred to as the Union), for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The issue framed in the case runs as follows:

Overtime allowance for the workmen of the service department when working outside the factory premises.

AWARD

The case of the Union is that the Company has got its factory at Hide Road, Kidderpore. The service department of the Company is also located in the factory. It has branches at Kharagpur and other places in West Bengal. The workmen engaged in the service department are required to work inside the factory, outside the factory at customers' premises and attend upcountry work at customers' premises outside Calcutta. The work that is done outside the factory at customers' premises is also work of the factory, and the workmen are workers working in the factory within the definition of sections 2(1) and 2(m) defining "worker" and "factory" respectively for the purpose of the benefit admissible to such workers under section 59 of the Factories Act, 1948. For overtime work, such workers are entitled to wages at the rate twice their ordinary rate of wages. This is the claim of the Union in this case. The Company obviously is denying the said benefit to its workers of the service department.

The Company submitted a written statement wherein it is denied that the workers of the service department working outside the factory at customers' premises are workers working in the factory as defined in the Factories Act. They are not accordingly entitled to the benefit of double the wages for the overtime period of work under section 59 of the Factories Act. Section 59 of the Factories Act is not attracted to the services rendered by the employees of the service department working outside the factory at customers' premises.

Decision

The issue involves the claim of overtime allowance at the rate double the wages of the workmen of the service department for work outside the factory premises. It is an admitted fact that the workmen of the service department normally work inside the factory and the service department is located in the factory premises. It is further in evidence that some workers in the service department are sent by orders of the Area Service Supervisor, Mr. Shepherd for work outside te factory at customers' premises. Such work is done in and around Calcutta and also outside Calcutta requiring night halt. The worker in such cases is technically described as working upcountry. "Upcountry" is the word commonly used in the factory for such work. The workmen employed in such work outside the factory at customers' premises are not paid double the wages, as it is the contention of the Company that section 59 of the Factories Act does not apply to such employment. Mr. Shepherd gave evidence on behal of the Company. His evidence is that when th workers go outside the factory for the purpose o servicing, it is required of them to report at th service department at 8 a.m. before proceeding o upcountry work. The Company pays wages for th time that is taken by the workmen for the journe from the service department to the place of wor as well as for the time taken in the journey fron the place where work is done to the place o residence of the workmen. The workmen also ge some compensatory allowances as per decisions o the Works' Committee which have been proved b Mr. Shepherd (Exts. A-1 and B). It is not the cas of the Union that the allowances paid for such wor are inadequate or unjust. The positive case of th Union is that the work of the service departmen done at customers' premises is factory work and a such the Factories Act applies to such work entitl ing the workmen to double the wages as provide in section 59, sub-section (1) of the Factories Act The decision virtually turns upon the interpreta tion of section 2, clause (1) and (m) read with sec tion 59, sub-section (1) of the Factories Act. Th facts of the present case are to be considered in th light of those sections. It is true that the work men working in the service department inside th factory are workmen working in the factory, an if they do any overtime work inside the factor they are entitled to double the wages under sectio 59, sub-section (1). But with regard to work don outside the factory premises, the claim of the Unio has got to be considered in the light of those sec tions. The Supreme Court entered into a simila question in a case reported in L.L.J. I, 1960, page 277 Before I discuss the case cited above, I will quot the definitnon of "worker" and "factory" as define in sections 2(1) and 2(m), respectively, of th Factories Act.

"Worker" means a person employed, directly o through any agency, whether for wages or not, i any manufacturing process, or in cleaning any par of the machinery or premises used for a manufactur ing process, or in any other kind of work incidenta to, or connected with, the manufacturing process, or the subject of the manufacturing process.

"Factory" means any premises including the precincts thereof—

(i) whereon ten or more workers are working, or were working on any day of the preceding twelve months, and in any part of which a manufacturing process is being carried on with the aid of power, or is ordinarily so carried on, or

(ii) whereon twenty or more workers are working, or were working on anv day of the preceding twelve months, and in any part of which a manufacturing process is being carried on without the aid of power, or is ordinarily so carried on.

The Supreme Court had occasion to comment upon the definition of worker and factory as quoted above. The Supreme Court observed that by the use in section 2(1) of the Factories Act of the expression "employed in any other kind of work incidental to or connected with the subject of manufacturing process", not only the workers directly connected with the manufacturing process, but also those who are connected with the subject of manufacturing process in a factory are included within the meaning of "workman". The provisions of the Factories Act are intended to benefit only the workers employed in a factory, i.e., in the premises of the factory or the precincts thereof. That is the comment made by the Supreme Court on the definition of factory. It was a case of a sugar mill that was decided by the Supreme Court. It was claimed that the field workers who were employed by the sugar mill to guide, supervise and control the growth and supply of sugarcane to be used in the factory are employed either in the precincts of the factory or in the premises of the factory, and as such they would be persons employed in a commercial establishment as defined in section 2(3) of Uttar Pradesh Shop and Commercial Establishment Act. In deciding that point, the Supreme Court observed that even if such persons be considered to have been employed in any other kind of work connected with the subject of manufacturing process, they would not be governed by the provisions of the Factories Act, as they are not employed in a factory. This decision of the Supreme Court was followed in a recent Madras case reported in L.L.J. II, 1964, page 160. It was held in that case that a combined reading of the two definitions of "worker" and "factory" in sections 2(1) and 2(m), respectively, of the Factories Act indicates that a worker is to be understood for the purpose of the Act not only in terms of the kind of work he is engaged in but also the place wherein he works. The word "worker" in section 59(1) has, therefore, to be understood in that sense. A reading of section 59(1) of the Act indicates that the overtime work, to attract overtime wages at the rate mentioned, should be in the factory itself, which means within the factory premises including the precincts thereof. Any other interpretation will not give effect to the words "in a factory" used therein. Hence, for a claim for overtime wages by a worker employed in a factory for overtime work done outside the factory, the provisions of section 59(1) could not be relied upon. The instant case is rather similar in facts with the facts of the reported case. In the instant case, the decision turns upon the construction of section 59 of the Factories Act. In order to attract the benefit of section 59, it must be proved that the worker works in a factory. From the definition of "factory" analysed above, it is obvious that factory means any premises or precincts whereon workers are working. The word used in the definition of factory is "whereon" and the words used in section 59 are "in a factory". So, any work which is done by the factory worker outside the factory premises or precincts, cannot be called to be work done in a factory so as to attract section 59 of the Factories Act. In the present case, the only conclusion would be that the workers of the service department working at customers' premises, i.e., outside the factory premises or precincts thereof are not entitled to the benefit under section 59, sub-section (1) of the Factories Act. The double wages claimed by the Union must, therefore, be rejected. I, accordingly decide the issue against the Union.

This is my award.

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri R. BHATTACHARYA, Judge,
Fourth Industrial Tribunal

Today is fixed for hearing of the application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed by Shri Bimal Kumar Chatterjee against his employer Messrs. Shree Lakshmi Flour Mills Ltd., 243 Upper Chitpore Road, Calcutta-3. An application is filed by Shri S. N. Banerjee, learned Advocate, duly authorised by Shri Chatterjee, the petitioner, to say that the dispute has been amicably settled between the parties and that the petitioner has been reinstated in the service. The prayer of the petitioner is that he may be allowed to withdraw the original application. No objection is raised from the side of the employer. I have also heard Shri J. R. Jain for the employer and Shri Banerjee for the petitioner. I am satisfied that the dispute has been amicably settled and at present there is no difference between the parties and that the matter has been amicably settled. In the result, the original application of Bimal Kumar Chatterjee under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act stands withdrawn.

Now. therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Laxmi Cinema, P.O. Chakdah, Nadia, and their workmen represented by Bengal Motion Picture Employees' Union, Nadia District Committee and Katwa Branch, Krishnagar, Nadia. (Government Order No. 2138-I.R., dated 11th June 1964.) (VIII-159|64.)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri R. BHATTACHARYA, Judge,
Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: Shri S. Mukherjee, Advocate.

For the Company: Shri B. D. Mukherjee, Advocate.

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The parties are Messrs. Laxmi Cinema, P.O. Chakdah, Nadia, and its workmen represented by Bengal Motion Picture Employees' Union, Nadia District Committee and Katwa Branch, Krishnagar, Nadia. The issue is as follows:

Issue

Whether the termination of service of Shrimati Sibi Dasi is justified? To what relief, if any, is she entitled?

In short, the case of the Bengal Motion Picture Employees' Union (hereinafter referred to as the Union) is that Shrimati Sibubala Das (alias Sibi Dasi) was an employee of Messrs. Laxmi Cinema (hereinafter described as the Cinema) and her duty was not to allow anybody to enter into the Cinema Hall during the Cinema show into the female section. At the time of entry of the ticket-holder she had to retain to herself the counterpart of the ticket. There was a dispute between the Union and the Cinema, and the Cinema on that account was very much vindictive against the workers who had been agitating for their just demands. On 17th August 1963 Sibubala Das, the gate-keeper on duty, was charge-sheeted on the false allegation that she had allowed one person inside the Cinema Hall without ticket during the matinee show. She was suspended on the very day and, ultimately, dismissed, without holding any enquiry, by a letter, dated 29th August 1963. It has been alleged that the said dismissal was illegal, improper and mala fide. The prayer of the Union is for reinstatement of the dismissed worker with all back wages from the date of suspension.

The Cinema filed its written statement and, in short, its case is that the present dispute is not an industrial dispute, that the Union cannot raise the dispute and that it does not represent any employee of the Cinema. On the whole, the Cinema denies the allegations made by the Union and its case is that Shrimati Dasi was in the habit of letting in people without ticket. On 17th August 1963 also she allowed a person to enter into the Cinema Hall without ticket during the matinee show. Her conduct was dishonest and she was charge-sheeted. She submitted an explanation in reply to the charge-sheet and she was ultimately dismissed. The dismissal of Shrimati Dasi, according to the Cinema, was a bona fide one.

Some documents have been exhibited on both the sides, and some witnesses have been examined. P.W. 1 is the dismissed worker herself. She has stated before this Tribunal that she did not allow anybody during the matinee show without any ticket. She is a member of the Union. She paid subscriptions to the Union but she did not get any receipt. During cross-examination she has said that her duty was not to allow anybody into the Hall without any ticket. She was to retain with herself the counterpart of the ticket of the person who appeared with lawful ticket. At first she has said that one Shrimati Gita Banerjee was seeing the picture during the show. Her son came to the Cinema Hall to call her. The evidence of P.W. 1 is that Shrimati Banerjee came out and handed over her ticket to the son, and the son went into the Hall with that ticket and began to see the Cinema. Admittedly, she did not raise any objection to it. At the same time, the witness says that before the show began Shrimati Banerjee went away placing her son inside the Hall. This witness further admits that inside the Hall there was some dispute regarding the son of Shrimati Banerjee. Shrimati Banerjee has been examined as P.W. 2. Her evidence is that about four or six months ago she went to the Cinema House in a matinee show. Before the start of the show, her son Asru came and reported that she was required at the house. According to the witness, she left the Cinema Hall and handed over the ticket to the son, and the son entered into the Hall to witness the picture. P.W. 2 says that she came out from the Hall and handed over the ticket to her son. At the same time she has said that she was driven out from the Hall by the durwans of the Cinema. Then she wants to correct herself and says that when she was coming out from the Hall, she was driven out from the Cinema House as the Cinema authority had the impression that she had entered the Hall making illegal payment to Shrimati Dasi. From the evidence of P.W. 2 herself, it is clear that the evidence of P.W.s 1 and 2 cannot be accepted as correct. They have not placed before the Tribunal a true picture of the occurrence. I find from the evidence of P.W. 2 that she was challenged inside the Hall on the ground that she was without ticket, and that the lady supervisor inside the Hall informed the authority about it. If this is a fact, certainly there could not have been any occasion for Shrimati Banerjee to hand over her part of the ticket to her son after coming out of the Hall. As admitted by both the sides, the cinema ticket is not transferable. Shrimati Dasi retained to herself the counterpart of the ticket, according to her evidence. She has said that Shrimati Banerjee came out from the Hall and handed over her part to her son outside the Hall and that her son was allowed to go inside the Hall without any lawful ticket. This is a new story and I cannot accept it. The story set up at the time of hearing was not stated in the written statement filed by the Union.

On the side of the Cinema, the lady supervisor of the Cinema Hall, Shrimati Sefali Sarma, was examined as O.P.W. 1. Her duty was to place ticket-holders inside the Hall in their respective seats. Her evidence is that all seats were filled in. Shrimati Banerjee and her son came inside the Hall and asked her to show their seats. Shrimati Sarma asked for ticket but Shrimati Banerjee did not show any ticket. Shrimati Banerjee also stated that she had made payment to Shrimati Silu Dasi at the gate. Shrimati Sarma informed one Rabindra Nath Das. She also took Shrimati Banerjee and her son out of the Hall. Outside the Hall Shrimati Banerjee showed one ticket only and her son was allowed to enter into the Hall with that ticket. Shrimati Banerjee was not allowed to enter as she was ticketless. Shrimati Banerjee was interrogated and Shrimati Sarma's statements were recorded on the spot duly signed by her. That document is Ext. B. Shri Das has been examined as O.P.W. 2. He says that he was informed about the incident, and when he came to the doorway of the Hall, he saw Shrimati Banerjee and Shrimati Sarma, and he was also informed that Shrimati Banerjee was without ticket. O.P.W. 3 is the Manager himself. He appeared at the scene when Shrimati Banerjee was taken outside. He enquired about the matter. At first Shrimati Silu Dasi denied the allegations made against her but thereafter she admitted that she had taken money from Shrimati Banerjee and begged apology. Sibu Dasi was asked to give a writing to that effect but she refused. Thereafter she was charge-sheeted and suspended. Her reply was received but she was ultimately dismissed as the explanation was found unsatisfactory. O.P.W. 3 has also stated that Shrimati Banerjee reported at that time that she had made payment to Silu Dasi.

Exhibit A is the copy of the charge-sheet. The allegation was that on 17th August 1963 during the matinee show Shrimati Dasi allowed one person to enter into the Hall without ticket. Shrimati Dasi was asked to submit an explanation and till the disposal of the matter she was suspended. Exhibit 2 is the copy of the explanation in reply to the charge-sheet. In this explanation Silu Dasi stated that the allegation was without any foundation, and that nobody was allowed to enter into the Hall without any ticket. The order of dismissal is Ext. 1. This is a letter, dated 29th August 1963. This letter was treated as the final discharge letter with immediate effect. Silu Dasi was, however, requested to receive her dues. An attempt was, however, at first made from the side of the Union that the dismissal was bad because it was with retrospective effect, but the language in Ext. 1 is clear and it cannot be called a retrospective order. This point is, however, not pursued by the Union at the time of argument.

Admittedly, there was no domestic enquiry before the order of discharge, which was, in fact, an order of dismissal on the ground of misconduct. In the present case, therefore, I am, first of all, to see whether there is sufficient evidence before me to substantiate the charge made against Silu Dasi. I have considered the statements of all the witnesses examined before me and I have also marked the demeanour of the witnesses. From the evidence I am satisfied that the story set up by Silu Dasi is unacceptable. I cannot believe Silu Dasi and Shrimati Banerjee. O.P.W. 1, Shrimati Sarma, has given a true account of the occurrence. She is a very straight-forward witness. On the whole, her statement has been amply corroborated by her own statements recorded immediately after the occurrence as would be evident from Ext. B. Exhibit B is a genuine document. I am satisfied that on 17th August 1963 during the matinee show Silu Dasi allowed Shrimati Banerjee and her son to enter into the Hall with only one ticket. The son of Shrimati Banerjee, however, made use of the ticket to see the picture but Shrimati Banerjee had no ticket. One person was, therefore, allowed to enter into the Hall by Shrimati Dasi deliberately and in contravention of her duties. This was a serious misconduct on her part. The evidence shows that at the time of occurrence Shrimati Banerjee gave out that she had paid money at the gate to Silu Dasi. But now before this Tribunal Shrimati Banerjee denies to have made any such statement. The allegation that Shrimati Banerjee paid some money to Shrimati Dasi for which she allowed Shrimati Banerjee to enter into the Cinema Hall cannot be disbelieved. In these circumstances, however, it has been proved that Sibu Dasi was guilty of gross misconduct and her retention in the service of the Cinema was prejudicial to the interest of the business. The Cinema authority rightly terminated her service on the ground of misconduct. The dismissal of Silu Dasi was, therefore, legal, proper and justified.

Another point was raised in the written statement from the side of the Cinema. It was alleged that the Union had no authority to raise the objection and that this was not an industrial dispute. Silu Dasi has stated that she is a member of the Union, that she paid subscriptions to the Union and that she did not get any receipt therefor. This statement cannot be accepted. I cannot hold that Silu Dasi was a member of the Union or that she ever paid any subscription to it. There is no evidence either that any employee of the Cinema was a member of the Union or that other employees or an appreciable number of the employees of the Cinema took up the cause of Silu Dasi or that the Union was duly authorised to represent the workmen. In this view of the matter, I should hold that the present dispute is not an industrial dispute and that the Union has no locus standi to represent the workmen of the Cinema. I should also find that this Tribunal has no jurisdiction to adjudicate upon the present dispute which is not an industrial dispute.

In the result, the workmen or the dismissed workman cannot get any relief in this reference.

No. 6477-I.R.|IR|1A-20(F)|64. — 4th December 1964.—Whereas by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Notification No. 6476-I.R.|IR|1A-20(F)|64, dated the 4th December 1964, under sub-rule (1) of rule 126AA of the Defence of India Rules, 1962 (hereinafter referred to as the said rule), employment in the Company styled Messrs. Hindusthan Motors Ltd., Uttarpara, Hooghly (hereinafter referred to as such employment), has been declared to be employment to which the said rule applies:

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by sub-rule (4) of the said rule, the Governor is pleased hereby to regulate dearness allowance payable to persons who are workmen as defined in clause (s) of section 2 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), and are engaged in such employment (hereinafter referred to as the said workmen), in the following manner, that is to say, the said workmen shall be paid as dearness allowance per month—

(a) for the month of September 1964 a sum of rupees ten in addition to the dearness allowance admissible to them in accordance with the award, dated the 19th May 1960, of the Second Tribunal published with the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 2865-I.R.|IR|10L-149|58, dated the 8th June 1960, at pages 2225 to 2238 of Part I of the "Calcutta Gazette", of the 23rd June 1960, as modified by the Supreme Court of India in its judgment, dated the 13th August 1962, the total amount of dearness allowance thus calculated (hereinafter referred to as the consolidated dearness allowance), being linked to the cost of living index figure 465 in relation to the base year 1939 (hereinafter referred to as the said index figure); and

(b) for every month after the month of September 1964 the consolidated dearness allowance increased or decreased, as the case may be, at the rate of twenty paise per point of rise or fall in the said index figure calculated on the average of three months next preceding:

Provided that the consolidated dearness allowance once increased or decreased shall not be further changed until after a period of three months.

No. 6471-I.R.|IR|11L-505|63. — 4th December 1964.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 157-I.R.|IR|11L-505|63, dated the 20th January 1964, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Bijoli, 38 Shyamaprosad Mukherjee Road, Calcutta-25, and their workmen represented by the Bengal Motion Picture Employees' Union, 126A Dharamtalla Street, Calcutta-13, regarding the issue mentioned in the said order being a matter specified in the second schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Fifth Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Bijoli, 38 Shyamaprosad Mukherji Road, Calcutta-25, and their workmen, represented by the Bengal Motion Picture Employees' Union, 126A Dharmatalla Street, Calcutta-13. (Case No. 13 of 1964.)

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri K. P. MUKHERJI, Judge,
Fifth Industrial Tribunal

Present for the Company: Shri P. R. Mukherji, Advocate.

Present for the Union: Shri Suprobhat Mukherji, Advocate.

This dispute between Messrs. Bijoli of 38 Shyamaprosad Mukherji Road, Calcutta, and their workmen was referred to this Tribunal under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 157-I.R.|IR|11L-505|63, dated the 20th January 1964, for adjudication upon the only issue which is as follows:

Whether the termination of employment of Shri Haricharan Jana is justified? What relief, if any, is he entitled to?

The case of the Union, shortly put, is as follows: Shri Haricharan Jana was appointed a Fireman in the Company (Bijoli Cinema) in 1949, and he worked as such for about 14 years to the entire satisfaction of the Company. In the beginning of March 1963 he was given a charge-sheet alleging fraud in the matter of obtaining the appointment and was asked to show cause why his services should not be terminated. He submitted a reply to the charge-sheet. An enquiry was held against him with due notice to him, and he attended the enquiry. He was subsequently dismissed from service as he did not possess the requisite qualification for holding the post of a Fireman is a Cinema House. The dismissal of the workman is said to be illegal and improper, and amounts to victimisation. The Union has prayed for reinstatement of Shri Haricharan Jana with full wages. The Company has filed a written reply to the written statement filed by the Union which is as follows:

Shri Haricharan Jana was appointed as a Fireman by the Corporation of Calcutta on the 23rd June 1949 to work as a Fireman in Bijoli Cinema, Calcutta, and he worked as such for a long time. Sometime in April 1960 by a circular issued by the Calcutta Corporation, the requisite qualifications for appointment of a Fireman in Cinema Houses were prescribed. Haricharan Jana did not possess the requisite qualifications for the job of a fireman in a cinema house, and he was asked to show cause why his services should not be terminated. He submitted a reply to the 'show cause' notice issued to him, and after a domestic enquiry he was dismissed from service on the ground that he did not possess the requisite qualifications for working as a fireman in a cinema house. It is denied that in dismissing the workman the Company was actuated by any motive of victimisation or indulged in unfair labour practice, as alleged. It is pleaded that the dismissal of Shri Haricharan Jana under the circumstances is bona fide and justified, and he is not entitled to any relief whatsoever.

Decision

There is little doubt with regard to the facts leading to the dismissal of Shri Haricharan Jana. He was appointed as a Fireman in the Bijoli Cinema by the First Deputy Executive Officer, Calcutta Corporation, by his letter (Ext. M), dated 23rd June 1949, addressed to the proprietor, Bijoli Cinema, and Shri Jana worked as such up to the date of his dismissal on 21st April 1963. It is an undisputed fact that the Calcutta Corporation was the appointing authority of a fireman in a cinema house in Calcutta at the time Shri Jana was appointed in June 1949. Long after that, i.e., in April 1960, by a circular issued by the Commissioner of the Calcutta Corporation (Ext. G) some new rules were framed by the Corporation for appointment of a fireman in a cinema house. It is laid down in that circular that a fireman to be appointed in a cinema house should have the recommendation of the Director, Fire Services, West Bengal, and approved by the Commissioner, Calcutta Corporation. Admittedly, Haricharan Jana has no certificate from the Director of Fire Services. The letter of appointment, Ext M, shows that Haricharan Jana was appointed as a fireman in Bijoli Cinema as he had previously worked as a fireman in New Empire and Tiger Cinemas in leave vacancies when no particular training was necessary for appointment of a fireman in a cinema house. After the issue of the 'show cause' notice to Haricharan Jana asking him to show cause why his services should not be terminated, the Company wrote a letter to the Director, West Bengal Fire Services, enquiring as to whether a person who has neither the Fire Brigade Training License nor a certificate can be appointed as a fireman. A copy of this letter has been marked Ext. E. In reply to this letter, the General Manager, Bijoli Cinema, received a letter, Ext. D, from the Director of the West Bengal Fire Services. In this letter it is clearly stated that a person employed as a fireman in a cinema house or anywhere must have fire fighting training under any reputed fire service and a certificate to the effect. It is further stated therein that a fireman in a cinema house must be a trained person. This letter clearly shows that a fireman in a cinema house must be a trained person. The workman in his letter, dated 11th April 1963, addressed to the General Manager, Bijoli Cinema, has admitted that a fireman's certificate is necessary for the job of a fireman. He has further stated in this letter that he was appointed as a fireman on the recommendation of the Calcutta Corporation. It is pleaded that the workman should have been given an opportunity to undergo the prescribed training just to enable him to continue in service in view of his long service as a fireman. The workman never asked the Company to give him facilities to undergo the prescribed training and it cannot be said that the Company acted mala fide in not giving him facility for undergoing the prescribed training. That the Company acted bona fide is clear inasmuch as they wrote to the Director, West Bengal Fire Services, enquiring if Shri Jana could be retained in service as he did not possess the requisite license or certificate. After receipt of a reply to this letter from the Office of the Director, Fire Services, West Bengal, the Company had no alternative but to appoint a fireman with fire-fighting training under any reputed fire service and holding a certificate to that effect. It is true that this workman put in service for a long number of years when no particular training was required for a fireman in a cinema house. But after the issue of the new circular by the Commissioner of the Calcutta Corporation, it was not open to the management to allow Shri Haricharan Jana to continue as a fireman, as he did not possess the prescribed requisite qualification. He was given opportunity of being heard in the matter in an enquiry held on 19th April 1963, and he admitted that he did not possess any certificate of training from any reputed fire service. He was dismissed from service as he did not possess the requisite training for the job of a fireman, and that was the reason of termination of his services. The termination of employment of Haricharan Jana, under the circumstances, is justified.

Shri Haricharan Jana worked for about 14 years as a fireman, and he lost his job not because of any misconduct or fault on his part, but for his not possessing the requisite qualifications which was subsequently prescribed for the job of a fireman in a cinema house. As his services were terminated not for his own fault, I think, in view of his long service, he should be paid some amount ex-gratia. I, therefore, direct the Company to pay him a sum of Rs. 250 within one month from the date of publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette".

This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Vijay Iron Foundry, 7 Sree Ramkrishna Mandir Path, North Bantra, Howrah, and their workmen represented by Iron and Steel Workmen's Union, 172 Beneras Road, Salkia, Howrah. (Case No. VIII-102/64.)

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present

Shri A. P. BHATTACHARYA,
Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department Order No. 1402-I.R./IR/10L-48/64, dated 7th April 1964, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. Vijay Iron Foundry, 7 Sree Ramkrishna Mandir Path, North Bantra, Howrah, and their workmen represented by Iron and Steel Workmen's Union, 172 Beneras Road, Salkia, Howrah, for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The issues framed in this case are as follow:

1. Whether the termination of service of Sarbasri Ramdas Singh and Manbahadur Thapa is justified? What relief, if any, are they entitled to?
2. Whether the suspension of Sarbasri Haricharan, Manbharan and Rambachan with effect from 31st December 1960 to 17th January 1961 is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?
3. Whether the termination of service of the following workmen is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled.

AWARD

After service of notice, both the Company and the Union appeared. The Union filed a written statement stating its case, while the Company took time on four occasions for filing its written statement on different grounds. The Company took time last on the ground that there was a talk of compromise between the parties which subsequently materialised. On 16th November 1964 a joint petition of compromise was filed duly signed by the Company and the Union. The terms of settlement are fair and reasonable, and may be accepted. Accordingly, an award is passed in terms of the petition of compromise which will form part of the award as Annexure "A".

This is my award.

2. Whether non-employment of Shri Nirode Behari Chakraborty is justified? What relief if any, is he entitled to?
3. Whether dismissal of Shri Dhirendra Lal Chatterjee and Shri Rohini Kumar Roy is justified? What relief, if any, are they entitled to?

AWARD

Notices of the reference were duly served upon the parties and the parties filed their respective written statements. After necessary preliminary proceedings, the case was fixed for hearing on 11th December 1963. On that date, both parties filed separate petitions praying for adjournment. The case was adjourned to 16th March 1964 for hearing. Since 16th March 1964 there was no appearance by or on behalf of the Company before this Tribunal and no step was taken on its behalf though the Union continued to be represented on different dates to which the case was adjourned since 16th March 1964 in order to give the Company some chances and opportunities to appear before the Tribunal and take part at the hearing. As it was found that the Company was not appearing and was not taking any interest in this case, it was finally fixed for ex parte hearing on 24th November 1964. On that date too there was no appearance by or on behalf of the Company and no step was taken on its behalf though the Union representatives was present and the Union was ready for hearing. In the circumstances, the case was heard ex parte on 24th November 1964. At the ex parte hearing, the Union examined the 3 concerned workmen and exhibited certain documents relating to the dispute.

Each of the 3 issues referred for adjudication relates to the particular workman or workmen named therein. I shall take up each issue separately and state the facts relevant thereto in course of discussion of that issue.

Before taking up each issue for decision, I shall first of all discuss the preliminary objection raised in the Company's written statement to the effect that the Tribunal has no jurisdiction to djudicate upon the dispute because it is not an industrial dispute. There is ex parte evidence to prove that each of the concerned workmen is a member of the Union of the employees of this very Company named Hindusthan Pharmaceutical Employees' Union and that Union has taken up the cause of each of these workmen in the dispute under reference. It appears that the Union sponsored their cases before the Conciliation Officer and the present reference followed the failure of the conciliation proceedings. When it is proved that the Union of the employees of this very Company has taken up and sponsored the cause of each of these workmen in the present case, it cannot but be held that the whole dispute has become an industrial dispute. It may be safely presumed from the fact that the Union of the employees of this Company has taken up the cause of each of these workmen that the cause of each of these workmen is backed up and sponsored by quite an appreciable number of workmen of this very Company. There is absolutely no counter evidence on the side of the Company to rebut the aforesaid position. In the result, I reject the Company's preliminary objection and hold that the dispute under reference is an industrial dispute and the Tribunal has jurisdiction to adjudicate upon it.

I now proceed to take each issue separately.

Issue No. 1: Whether the termination of service of Shri Gopal Chandra Sarkar is justified? What relief, if any, is he entitled to?

This issue relates to the workman named Shri Gopal Chandra Sarkar. The Union's relevant case in respect of this workman is briefly as follows: The present Managing Director of the Company who assumed control of the Company from the widow of the late deceased Managing Director, who remained in control for a short while, was annoyed with the leaders of the Union and its important members, who helped and assisted the widow of the late Managing Director, and started a policy of victimisation against such workmen. Shri Gopal Chandra Sarkar was in service of the Company since 1948 as an Assistant Bacteriologist on a monthly salary of Rs. 120. He had a good record of service. On 27th August 1962, the present Managing Director called him in his chamber, and on a false representation that the concerned department was going to be closed under Court's Order, asked him to tender resignation. Shri Sarkar refused to tender resignation but finally under threat and coercion, he was forced to write a letter of resignation on the dictation of the Managing Director who gave him 3 cheques of the total amount of Rs. 360 and another cheque for Rs. 112.50 paise on account of his arrear salaries. After this Shri Sarkar was escorted out of the factory by the Managing Director's men and was not allowed to meet his colleagues. On the next day, Shri Sarkar came to the factory and reported the matter to the Union. At the instance of the Union he lodged a diary at the local police-station regarding the matter and the Union also took up the matter with the Labour Commissioner. All the cheques issued by the Managing Director were dishonoured by the Bank. In the aforesaid circumstances, the services of Shri Gopal Chandra Sarkar were illegally and unjustly terminated by way of victimisation.

In the written statement filed by the Company, all the allegations of Shri Sarkar against the present Managing Director in the matter of his resignation have been denied as false and frivolous and it has been substantially pleaded that Shri Sarkar tendered his resignation voluntarily with effect from 1st September 1962 by his letter, dated 27th August 1962, on the ground that he was too weak to perform his duty properly. The Management accepted his resignation and paid him all his dues in full and final settlement and he granted a receipt for the same. It is further alleged by the Company that it has no connection with the cheques referred to by Shri Sarkar and the said cheques were issued by M/S. Choudhury & Co. on account of the business of the said concern in which Shri Sarkar was connected and it was only a coincidence that Shri Sachi Bhusan Chowdhury who issued the cheques as the Proprietor of M/S. Choudhury & Co. was also the Managing Director of this Company.

There is the ex parte and unchallenged evidence of P.W. 1 Shri Gopal Chandra Sarkar, in support of his aforesaid case against the Company regarding his alleged resignation. He has also produced the 3 dishonoured cheques with the Bank's Memos (Ext. 1 series) which fully support his contention. According to the evidence of Shri Gopal Chandra Sarkar, the 3 cheques were post-dated for 12th September 1962 though they were issued on 27th August 1962. Shri Sarkar has definitely testified on oath that the resignation letter was taken from him by force and coercion and he never voluntarily resigned. There is no counter evidence against this testimony on the Company's side and the testimony remains unchallenged. I accept the unchallenged and unrebutted testimony of Shri Gopal Ch. Sarkar and hold that he never voluntarily resigned but was forced and coerced to write a resignation letter and the Managing Director Shri Sachi Bhusan Chowdhury purported to give him the cheques, Ext. 1 series, in payment of his due salaries but the cheques were dishonoured and no money was received by Shri Sarkar. Accordingly I accept the case of this workman and hold that the termination of his service by the Company on the basis of his alleged resignation was not bona fide and justified and the alleged resignation was not a voluntary resignation but was obtained by force and coercion. Upon the facts, I also hold that the termination of his service on the basis of the alleged resignation was nothing but an instance of victimisation and unfair labour practice. Upon the above findings, Shri Gopal Chandra Sarkar must be entitled to suitable reliefs against the wrongful and unjust termination of his service. In his evidence Shri Sarkar has stated that in view of the present circumstances, he does not want reinstatement but he wants only sufficient compansation. After considering the overall facts and circumstances of the case, I would grant him the relief of recovery of the total amount of the four dishonoured cheques issued by the Company, Rs. 472.50 (Rupees four hundred seventy-two and 50 paise) and a further sum of Rs 27.50 (Rupees twenty-seven and fifty paise) by way of compensation. Thus, he would recover in all Rs. 500 (Rupees five hundred) from the Company.

In the result, I award that the termination of service of Shri Gopal Chandra Sarkar was not justified and as he does not want reinstatement, he would recover Rs. 500 in all, from the Company representing the total amount of four dishonoured cheques given to him at the time of his alleged resignation and a further sum of Rs. 27.50 by way of compensation. The Company shall pay this amount within a month from the publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette".

Issue No. 2: Whether the non-employment of Shri Nirode Behari Chakraborty is justified? What relief, if any, is he entitled to?

This issue relates to the alleged non-employment of Shri Nirode Behari Chakraborty. The case put forward by the Union in respect of this worker is that he was served with a letter in the form of a charge-sheet, dated 12th April 1962, and was immediately suspended. He submitted his reply to the charge-sheet denying the charges. There was no enquiry regarding the charges. He was never given any information about any enquiry. He used to go to the office for work but was not given any work and finally he was verbally told that his services had been terminated but he was not given any letter of dismissal or discharge.

The Company's case in regard to this worker is briefly as follows: Shri Nirode Behari Chakraborty was charge-sheeted on 12th April 1962 for commission of some gross misconducts and was suspended pending enquiry. He submitted his explanation which was not acceptable to the Management and the Management decided to hold an enquiry into the charges but in the meantime, the Union took up the matter and the dispute was referred to this Tribunal though the service of this workman was not terminated.

Here also there is nothing but the ex-parte evidence of the concerned workman supported by Ext. 2, the charge-sheet to him and Ext. 3, his reply to the charge-sheet and this evidence stands absolutely unrebutted and unchallenged. There is no reason why I should not accept this evidence. I hold upon the evidence that this workman was not given any employment since he was served with the charge-sheet, dated 12th April 1962 (Ext. 2), and subsequently he was kept out of employment by the Company without holding any enquiry and without issuing any formal letter of dismissal. This action on the part of the Company was certainly unjustified and constituted an unfair labour practice and was not also bona fide. In view of this position, the Union's case in respect of this workman must succeed and he should get adequate relief against his non-employment. In his evidence he has claimed reinstatement with back wages. There is no reason why he should not be given the normal relief of reinstatement and he should also get some back wages by way of compensation. I think that 25 per cent. of his back wages for the period of unemployment will be sufficient compensation.

In the result, I award that the non-employment to this workman Shri Nirode Behari Chakraborty was not justified and the Company shall reinstate him on his reporting for duty within 15 days from the publication of the award and the Company shall also pay him 25 per cent. of his back wages for the period of forced un-employment by way of compensation within 15 days of his reporting for duty as directed Issue No. 3: Whether dismissal of Shri Dhirendralal Chatterjee and Shri Rohini Kumar Roy is justified? What relief, if any, are they entitled to?

This issue relates to the dismissal of 2 workmen named therein and their case regarding the dismissal is substantially the same. This case is that some allegations of misconducts were made against these workmen in 2 letters both dated 25th October 1962 and they were suspended from service along with the issue of the letters and on receipt of the letters they submitted their replies denying the allegations and praying for withdrawal of suspension orders and thereafter the Company, without holding any enquiry and giving any opportunity to these workmen to defend themselves against the allegations, summarily dismissed them by its letters, dated 16th November 1962, stating falsely in those letters that enquiries had been held into the charges of misconduct contained in the Company's letters.

The Company's case in regard to these workmen is briefly as follows:

They were charge-sheeted for committing gross misconducts and after they submitted their explanations which were false and frivolous, the Company made thorough and full-fledged enquiries into the charges against them and finally dismissed them as they were found guilty of the charges and so, the dismissals were bona fide and there was no element of victimisation or unfair labour practice in the dismissals.

Here also the evidence is absolutely ex-parte in support of the case of the workmen without any counter evidence on the Company's side. Exts. 4 and 8 are the 2 letters to these two workmen containing same charges of misconducts against them. By these very letters they were at once suspended from service pending enquiry. Exts. 5 and 9 are the replies to the letters of the Company submitted by the workmen. They categorically denied the charges. P. W. 3 Shri Dhirendralal Chatterjee has proved by his sworn testimony without any rebuttal or challenge that no enquiries were held regarding the charges against them, but they were served with the letters of dismissal. Exts. 6 and 10, both dated 16th November 1962. It is further proved that they protested against the dismissals by their letters, Exts. 7 and 11, and by these letters the dismissals were clearly challenged as arbitrary and without any impartial enquiry into the charges made against them. The other concerned workman Shri Rohini Kumar Roy has not come forward to give evidence but his case has been proved by the unchallenged evidence of P.W. 3, Shri Dhirendralal Chatterjee. On the evidence as it stands, I cannot but hold that these 2 workmen were summarily dismissed without any enquiry into the charges made against them in the Company's letters referred to above after they submitted their replies to the letters denying the charges. Thus, they were dismissed without being given any opportunity to defend themselves against the charges. The dismissals were not, therefore, at all bona fide and cannot be supported. On the above facts I hold that the dismissals of Shri Dhirendra Lal Chatterjee and Shri Rohini Kumar Roy were not justified.

As to the reliefs, P. W. 3 Shri Dhirendra Lal Chatterjee, deposing for himself and for Shri Rohini Kumar Roy, has stated that they do not claim reinstatement to service under this Company as they have somehow secured jobs elsewhere and now they claim only sufficient compensation. Accordingly the only question to be considered is as to the amount of compensation which can be granted to each of these 2 workmen. After having regard to the evidence on the record and the overall facts and circumstances of the case, I think that each of these 2 workmen should be given compensation equivalent to three months' wages at the rate last drawn.

In the result, I award that the dismissals of these 2 workmen, Shri Dhirendralal Chatterjee and Shri Rohini Kumar Roy, were not justified and as they do not want reinstatement to service under this Company, each of them would get compensation equivalent to three months' wages at the rate last drawn and the Company shall pay this compensation to these 2 workmen within a month from the publication of the award.

This finishes my award.

AWARD

This application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act was filed by Shri Duber, T. No. 136, son of Bijoy against, M/s. Kesoram Cotton Mills Ltd., 42 Garden Reach Road, Calcutta, during the pendency of an industrial dispute between the aforesaid parties covered by reference Nos. 1884-I.R., dated 26th April 1960, and 4459-I.R., dated 1st October 1962.

The case of Shri Duber is that he worked under the opposite party as a permanent worker in the Reeling Department for about 6 years with a very clean and good record, that on 16th January 1964 he was suddenly informed by the officer-in-charge of his Department that he was no longer required and that since 17th January 1964 he was altogether denied his work on the plea that he was the leader of the Union. Hence the present application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act with a prayer for an award directing the Company to reinstate him to his job with full compensation.

The Company entered appearance and filed a written statement alleging inter alia that there was no contravention whatsoever of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

At the present moment good sense has prevailed over both the parties so much so that Shri Pathak —representative of Shri Duber has filed a petition before me stating in clear terms that the grievances of Shri Duber have been fully redressed and that Shri Duber is now working in the Company as before. He has accordingly prayed for withdrawal of his instant application. I have heard Shri Pathak appearing for the applicant as also Shri K. P. Mukherjee, the learned Advocate, appearing for the Company. The learned Advocate has frankly given out before me that in the facts and circumstances of the case he has no objection if the present application is simply disposed of as withdrawn.

In the result, I dispose of the case as withdrawn.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed by Shri Sattan Pasi, C/o Shri Arun Sen, 1/1 Garden Reach Road, Calcutta-24, a workman of Messrs. Kesoram Industries and Cotton Mills Ltd., 42 Garden Reach Road, Calcutta-24, against the aforesaid company in connection with G.O. No. 7589-IR, dated 8th December 1961. (Case No. 123 of 1963 under section 33A.)

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL,

Present:

Shri RENUPADA MUKHERJEE, Judge, First Industrial Tribunal

This is an application under sestion 33A of the Industrial Dispute Act by one Sattan Passi, a workman under the Opposite party company Messrs. Kesoram Industries & Cotton Mills Ltd. The allegation of the workman is that he was a permanent and regular workman working in the Engineering Department of this company and he has put in more than 9 years of continuous service with a clean record. The petitioner went on leave from 24th June 1963 to 22nd July 1963 but as he fell ill he applied for extension of leave by a registered letter, dated 17th July 1963, along with a medical certificate. The petitioner came back and reported for duty on 7th August 1963 but he was not allowed to resume his duties. An industrial dispute was pending before this Tribunal between the company and its workmen at the time of filing of the application. The refusal of employment to the petitioner during the pendency of the dispute contravenes the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. In the circumstances the petitioner prays for his reinstatement in his previous job with full compensation for the period of unemployment.

On behalf of the company a preliminary objection was taken that the petition is not maintainable and the Tribunal has no jurisdiction to entertain the application of the workman inasmuch as from the documents of the company it would be clear that there was no violation of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The preliminary objection about the jurisdiction of the Tribunal came up for hearing on 22nd November 1963. On that date I passed an order that the preliminary objection would be heard at the time of final hearing of the case.

When the case was called on for final hearing on 13th November 1964 I was told that the case would be compromised. The record was put up on 18th November 1964 and on that date a petition was filed by Shri Pathak on behalf of the workman in which it was stated that the case has been amicably settled by the parties and the petitioner may be allowed to withdraw the application. Shri Mukherjee stated on behalf of the company that the case has been amicably settled outside the Tribunal. In the circumstances I permit the workman to withdraw his application and pass a 'no dispute' award in terms of the application, dated 18th November 1964 which shall form a part of my award.

Shri R. BHATTACHARYA, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal

This reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act arises out of Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 4451-I.R./IR-10L-200/63, dated the 4th November 1963. The parties are—Messrs. Polar Electric Fan Marketing Co., 168/B Cotton Street, Calcutta-7, and their workmen represented by Polar Electric Fan Marketing Co. Workers' Union, 455/A Diamond Harbour Road, Behala, Calcutta-34. The issues are:

1. Whether the retrenchment of the following workmen is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?
2. (a) Shri Amiya Das, (b) Shri Paritosh Sarkar, (c) Shri Kalipada Ganguly, (d) Shri Sunil Bose, (e) Shri Sukdeo Gonssai and (f) Shri Anil Ghosh.
3. Whether the lock-out of the factory from 17th August 1963 is justified? To what relief, if any, are the workmen entitled?

Today was fixed for hearing of the matters. When the case is taken up for hearing, both the parties appear and file a joint petition of compromise stating that the disputes have already been amicably settled. Their prayer is that an award may be passed in terms of the petition filed. I have heard both the sides and have considered the petition. I find that the terms contained therein are reasonable, voluntary and legal. As prayed for by the parties, I dispose of the reference in terms of the joint petition of compromise which shall form part of this award as Annexure 'A'.

Between

Messrs. Polar Electric Fan Marketing Co.

And

Their workmen represented by Polar Electric Fan Marketing Co. Workers' Union (Vide G.O. No. 4451-IR, dated 4th November 1963).

The humble joint petition of compromise of the Company and the Union above-named.

Most respectfully sheweth:

1. That the above case is compromised between the parties on the following terms and conditions:

Re: Issue No. 1

That all retrenched workers will get retrenchment compensation and notice pay in accordance with the provisions of sction 25F of the I.D. Act.

That in addition to retrenchment compensation, they will get 15 days wages as ex-gratia payments.

That the retrenched workers mentioned in Issue No. 1 will not get employment in the factory.

That the retrenchment compensation will be paid by the 4th of December at the latest.

Re: Issue No. 2

That all workers who are on the Muster Rolls of the Company on the date of this compromise petition; and who were also on the Rolls of the factory during the lock-out period will be paid one month (thirty days) wages as payment for the lock-out period.

That there will remain no other claim in any shape or form for the aforesaid lock-out period.

That this payment of one month's wages will be made by the 30th of December, 1964, at the latest.

That the whole dispute is thus settled between the parties once for all.

Under the circumstances, your petitioners most humbly pray that your Honour will be graciously pleased to accept the above terms of compromise as just and fair and pass an award in terms thereof making the compromise petition as an annexure to the same.

And your petitioners as in duty bound shall ever pray.

The above dispute over the issue given in the Order of Reference and reproduced below, was referred for adjudication to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department Order No. 2337-I.R./IR/11L-200/63, dated the 11th June 1963.

Issue

Whether refusal of employment to Shri Monoranjan Saha is justified? What relief, if any, is he entitled to?

AWARD

After service of notices of the Reference on the parties, they appeared and filed their respective written statements. After necessary preliminary proceedings and some adjournments taken by the parties, the case was finally fixed for hearing on 27th November 1964. On that date, the parties appeared ready for hearing. After the case was opened, the Tribunal suggested that in view of the nature of the dispute, there should be an attempt at amicable settlement. The parties' Representatives welcomed the suggestion and held some discussions about amicable settlement. After some time, the parties' Representatives reported that the dispute had been amicably settled and they were going to file a joint petition of compromise. Thereafter a petition of compromise, setting out the terms upon which the dispute was settled amicably and praying for an award on those terms, was filed. I heard the Representatives of the parties and was satisfied that the parties have voluntarily settled the dispute on the terms contained in the petition of compromise. I have also considered the terms of settlement. These appear to be quite legal and fair. I am fully satisfied that there has been a bona fide settlement of the dispute on the terms contained in the petition of compromise. So, the case is to be disposed of by a compromise award in terms of the joint petition of the parties.

In the result, I make a compromise award in th case in terms of the joint petition of the parties, copy whereof is made a part of the award as a annexure.

AWARD

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed by Shri Krishna Pada Bose, of 3 Joy Krishna Paul Road, Calcutta-23, against the employer Company Messrs. Superintendence Company of India (P) Ltd., 31, 32 and 33 C.I.T. Road, Entally, Calcutta-14, for action taken against him by the Company during the pendency of dispute referred under G.O. No. 1505-IR, dated 9th April 1963 to this Tribunal for adjudication. The workman's case is that he was appointed in the Calcutta Office of the Company on 11th September 1962 and then transferred to Barazamda unit in Bihar. Subsequently by an order dated 25th September 1963 he was transferred to Calcutta. He was to report for duty in the Calcutta Office on 29th September 1963. His complaint is that he went to report in the Calcutta Office, but he was not allowed to resume his duties and ultimately was refused employment. The present application was accordingly made under section 33A on 4th January 1964, in view of the fact that he is a concerned workman in the reference pending before this Tribunal during the period from 9th April 1962 to 11th April 1963.

The Company filed a written statement in answer to the complaint of the workman. The Company challenges the allegation that the workman was refused employment in Calcutta. On the contrary, it is alleged that the workman did not join his appointment in Calcutta, and so the question of refusal of employment does not arise. It is further contended on the side of the Company that the present application under section 33A is not maintainable, in view of the fact that the reference out of which this proceeding arises was in respect of the Calcutta employees, while the workman—Shri Bose is an employee of the Barazamda unit of the Company in Bihar. So, the Tribunal constituted by the Government of West Bengal is not competent to decide the dispute which relates to the State of Bihar.

Decision

Before entering into the points which arise for decision in a proceeding under section 33A, I will dispose of the objection raised by the Company that the present proceeding under section 33A is not maintainable before this Tribunal. This proceeding arises out of a reference made by the Government of West Bengal as quoted above. It was a dispute in respect of dismissal of 18 workmen of the Company. On behalf of the Company it is urged that those workmen were of Calcutta Office, and as such a workman of Barazamda unit cannot be said to be a concerned workman so as to require compliance of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. Section 33 sub-section (2) resuires that the workman who complains of victimisation must be the concerned workman, i.e. a workman concerned in the dispute under reference. The evidence of the workman—Shri Bose is that he was appointed in Calcutta on 11th September 1962 and then transferred to Barazamda on 6th February 1963. Thereafter on 25th September 1963 he was transferred from Barazamda to Calcutta, and was asked to join in the Calcutta Office on 29th September 1963. That order of transfer is Ext. 1. The Company urges that since Shri Bose did not join in the Calcutta Office, he remained an employee of the Barazamda unit, and as such the dispute would be one in respect of Barazamda Unit. Besides the oral evidence of Shri D. P. Sen, Officer-in-Charge, Barazamda Unit, there is no other evidence to prove that Shri Bose was appointed for Barazamda. Barazamda is a unit of the same Company, and from the evidence of Shri Sen it is clear that the Barazamda Unit is subordinate to the Calcutta Office of the Company in various respects. The very fact that Shri Bose was transferred from Barazamda to Calcutta goes to indicate that his service is transferable from Calcutta to Barazamda and vice versa. His original appointment was in Calcutta and then he was transferred to Barazamda, and from Barazamda he was again transferred to Calcutta. The services of Shri Bose being transferable from one unit to another, he cannot be said to be an employee of the Barazamda Unit exclusively. Moreover, when he was transferred to Calcutta, he was an employee of Calcutta, and as such he was concerned in the dispute of the workmen of the Calcutta Office. The learned Advocate for the Company has placed before me a case of the Punjab High Court reported in 1959 L.L.J. II page 646. That was a case where an officer was transferred from Amritsar Unit of Punjab to Mossouri Unit outside Punjab. It was held that the reference was ultra vires, the powers of the Punjab State Government. The Officer in the reported case did not join Mossouri in spite of his transfer from Amritsar. Applying the analogous principle, I may say that the present dispute is of Calcutta when Shri Bose was transferred to Calcutta even though he might not have joined the said office. His dispute was not a dispute of the Barazamda Unit when he had made over charge of that unit. He is, therefore, a workman concerned in the dispute under reference.

Now I will enter into the points involved in a case under section 33A. The points to be decided are—

(1) whether the employer contravened the provisions of secion 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act, and

(2) if the contravention is proved, whether the dismissal order passed by the employer is justified on merits.

The learned Advocate for the Company submits that there is no contravention of the provisions of section 33(2)(b) of the Act. As Shri Bose did not join voluntarily, it is not a case of refusal of employment. The evidence of Shri Bose is that he was asked to report for duty on 29th September 1963, but that was a Sunday. So he went to report on 30th September 1963, but the Managing Director asked him to come on the next day, and this was repeated several times and ultimately he was not allowed to join his duties in Calcutta in obedience to his transfer order (Ext. 1). This evidence of Shri Bose goes unchallenged. The Managing Director at Calcutta was not examined. As a matter of fact, no officer of Calcutta was examined to deny this statement of Shri Bose. A letter written by Shri Bose bearing the date 29th September 1963 is relied upon by the Company in support of their contention that it was Shri Bose who did not care to join. This letter was admittedly written by Shri Bose. He states that he was asked to join in Calcutta on 29th Sepember 1963. There was strike going on and so he was not in a position to join. In the last paragraph of the letter he asked for proper advice and gave his own address for communication. The Company wants me to construe the letter as Shri Bose's unwillingness to join his duties. But I am unable to accept this construction. The second paragraph of the letter indicates the difficulties of the workman to join. There was strike going on, and as such he could not join. He mentioned the strike as standing in the way of his resuming duties. Thereafter he applied to the Company for proper instructions and communication of the same to him at his address. It is not the case of the Company that no such communication was addressed by him or that the Company invited him to join in a particular manner in spite of the strike. The letter Ext. A dated 29th September 1963 only explains why the workman could not join on that date. Thereafter the workman wanted to join on several dates, but he was not allowed to join. This is the positive evidence of Shri Bose. In the absence of any denial on oath, I am bound to accept the testimony of Shri Bose as unchallenged. The fact proved is that Shri Bose was not allowed to join in the Calcutta Office, and this is nothing but punishment. Section 33 sub-section (2)(b) can be attracted in the case of punishment—whether by dismissal or otherwise. In the present case, there was no dismissal. But the refusal of employment comes within the scope of the word 'otherwise'. The Company did not apply for approval under section 33(2)(b), and as such contravened the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The workman is, therefore, entitled to have an adjudication upon his complaint under section 33A on merits.

Coming to the merits of the case, the fact is that the workman was refused employment without any chargesheet or enquiry, or without issuing any letter of suspension or dismissal. This is opposed to the principles of natural justice, and must be held to be an act of vicitimisation. The workman in annexure B to his application under section 33A filed a notice purported to have been issued by the Company. Though the Company filed its written statement in reply, this annexure is not denied or its genuineness is not challenged. But at the time of argumnt the Company's lawyer argues that this notice is not genuine. I cannot accept the argument in view of the fact stated above. This notice, which was made a part of the written statement of the workman, however, mentions that Shri Bose was chargeshted and suspended. But this is no body's case before the Tribunal, and as such I am ignoring the notice mentioning the fact of chargesheet and suspension. The fact remains that the workman has been refused employment wtihout any justification. The workman—Shri Bose is, therefore, entitled to reinstatement with all back wages from 29th September 1963 till the date he is reinstated. The Company is accordnigly directed to reinstate Shri Bose and made payment of his back wages as indicated above within one month of the publication of this award.

This is my award.

The above dispute over the issue given in the Order of Reference and reproduced below, was referred for adjudication to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department Order No. 3279-I.R./IR/10L-148/64, dated the 29th July 1964.

Issue

(1) Bonus for the year ending 31st March 1963.

Notices of the reference were duly served upon both the parties. In response to the notice, the Company appeared through its representative but there was no appearance by or on behalf of the workmen on the first date (20th August 1964). In order to give another chance to the Union to appear and file its written statement, the Tribunal suo moto adjourned the case to 4th September 1964. On that date a petition was filed on behalf of the Union praying for time to file written statement. Accordingly the Union was granted time till 29th September 1964 for filing its written statement. On 29th September 1964 there was again no appearance by or on behalf of the Union and no step was taken. Still the Union was given a further opportunity to file its written statement by 27th October 1964. On 27th October 1964 there was again no appearance by or on behalf of the Union and no step was taken. The case was adjourned to 12th November 1964 for orders. On 12th November 1964 also, there was no appearance by or on behalf of the Union and no step was taken. In these circumstances, the case was finally adjourned to 28th November 1964 for disposal according to law. On 28th November 1964 both parties were absent and no step was taken on behalf of any of them. It is clear from the aforesaid facts and circumstances, that the Union is not pursuing the dispute and the Company is also not taking any interest in the adjudication of the dispute and the dispute has thereby ceased to exist for the purpose of the present adjudication. In the circumstances, the case is to be disposed of by a 'No-dispute' award on the footing that the dispute has ceased to exist and there is no adjudicable dispute before the Tribunal.

In the result, I make a 'No-dispute' award in the case.

Present for the Union: Shri Kalyan Roy, Joint Secretary of the Union.

The original reference out of which this case has arisen was made under G.O. No. 4120-I.R./IR/10L-40(J)/63, dated the 1st October 1963.

This complaint which purports to be one under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, was filed by Shri Chedi, a workman under Messrs. Indian Iron & Steel Co. Ltd., Burnpur, Burdwan, alleging violation of section 33 of the I. D. Act pending an industrial dispute for adjudication between the Company and its workmen. After service of notice the Company entered appearance on 28th February 1964 and filed its written statement on 9th March 1964. The case was fixed for hearing on 21st July 1964, but on the prayer of the Union it was adjourned to 16th September 1964 for hearing. The case could not be taken up for hearing on 16th September 1964, and it was adjourned to 28th November 1964 for hearing. On 24th November 1964 a petition was filed by the Joint Secretary of the Union stating that the Union is not interested in the case, and does not like to proceed with it inasmuch as the workman concerned is not in touch with the Union. The petition was put up for orders on 28th November 1964. On that date Shri B. B. Ghosh, Advocate, appeared for the Company, but none appeared for the Union. The workman concerned also was not present. The workman concerned, it appears, is not taking any interest in proceeding with this application, and the application is disposed of on the footing that there is no subsisting dispute between the workman and the Company. I accordingly make a 'no dispute' award in the case.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Art Sandle Works, 71 Mechuabazar Street, Calcutta-12, and their workmen represented by the Calcutta Leather Workers' Union, 12 Arpuli Lane, Calcutta-12. (G.O. No. 1057I.R., dated 6th March 1964.) (VIII-70/64.)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri R. BHATTACHARYA, Judge,
Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: Shri Atul Chandra Roy, Advocate.

For the Company: None.

This reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act arises out of an industrial dispute between Mesrss. Art Sandle Works, 71 Mechuabazar Street, Calcutta-12, and their workmen represented by the Calcutta Leather Workers' Union, 12 Arpuli Lane, Calcutta-12. The issue has been framed as follows:

Issue

1. Whether the termination of service of Shri Kartick Das is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

The Calcutta Leather Workers' Union representing the workmen appeared and filed written statements. In short, the case of the union is that Kartick Das was a workman of the Art Sandle Works and he was in the permanent cadre for about 16 years. The allegation is that the company dismissed the workman from service without notice, charge-sheet or any justifiable reason. It was a case of victimisation. In the written statement it has been stated that Kartick Das was dismissed because the management was displeased for his trade union activities. The union has prayed for reinstatement with full back wages.

In spite of notice, the employer did not appear in this proceeding, and hence the case has been heard ex parte.

Kartick Das has been examined as P.W. 1. He has stated that he worked for about 16 years in this business and he used to work at piece-rate. He wants to say that on average he used to earn Rs. 200 per month. The reason for dismissal has been assigned by this witness. His evidence is that the Proprietor Md. Iasuf abused him in filthy language and as he protested, he was dismissed from service in the month of March, 1962. It should be noted in this connection that in the written statement it has been stated that his dismissal was due to his trade union activities for which he incurred the displeasure of the management. There is no indication in the written statement that the proprietor abused him or that he protested or that he was dismissed for his protest against the abuse of the proprietor. P.W. 1 does not say before me that he had any trade union activity or that the management was displeased with him on account of any such activity. P.W. 1 has set up a new story before me regarding the cause of dismissal. Moreover, P.W. 1 has stated before me that he was dismissed in March 1962. It is curious to note that in the written statement there is no mention as to when Kartick Das was dismissed from service. The learned lawyer for the union has admitted that there is no such mention about the date of dismissal and no reason has been assigned as to why the date of dismissal has not been given. P.W. 2 is the Secretary of the Calcutta Leather Workers' Union, he says that Kartick Das was discharged from service without notice. He also does not say that P.W. 1 had any union activity and that the management was displeased with him for that reason. From Ext. 1 it appears that towards the end of June, 1963, the Secretary of the union wrote a letter to Md. Isuf stating that Kartick Das had been discharged without any notice. In this letter also there is no allegation that the proprietor had abused Shri Das. There is no mention also as to when Shri Das had been dismissed from service. In these circumstances, I find that real state of affairs has not been placed before this Tribunal as to how, when and why the alleged termination of service of Kartick Das was made. I am inclined to hold that Shri Das has not given true evidence before me, and the story given in the written statement of the union that his service was terminated on account of his union activities has not been proved. I am also not satisfied that Shri Das was in the permanent employ of the Art Sandle Works for about 16 years. The union has not been able to prove even its prima facie case. The story set up by the Union and P.W. 1 is unacceptable.

In the result, the reference is answered against the workmen, and no relief can be granted either to the workman Kartick Das, or to the union in any form.

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department Order No. 2830-I.R./IR/11L-388/63, dated 9th July 1964, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. Hind Electronics Private Ltd., 38 Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta-1, and their workmen represented by Burrabazar Jamadar Sangh, 90 Lower Chitpore Road, Calcutta-7, for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The issue framed in this case for adjudication runs as follows:—

Whether the termination of service of Shri Ramnath Pandey is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

AWARD

Despite service of notice on the parties, and several dates fixed for filing written statement by them, neither the Company nor the union took any interest in pursuing the present proceedings. The Union did not even care to appear, while the Company remained silent after appearing at the earliest stage. The conduct of the parties smacks of their disinterestedness in conducting the case, and accordingly a 'no dispute' award is passed in this case.

And whereas the said Fifth Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial disputes;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. (1) Santhia Dal Mill, Gurudas Dutta Garden Lane, Calcutta-4, (2) Naba Bharat Dal Mill, 105|2 Ultandanga Main Road, Calcutta-4, (3) Durga Dal Mill, 11B Canal Circular Road, Calcutta-4, (4) Joy Bharat Dal Mill, 105 Ultadanga Main Road, Calcutta-4, (5) Ram Krishna Dal Mill, 11|30 Canal Circular Road, Calcutta-4, (6) Shree Swastika Dal Mill, 11|2 Canal Circular Road, Calcutta-4, (7) Ambica Dal Mill, 1|2B Canal Circular Road, Calcutta-4, (8) Kashi Biswanath Dal Mill, 10 Canal Circular Road, Calcutta-4 and (9) Jagannath Dal Mill, 11B Canal Circular Road, Calcutta-4, on the one hand, and their workmen represented by West Bengal Confectionery and Food Products Mazdoor Union, 90 Lower Chitpur Road, Calcutta-7, on the other. (Case No. 246 of 1963.)

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri K. P. MUKHERJI, Judge,
Fifth Industrial Tribunal

Appearances:

For the Companies, viz., (1) Jay Bharat Dal Mill, (2) Naba Bharat Dal Mill: Shri J. R. Jain, Labour Adviser of the Companies.

For other Companies: None.

For the Union: Shri Lenin Roy, Advocate, instructed by Shri Ram Chandra Pandey, Assistant Secretary of the Union.

This dispute between the above Companies and their workmen was referred to this Tribunal under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 4282-I.R.|IR|11L-168|63, dated 10th October 1963, for adjudication upon the issues reproduced below.

Issues

1. Grades and scales of pay. 2. Leave and holidays. 3. Working hours. 4. Profit sharing bonus for 1961-62.

After receipt of the reference on 15th October 1963, usual notices were issued to the parties fixing 9th November 1963 for appearance and filing of the written statement by the Union. Notices were duly served on Companies Nos. (1), (2), (4), (5), (7) and (8), but notices on the three remaining Companies, viz., Nos. (3), (9) and (6) came back from the Post Office with the remarks "left". The Union could not give the correct address of these three Companies though opportunity was given to it, and no steps were also taken by the Union for publication of the notice of the reference in any local Hindi daily, as directed. The names of the three Companies were accordingly expunged on 25th January 1964. On 13th February 1964 authority was given to Shri J. R. Jain by Messrs. Naba Bharat Dal Mill (2) and Joy Bharat Dal Mill (4) to represent them. Subsequently, Messrs. Santhia Dal Mill (1), Messrs. Ram Krishna Dal Mill (5) and Messrs. Ambica Dal Mill (7) also gave authority to Shri J. R. Jain to represent them. The Union filed its written statement on 7th January 1964 and written statements were filed by Messrs. Naba Bharat Dal Mill, Messrs. Joy Bharat Dal Mill and Messrs. Ambica Dal Mill on 22nd June 1964. No written statements were, however, filed by the other remaining Companies although time was taken by them for the purpose. On 18th September 1964, Shri J. R. Jain appeared for Messrs. Naba Bharat Dal Mill (2) and Messrs. Joy Bharat Dal Mill (4), but none appeared on behalf of the other Companies, and no steps were also taken by them. Shri Lenin Roy, Advocate, appeared for the Union and filed a petition for production of certain documents by the Union, and for inspection of the same. The petition was rejected as it was not in proper form and 18th November 1964 was fixed for hearing of the case. On 18th November 1964, Shri J. R. Jain appeared for Messrs. Naba Bharat Dal Mill (2) and Messrs. Joy Bharat Dal Mill (4), but none appeared on behalf of the remaining Companies and no steps were also taken by them. Shri Lenin Roy, Advocate, appeared for the Union. A petition is filed on behalf of Messrs. Naba Bharat Dal Mill and Joy Bharat Dal Mill stating that the dispute between these two Companies and their workmen has been amicably settled out of Court, and they prayed that an award be made in terms agreed upon between the parties which are embodied in the memorandum of settlement filed by them along with the petitions. It appears from the memorandum of settlement filed by the parties that an agreement was reached on the issues covered by the reference, and the terms of the agreement appear to be fair and reasonable. The compromise is accordingly accepted and I make a compromise award in respect of Messrs. Naba Bharat Dal Mill and Messrs. Joy Bharat Dal Mill. The memorandum of settlement do form part of the award as Annexure. A petition has been filed by the Assistant Secretary of the Union stating that the Union accepts the agreement between Messrs. Naba Bharat Dal Mill and Messrs. Joy Bharat Dal Mill on terms embodied in the memorandum of settlement, as per Annexure A, and prayed that the terms and conditions of settlement between these two Companies and their workmen be also made applicable in the cases of workmen employed under the remaining Companies who are absent before the Tribunal. The prayer of the Union appears to be reasonable as it is desirable that a uniform scale of wages and other benefits should be given to identical industries in the same region. I accordingly hold and direct that the terms and conditions of services embodied in the memorandum of settlement, Annexure A, be also made applicable to the remaining companies in this reference.

This is my award.

AWARD

By Order No. 4771-I.R.|IR|11L-275|63, dated the 27th November 1963, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. R. B. S. Rubber Mills Private Ltd., Lillooah, Howrah, and their workmen represented by R. B. S. Rubber Mills Private Ltd. Workers' Union, 7 Natunpara Road (Room No. 4), P.O. Lillooah, district Howrah, regarding the matter specified in the schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by Notification No. 808-I.R.|IR|3A-2|57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issue

Whether the refusal of employment to Shri Indramani Lenka is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

This reference was received from the Government of West Bengal, in their Labour Department, for adjudication of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. R. B. S. Rubber Mills Private Ltd., Lillooah, Howrah (hereinafter be referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by R. B. S. Rubber Mills Private Ltd. Workers' Union, Natunpara Road (Room No. 4), P.O. Lillooah, district Howrah (hereinafter be referred to as the Union).

As usual immediately after receipt of this reference both parties were summoned to appear. They complied and presented their cases in their written statements. As the stage of the hearing of the case both parties came to an understanding and settled the dispute amicably and accordingly filed a joint petition of compromise before this tribunal, in which the terms of settlements have been incorporated.

The dispute was relating to refusal of employment to a workman Shri Indramani Lenka. The Company agreed to pay a sum of Rs. 600 to the said workman in full and final satisfaction of his claims, to which the workman also voluntarily agreed. In terms of the agreement the payment of the aforesaid sum will be made before this Tribunal on 4th December 1964. The said terms appear to me fair and reasonable. So, I accept them and make an award on compromise as prayed for by both parties. The petition of compromise filed before this tribunal on 30th November 1964 do form a part of the compromise award as annexure thereto.

In the matter of an Industrial Dispute

Messrs. R. B. S. Rubber Mills (P) Ltd.

And

Their workmen

The humble petition of the Company and the Union, under reference—

Most respectfully sheweth:

1. That the parties above have settled their disputes on the following terms:

(a) The Company will pay the sum of Rs 600 (six hundred only) in full and final satisfaction in respect of all claim of Shri Indramani Lenka, the worker concerned in the dispute, and he has no further claim whatsoever from the Company.

(b) It is agreed that Shri Lenka will have no claim of employment in the Company at any time.

(c) The above amount of Rs. 600 will be paid to the Secretary of the Union for and on behalf of Shri Indramani Lenka on the 4th December 1964 by 1 p.m. in the Tribunal.

2. That an Award shall be made in the above terms.

It is therefore humbly prayed that Your Honour will be pleased to pass an Award in terms of the settlement.

And for this act of kindness, your petitioner shall ever pray.

AWARD

The moot question in this application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act is whether the order of dismissal, dated 1st May 1963 passed against the applicant Shri Gahar Ahmad is just, proper and legal. The facts of the case need a bit clarification. Gahar Ahmed was a permanent workman of the opposite party Messrs. Victory Jute Mills. He was working there for four years. Suddenly on 16th April 1963 he was charge-sheeted on the plea that he had kept himself wilfully absented for about 14 days without any intimation to or permission from the authority concerned. A domestic enquiry was thereafter held. And he was ultimately dismissed from service. The applicant's case is that the dismissal was made without having a proper enquiry and that the allegation levelled against him were all false and fictitious. As at that time an industrial dispute between the parties was pending in this court the instant application was couched under section 33A of the Act. In its written statement the Company asserted inter alia that a proper enquiry was held and that the applicant was rightly dismissed from service as per Standing Orders of the Company.

It is admitted before me by both sides that in the matter of the dismissal of the applicant concerned there was indeed a tacit violation of section 33 of the Act inasmuch as no previous consent of this court had been taken in the matter of that dismissal. As I have already stated above at that time an industrial dispute between the parties was pending in this court. Very rightly therefore the applicant took recourse to section 33A of the Act.— "But in an enquiry under section 33A the employee would not succeed in obtaining an order of reinstatement merely by proving the contravention of section 33 by the employer. After such contravention is proved it would still be open to the employer to justify the impugned dismissal on the merits.. where a proper enquiry has been held in accordance with the provision of the relevant standing orders and it does not appear that the employer was guilty of victimisation or unfair labour practice the Tribunal is generally reluctant to interfere with the impugned order.....it would and should interfere where there is want of good faith, where there is victimisation, where the management has been guilty of basic error, or violation of the principle of natural justice, or where on the materials the findings of the management is completely baseless or perverse..... nevertheless in unusual exceptional cases Tribunal may have to consider whether in the interest of the industry itself, it would be desirable or expedient not to direct reinstatement" (vide S. C. decision reported in 1959 Vol-II Labour Law Journal page 666). I have quoted the aforesaid observations of the Supreme Court case somewhat in extenso lest I forget to apply those valuable principles to the facts of the instant case in their proper perspective.

The facts of the case as disclosed in evidence during trial do not appear to be at all complex. The applicant was working in the mill for about 4 years. On 16th April 1963 he was charge-sheeted. In that charge-sheet it was stated inter alia that the applicant had indulged in an unauthorised leave in respect of the following days, namely—8th January 1963, 11th January 1963, 8th February 1963, 13th February 1963, 18th February 1963, 27th February 1963, 5th March 1963, 4th April 1963, 5th April 1963, 6th April 1963 and 14th April 1963. In answer to the aforesaid charge-sheet the applicant wrote a letter to the Manager of the Mill concerned by stating inter alia that the absence was due to the serious illness of his mother and that although he had prayed for leave before his Overseer, the latter had refused the same. Then followed the domestic enquiry conducted by the Labour Officer of the Company. The learned representative of the applicant Shri Patit Paban Pathak has contended before me by saying that the domestic enquiry was not concerned with the dates of absences prior to 14th April 1963. His grievance, in other words, is that in that domestic enquiry the applicant's absence with regard to only one day, namely, 14th April 1963 was considered, thus excluding all the other dates mentioned in the charge-sheet. It would however appear from the materials on record that the contention of Shri Pathak is not true. The evidence adduced by Shri Bhupesh Ranjan Paul, the enquiry officer O.P.W. 1 would show that the enquiry was made in respect of all the unauthorised leave as mentioned in the charge-sheet (vide cross-examination of O.P.W. 1 at page 1). The enquiry officer also did not forget to consider the attendance register of the Company. Before my predecessor in office in whose presence the witnesses were examined, the applicant himself admitted frankly that the enquiry was held and that he was present during that domestic enquiry. Hs admitted also that he could not attend the mill. His evidence read as a whole would convince every reader that he was really absent on all the dates as alleged by the Company in the charge-sheet. Natural justice was thus never denied to the delinquent applicant. He got full opportunity to defend himself both before the domestic Tribunal as also here before my predecessor in office. The allegation made in the instant application under section 33A to the effect that the dismissal order was passed without proper enquiry is thus absolutely unfounded. Assuming for the sake of argument that the enquiry was not properly held even then it does not necessarily follow that the dismissal order is bad in law. It is a well established principle of law now that where the discharge or dismissal is in accordance with the Standing Orders of the Company no rules of natural justice can be said to have been violated for not framing a charge-sheet or holding an enquiry (vide case of Burn & Co. Vs. their employees as reported in 1957 S. C. page 38). The relevant standing orders of the Company is adumbrated in section J, clause (viii). That Standing orders clearly stipulates that the act of "habitual absence without leave" will tantamount to a major misconduct. The Standing Orders also inter alia lay down that in all case of leave, applications in writing are to be made before the authority concerned. It is an established fact in the instant case that the applicant never filed any application for leave far less secured sanction thereof. The applicant wants me to believe that his mother was ill. In that version of his he however stands singularly uncorroborated and I am not prepared to believe his interested and uncorroborated testimony especially when I find that not a scrap of paper in the shape of medical certificate has been filed in this case nor the doctor who according to the applicant treated his mother examined in the evidence during trial. If the applicant would have absented himself for some continuous days then in that case his plea would have been somewhat tenable but I cannot forget the hard fact that he was proving all the time to be a habitual culprit. He absented himself for three days in January 1963 and then again he disappeared on four days in February 1963 and so on and so forth. The dates are all stray and scattered, such that the story of the mother's illness sounds most unconvincing and absurd.

Viewed from a purely subjective and selfish standpoint the action of the Company in the matter of dismissal of the poor labourer may appear to be somewhat cruel and high handed, but looked at from a wide and comprehensive angle of vision that action of the Company can only be termed as just, proper and legal. Just imagine a case of the most frequent and capricious absence of the majority of workers of a particular Company. The least economic productivity and the consequential highest industrial unrest is sure to distinguish such a Company from its species.

In my opinion, therefore, the order of dismissal of the worker has proved itself in its ultimate analysis to be a triumph of industrial peace over industrial discord and indiscipline. Very rightly did the enquiring officer in course of the domestic enquiry blame the delinquent applicant to be a wrong doer within the meaning of the Standing Orders laid down in clause (a) section J. And so do I in my award. The result is that the instant application stands disallowed and the applicant is disentitled to get the relief as prayed for.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Khemchand Rajkumar, Oil Installation Road, Calcutta-43 (Head Office: 33 Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta-1), and their workmen represented by Khemchand Rajkumar Steel Mills and Paharpur Yards' Labour Union, P-134 Mudiali Road, Garden Reach, Calcutta-24. BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri K. P. MUKHERJI, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal

Present for the Company: Shri K. P. Mukherji, Counsel.

Present for the Union: Shri Nikhil Roy, Advocate.

This industrial dispute between Messrs. Khemchand Rajkumar and their workmen was referred to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal, under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 230-I.R./IR/10L-2/64, dated the 24th January 1964, for adjudication upon the only issue, viz., "whether the workmen are entitled to any additional bonus for the year 1962-63? If so, what should be the quantum thereof?"

After receipt of the reference on 29th Janlary 1964, usual notices were issued to the parties fixing 25th February 1964 for appearance and filing of the written statement by the Union. Both the parties entered appearance on 25th February 1964 and on the prayer of the Union 23rd March 1964 was fixed for filing of its written statement. The Union filed its written statement on 23rd March 1964, and the company filed its written statement on 25th May 1964. In the meantime on 9th May 1964 some workmen employed under the Company appeared and asked for permission to represent their case thmselves; and they were permitted to do so. The Company in its written statement raised a preliminary objection regarding the maintainability of the present reference and, on the application of the Company, 26th November 1964 was fixed for hearing of the preliminary legal objection raised by the Company. Then, on the prayer of the learned Advocate for the Union, the case was fixed for hearing of the preliminary objection on 27th November 1964. On that date Shri K. P. Mukherji, Counsel, appeared for the Company, and Shri Nikhil Roy, Advocate for the Union, submitted that he had no instructions to proceed with the case. It appears from the record that the Union is not taking any interest in the dispute though it was raised by it, and the workmen concerned are also not pursuing the dispute, and have given up the dispute which has thereby become non-existent. The Union, representing the workmen, it appears, does not want an adjudication of the dispute. The dispute is therefore to be deemed to be non-existent, and an award is to be made accrodingly on the basis that at present there is no subsisting dispute between the parties for adjudication. In the result, I make a 'no dispute' award in the case.

No. 6569-I.R./IR/11L-81/64. — 10th December 1964.— Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 1101-I.R./IR/11L-81/64.—dated the 10th March 1964, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Nazz Cinema, 150 Lower Chitpore Road, Calcutta-1, and their workmen represented by Bengal Motion Picture Employees' Union, 13A Creek Lane, Calcutta-14, regarding the issue mentioned in the said order being a matter specified in the second schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the Third Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Third Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Nazz Cinema, 150 Lower Chitpore Road, Calcutta-1, and their workmen represented by Bengal Motion Pictures Employees' Union, 13A Creek Lane, Calcutta-14. (Case No. VIII-77 of 1964.)

AWARD

By Order No. 1101-I.R./IR/11L-61/64, dated the 10th March 1964, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, industrial dispute between Messrs. Nazz Cinema, 150 Lower Chitpore Road, Calcutta-1, and their workmen represented by Bengal Motion Pictures Employees' Union, 13A Creek Lane, Calcutta-14, regarding the matter specified in the schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, by Notification No. 808-I.R./IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issue

Whether termination of service of Shri Ramnarayan Singh is justified? What relief, if any, is he entitled to?

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, made by the Government of West Bengal for adjudication of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Nazz Cinema, 150 Lower Chitpore Road, Calcutta-1 (hereinafter be referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Bengal Motion Pictures Employees' Union, 13A Creek Lane, Calcutta-14 (hereinafter be referred to as the Union).

As usual, immediately after receipt of the reference both parties were summoned to appear and present their cases. On receipt of the notice the Union promptly appeared and filed written statement but the Company did not appear on the date fixed. But subsequently the Company appeared on 6th May 1964 and authorised Shri K. K. Guha, Advocate, as its representative. Shri Guha applied for adjournment to file written statement but on the adjourned date he did not appear. The Company's General Manager Shri K. Banerji filed a petition for adjournment on the ground of illness of the owner of the Cinema. He took another adjournment on the very same ground but ultimately no step was taken on the adjourned date (9th July 1964). So, the case was fixed for ex-parte disposal. The Company having taken no steps whatsoever the case had to be heard ex-parte on 30th November 1964 when the Union was ready for hearing and adduced evidence. The concerned workman Shri Ram Narayan Singh was examined and a number of documents were exhibited.

In sort the Union's case is that the concerned workman Ramnarayan Singh was in service of the Company as durwan. On 2nd March 1963 he received a telegram from his village home. His wife was reported seriously ill. So, he was asked to go home immediately. He at once submitted an application to the company asking for one month's leave. The leave was granted with effect from 8th March 1963 when he left for his native village. He was subsequently surprised to receive a letter from the company on the 25th of March 1963, whereby he was discharged from the service of the Company. He at once protested and all attempts to settle the matter amicably having failed, the present reference has been made for adjudication of the said dispute.

The Company, as I have already said, in spite of appearance through an Advocate and also through the General Manager of the Cinema, did not care to file any written statement or to defend the case. Therefore, the only evidence on the record is that of the Union. The concerned workman Shri Ramnarayan Singh has deposed that he was serving as durwan of the Cinema from August 1958 till the date of his alleged dischrage in March 1963. He was drawing a salary of Rs. 66 per month. He has produced the telegram Ext. 1 which he received on the 2nd of March 1963 communicating his wife's illness at his native village. This telegram bears the postal date seal 2nd March 1963. Exihibit 1(a) is copy of an application for one month's leave with effect from 4th March 1963. In this application the telegram has been mentioned. According to this witness leave was granted to him on 7th March 1963 as the employer wanted time to make some arrangement for the period of the leave. Leave being granted, he immediately proceeded to his native village but subsequently he was surprised to receive a letter from the Company communicating his discharge from service. Exihibit 2 is the said letter dated 16th March 1963 which was received by the workman on 25th March 1963 as stated by him. By this letter the Company has intimated that he had left without leave or any intimation. But it is difficult to believe that the Company had no knowledge of the workman's giong to his native village on the report of his wife's illness by the telegram (Ext. 1) which was duly received at the C.T.O., Calcutta, on 2nd March 1963 as apparent from the date seal on the telegram and other contents. The company in spite of knowledge and opportunities has not adduced any evidence to prove the contrary. The workman on receipt of the company's letter Ext. 2 immediately protested by a letter, dated 28th of March 1963 [Ext. (2a)] which was sent to the Company by registered post. The posting receipt has been filed and appended to Ext. 2(a). The wrokman returned to Calcutta on the 5th of April and wrote a letter to the Manager of the company requesting his permission to resume his duties. Exhibit 2(b) is copy of the said letter which was sent by post under certificate of posting. Posting receipt is also attached to the letter. The other workmen of the Company applied to the union for taking up the cause of the workman. Exhibit 2(c) is copy of the said letter by which the other workmen of the Company have supported the cause of the concerned workman. Therefore, from the materials available on the record I am satisfied to hold that the workman Ramnarayan Singh was desiharged by the Company without justification. There was no charge-sheet against him. He was given no opportunity to explain his conduct. The Company has not produced any evidence to prove that there was no granting of the leave to the workmen and that he was guilty of unauthorised absence for which as per standing order, if there is any, he is liable to be punished with dismissal or discharge. Therefore, in absence of any such evidence I am satisfied from the evidence on the record that there was no justification for termination of service of Shri Ramnarayan Singh by the Company. So, I direct that he be reinstated by the Company within a month of publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gaztte" and it is further directed that the workman be entitled to recover from the company 50 per cent. of his wages due for the period of forced unemployment for which period he may be treated as on leave for the purpose of continuity of service. The Company is directed to make pyament of the aforesaid sum within a month of the publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette".

Kesoram Cotton Mills Ltd., 42 Garden Reach Road, Calcutta-24, and their workmen represented by the Garden Reach Textile Workers' Union, Q-77 Akra Road, Calcutta-24, regarding the issues mentioned in the said orders, being matters specified in the Second Schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred to the Second Labour Court for adjudication;

And whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Labour Court Shri Haidar Ali, a workman of the said Company, made a complaint in writing to the said Labour Court against the said Company alleging that the said Company had terminated the service of the said workman concerned in such dispute;

And whereas in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the said Second Labour Court has adjudicated upon the said complaint and submitted its award to the State Government;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed by Shri Haidar Ali, son of Kutab Ali, T. No. 1603, New Shed, I B shift of Messrs. Kesoram Cotton Mills Ltd., against the above Company. (Case No. 6/64/33A.)

Award

This application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act was filed by Shri Haidar Ali, son of Kutab Ali, T. No. 1603, New Shed I B shift, workman of Messrs. Kesoram Cotton Mills Ltd., against the above Company during the pendency of an industrial dispute between the aforesaid parties covered by Reference No. 4459-IR, dated 1st October 1962, and Reference No. 1884-IR, dated 26th April 1960.

The case of Shri Haidar Ali is that he worked under the opposite party as a permanent worker in the Loom Weaving Department of the New Shed No. 1, B shift, of the factory for about seven years with a very clean and good record, that he went on authorised leave from 1st January 1964 to 16th February 1964 to attend the marriage ceremony of his daughter, that unfortunately for him he could not return back on 17th February 1964 to resume his duty due to unavoidable circumstances and that he came back to Calcutta on 19th February 1964, i.e., two days after only to be told by the Labour Officer concerned that his services were no longer required by the Company. Being hard hit and aggrieved thereby Shri Haidar Ali has filed the present application under section 33A of the Act with a prayer for an award directing the company to reinstate him to his job with full compensation.

The Company entered appearance and filed a written statement alleging, inter alia, that there was no contravention whatsoever of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

At the present moment good sense has prevailed over both the parties so much so that Shri Arun Sen, representative of Shri Haidar Ali, has filed a petition before me stating in clear terms that the grievances of Shri Haidar Ali have been fully redressed and that Shri Haidar Ali is now working in the Company as before. He has accordingly prayed for withdrawal of his instant application. I have heard Shri Arun Sen appearing for the applicant as also Shri K. P. Mukherjee, the learned Advocate appearing for the company. The learned Advocate has frankly given out before me that in the facts and circumstances of the case he has no objection if the present application is simply disposed of as withdrawn.

In the result, I dispose of the case as withdrawn.

Award

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed by Shri Samarendra Nath Mistry, c/o late Upendra Nath Mistry Christian Pathway, Thakurpukur, Calcutta-8, against the employer Company Messrs. Associated Indian Enterprises (P) Ltd., 1 Mahatma Gandhi Road Thakurpukur, P.O. Joka, Calcutta-2, arising out of a dispute referred under G.O. No. 3998-I.R., dated 20th September 1963, which is now pending before this Tribunal. The workman complains that the Company terminated his services in contravention of the provisions of section 33(2)(b) of the Act. On 20th November 1964 the workman and the Company entered into an agreement stating that the Company had reinstated the workman with effect from 16th November 1964, and had paid him his dues up to October 1964 as also Puja Bonus for 1963. Accordingly, the workman withdrew his present application under section 33A and an award is passed in the aforesaid terms.

This is my award.

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department Order No. 3920-I.R./IR/11L-354/63, dated 16th September 1963, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. Banga Luxmi Rice & Ata Mill, 16 Mondal Temple Lane, Tollygunge, Calcutta (hereinafter referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Rice Mill & Dal Mills Workers' Union, 167 Rai Bahadur Road, Calcutta-34 (hereinafter referred to as the Union), for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The issue framed in this case runs as follows:

Whether the dismissal of the following workmen is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

AWARD

The Union in its written statement states that the female workmen concerned in this dispute were employees of the Company. They were charge-sheeted and suspended on 12th March 1963 and ultimately discharged on 1st April 1963. It is alleged that the action of the management is mala fide and opposed to the principles of natural justice. The Union claims their reinstatement with compensation for the period of their forced unemployment.

The case of the Company in its written statement is that out of the 12 female workers mentioned in the order of reference, serial Nos. 1-3 (Sindhu, Kiron and Maharani) stood charged with the suspension of work out of sympathy for the remaining nine female workers who were charged with stealing of rice from the mill. The theft of rice by the nine female workers was detected by the durwan. On 12th March 1963 they were charge-sheeted, and after enquiry they were dismissed. The dismissal should be held to be justified.

Decision

Admittedly, the 12 female workers of the rice mill were dismissed by the Company on 1st April 1963. It is also admitted that they were charge-sheeted. The charge levelled against the nine female workers (serial Nos. 4-12) was theft of rice from the mill on 9th March 1963, and this was detected by the durwan of the mill. They were charge-sheeted on 12th March 1963 (Ext. 1 series) and they submitted their explanations. Regarding the other three female workers (serial Nos. 1-3), they were also charge-sheeted on the same day, and the charge against them was that they suspended work out of simpathy for the nine female workers who committed theft of rice from the mill. They also submitted their explanations. Therefore, according to the Company, an enquiry was held in respect of the nine female workers on 27th March 1963. But the enquiry was not attended by them. At the hearing of this reference, two of the female workers P.W. 1 Shrimati Sindhu and P.W. 2 Shrimati Giribala stated that they did not attend any enquiry, and that no enquiry was held at all to their knowledge. Obviously, it is a denial of any enquiry notice being received by them. The onus is upon the Company to prove that the date of enquiry was communicated to the charge-sheeted persons. On the side of the Company, Shri Mon Mohan Roy is Manager of the mill admitted in his evidence before the Tribunal that the charge-sheeted persons did not attend the enquiry. The notices that are said to have been issued in respect of the three female workers (serial Nos. 1-3) are Ext. G series. The enquiry proceedings in respect of the nine female workers (serial Nos. 4-12) is Ext. C, and Ext. H is the enquiry proceedings in regard to the other three female workers (serial Nos. 1-3). Now let us see if the Company succeeded in proving that the date of enquiry was duly notified to all the charge-sheeted female workers. Exhibit G series are said to be the enquiry notices in respect of the three female workers, but there is nothing to show that these were served upon them. On the side of the Company, the Manager stated that the notices were served by Surathi Sardarni. But Surathi was not examined before this Tribunal to prove that in fact these notices were served upon them. There is also no other evidence to prove that the notices were actually served. The Company signally failed to prove the service of the notices by any evidence whatsoever. That being so, it must be held that the enqiury against all the female workers had been held without any notification of the date of enquiry. This is opposed to the principles of natural justice, and I conclude that the enquiry that was held in such a manner, was not a proper enquiry. It is still, however, open to the Company to prove the charges against the 12 female workers named in the order or reference by producing evidence before the Tribunal. The nine female workers were charged with theft of rice, and this was detected by the durwan at the gate. The durwan Shri Bhagabati Tewari was not examined by the Company before this Tribunal. There is no explanation why the durwan was not produced before the Tribunal. He is the only witness of the theft. The very fact that he was withheld from the Tribunal gives rise to an adverse inference that the durwan's evidence would have gone against the Company. The Manager did not see the theft by himself, but he got only a report from the durwan. O.P.W. 2 Shri Sib Sankar Barick was examined to prove the incident of 9th March 1963. He stated in his evidence that he saw the durwan Shri Bhagabati Tewari detecting some female workers stealing rice in the wearing apparels at the mill gate. He named Jalada, Sarada and Subala, but could not name the others. Shri Barick has business dealings with the Company, and it is easy for the Company to secure his evidence. He mentioned the names of only three female workers, and in the absence of evidence of the durwan who was the sole witness of the theft, it would be unsafe to rely upon the evidence of Shri Barick. I do not think that the charge of theft against the nine female workers is proved by the evidence produced by the Company before the Tribunal. With regard to the other three female workers (serial Nos. 1-3), the charge is that they suspended work out of sympathy for the other nine female workers. But there is no evidence before this Tribunal on this point, i.e., on the point that they suspended work out of sympathy for the other female workers. Before this Tribunal it was attempt to prove that they also stole rice, but they emptied the bundles containing rice in the godown. This is the evidence of Shri Barick. If that was so, they were also found stealing rice. But curiously enough, they were not charge-sheeted on the allegation of theft of rice. It further indicates that Shri Barick is not a truthful witness. In any event, the charge against the three female workers for stopping work out of sympathy for the other female workers, is not proved by any evidence before the Tribunal, and the Company cannot succeed on merits.

In the result, all the 12 female workers named in the order of reference are entitled to reinstatement. With regard to compensation, it is in evidence, that these female workers were not on work throughout the year due to fall in the supply of paddy in certain months of the year. In that view of the matter, I allow Rs. 50 in lump as compensation to each of the female workers for the period of their unemployment.

This is my award, and it is to be implemented within 30 days of its publication in the "Calcutta Gazette".

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department Order No. 4788-I.R./IR/4L-65/63, dated 27th November 1963, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Shri Kalipada Mondal, Bus Owner, village Pariara, P.O. Charanpur, district Burdwan, and his workman represented by Asansol Subdivisional Bus Workers' Association for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The issue framed in this case runs as follows:
Whether the termination of service of Shri Feluram is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

AWARD

The case was fixed for hearing on 28th November 1964. On that date both the parties appeared and adduced evidence. On the side of the Union the workman concerned Feluram and the Secretary of the Union were examined, and on the side of the Employer three witnesses were examined. On conclusion of evidence, there was a talk of compromise and it materialised on that very date. The parties settled the dispute amicably on making payment of Rs. 530 to Feluram, the workman concerned. The payment was made in court in full and final settlement of the dispute, and a petition of compromise has been filed accordingly before the Tribunal. The terms of settlement are fair and reasonable and may be accepted. The petition of compromise is duly signed by the workman Feluram, and representatives of both the parties. The case is thus disposed of in terms of the petition of compromise which will form part of the award as Annexure "A".

For the Company:

Dated Calcutta, the 28th November 1964.

By order of the Governor,
S. C. MUKHERJEE, Asst. Secy.

No. 6631-I.R./IR/11L-158/62. — 16th December 1964.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 878-I.R./IR/11L-158/62, dated the 6th March 1963, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Hindusthan Lever Ltd., 63 Garden Reach Road, Calcutta-24, and their workmen represented by the Thika-Nagda Majdoor Sabha, J-535 Paharpur Road, Calcutta-24, regarding the issue mentioned in the said order, being a matter specified in the Second Schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred to the Fourth Industrial Tribunal for adjudication;

And whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Industrial Tribunal Shri Rudal Singh and eleven other workmen of the said Company, made a complaint in writing to the said Industrial Tribunal against the said Company;

And whereas in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A of the Industrial Dispute Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the said Industrial Tribunal has adjudicated upon the said complaint and submitted its award to the State Government;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure herto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act of 1947 by Shri Rudal Singh and eleven others, employees of Messrs. Hindustan Lever Ltd., 63 Garden Reach Calcutta-24 (Address: 63 Garden Reach, Calcutta-24), against the aforesaid Company, arising out of Government Order No. 878-I.R., dated 6th March 1963. (93/64.)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri R. BHATTACHARYA, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: Shri N. Das Gupta.

For the Company: Shri A. S. Menon.

This proceeding arises out of an application filed by Shri Rudal Singh and eleven others against Messrs. Hindustan Lever Ltd., 63 Garden Reach, Calcutta-24, under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act. The opposite party Messrs. Hindustan Lever Ltd. appeared in this case and submitted written objection. In short, the case of the applicants is that they are members of the Labour Pool, formed by Messrs. Hindustan Lever Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the Company), with effect from 1st April 1960 and as such they are parties in the present application. According to the terms and conditions of service for the members of the Labour Pool, a list of 200 workers will be made to form a pool from which casual workers will be recruited in accordance with the requirements of the factory on a weekly or daily basis, that no other individual will obtain casual work at the factory except in the cases of emergency, and that the allotment of work to the pool casuals will be strictly in rotation and as far as possible work will be distributed equally. A reference was pending before this Tribunal regarding non-employment of some members of the Labour Pool from time to time and employment of casuals who are not members of this Labour Pool. During the hearing of that reference, a witness of the Company deposed that the members of this Labour Pool were given employment only on weekly basis, and that the members of the Extra-casual Pool were given employment only on daily basis. The applicants before me want to say that this statement of the witness was not wholly correct. The applicants are not favoured by the management because they have Union activities. They were employed only on daily basis. The applicants asked the Company for employment on weekly basis instead of daily basis of employment. This claim was based on the strength of deposition of the witness to the effect that they are entitled to employment on weekly basis. On receipt of the letters from the applicants requesting for employment on weekly basis, the Company refused employment to the petitioners with effect from 4th May 1964, although there was demand for casuals. It has been alleged that the petitioners were victimised unfairly on account of their claim for weekly basis of employment. The applicants informed the Company about their intention to start a proceeding under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act. The refusal of employment to the petitioners was without any justifiable reason. For representation five of the applicants were allowed entry inside the factory with a slip which described these five persons as ex-members of the Labour Pool indicating that their names had been struck off. The removal of the names of the applicants from the list of the Pool amounted to discharge or dismissal made during the pendency of the original reference before the Tribunal. Moreover, even if there was no dismissal, it was a case of contravention of the provisions of section 33(ii)(a) of the Industrial Disputes Act as the non-employment of the applicant was the alteration of the conditions of service applicable to them immediately before the commencement of the proceeding, those conditions of service being the subject-matter of the reference. The applicants, in these circumstances, filed the present application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act. It has been alleged further that the termination of service or discharge or dismissal or the removal of the names of the applicants from the Muster Roll or non-employment of the applicants from 4th May 1964 was an act of victimisation. The petitioners have, therefore, prayed for a direction upon the Company to provide them with regular employment with back wages or other benefits with effect from 4th May 1964.

The sum and substance of the Company's case, in the written statement, is that the applicants are not workmen of the Company and as such their application is not maintainable, that the applicants were not in the list of the Casual Labour Pool during the pendency of the original reference and at the time of the filing of the present application, that the procedure for recruitment of casual labourers from the Labour Pool cannot be described as terms and conditions of service of the Company, that with effect from 22nd November 1961 members of the Labour Pool were recruited for temporary service occassionally on weekly basis and that there has been no case of victimisation as alleged by the applicants.

When the case was taken up for hearing on 5th November 1964, a preliminary point was raised as to whether the present application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act was maintainable in view of the fact that the applicants were not workmen or employees according to the Industrial Disputes Act. The point was whether the members of a Casual Labour Pool as in the present case could claim any right under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act. It was agreed by both the sides before me that this point should be decided before going into the merits of other allegations made in the written statement It was also agreed that if the decision on this issue was decided in favour of the applicants, in that case there would be further hearing on merits, otherwise, on the decision of this issue against the applicants regarding the maintainability of this application, there would be final award against the applicants as there could be no occasion for going into the other allegations of the parties. Certain documents produced by the Company were marked exhibits as agreed by both the sides without any formal proof. No oral evidence was adduced by any of the parties. Arguments on the preliminary point were advanced from both the sides.

There are some admitted facts. The Company by a notice, dated 6th November 1959, decided to form a Labour Pool consisting of several persons who used to do casual work occassionally under the Company when there was any requirement of the factory. The Company decided to prepare a list of 200 workers out of a large number of casual workers after testing their efficiency. For the purpose of ascertaining efficiency of the members of the Labour Pool, certain conditions were imposed and the selection was to be made after the candidate passed the medical test. The procedure as to how the Labour Pool would be formed is fairly described in Ext. A, the notice of the Company, dated 6th November 1959. Shri Das Gupta on behalf of the applicants has argued that the terms and conditions mentioned in Ext. A, particularly in paragraph 1, are the service conditions of the applicants and, in fact, the members of the Labour Pool were treated as employees or workmen of the Company. The main, rather the only, argument of Shri Das Gupta before me is that the tests prescribed for the members of the Labour Pool to be passed through were so stringent that the presumption should be that the members of the Labour Pool were recruited for the service of the Company and, as such, the terms and conditions of the Labour Pool were as good as the terms and conditions of service in the Company. According to Shri Das Gupta, the tests held for the recruitment indicated that the members of the Casual Labour Pool were not the ordinary casual labourers but were recruited in the employ of the Company. The Company, on the other hand, has argued that the Labour Pool was formed by the Company and the members thereof were placed in a list to offer them casual work whenever there would be any occasion. It has been argued from the side of the Company that the members of the Labour Pool were not the workmen of the Company. They were not in the employ of the Company. The conditions prescribed in Ext. A constituted the procedure as to how the Labour Pool was to be formed and how it would work. The members of the Labour Pool were never treated as workmen or employees of the Company. Admittedly also, the members of Labour Pool were free to work elsewhere according to their sweet will and they were not bound to work under the Company whenever they would be called upon to do so. It is equally clear and there was no dispute that the members of the Labour Pool were not seasonal workmen.

In order to determine whether the present application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act is maintainable or not, I am to see section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act at the very outset. There are two parts in section 33. In the first part, namely section 33(i), there is the mention of the words "employer" and "workman". Under certain conditions no employer shall alter the conditions of service of workmen or discharge or dismiss or punish any workman. In the second part of section 33, namely, 33(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act, the employer may alter the conditions of service applicable to workmen, or discharge or punish by way of dismissal or otherwise a workman under certain conditions. In the second part of the section the proviso says that in case of discharge or punishment "wages for one month" are to be paid to a workman to be dismissed. Section 33, therefore, relates to employer and his workmen. It is to be noted that in this case there is no mention of casual labourers or casual workmen. The payment of wages for one month mentioned in the proviso of section 33(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act indicates also that the section does not apply to a casual labourer. It indicates that it applies to persons in the regular employment of the employer. The word "discharge" or "dismissal" implies termination of service of a person who is already in the employ of the employer.

Section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act runs as follows:

> "Where an employer contravenes the provisions of section 33 during the pendency of proceedings before a Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal, any employee aggrieved by such contravention may make a complaint in writing, in the prescribed manner to such Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal and on receipt of such complaint that Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal shall adjudicate upon the complaint as if it were a dispute referred to or pending before it, in accordance with the provisions of this Act and shall submit its award to the appropriate Government and the provisions of this Act shall apply accordingly."

This section says that in case an "employer" contravenes the provisions of section 33, any "employee" aggrieved by such contravention may make a complaint. In this section again there is definite mention of an "employer" or an "employee". This section therefore relates to the relationship between the employer and his employee. It does not speak about any member of a Labour Pool or a casual labourer who may in future be employed, if occasion arises. According to section 33A, therefore, only an employee may file a complaint against the employer.

I shall now come to the definition of "workman" in section 2(s) of the Industrial Disputes Act. It reads as follows:

> "workman" means any person (including an apprentice) employed in any industry to do any skilled or unskilled manual, supervisory, technical or clerical work for hire or reward, whether the terms of employment be express or implied, and for the purposes of any proceeding under this Act in relation to an industrial dispute, includes any such person who has been dismissed, discharged or retrenched in connection with, or as a consequence of that dispute, or whose dismissal, discharge or retrenchment has led to that dispute, but does not include any such person—
> (i) who is subject to the Army Act, 1950, or the Air Force Act, 1950, or the Navy (Discipline) Act, 1934; or
> (ii) who is employed in the police service or as an officer or other employee of a prison; or
> (iii) who is employed mainly in managerial or administrative capacity; or
> (iv) who, being employed in a supervisory capacity draws wages exceeding five hundred rupees per mensem or exercises, either by the nature of the duties attached to the office or by reason of the powers vested in him, functions mainly of a managerial nature".

Unless the relationship of master and servant is proved, a person claiming to be a workman within the meaning of section 2(s) cannot be said to be employed within the meaning of that clause. It should also be noted that mere existence of a contract to employ does not constitute a relationship of master and servant until the contract is acted upon and the servant is actually employed. To ascertain the relationship between the master and his servant, it is to be seen whether the employer has authority to control the manner of execution of work by the employee.

Now, on reading the sections 2(s), 33 and 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, I hold that unless there is subsisting relationship of employer and employee and unless the service condition of the employees is altered or unless an employee is discharged or dismissed or punished as indicated in section 33 and unless the relationship of employer and employees is affected as indicated in section 33, no employee can file an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act. Only an employee affected as stated above can file a complaint under section 33A of the Act. In the present case the members of the Casual Labour Pool were not employed by the Company. Simply because before their enlistment of their pool they had to pass certain tests it cannot be said that they were practically taken in the employment of the Company. Of course, if and when any of the members of the Labour Pool is recruited as a casual labourer by the Company for any period, such member shall certainly be treated as in the employ of the Company during that period alone. After the period of casual employment, such member of the pool remains no longer in the service of the Company. In the present case the members of the Labour Pool were free to work elsewhere and not to accept the offer of casual recruitment of the Company. They did not get any retaining allowance from the Company during the period of non-employment. The Company had no control in any way over the members of the pool during the period of non-employment. It is not a case of the applicants before me that during the period of casual employment they were not allowed to work. It is not their case that they were punished during the period of casual employment. The applicants want to say that the Company should give them work on weekly basis and not no daily basis when there would be occasion for such recruitment in future. In these circumstances, I cannot hold that the applicants as members of the Casual Labour Pool have any right to file any application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act. They are neither employees, nor workmen under the Opposite Party the Company. The list of casuals of the Labour Pool is not master roll of the employees of the Company.

In support of his contention that casual labourers are entitled to file an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, I was referred to two cases by Shri Das Gupta. The first case was between Messrs. Bhuwalka & Co. Ltd. and Ramjhalak decided by the Labour Appellate Tribunal of India and reported in 1956, L.L.J., Vol. I, at page 288. In this case a casual worker in course of his duty met with an accident and he was confined to bed in the hospital for several days. When this workman reported for duty, he was verbally discharged. Thereafter he started a case. The learned Tribunal allowed the complaint of the worker and an appeal was preferred before the Labour Appellate Tribunal. The learned Appellate Tribunal also found that there had been contravention of the provisions of section 33(b) when the complainant was discharged verbally from service. In this case the question was whether after being injured in course of his duty when the worker came to report for duty his discharge was legal. In this case, therefore, there was the fact of verbal discharge and this discharge was made when the worker came to report for duty immediately after the discharge from the hospital where he had been for treatment of his injury sustained in course of his duty. In the present case before me, the facts are entirely different.

The other case relied upon by Shri Das Gupta is the case of Bhull Singh and others versus First Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal, and others, decided by Mr. Justice B. N. Banerjee of our Calcutta High Court. This has been reported in 1963, L.L.J., Vol. I, at page 153. In this case the dispute was referred to the Industrial Tribunal on a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. It was not a case under section 33A of the Act. In this case, there was an agreement between Bhull Singh and others and a Union, known as National Union of Tea Workers, regarding employment of certain workers. That agreement was acted upon but subsequently Bhull Singh and others refused to employ certain workmen according to the terms of the agreement. The Union, therefore, raised an industrial dispute under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act and, ultimately, the matter came up before the Hon'ble High Court. The facts of this case are therefore different and there has been no decision in that case which can help me to see whether the applicants before me, some casual labourers, can file a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act. The two cases relied upon by Shri Das Gupta are not helpful.

The Company has, however, relied upon three cases—one reported in 1953, L.L.J. Vol. II, p. 514, the second reported in 1956, L.L.J., Vol. II, p. 535, and the last one reported in 1963, L.L.J., Vol. II, p. 269. On consideration of the facts and circumstances of this case, I hold that the applicants before me were not workmen or employees, under the Company according to the provisions of the Industrial Disputes Act and, as such, they have as members of the Casual Labour Pool no right to file the present application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act. Section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act was not violated. The present application is, therefore, not maintainable. The instant case is thus decided against the applicants.

AWARD

This reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, arises out of the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 1836-I.R./IR/7L-15/64, dated 15th May 1964. The parties are Messrs. Agarpara Jute Mills, P.O. Kamarhatty, 24-Parganas, and their workmen represented by Agarpara Jute Mills Workers' Union, Punja Villa, P.O. Agarpara, district 24-Parganas. The issue runs as follows:

Issue

Whether the dismissal of Sm. Basantia is justified? What relief, if any, is she entitled to?

Both the parties appeared and submitted their written statements, Today was fixed for hearing. At the opening of the case, Mr. Ghosh, on behalf of the Agarpara Jute Mills (hereinafter be referred to as the Company), proposed that his client was agreeable to make some ex-gratia payment to Sm. Basantia, the dismissed worker, if she was willing to accept the same, in spite of the dismissal on the ground of misconduct. The Union did not, at that stage, agree to consider the proposal and wanted to fight out the issue. Evidences on both the sides were taken and at the time of argument, the Union considered the proposal of the Company and after a talk with the Representative of the Company and Mr. Ghosh, the dispute was finally amicably compromised. A petition was filed stating the terms of compromise and it was submitted before me by both the Union and the Company that after the compromise, there was no dispute present and that an award might be passed according to the terms mentioned in the petition.

I have heard both the sides and I find that the parties have settled up the dispute amongst themselves and that there is no dispute at present. The terms mentioned in the petition filed today are very reasonable. The compromise, I find, is voluntary and legal. As prayed for by the parties, I pass an award in terms of the petition filed today which has been marked annexure A to this award.

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present

Shri RENUPADA MUKHERJEE, Judge,
First Industrial Tribunal

Appearances

For the Company: Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate.

For the Union: Shri P. K. Sanyal, Advocate and Shri Nikhil Roy, Advocate.

By its Labour Department Order No. 4828-I.R./IR/7L-34/61, dated Calcutta, the 4th August 1961, the Government of West Bengal referred this industrial dispute to this Tribunal for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. One party to the reference was Messrs. Shyamnagar South Jute Mill [Mg. Agents: Messrs. Thomas Duff & Co. (India) Private Ltd., 3 Clive Row, Calcutta] (hereinafter to be described as the Mill or Company) and the other party their workmen represented by National Union of Jute Workers (hereinafter to be described as the Union).

The only issue referred for adjudication was the following:

1. Whether the refusal of employment to the following workmen is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?—

(i) Shri Nalini Mohan Mukherjee.

(ii) Shri Ramprosad Kar.

(iii) Shri Tarapada Banerjee.

(iv) Shri Sourendra Mohan Bose.

Evidence in this case was recorded during the time of my predecessor in office Shri S. N. Guha Roy. It appears that during the course of the arguments addressed by the lawyers of the parties Shri Guha Roy gave some directions to the parties for filing additional written statements. The Company moved the High Court against that order and the order has been set aside by the High Court and this Tribunal has been directed by the High Court to pass an award on the materials which are already on the record. Accordingly the learned Advocates addressed their arguments placing before the oral and documentary evidence which was adduced before my predecessor in office.

The following is a brief summary of the written statement filed on behalf of the Company. The dispute referred for adjudication is not an industrial dispute and so the reference is not maintainable. This mill was closed down permanently and the question of employment and non-employment of the workmen concerned in this reference does not arise for adjudication. This mill was permanently closed on 10th December 1960. After the closure about 927 weekly paid workmen and 88 monthly paid workmen from out of a total strength of 2,231 workmen voluntarily retired and they were paid off. The remaining workmen were absorbed in three other mills managed by the managing agents of the Company. So far as monthly paid clerical staff were concerned about 12 employees from out of the total strength of 80 were selected for retirement on account of their old age, infirmity and long service. About 54 clerks were transferred to other mills and the rest were discharged. The 12 employees who were selected for retirement were interviewed individually by the Chief Personnel Officer of the Company and were informed that they were not fit to carry on their duties by reason of old age and infirmity. At that time they were also informed that the Company was prepared to consider individual cases of hardship. This interview took place on or about 17th December 1960 and about 5 employees accepted the suggestion of the Company to retire. The four employees concerned in this reference changed their mind and subsequently maintained that they were fit to carry on their duties and were not suffering from any infirmity rendering them unfit for normal work. As the Company held a contrary view these employees were asked to appear before the Company's Chief Medical Officer and it fixed 2nd January 1961 for medical examination. These instructions were verbally conveyed to these men by the Chief Personnel Officer at an interview on or about 30th December 1960. These men did not turn up for medical examination nor did they turn up for their work and they continued to remain on unauthorised absence without any intimation to the management. Thereafter this matter was taken before the Deputy Labour Commissioner and there were some joint discussions in which the Company participated. These men were asked by the Deputy Labour Commissioner to get themselves medically examined by the Medical Officer of the Company. They however refused and continued to remain on unauthorised absence. This is not a case of refusal of employment as alleged, because the management had offered to provide employment for them elsewhere if they could satisfy it about their physical fitness. These employees committed misconduct under the Standing Orders of the Company and they are not entitled to get any relief.

In the written statement of the Union it has been stated that this dispute was raised when the mill of the Company was still working and so the reference is competent. The management of the mill informed these workmen on or about 17th December 1960 that their service would be terminated from the first of January 1961 on the basis of compulsory retirement. The workmen were not individually interviewed by the Chief Personnel Officer and they were not told that by reason of old age and infirmity they were unable to carry on their duties. These workmen made a written representation to the Company on 20th December 1960 protesting against the intended compulsory retirement and they were never told that they would have to appear before the Chief Medical Officer of the Company for medical examination. These employees were called at the office of the mill by the Chief Personnel Officer on 30th December 1960 and were told that unless they tendered their resignation they would be forcibly expelled from the mill if they attended it on 2nd January 1961. These workmen never remained on unauthorised absence and they did not commit any misconduct and the Company has illegally refused them employment. So it is prayed that it may be declared that the refusal of employment by the Company is not justified and a direction may be given for reinstatement of these employees in their previous posts with all back wages and allowances.

Before I enter into the merits of the respective cases of the parties I shall state some preliminary facts about which there is hardly any dispute. The first party to the dispute is a Jute Mill which is admittedly owned by a Company called Shyamnagar Jute Factory Co. Ltd. The present mill was an independent and self-content unit. Shyamnagar Jute Factory Co. Ltd. has another mill which is called Shyamnagar North Jute Mill which is on the north side of river Bhagirathi. The mill which is involved in this dispute is situate on the south side of the river at Garulia. The four workmen concerned in this reference are: Sarbasri Nalini Mohan Mukherjee, Ramprosad Kar, Tarapada Banerjee and Sourendra Mohan Bose. They belonged to the clerical staff of Shyamnagar South Jute Mill and each of them had put in long years of service. Messrs. Thomas Duff & Co. (India) Private Limited were the managing agents of both the mills owned by Shyamnagar Jute Factory Company Ltd. They are also some other jute mills within their managing agency, such as Victoria Jute Mills and Angus Jute Mills.

Shyamnagar South Jute Mill had a complement of about 2,231 weekly and monthly paid employees of workmen's category and 80 employees on the clerical staff. This mill had 12 boilers, some of which were condemned by the Boiler Directorate in October or November 1960 with the result that this mill had to be closed down completely. Out of the employees of workmen's category about 927 weekly paid and 88 monthly paid workmen voluntarily retired and they were paid off. The remaining workmen were absorbed by the managing agents in several mills managed by them including Shyamnagar North Jute Mill. Out of the clerical staff of 80 members 12 employees were selected for retirement. They were interviewed by Shri G. P. Sehgal, Chief Personnel Officer of the managing agents, on 17th December 1960. The mill was at first notified to be closed on and from 3rd December 1960 but later on the time was extended till 10th December 1960 (vide notice, dated 2nd December 1960, Ext 5). Only a skeleton staff was kept for some time for liquidating the outstanding affairs of the mill, the production of which was transferred, as has been stated above, to some other mills. There is no difference between the parties up to this stage of the case.

The case of the Company is that out of the total clerical staff of 80 members as many as 12 were found to be incompetent for absorption in other mills managed by the managing agents on account of their old age and physical infirmity and they were asked by Shri Sehgal to retire from 1st January 1961. They at first accepted the suggestion. Later on 7 clerks from out of the above number retracted their consent and sent a representation. They were again interviewed by the Chief Personnel Officer of the Company on 30th December 1960 and were advised to appear before the Company's Chief Medical Officer on 2nd January 1961. They agreed to abide by the above suggestion but they did not turn up for medical examination and remained on unauthorised absence. The case of the Company, therefore, is that these men have lost their appointments and they are not entitled to ask for employment because the mill has been completely closed down and the managing agents are not under any obligation to absorb them in other concerns because these men were unfit for further sevice on account of old age and infirmity.

The case of the four workmen, on the other hand, is that they never agreed to retire voluntarily as alleged by the Company and it was never proposed to them that they should submit themselves to medical examination as alleged by the Company. They made a representation to the Company on 20th December 1960 protesting against the Company's decision to retire them compulsorily. Thereafter they were called at the office of the mill by the Chief Personnel Officer and the manager of the mill and were directed to tender their resignation and on their refusal to do so they were ordered not to attend the mill from 2nd January 1961.

The question which arises for my determination is whether the management of the mill in question improperly and illegally refused employment to these four workmen. A point had been taken on behalf of the Company that this is not an industrial dispute inasmuch as the mill concerned in this reference is not the real employer of these workmen and so there was no relationship of employer and employee between the parties concerned in this reference. This point was given up by Shri Sen on behalf of the Company at the time of hearing of the argument and both parties proceeded on the footing that the mill in question is a completely separate and independent unit and these workmen were the employees of that Unit.

Shri Sanyal argued on behalf of the Union that the Company has made different cases at different times which are inconsistent. He contended that although the Company made a definite case that these workmen agreed on 17th December 1960 before Shri Sehgal, Chief Personnel Officer of the managing agents, that they would retire with effect from 1st January 1961, the Company later on made a case that these workmen did not appear before the Chief Medical Officer of the Company on 2nd January 1961 although directed in that behalf and thereby they remained on unauthorised absence. Shri Sen, on the other hand, submitted on behalf of the Company that really the Company has made only one case and that is that Shyamangar South Jute Mill was closed down permanently and these men thereby lost their employment automatically. I agree with Shri Sanyal that these workmen never agreed to retire voluntarily as contended on behalf of the Company. It is true that Shri Sehgal stated in his evidence that on 17th December 1960 these workmen along with 8 others were told that they should retire on 1st January 1961 and they accepted the suggestion. He further stated in his evidence that Dr. N. Chakraborty, the Chief Medical Officer of the Company, was present at that time. The evidence of Dr. Chakraborty would show that the workmen in question were called in one by one and told by Shri Sehgal that they were getting old and some of them were also suffering from various sorts of infirmities and so they were asked to retire to make room for the young people. Dr. Chakraborty further stated that none of the workmen objected to the suggestion and that each of them spoke of his individual hardship and difficulty. The evidence of Dr. Chakraborty at the utmost shows that the clerks in question did not raise any objection to the suggestion of Shri Sehgal. His evidence does not show that they expressly consented to retire from service. In the present case the mere omission of the clerks to raise any vocal objection to the suggestion of Shri Sehgal for retirement cannot be construed as their consent. It is also significant that only three days after this meeting these four workmen along with three others who are not before me sent a letter to the Managing Director complaining that their service was to be terminated from 1st January 1961 on the basis of compulsory retirement though all of them were fit for further active service (vide Ext. A). In these circumstances the conclusion is inevitable that the workmen did not express their consent to retire from service. It is true that such a suggestion was made by Shri Sehgal but the workmen remained silent and they put forward their individual difficulty and hardship.

Admittedly these workmen again met Shri Sehgal in presence of Manager on 30th December 1960. The Company's case is that the question of retirement of these workmen was again discussed on 30th December 1960 and as the workmen insisted that they were fit for further active service they were asked to appear before the Chief Medical Officer on 2nd January 1961 for medical examination. That a meeting took place on the above date is admitted by the Union. But the case of the Union is that in that meeting Shri Sehgal and the Manager behaved very rudely with the workmen and they asked them to tender their resignation in writing which they refused. It is denied by the Union that any suggestion was made by Shri Sehgal that the workmen would have to appear before the Chief Medical Officer on 2nd January 1961.

Shri Sehgal and the Chief Medical Officer of the Company Dr. Chakraborty have both stated that the workmen were directed to appear before the Chief Medical Officer for medical examination on 2nd January 1961, but the workmen did not appear before him on that day. I do not see any reason to disbelieve the evidence of these two witnesses and I hold that the workmen did not appear the Chief Medical Officer for medical examination on 2nd January 1961 as directed.

Much argument was advanced by both sides as to whether these four workmen had attained the age of superannuation and were retired on that ground and also whether they lost their service by refusing to abide the lawful order of the Company, namely, to appear before the Chief Medical Officer which constituted a piece of misconduct. In my opinion these matters are wholly irrelevant for the purpose of the present case. It is my finding that the workmen did not retire voluntarily. It is also my finding that their service was not terminated by reason of superannuation or misconduct because there is nothing to show that the workmen were retired on any of these grounds. However, it is a patent fact that the mill was completely closed down with effect from 10th December 1960. These men along with some others were retained for sometime for liquidating the outstanding affairs of the mill. The workmen have deposed in this case and they all admitted that the mill was closed down. That being the case, the workmen automatically lost their employments and no question of re-employment or refusal of employment arises. It is true that the managing agents of the mill were making every effort to absorb as many workmen as possible in Shyamnagar North Jute Mill and also in some other mills managed by the managing agents. The managing agents did not think it proper to absorb these four workmen by reason of their comparatively old age and alleged infirmity. I am not aware of any law under which workmen who have been thrown out of employment by reason of closure of an undertaking managed by some managing agents can claim an alternative employment as a matter or right in another undertaking managed by the same managing agents. In the present case the managing agents made every attempt to absorb as many workmen of Shyamnagar South Jute Mill as they could. These workmen were not considered fit for absorption.

Shri Sanyal contended on behalf of the workmen that the Company never made a case that these men had lost their appointments by reason of closure of the mill. It is, however, to be noted that in paragraph 2 of its written statement the Company has stated as follows:

"Shyamnagar South Jute Mill has been closed down permanently and the question of employment or non-employment of the men in connection therewith is not maintainable".

It would appear from the facts and circumstances of the case that after the closure an attempt was made by the managing agents to make these workmen retire voluntarily because in their opinion these men were not physically fit for further service. That opinion may be right or may be wrong but it was an honest opinion. So long as the Union cannot establish that the managing agents had a legal obligation to absorb these workmen in other concerns, no relief can be given to these workmen. No relief has been asked on their behalf as on closure of the mill. The only relief asked for in this case is reinstatement of the workmen to their former employment with back wages upon a declaration that the refusal of employment by the Company is not justified. As the mill was completely closed down with the approval of Government these men lost their employment. It was within the discretion of the management to absorb them elsewhere. They did not exercise their discretion in their favour. So at the utmost a claim might have been made on behalf of the workmen for closure benefit. That has not been done in this case. So the workmen, in my opinion, are not entitled to get any relief in this reference.
